This Annual Report is dated April 24, 2021.

BUSINESS

AgWiki is a website with a global audience where those interested in producing food can learn, provide, discuss the numerous challenges that exist in producing safe, abundant, sustainable, and nutritious food. AgWiki connects a global community of farmers, gardeners, researchers, and nutritionists working together to discover and share solutions to food sustainability, hunger, and climate change through social engagement. Connecting the worldwide food industry to share information, aid in education, and build relationships will have a long-term benefit on the challenges facing food production. Over 500 million family farms manage most of the world's agricultural land and produce most of the world's food. Our goal is to connect farmers and ranchers to allow information regarding plant and animal production to be shared by all those growing food and addressing nutrition.

The business model for the company is based on generating revenue from user fees of varying levels and advertising, as well as marketing trending and research data to interested parties.

AgWiki.com currently exists online as a product that offers some, but not all of the tools that will ultimately be available to users. The site is well beyond the "minimal viable product" stage, though it lacks some functionality that needs to be built or completed in order to offer tools that will be valued by many in agriculture.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION

AND RESULTS OF OPERATION

Operating Results – 2020 Compared to 2019

Circumstances which led to the performance of financial statements:

Revenues

The Company is pre-revenue and has been in the development stage since its inception. The original build-out of the company's platform did not meet the long-term requirements necessary for speed and flexibility. As the technology for social media platforms evolved beyond the capability of its original product, the company built a new product utilizing software that allows for flexibility and growth and includes a new design.

Cost of Sales

As mentioned above, the Company is pre-revenue, thus there is no cost of sales.

Expenses

The Company's expenses consist of, among other things, payroll expenses, advertising and marketing, web hosting, outside services contractors, independent contractors, travel expenses, rent expense ...etc

Total operating expenses also went from $35,989 in 2018 to $38,160 in 2019, the slight increase of 6% was mainly due to web hosting expenses.

As of December 31, 2019, total operating expenses consist of 1% in advertising and marketing at $194, and 99% general and administrative expenses (G&A) at $37,967. G&A expenses is made up of 35% in payroll expenses at $13,144, 24% rent expense at $9,000, 16% contractors/outside services at $6,147, 15% web hosting services at $5,852, 6% travel expense at $2,122, and the remainder 4% in miscellaneous office expenses like repair and maintenance, bank charges...etc.

The Company's investment in developing its platform to be ready for its target market and audience caused the company to incur a total loss of $46,313 as of December 31, 2019.

Historical results and cash flows:

The Company had an accumulated deficit of $193,021 and cash in the amount of $567 as of December 31, 2019. The Company has been supported by its founders since inception and intends to continue raising additional funds through equity financing. The following summarizes selected items of the cash flows statements.

Operating Activities

As of December 31, 2019, cash used in operating activities went down to $38,077 as of December 31, 2019 from $43,857 as of December 31, 2018. The decrease in cash used in operating activities was mainly due to an increase in accrued interest on loan payable.

Financing Activities

As of December 31, 2019, cash provided by financing activities decreased to $35,000 from $45,000 in 2018. The decrease in cash provided by financing activities in 2019 was mainly due to the company borrowing less in 2019.

The Company's management is positive about the Company's prospects and does not think that the current historical results and cash flows are representative of what to expect in the future. The company is very close to coming out of its development stage and management is putting in place strategies that will lead to the company generating sales in the next 6 months. The Company will implement a phased-in approach to collecting a varying monthly fee based on the level of a user's participation. Additionally, it will add advertisers to the main feed and collect a fee for sponsoring specific Groups. The Company elected to wait until reaching 10,000 registered users before selling ad space and is expecting to begin selling advertising space at any time in the next six months.

Management also thinks that the Company's competitive advantages of its leadership team's knowledge of the global ag industry, the lack of direct competitors in the industry, the engagement of farmers researchers, and other experts as thought/community leaders that have topic expertise is helping the company to continue to grow, build traction and position itself as a leader in its industry.

In light of all of the above, the company is confident it will gain market shares, start generating sales and possibly turn around its losses and be profitable in future years.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

At December 31, 2020, the Company had cash of $3,066.00. [The Company intends to raise additional funds through an equity financing.]

What it means to be a minority holder

As a minority holder you will have limited ability, if at all, to influence our policies or any other corporate matter, including the election of directors, changes to our company's governance documents, additional issuances of securities, company repurchases of securities, a sale of the company or of assets of the company or transactions with related parties.

Dilution

Investors should understand the potential for dilution. The investor's stake in a company could be diluted due to the company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the company issues more shares, the percentage of the company that you own will decrease, even though the value of the company may increase. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round or angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible notes, preferred shares or warrants) into stock.

If we decide to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if we offer dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company).

The type of dilution that hurts early-stage investors most occurs when the company sells more shares in a “down round,” meaning at a lower valuation than in earlier offerings.

If you are making an investment expecting to own a certain percentage of the company or expecting each share to hold a certain amount of value, it's important to realize how the value of those shares can decrease by actions taken by the company. Dilution can make drastic changes to the value of each share, ownership percentage, voting control, and earnings per share.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER

The common stock sold in the Regulation CF offering, may not be transferred by any purchaser, for a period of one-year beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- (1) to the Company;
- (2) to an accredited investor;
- (3) as part of an offering registered with the SEC; or
- (4) to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

Under the fair value recognition provisions of ASC 718, stock-based compensation cost is measured at the grant date based on the fair value of the award and is recognized as expense ratably over the requisite service period, which is generally the option vesting period. The Company uses the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine the fair value of stock options.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The inputs used to measure fair value are based on a hierarchy that prioritizes observable and unobservable inputs used in valuation techniques. These levels, in order of highest to lowest priority, are described below:

Level 1—Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2—Observable prices that are based on inputs not quoted on active markets but corroborated by market data.

Level 3—Unobservable inputs reflecting the Company's assumptions, consistent with reasonably available assumptions made by other market participants. These valuations require significant judgment.

Subsequent Events

The Company considers events or transactions that occur after the balance sheet date, but prior to the issuance of the financial statements to provide additional evidence relative to certain estimates or to identify matters that require additional disclosure. Subsequent events have been evaluated through April 9, 2021, which is the date the financial statements were issued.

Recently Issued and Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2019, FASB issued ASU No. 2019-02, Leases, that requires organizations that lease assets, referred to as "lessees", to recognize on the balance sheet the assets and liabilities for the rights and obligations created by those leases with lease terms of more than 12 months. ASU 2019-02 will also require disclosures to help investors and other financial statement users better understand the amount, timing, and uncertainty of cash flows arising from leases and will include qualitative and quantitative requirements. The new standard for nonpublic entities will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020, and early application is permitted. We are currently evaluating the effect that the updated standard will have on the financial statements and related disclosures.

In June 2019, FASB amended ASU No. 2019-07, Compensation – Stock Compensation, to expand the scope of Topic 718, Compensation – Stock Compensation, to include share-based payment transactions for acquiring goods and services from nonemployees. The new standard for nonpublic entities will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020, and early application is permitted. We are currently evaluating the effect that the updated standard will have on the financial statements and related disclosures.

In August 2019, amendments to existing accounting guidance were issued through Accounting Standards Update 2019-15 to clarify the accounting for implementation costs for cloud computing arrangements. The amendments specify that existing guidance for capitalizing implementation costs incurred to develop or obtain internal-use software also applies to implementation costs incurred in a hosting arrangement that is a service contract. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, and early application is permitted. We are currently evaluating the effect that the updated standard will have on the financial statements and related disclosures.

As of December 31, 2020, and December 31, 2019, the outstanding balance of these loans to Mr. John La Rose Sr. is in the amount of $203,850 and $170,850, out of which $73,533 and $46,658 is classified as the current portion while the rest is the non-current portion. 6. INCOME TAXES

The provision for income taxes for the year ended December 31, 2020 and December 31, 2019 consists of the following:

As of Year Ended December 31,	2020	2019
Net Operating Loss	$ (8,076)	$ (10,023)
Valuation Allowance	8,076	10,023
Net Provision for income tax	$ -	$ -

Significant components of the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities at December 31, 2020, and December 31, 2019 are as follows:

As of Year Ended December 31,	2020	2019
Net Operating Loss	$ (27,608)	$ (19,532)
Valuation Allowance	27,608	19,532
Total Deferred Tax Asset	$ -	$ -

Management assesses the available positive and negative evidence to estimate if sufficient future taxable income will be generated to use the existing deferred tax assets. On the basis of this evaluation, the Company has determined that it is more likely than not that the Company will not recognize the benefits of the federal and state net deferred tax assets, and, as a result, full valuation allowance has been set against its net deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2020 and December 31, 2019. The amount of the deferred tax asset to be realized could be adjusted if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward period are reduced or increased.

For the fiscal year ending December 31, 2020, the Company had federal cumulative net operating loss ("NOL") carryforwards of $83,857, and the Company had state net operating loss ("NOL") carryforwards of approximately $83,857. Utilization of some of the federal and state NOL carryforwards to reduce future income taxes will depend on the Company's ability to generate sufficient taxable income prior to the expiration of the carryforwards. The federal net operating loss carryforward is subject to an 80% limitation on taxable income, does not expire, and will carry on indefinitely.

The Company recognizes the impact of a tax position in the financial statements if that position is more likely than not to be sustained on a tax return upon examination by the relevant taxing authority, based on the technical merits of the position. As of December 31, 2020, and December 31, 2019, the Company had no unrecognized tax benefits.

The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. As of December 31, 2020, and December 31, 2019, the Company had no accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions.

8. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Contingencies

The Company's operations are subject to a variety of local and state regulation. Failure to comply with one or more of those regulations could result in fines, restrictions on its operations, or losses of permits that could result in the Company ceasing operations.

Litigation and Claims

From time to time, the Company may be involved in litigation relating to claims arising out of operations in the normal course of business. As of December 31, 2019, there were no pending or threatened lawsuits that could reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the results of the Company's operations.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through April 9, 2021 the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

There have been no other events or transactions during this time which would have a material effect on these financial statements.

10. GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has a net operating loss of $30,560, an operating cash flow loss of $30,501 and liquid assets in cash of $3,066, which less than a year worth of cash reserves as of December 31, 2020. The Company's situation raises a substantial doubt on whether the entity can continue as a going concern in the next twelve months.

The Company's ability to continue as a going concern in the next twelve months following the date the financial statements were available to be issued is dependent upon its ability to produce revenues and/or obtain financing sufficient to meet current and future obligations and deploy such to produce profitable operating results.

Management has evaluated these conditions and plans to generate revenues and raise capital as needed to satisfy its capital needs. During the next twelve months, the Company intends to fund its operations through debt and/or equity financing.

There are no assurances that management will be able to raise capital on terms acceptable to the Company. If it is unable to obtain sufficient amounts of additional capital, it may be required to reduce the scope of its planned development, which could harm its business, financial condition, and operating results. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from these uncertainties.
