About:

Wing It started as a dream of Co-owners Justin Valencia and Manuel Duarte in 2019. Justin and Manny consider themselves not just chicken wing lovers but wing enthusiasts. They were tired of driving over an hour to Sacramento with their wives just to get a good wing. As they started to brainstorm, they combined their marketing, IT, and entertainment backgrounds to launch “Wing It,” the only authentic wing-based restaurant in all of Amador County, California. When you don’t know where to eat for lunch or dinner what do you do? Just “Wing it”.

Founder’s Story:

Justin Valencia and Manuel Duarte are the team and brains behind the successful business Wing It, located in Amador County, California. Justin Valencia is a 25+ yr radio programmer and personality by trade, turned professional realtor, and now restaurant owner. Justin moved back to his roots in Amador County to build a professional digital radio station for a local casino and help people accomplish their real estate dreams. Manuel Duarte spent 17 years as a diesel mechanic but changed careers to a self-employed IT guru, FAA licensed drone pilot, and DIY carpenter. Five months after losing his father, he used his father’s motivation to start Wing It with Justin, and they’ve been working on the business ever since.
