Understanding our venture investment strategies

We're building a diversified portfolio of primarily high-growth private, pre-IPO technology companies. There are several specific sectors within that world that we intend to focus on due to their exceptional macro tailwinds.

FEATURED STRATEGIES

Artificial Intelligence

We are convinced that AI will have a larger impact on the world's economy than any other single innovation of our lifetimes. Accordingly, AI is the most significant factor in all of our investment theses.

Modern Data Infrastructure

We believe the already-thriving data sector (e.g. data infrastructure or modern data stack) is uniquely positioned to benefit from the AI revolution as LLMs in particular are only as good as the quality of their underlying data. Firms that enable customers to analyze, utilize, and secure their increasingly vast troves of data will be handsomely rewarded.
