Summary

Building the future of cannabis with the world's first decentralized cultivation platform.

Founded at the intersection of smart home, agtech, and clean-tech, our first product, the HomeGrow, automates the cannabis grow cycle from seed to flower.

Our deeper innovation is converting consumers into cultivators through human-centered design and a seamless user experience.

At reef grows we are building a platform where transparency, sustainability and community are the foundation for crafting the next era of the cannabis industry.
