KiddieRX Opportunity

Telemedicine is seeing rapid adoption from practitioners and patients alike, relying on drivers such as accessibility, state of the art technology, ease of use, low overhead costs, and most recently, the need for social distancing spurred by COVID-19.

Currently, the U.S. telemedicine market stands at USD 10 billion, with a CAGR of 29%, and is expected to reach USD 34 billion by 2025. The rapidly expanding pediatric telemedicine segment is calculated* at USD 1.37 billion today. Based on those calculations and CAGR, pediatric telemedicine would reach an estimated USD 4.6 billion by 2025.

For example, today, a market share capture of just 3% would lead to USD 41.1 million in revenue. In 5 years, growing at the projected CAGR of 29%, that number would increase to USD 139.7 million.

With the healthcare industry reaching maturity with many competitors, investors can focus their efforts on a small niche subsection such as pediatric telemedicine and benefit from a first-mover advantage in order to maximize ROI.
