Sammanfattning

Here to make sure we get more badass women into the venture capital world! More female venture capitalists, as well as angels, are needed. Over the past 3 years, I have shown that you can grow from the bottom and up in VC, and I've helped 200+ startups along the way to grow in their early stages of life. Since my first day at Expert DOJO, we've invested in 200 new deals, as Head of Investment I run point on all of them. 70% of these companies have minority founders with a high percentage of black, Latino, and female founders. Aside from the hands-on work with our portfolio companies, I handle everything investment related within Expert DOJO, onboard new Associates and Venture Partners, as well as taking an active role in the firm's future directions.
