Chairwoman of GRYT Health

GRYT Health is a digital health company created for one purpose: to help cancer patients and caregivers find the help they're looking for at the time they're looking for it. Each of us faced cancer as a young adult and struggled to find the resources to save, and then rebuild, our life. We are dedicated to making that journey easier to navigate for today's cancer patients and their caregivers. Using mobile technology, we connect them to the information they need to make informed decisions about their health, at every stage of their cancer journey.
