Anton Devenish	1,250,000 shares of Common Stock	25%
Samim Syed	1,250,000 shares of Common Stock	25%

Name	No. and Class of Securities now Held	% of Voting Power Prior to Offering
Clint Davis	2,500,000 shares of Common Stock	50%

Instructions:

The above information must be provided as of a date that is no more than 120 days prior to the date of filing of this offering statement.

To calculate total voting power, include all securities for which the person directly or indirectly has or shares the voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of such securities. If the person has the right to acquire voting power of such securities within 60 days, including through the exercise of any option, warrant or right, the conversion of a security, or other arrangement, or if securities are held by a member of the family, through corporations or partnerships, or otherwise in a manner that would allow a person to direct or control the voting of the securities (or share in such direction or control — as, for example, a co-trustee) they should be included as being “beneficially owned.” You should include an explanation of these circumstances in a footnote to the “Number of and Class of Securities Now Held.” To calculate outstanding voting equity securities, assume all outstanding options are exercised and all outstanding convertible securities converted.

BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

7. Describe in detail the business of the issuer and the anticipated business plan of the issuer.:

Capsll, Inc is a Delaware registered C-Corp, who retain an outstanding legal team in Austin, Texas. Capsll App is already being built by our development team and patent pending on software, App design and flow interface. Our team is comprised of three friends, and we’ve known each other for a collective of 39 years, each highly skilled in our respective fields. We’re building a product that moves beyond mere storage. Capsll is an immersive experience, both in design, and in its neuroscience, inspiring ongoing use, coached storytelling helping you save your memories effectively, and account creation for the election of "next of kin" for your content.

Our approach to the market is focused on three primary generational demographics, namely Generation x, Baby Boomers, and the silent generation, ranging in age from 30 to 99, comprised of almost 122 million potential 'Capsllers' (paying subscribers to Capsll's App) in the U.S.A alone.

When you think about heritage applications you likely think of ancestry.com, and they do a great job looking back. We’re planning forward, but ancestry gives us a great idea of the type of subscriber that commits to a legacy application. Ancestry claims 3 million active monthly subscriptions. Our cashflow forecasts that we will have 3 million paying subscribers by year 5. If that target is met, we will have a monthly revenue of over $21m. This cashflow forecast is based on 2.5m of the 3m subscribers paying the full monthly subscription package of $7.99 monthly and 500,000 paying the limited subscription package of $3.99 monthly.

But, we realize that we need to start small, and grow fast... our first target is to secure 5,000 paying subscriptions, and on that number, we anticipate to breakeven at just 9 months. This breakeven forecast accounts for all estimated monthly expenses that Capsll will occur by month 9 vs. estimated income received by 5,000 paying Capsll subscribers.

This round of investment will enable us to complete the build of Capsll Version 1, and successfully launch via strategic partnerships, our first phase of targeted advertising, and focused PR, starting the movement to save personal history with Capsll.

We’ve already touched on the power of personal legacy, but what would this mean to a terminally ill mother who could leave insights for her daughter to know her one day, or a military dad leaving thoughts ahead of his deployment? Or the many seniors who feel forgotten, yet hold so much our history in their memories? Those are stories we need to save while we still can.

Your investment in Capsll will perfectly merge the opportunity of money and mission, with the potential for a return on investment while creating a valuable impact on humanity.

Our mission is to change the world today, preserve it for tomorrow and leave our greatest stories to the ones we love the most.

The Capsll app gives you digital time capsules to tell your life stories, save your history, and pass on your legacy.

Merrill Lynch Wealth Management recently released findings about what adults aged 55 and older want to be remembered for most. More than wealth, career, hobbies, and marriage, a massive 70% want to be remembered for the memories they’ve shared with loved ones.

Furthermore, wouldn’t you love to know your grandfather’s insights, or your grandma’s recipes, told by them in first person? Or to leave certain insights and stories to your kids for when they are old enough to appreciate them? We sure would!

But where do we save memories, and how easy are they to share and leave behind? They used to be kept in shoe boxes of photos, but it seems we have failed to effectively save memories in this digital age, and at best they are scattered across social media, if recorded at all. In fact with growing skepticism toward social media, fewer people are posting the memories they once trusted to these platforms.

That's why we created Capsll, an app that will put first person history in the palm of your hand. A space where you'll be able to easily record or upload video, audio, pictures, and documents in digital time Capslls, selecting each one to be private, selectively shared, or available on a public feed for others to enjoy. Why not create one with a time delay, so it can only be opened by your daughter on her wedding day? When you're at a special moment... "You should Capsll that!"

Our target market focuses on ages 35 and up, thus including the extremely nostalgic Generation X, and the Baby Boomer, and Silent Generations who understand the importance of imparting experience.

Our subscription model removes the need for advertising and data farming, allowing for greater user trust. While we have a TAM of 121 million in the U.S.A. alone, our go to market approach starts with strategic partnerships with organizations that serve the senior population. In particular, we are growing a relationship with the largest home care organization in the country who are eager to implement Capsll through their network.

Right now, we are ahead of the curve on design, and need capital to develop Capsll version 1. We understand that being pre-product can present a challenge for investors, and while we continue to try and bootstrap to the start line, we sure would love the right investor to partner in helping us grow. Few opportunities go beyond capital return alone and present the opportunity to leave a meaningful legacy, we believe that we are one of those unicorns.

For many, the future of online presence is moving from public social sharing, toward selective private sharing with select friends and family. There's a growing skepticism toward social media is creating a mass opportunity for a new, more personally controlled platform. There is a sense of public mistrust with the largest social networking sites/Apps on how our personal data is collected and used - and Capsll intends to keep personal data private.

Capsll operates on a subscription model, building trust by eliminating the need for user data farming and targeted user marketing. Having a subscription model eliminates the need for third party advertising.

Over and above an investment, be a part of the mission to value human life by saving both personal and world history in a way never before done. People used to save histories in books, memoirs or photo albums, but in a digital world we have failed to save our histories in a way that can be handed on effectively. At best, memories are scattered across social media, if recorded at all, with fewer people posting to the sites they once trusted with their memories.

Capsll helps people effectively recount their life stories, provides an easy to use, trustworthy platform with reliable storage that ensures perpetuity of content, and inspires a movement to save personal and world history.

Our coached storytelling aspect is rooted in the founder having 17 years in radio and TV broadcasting and interviewing.

Our Legacy feature sets you up to pass your content on in perpetuity.

The Capsll platform can hold multiple media formats; video, audio, pictures, documents, all in one place. The option to mark Capsll's as private, keeping that Capsll to yourself or sharing it with a select few, or marking it public to list on the public feed for others to enjoy.

We are approaching the market with the minimum viable feature set, on Apple OS only, limiting major bug fix issues - but plan to launch on an android platform in a later version.

We are securing strategic partners for initial launch through their large client networks, and we will be offering 100 free lifetime accounts to key influencers at launch.

While there are a few apps available that are competitors to some of our features, none offer a full spectrum service as we do, resulting in little to no traction. As such, instead of listing them as competitors we have approached this from where people are currently saving their memory content.

While we have recognized a large addressable market, our immediate goal is to start small and scale fast. Ancestry.com provides insight to a demographic of people that have committed time and money in interest of their family heritage.

There is a large emerging market of “memory” focused digital applications, but none that offer a full service like we do, namely; coaching, a content platform, storage, and legacy transfer. Unlike others, we are not building a feature, we are building a company.

We believe that by recognizing the value of each person’s story we add value to human life and the fabric of society. Legacies can be left to future family and friends. And creators can own their work, particularly as we move toward advancement in NFT digital asset ownership. Seniors can be revalued in society, the military can leave Capsll's prior to deployment, the terminally ill can leave life stories and insights, for example, to children who would only appreciate it once they are old enough to do so, and the social impact of a teen being able to hear insights from his late father, for example, may lead him toward meaning, and away from a life of crime or destitution.

Capsll is here to preserve history, through our greatest memories - one story at a time. And your investment will be part of this movement which we hope will brighten lives forever, inspire future generations and change the status quo to how we currently share content, and how our content is subsequently used.

In the pitch deck and business description, Capsll, Inc identifies it could obtain 3,000,000 customers, equal to Ancestry.com. This was produced on a 5-year forecast and is an estimate since there is no track record to gauge this type of scale. Capsll have produced this forecast on what they believe to be a conservative basis, but there is no evidence to suggest this scalability is achievable, or within this time frame.

The company also identifies it would be profitable with just 5,000 customers. This calculation is based on 5,000 paying subscribers, and takes into consideration anticipated costs. Because this is a forecast, there is no evidence to suggest this scalability is achievable, or customers would be willing to pay for the App.

The company identifies in its pitch deck that its product is patent pending. These pending patents are on priority information, software & app design.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

- Capsll is a start-up that currently has no audited financial statements. We have been operating for 6 months, and have yet to develop a usable App.

- Capsll has no track record, and no assurances that it will make a profit. The Company is still in its early phases and has not yet implemented its business plan. There can be no assurance that we will ever operate profitably. The likelihood of our success should be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications and delays usually encountered by early stage companies. Capsll may not be successful in attaining the objectives necessary for it to overcome these risks and uncertainties.

- In order to achieve the Company’s near and long-term goals, the Company may need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we may not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations will be in jeopardy and we may be forced to cease operations and sell or otherwise transfer all or substantially all of our remaining assets, which could cause an Investor to lose all or a portion of their investment.

- Capslls profitability relies on subscribers paying a monthly or yearly subscription. In order to scale, Capsll is reliant that subscribers will be willing to pay a fee for the services that Capsll provides.

- And even if Capsll successfully scales, the Company may face issues if they scale too fast. If our business plan is successful, we may experience significant growth in a short period of time. We currently have a development team, but with 3 current employees at Capsll, any fast scale would lead to rapidly finding good talent so the company can continue to grow and manage potential bug issues. Our failure to manage our growth may adversely impact our business and the value of your investment.
- Capsll has competition via social media platforms that do not charge a subscription. This could deter subscribers from signing up and paying a fee.
- Capsll is reliant on their App Developers to create the usable App. If any technical issues occur, or any unforeseen delays and issues, this will delay the usable App being developed, and therefore delay the path to profitability. Capsll might then run into liquidity issues and have to raise more capital.
- Capsll currently has no key-person life insurance policies in place for the founders/dependent partners. We are dependent on certain key personnel in order to conduct our operations and execute our business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if any of these personnel die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such a person's absence. The loss of such a person could negatively affect the Company and our operations. We have no way to guarantee key personnel will stay with the Company, as many states do not enforce non-competition agreements, and therefore acquiring key man insurance will not ameliorate all of the risk of relying on key personnel.
- In order to achieve the Company's near and long-term goals, the Company may need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we may not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations will be in jeopardy and we may be forced to cease operations and sell or otherwise transfer all or substantially all of our remaining assets, which could cause an Investor to lose all or a portion of their investment.
- 100% of the issued Common Stock are held by the company's 3 co-founders/directors and they will be able to control the company without the input from investors in this offering.
- The SAFE notes in this offering may never convert into equity. This is a risk associated with owning the securities in this offering.
- Capsll may not be able to afford to pay influencers to use their app, those reducing changes of scalability and profitability.
- There may be threats to the company's intellectual property and difficulty protecting the intellectual property.
- There may also be difficulty protecting threats to subscribers information and data breaches from hackers and other cyber security issues.
- In the pitch deck and business description, Capsll, Inc identifies it could obtain 3,000,000 customers, equal to Ancestry.com. This was produced on a 5-year forecast and is an estimate since there is no track record to gauge this type of scale. Capsll have produced this forecast on what they believe to be a conservative basis, but there is no evidence to suggest this scalability is achievable, or within this time frame.
- The company also identifies it would be profitable with just 5,000 customers. This calculation is based on 5,000 paying subscribers, and takes into consideration anticipated costs. Because this is a forecast, there is no evidence to suggest this scalability is achievable, or customers would be willing to pay for the App.
- The company's offering may involve a rolling close. In such cases, once the target amount of the offering has been met, Investors with accepted subscription agreements become the Company's Investors. Should a material change occur after the closing, you will no longer have the right to withdraw from the offering, regardless of such material change.

If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.
