Summary

I am the head of Friedman Kaplan's LIBOR Transition Task Force, and a member of the firm's Management Committee. My practice focuses on representation of investment management firms and their managers and investors as well as financial services firms in disputes and litigation involving complex financial products and transactions. I counsel a variety of counterparties in connection with margin calls, termination and close-out of derivatives transactions, and other issues relating to complex financial products. In addition, I counsel and train financial services industry clients on legal compliance, due diligence, and other issues, and I advise investment managers and their professionals on employment and separation issues.
