sweater_vc Today we are thrilled to announce Sweater Ventures LLC's $2.3m pre-seed financing round. We are excited for this early milestone on our journey.

"It's about leveling the playing field for people who want to be personally invested in the products that shape their everyday lives," said Sweater's CEO Jesse Randall. "With companies staying private longer, the growth opportunities are definitely in the private markets and retail investors [everyone] should have access."

This is why we created a VC fund that you can invest in. We believe everyone—not just millionaires and billionaires—should be able to generate wealth by investing in venture capital.
