FUNDRISE

The high-growth technology companies we're investing in.

The Fundrise Innovation Fund aims to allocate investments across a varied range of privately held, high-growth technology companies. It will initially prioritize specific sectors that are expected to benefit from significant overall market trends.

We've already made more than a dozen investments. Read on to better understand a few of our portfolio companies, or you can view all of our investments here.

RECENT INVESTMENTS

Modern Data Infrastructure

We made a $5M investment in Vanta, a high-growth tech company with a solution at the intersection of the cybersecurity and compliance industries.

Real Estate & Property Technology (PropTech)

We led a strategic fundraising round into Inspectify, a vertically-integrated property inspection software platform and leading solution provider for inspection services in the United States and Canada. This investment aligns with our focus on real estate technology and represents our earliest-stage investment yet. Having conducted over 5,000 property inspections through Inspectify's platform, we consider their product essential to the superior operation of a real estate investment business.
