RISK FACTORS

Investing in the Securities involves a high degree of risk and may result in the loss of your entire investment. Before making an investment decision with respect to the Securities, we urge you to carefully consider the risks described in this section and other factors set forth in this Form C. In addition to the risks specified below, the Company is subject to same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently riskier than more developed companies. Prospective Investors should consult with their legal, tax and financial advisors prior to making an investment in the Securities. The Securities should only be purchased by persons who can afford to lose all of their investment.

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

There exists a cryptocurrency formerly known as "BitGreen" that is currently available for exchange on a prominent platform, and its existence may impact the Company's business plan.

In 2017, a team unaffiliated with the Company, created a fork of the Dash blockchain called Bitcoin Green, a proof-of-stake alternative cryptocurrency to Bitcoin. When the team who created BitCoin Green tried to register Bitcoin Green on multiple cryptocurrency exchanges, the exchanges informed them that the term "Bitcoin" could not be used in creating an alternative currency for exchange, and the currency was instead listed as "BitGreen" with the Ticker "BITG" on ProBit. Since that time, ProBit has approved the reversal of name change to Bitcoin Green, and Bitcoin Green is no longer known as BitGreen on ProBit, which is the only platform on which Bitcoin Green is currently tradeable.

From 2018, Dennis Reichelt, the current CTO of the Company (see "Key Persons" section) volunteered his time for no consideration in building the blockchain infrastructure for the token. In 2018, the Bitcoin Green project was abandoned. At this time, Dennis Reichelt was still a core volunteer, and Adam Carver, the current CEO of the Company, was a passive holder of tokens of BitCoin Green. In 2021 Adam Carver assumed leadership of the project, along with Dennis Reichelt, on a volunteer basis. During the period ranging from 2018-2021, the name of the cryptocurrency reverted to Bitcoin Green on every exchange, after which the Bitcoin Green project was just left as a cryptocurrency available for trade on ProBit, which is the only platform on which Bitcoin Green is currently tradeable. It is currently known on only the Messari platform as BitGreen, which is a factual error, where it is not available for trade and it does not have any common elements or affiliation with the Company. Additionally, the Company has been working with Messari to revert to the Bitcoin Green name, and no objection to the name change has been raised by any current holders of Bitcoin Green.

The Bitcoin Green token is not technologically or legally affiliated with the Securities. BitGreen is a Substrate-based blockchain, and Bitcoin Green is a masternode-based token. HOLDERS OF THE BITCOIN GREEN TOKEN HAVE NO AFFILIATION WITH THE SECURITIES IN THIS OFFERING, AND THE COMPANY DOES NOT HAVE ANY PLANS TO INVOLVE CURRENT HOLDERS OF BITCOIN GREEN IN ITS FUTURE BUSINESS PLANS. The Company is also actively seeking guidance from the SEC through counsel on the issue of whether the existence of Bitcoin Green could have any adverse legal impact on the Securities or the Company's business plan. A significant portion of the proceeds of the Offering will be utilized in legal, regulatory and operational costs resulting from engaging with the SEC on matters related to Bitcoin Green. If the SEC responds that Bitcoin Green and its presence on platforms conflicts with the Company's proposed business plan, it may negatively impact the Company's business plan, the value of the Securities, and the Company's business, operations, and prospects.

The Company may be required to register with the SEC as an "Investment Company" under the Investment Company Act of 1940, or an Alternative Trading System.

The Company's proposed business plan (see "Business Plan" section) is intended to take the form of an investment marketplace in which holders of the Securities can select individual projects and businesses in which to invest. To the extent the nature of the operations requires specific licenses and/or approval from government entities, these licenses and/or approvals must be obtained prior to the business executing on its business plan.

We have no operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters.

We were incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware on September 10, 2021. Accordingly, we have no history upon which an evaluation of our prospects and future performance can be made. Our proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of our creation of a viable business must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the inception of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions, and a corresponding client base. We anticipate that our operating expenses will increase for the near future. There can be no assurances that we will ever operate profitably. You should consider the Company's business, operations and prospects in light of the risks, expenses and challenges faced by an early-stage company.

We have only minimal audited financial statements.

The Company's only audited financial statement is dated as of October 13, 2021, and sets forth the Company's financial position as of its incorporation on September 10, 2021. Therefore, you have only minimal audited financial information regarding the Company's capitalization or assets or liabilities on which to make your investment decision. If you feel the information provided is insufficient, you should not invest in the Company.

The Company is only registered to do business in Delaware.

Although the Company's principal place of business is in Florida, it is currently only registered to do business in Delaware, and it not registered under the Florida Secretary of State. Accordingly, the Company will not be able to generate revenue in any state other than Delaware until it is registered in other states, including Florida. The Company is currently working to file for the necessary documentation to carry out business in these states.

The Company is subject to the risk of possibly becoming subject to New York State's requirement of a Virtual Currency Business Activity License or becoming subject to other state licensing requirements.

On June 3, 2015, New York State Department of Financial Services ("NYDFS") issued its comprehensive regulatory scheme for digital currency businesses, called the "BitLicense." The BitLicense scheme requires most businesses involved in digital currency transactions in or involving New York, excluding merchants and consumers, to apply for a license from the NYDFS and to comply with anti-money laundering, cyber security, consumer protection, and financial and reporting requirements, among others. Other states have similar regimes (for example, a bill in California would have imposed a similar regime, although the bill was shelved), or have required virtual currency businesses to register with their states as money transmitters, which results in virtual currency businesses being subject to requirements similar to those of NYDFS's BitLicense regime. Certain state regulators, such as Texas Department of Banking and Kansas Office of State Bank Commissioner, have found that bitcoins do not constitute money, and that mere transmission of bitcoin does not constitute money transmission requiring licensure. The North Carolina Commissioner of Banks has issued guidance providing that North Carolina's money transmission regulations only apply to transmission of virtual currency and not its use. One June 28, 2014, the Governor of the State of California signed into law a bill that removed state-level prohibitions on the use of alternative forms of currency or value. The bill indirectly authorizes use of bitcoins as an alternative form of money in the state. The inconsistency in applying money transmitting licensure requirements to certain virtual currency businesses may make it more difficult for virtual currency businesses to provide services, which may affect consumer adoption of virtual currencies and their prices, which may negatively impact the value of the Securities.

To date, we have not generated revenue, do not foresee generating any revenue in the near future and therefore rely on external financing.

We are a startup Company and our business model currently focuses on research, development and market implementation in the near future, rather than generating revenue. While we intend to generate revenue in the future, we cannot assure you when or if we will be able to do so.

We currently rely on external financing to fund our operations. We anticipate, based on our current proposed plans and assumptions relating to our operations (including the timetable of, and costs associated with, new product development) that, if the Minimum Amount is raised in this Offering, it will be sufficient to satisfy our contemplated cash requirements through approximately December 2024 assuming that we do not accelerate the development of other opportunities available to us, engage in an extraordinary transaction or otherwise face unexpected events, costs or contingencies, any of which could affect our cash requirements.

We expect capital outlays and operating expenditures to increase over the next several years as we expand our infrastructure, commercial operations, development activities and establish offices.

Our future funding requirements will depend on many factors, including but not limited to the following:

- * The cost of expanding our operations;
- * The financial terms and timing of any collaborations, licensing or other arrangements into which we may enter;
- * The rate of progress and cost of development activities;
- * The need to respond to technological changes and increased competition;
- * The costs of filing, prosecuting, defending and enforcing any patent claims and other intellectual property rights;
- * The cost and delays in product development that may result from changes in regulatory requirements applicable to our products;
- * Sales and marketing efforts to bring these new product candidates to market;
- * Unforeseen difficulties in establishing and maintaining an effective sales and distribution network; and
- * Lack of demand for and market acceptance of our services.

We may have difficulty obtaining additional funding and we cannot assure you that additional capital will be available to us when needed, if at all, or if available, will be obtained on terms acceptable to us. If we raise additional funds by issuing additional debt securities, such debt instruments may provide for rights, preferences or privileges senior to the Securities. In addition, the terms of the debt securities issued could impose significant restrictions on our operations. If we raise additional funds through collaborations and licensing arrangements, we might be required to relinquish significant rights to our technologies or product candidates, or grant licenses on terms that are not favorable to us. If adequate funds are not available, we may have to delay, scale back, or eliminate some of our operations or our research development and commercialization activities. Under these circumstances, if the Company is unable to acquire additional capital or is required to raise it on terms that are less satisfactory than desired, it may have a material adverse effect on its financial condition.

COVID-19

In January 2020, the World Health Organization has declared the outbreak of a novel coronavirus (COVID-19) as a “Public Health Emergency of International Concern,” which continues to spread throughout the world and has adversely impacted global commercial activity and contributed to significant declines and volatility in financial markets. The coronavirus outbreak and government responses are creating disruption in global supply chains and adversely impacting many industries. The outbreak could have a continued material adverse impact on economic and market conditions and trigger a period of global economic slowdown. The rapid development and fluidity of this situation precludes any prediction as to the ultimate material adverse impact of the coronavirus outbreak. Nevertheless, the outbreak presents uncertainty and risk with respect to the Company, its performance, and its financial results.

The amount of capital the Company is attempting to raise in this Offering may not be enough to sustain the Company's current business plan.

In order to achieve the Company's near and long-term goals, the Company may need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we may not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations will be in jeopardy and we may be forced to cease operations and sell or otherwise transfer all or substantially all of our remaining assets, which could cause an Investor to lose all or a portion of their investment.

We may face potential difficulties in obtaining capital.

We may have difficulty raising needed capital in the future as a result of, among other factors, our lack of revenues from sales, as well as the inherent business risks associated with our Company and present and future market conditions. Our business currently does not generate any sales and future sources of revenue may not be sufficient to meet our future capital requirements. We will require additional funds to execute our business strategy and conduct our operations. If adequate funds are unavailable, we may be required to delay, reduce the scope of or eliminate one or more of our research, development or commercialization programs, product launches or marketing efforts, any of which may materially harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The United States tax rules applicable to an investment in the Securities and the underlying tokens are uncertain and the tax consequences to an investor of an investment in the Securities could differ from the investor's expectations.

The tax rules applicable to the Securities and the underlying tokens held by the Company are complex, and no statutory, judicial, or administrative authority directly addresses the characterization of an investment in tokens. The tax consequences to a Investor of the Securities could differ from the Investor's expectations. Investors should consult their own tax advisors.

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay or halt the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in product development, loss of customers and sales and diversion of management resources, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us.

We may implement new lines of business or offer new products and services within existing lines of business.

As an early-stage company, we may implement new lines of business at any time. There are substantial risks and uncertainties associated with these efforts, particularly in instances where the markets are not fully developed. In developing and marketing new lines of business and/or new products and services, we may invest significant time and resources. Initial timetables for the introduction and development of new lines of business and/or new products or services may not be achieved, and price and profitability targets may not prove feasible. We may not be successful in introducing new products and services in response to industry trends or developments in technology, or those new products may not achieve market acceptance. As a result, we could lose business, be forced to price products and services on less advantageous terms to retain or attract clients or be subject to cost increases. As a result, our business, financial condition or results of operations may be adversely affected.

Regulatory changes or actions may alter the nature of an investment in the Securities or restrict the use of tokens or the operation of the network in a manner that adversely affects an investment in the Securities.

As cryptocurrencies and tokens have grown in popularity and in market size, the U.S. Congress and certain U.S. agencies (e.g., FinCEN, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Bureau of Investigation) have begun to examine the operations of the cryptocurrency and token networks and issuers. Local state regulators such as the California Department of Financial Institutions and the New York State Department of Financial Services have also initiated examinations of cryptocurrencies. There is a possibility of future regulatory change altering, perhaps to a material extent, the nature of an investment in the Securities or the ability of the Company to continue to operate. To the extent that cryptocurrencies or tokens are determined to be a security, commodity future or other regulated asset, or to the extent that a U.S. or foreign government or quasi-governmental agency exerts regulatory authority over cryptocurrency or token trading and ownership, trading or ownership in the Securities may be adversely affected.

To the extent that future regulatory actions or policies limit the ability to exchange cryptocurrencies or utilize them for payments, the demand for cryptocurrency will decrease.

New regulations may make it more difficult to acquire and/or use cryptocurrencies. Furthermore, regulatory actions may limit the ability of end-users to convert cryptocurrencies into fiat currency (e.g., U.S. Dollars) or use cryptocurrencies to pay for goods and services. Such regulatory actions or policies would negatively affect our business and decrease the value of the Securities.

Cryptocurrencies currently face an uncertain regulatory landscape in not only the United States but also in many foreign jurisdictions such as the European Union.

While the German Ministry of Finance has declared Bitcoin to be “Rechnungseinheiten” (a form of private money that is recognized as a unit of account, but not recognized in the same manner as fiat currency), most regulatory bodies have not yet issued official statements regarding intention to regulate or determinations on regulation of other cryptocurrencies. Conversely, regulatory bodies in some countries such as Canada and India have declined to exercise regulatory authority when afforded the opportunity. Various foreign jurisdictions may, in the near future, adopt laws, regulations or directives that affect cryptocurrencies, particularly exchanges and service providers that fall within such jurisdictions’ regulatory scope. Such laws, regulations or directives may conflict with those of the United States and may negatively impact the acceptance of cryptocurrencies by users, merchants and service providers outside of the United States and may therefore impede the growth of the cryptocurrency economy. We are not able to predict the effect of any future regulatory change on the Company or cryptocurrencies, but such change could be substantial and adverse to the Company or the value of the Securities.

It may be illegal now, or in the future, to acquire, own, hold, sell or use tokens in one or more countries.

Although currently tokens are not regulated or are lightly regulated in most countries, including the United States, one or more countries may take regulatory actions in the future that severely restricts the right to acquire, own, hold, sell or use tokens or to exchange tokens for fiat currency. Such an action may also result in the restriction of ownership, holding or trading in the Securities. Such a restriction could result in the termination and liquidation of the Company at a time that is disadvantageous to Investors.

The Company may be deemed a “money transmitter.”

To the extent that the activities of the Company cause it to be deemed a “money transmitter” under the regulations promulgated by FinCEN under the authority of the U.S. Bank Secrecy Act, or by any state, the Company may be required to comply with FinCEN and state regulations, including those that would mandate the Company to implement anti-money laundering programs, make certain reports to FinCEN and maintain certain records. Such additional regulatory obligations may cause the Company to incur extraordinary expenses or reduce efficiencies necessary for the visibility of the token, possibly affecting an investment in the Securities in a material and adverse manner.

We rely on various intellectual property rights, including trademarks, in order to operate our business.

The Company relies on certain intellectual property rights to operate its business. The Company’s intellectual property rights may not be sufficiently broad or otherwise may not provide us a significant competitive advantage. In addition, the steps that we have taken to maintain and protect our intellectual property may not prevent it from being challenged, invalidated, circumvented or designed-around, particularly in countries where intellectual property rights are not highly developed or protected. In some circumstances, enforcement may not be available to us because an infringer has a dominant intellectual property position or for other business reasons, or countries may require compulsory licensing of our intellectual property. Our failure to obtain or maintain intellectual property rights that convey competitive advantage, adequately protect our intellectual property or detect or prevent circumvention or unauthorized use of such property, could adversely impact our competitive position and results of operations. We also rely on nondisclosure and noncompetition agreements with employees, consultants and other parties to protect, in part, trade secrets and other proprietary rights. There can be no assurance that these agreements will adequately protect our trade secrets and other proprietary rights and will not be breached, that we will have adequate remedies for any breach, that others will not independently develop substantially equivalent proprietary information or that third parties will not otherwise gain access to our trade secrets or other proprietary rights. As we expand our business, protecting our intellectual property will become increasingly important. The protective steps we have taken may be inadequate to deter our competitors from using our proprietary information. In order to protect or enforce our patent rights, we may be required to initiate litigation against third parties, such as infringement lawsuits. Also, these third parties may assert claims against us with or without provocation. These lawsuits could be expensive, take significant time and could divert management’s attention from other business concerns. The law relating to the scope and validity of claims in the technology field in which we operate is still evolving and, consequently, intellectual property positions in our industry are generally uncertain. We cannot assure you that we will prevail in any of these potential suits or that the damages or other remedies awarded, if any, would be commercially valuable.

The Company could be negatively impacted if found to have infringed on intellectual property rights.

Technology companies, including many of the Company's competitors, frequently enter into litigation based on allegations of patent infringement or other violations of intellectual property rights. In addition, patent holding companies seek to monetize patents they have purchased or otherwise obtained. As the Company grows, the intellectual property rights claims against it will likely increase. The Company intends to vigorously defend infringement actions in court and before the U.S. International Trade Commission. The plaintiffs in these actions frequently seek injunctions and substantial damages. Regardless of the scope or validity of such patents or other intellectual property rights, or the merits of any claims by potential or actual litigants, the Company may have to engage in protracted litigation. If the Company is found to infringe one or more patents or other intellectual property rights, regardless of whether it can develop non-infringing technology, it may be required to pay substantial damages or royalties to a third-party, or it may be subject to a temporary or permanent injunction prohibiting the Company from marketing or selling certain products. In certain cases, the Company may consider the desirability of entering into licensing agreements, although no assurance can be given that such licenses can be obtained on acceptable terms or that litigation will not occur. These licenses may also significantly increase the Company's operating expenses.

Regardless of the merit of particular claims, litigation may be expensive, time-consuming, disruptive to the Company's operations and distracting to management. In recognition of these considerations, the Company may enter into arrangements to settle litigation. If one or more legal matters were resolved against the Company's consolidated financial statements for that reporting period could be materially adversely affected. Further, such an outcome could result in significant compensatory, punitive or trebled monetary damages, disgorgement of revenue or profits, remedial corporate measures or injunctive relief against the Company that could adversely affect its financial condition and results of operations.

Cyclical and seasonal fluctuations in the economy, in internet usage, and in blockchain development may have an effect on our business.

Both cyclical and seasonal fluctuations in internet usage and in blockchain development may affect our business. Internet usage generally slows during the summer months, and queries typically increase significantly in the first quarter of each year. These seasonal trends may cause fluctuations in our quarterly results, including fluctuations in revenues.

An intentional or unintentional disruption, failure, misappropriation or corruption of our network and information systems could severely affect our business.

Such an event might be caused by computer hacking, computer viruses, worms and other destructive or disruptive software, "cyber-attacks" and other malicious activity, as well as natural disasters, power outages, terrorist attacks and similar events. Such events could have an adverse impact on us and our customers, including degradation of service, service disruption, excessive call volume to call centers and damage to our plant, equipment and data. In addition, our future results could be adversely affected due to the theft, destruction, loss, misappropriation or release of confidential customer data or intellectual property. Operational or business delays may result from the disruption of network or information systems and the subsequent remediation activities. Moreover, these events may create negative publicity resulting in reputation or brand damage with customers.

Terrorist attacks and threatened attacks have from time to time materially adversely affected the demand for advertising in certain industries and/or countries, impeded business travel and have also resulted in increased safety and security costs for us and the advertising or gaming industry generally.

Safety measures create delays and inconveniences and can, in particular, reduce our competitiveness against surface transportation for certain routes. Additional terrorist attacks, even if not made directly on the crypto industry, or the fear of such attacks or other hostilities, would likely have a further significant negative impact on the Company and the crypto industry. Terrorist-sponsored attacks, both foreign and domestic, could have adverse effects on our business and results of operations. These attacks could accelerate or exacerbate other industry risks and also have the potential to interfere with our business.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on Adam Carver (Chief Executive Officer and Treasurer), Dennis Reichelt (Director and Chief Technology Officer), and Gilad Goren (Director and Secretary). The Company has or intends to enter into employment agreements with Dennis Reichelt and Gilad Goren, although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of Adam Carver, Dennis Reichelt, Gilad Goren, or any member of the board of directors or officer of the Company could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key person life insurance policies on any such people.

The Company is dependent on Adam Carver, Dennis Reichelt, and Gilad Goren in order to conduct its operations and execute its business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if any of Adam Carver, Dennis Reichelt, or Gilad Goren die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and its operations.

Damage to our reputation could negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our reputation and the quality of our brand are critical to our business and success in existing markets, and will be critical to our success as we enter new markets. Any incident that erodes consumer loyalty for our brand could significantly reduce its value and damage our business. We may be adversely affected by any negative publicity, regardless of its accuracy. Also, there has been a marked increase in the use of social media platforms and similar devices, including blogs, social media websites and other forms of internet-based communications that provide individuals with access to a broad audience of consumers and other interested persons. The availability of information on social media platforms is virtually immediate as is its impact. Information posted may be adverse to our interests or may be inaccurate, each of which may harm our performance, prospects or business. The harm may be immediate and may disseminate rapidly and broadly, without affording us an opportunity for redress or correction.

Our business could be negatively impacted by cyber security threats, attacks and other disruptions.

We continue to face advanced and persistent attacks on our information infrastructure where we manage and store various proprietary information and sensitive/confidential data relating to our operations. These attacks may include sophisticated malware (viruses, worms, and other malicious software programs) and phishing emails that attack our products or otherwise exploit any security vulnerabilities. These intrusions sometimes may be zero-day malware that are difficult to identify because they are not included in the signature set of commercially available antivirus scanning programs. Experienced computer programmers and hackers may be able to penetrate our network security and misappropriate or compromise our confidential information or that of our customers or other third-parties, create system disruptions, or cause shutdowns. Additionally, sophisticated software and applications that we produce or procure from third-parties may contain defects in design or manufacture, including "bugs" and other problems that could unexpectedly interfere with the operation of the information infrastructure. A disruption, infiltration or failure of our information infrastructure systems or any of our data centers as a result of software or hardware malfunctions, computer viruses, cyber-attacks, employee theft or misuse, power disruptions, natural disasters or accidents could cause breaches of data security, loss of critical data and performance delays, which in turn could adversely affect our business.

The development and commercialization of our services is highly competitive.

We face competition with respect to our services. Our competitors include major companies worldwide. Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and human resources than we have and superior expertise in research and development and marketing approved services and thus may be better equipped than us to develop and commercialize services. These competitors also compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, our competitors may commercialize products more rapidly or effectively than we are able to, which would adversely affect our competitive position, the likelihood that our services will achieve initial market acceptance and our ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from our services.

Security breaches of confidential customer information, in connection with our electronic processing of credit and debit card transactions, or confidential employee information may adversely affect our business.

Our business requires the collection, transmission and retention of personally identifiable information, in various information technology systems that we maintain and in those maintained by third parties with whom we contract to provide services. The integrity and protection of that data is critical to us. The information, security and privacy requirements imposed by governmental regulation are increasingly demanding. Our systems may not be able to satisfy these changing requirements and customer and employee expectations, or may require significant additional investments or time in order to do so. A breach in the security of our information technology systems or those of our service providers could lead to an interruption in the operation of our systems, resulting in operational inefficiencies and a loss of profits. Additionally, a significant theft, loss or misappropriation of, or access to, customers' or other proprietary data or other breach of our information technology systems could result in fines, legal claims or proceedings.

If we do not respond to technological changes or upgrade our websites and technology systems, our growth prospects and results of operations could be adversely affected.

To remain competitive, we must continue to enhance and improve the functionality and features of our websites and technology infrastructure. As a result, we will need to continue to improve and expand our hosting and network infrastructure and related software capabilities. These improvements may require greater levels of spending than we have experienced in the past. Without such improvements, our operations might suffer from unanticipated system disruptions, slow application performance or unreliable service levels, any of which could negatively affect our reputation and ability to attract and retain customers and contributors. Furthermore, in order to continue to attract and retain new customers, we are likely to incur expenses in connection with continuously updating and improving our user interface and experience. We may face significant delays in introducing new services, products and enhancements. If competitors introduce new products and services using new technologies or if new industry standards and practices emerge, our existing websites and our proprietary technology and systems may become obsolete or less competitive, and our business may be harmed. In addition, the expansion and improvement of our systems and infrastructure may require us to commit substantial financial, operational and technical resources, with no assurance that our business will improve.

The use of individually identifiable data by our business, our business associates and third parties is regulated at the state, federal and international levels.

The regulation of individual data is changing rapidly, and in unpredictable ways. A change in regulation could adversely affect our business, including causing our business model to no longer be viable. Costs associated with information security – such as investment in technology, the costs of compliance with consumer protection laws and costs resulting from consumer fraud – could cause our business and results of operations to suffer materially. Additionally, the success of our online operations depends upon the secure transmission of confidential information over public networks, including the use of cashless payments. The intentional or negligent actions of employees, business associates or third parties may undermine our security measures. As a result, unauthorized parties may obtain access to our data systems and misappropriate confidential data. There can be no assurance that advances in computer capabilities, new discoveries in the field of cryptography or other developments will prevent the compromise of our customer transaction processing capabilities and personal data. If any such compromise of our security or the security of information residing with our business associates or third parties were to occur, it could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, operating results and financial condition. Any compromise of our data security may materially increase the costs we incur to protect against such breaches and could subject us to additional legal risk.

The Company is not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and may lack the financial controls and procedures of public companies.

The Company may not have the internal control infrastructure that would meet the standards of a public company, including the requirements of the Sarbanes Oxley Act of 2002. As a privately-held (non-public) Company, the Company is currently not subject to the Sarbanes Oxley Act of 2002, and its financial and disclosure controls and procedures reflect its status as a development stage, non-public company. There can be no guarantee that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of the Company's financial and disclosure controls and procedures. If it were necessary to implement such financial and disclosure controls and procedures, the cost to the Company of such compliance could be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations.

Maintaining, extending and expanding our reputation and brand image are essential to our business success.

We seek to maintain, extend, and expand our brand image through marketing investments, including advertising and consumer promotions, and product innovation. Increasing attention on marketing could adversely affect our brand image. It could also lead to stricter regulations and greater scrutiny of marketing practices. Existing or increased legal or regulatory restrictions on our advertising, consumer promotions and marketing, or our response to those restrictions, could limit our efforts to maintain, extend and expand our brands. Moreover, adverse publicity about regulatory or legal action against us could damage our reputation and brand image, undermine our customers' confidence and reduce long-term demand for our products, even if the regulatory or legal action is unfounded or not material to our operations.

In addition, our success in maintaining, extending, and expanding our brand image depends on our ability to adapt to a rapidly changing media environment. We increasingly rely on social media and online dissemination of advertising campaigns. The growing use of social and digital media increases the speed and extent that information or misinformation and opinions can be shared. Negative posts or comments about us, our brands or our products on social or digital media, whether or not valid, could seriously damage our brands and reputation. If we do not establish, maintain, extend and expand our brand image, then our product sales, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

We operate in a highly regulated environment, and if we are found to be in violation of any of the federal, state, or local laws or regulations applicable to us, our business could suffer.

We are also subject to a wide range of federal, state, and local laws and regulations, such as local licensing requirements, and retail financing, debt collection, consumer protection, environmental, health and safety, creditor, wage-hour, anti-discrimination, whistleblower and other employment practices laws and regulations and we expect these costs to increase going forward. The violation of these or future requirements or laws and regulations could result in administrative, civil, or criminal sanctions against us, which may include fines, a cease and desist order against the subject operations or even revocation or suspension of our license to operate the subject business. As a result, we have incurred and will continue to incur capital and operating expenditures and other costs to comply with these requirements and laws and regulations.

Risks Related to the Offering

The Company could potentially be found to have not complied with securities law in connection with this Offering related to "Testing the Waters."

Prior to filing this Form C, the Company may have engaged in conduct that could be regarded as "testing the waters" permitted under Regulation Crowdfunding (17 CFR 227.206), which allows issuers to communicate to determine whether there is interest in the offering. The Company engaged in theoretical discussions with potential investors in a group on the Telegram application and on the Discord application, in which these potential investors expressed interest in the predecessor to BitGreen, Bitcoin Green, and discussed ways in which Bitcoin Green might eventually interact with BitGreen. In both the Telegram group and the Discord group, key persons involved in the Company discussed the viability of a new cryptocurrency designed on the Substrate framework. During this discussion, no Securities were offered, promised, or purchased, and the Company confirms that it does not have any future plans to create interaction between the Securities and Bitcoin Green. Neither of these groups included discussion of this Offering or BitGreen. All communications sent are deemed to be an offer of securities for purposes of the antifraud provisions of federal securities laws. Any Investor who expressed interest prior to the date of this Offering should read this Form C thoroughly and rely only on the information provided herein and not on any statement made prior to the Offering. Some of these communications may not have included proper disclaimers required for "testing the waters". The above may not include all communications that may be regarded as "testing the waters" under Regulation CF requirements. Included below are working links to the Discord group and to the Telegram group where all "testing the waters" communications relevant to the Securities could have occurred.

Discord link: <https://discord.gg/gfM98YVd>

Telegram link: <http://t.me/bitcoingreenofficial>

The Company and key team members could potentially be found to have engaged in an “unregistered offering” in connection with 2017 activities on behalf of a different cryptocurrency.

From 2017-2018, the team that created Bitcoin Green (see “Risks Related to the Company’s Business and Industry”) created a community on the Discord social media application, and raised $120,000 worth of Bitcoin in exchange for masternodes of the Bitcoin Green token. The exchange was conducted entirely over the Discord social media community. At the time, Dennis Reichelt, the current CTO of the Company, was working on a volunteer basis for Bitcoin Green. He was not involved in any discussions relating to the exchange, and did not fundraise, accept any Bitcoin in connection with the exchange, or send masternodes of BITG to investors. The exchange raised approximately $120,000 in exchange for securities of the Bitcoin Green token. There has been no inquiry from the SEC to the Company on the sale, and there has been no cease-and-desist order or similar communication in respect of the sale or Bitcoin Green in general. While this is true as of the date specified below, this may change in the future.

THE SEC MAY DEEM THE EXCHANGE OF MASTERNODES FOR BITCOIN AS AN “UNREGISTERED OFFERING” OF SECURITIES PURSUANT TO FEDERAL SECURITIES LAW. IF THE SEC HOLDS THE COMPANY RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS “UNREGISTERED OFFERING”, IT MAY NEGATIVELY IMPACT THE COMPANY’S BUSINESS PLAN AND THE OFFERING.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass judgment upon the merits of the Securities or the terms of the Offering, nor does it pass judgment upon the accuracy or completeness of any Offering document or literature.

You should not rely on the fact that our Form C is accessible through the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission’s EDGAR filing system as an approval, endorsement or guarantee of compliance as it relates to this Offering. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not reviewed this Form C, nor any document or literature related to this Offering.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering or the Securities. Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws. Investors will not receive any of the benefits available in registered offerings, which may include access to quarterly and annual financial statements that have been audited by an independent accounting firm. Investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering based on the information provided in this Form C and the accompanying exhibits.

The Company’s management may have broad discretion in how the Company uses the net proceeds of the Offering.

Unless the Company has agreed to a specific use of the proceeds from the Offering, the Company’s management will have considerable discretion over the use of proceeds from the Offering. You may not have the opportunity, as part of your investment decision, to assess whether the proceeds are being used appropriately.

The Company has the right to limit individual Investor commitment amounts based on the Company’s determination of an Investor’s sophistication.

The Company may prevent any Investor from committing more than a certain amount in this Offering based on the Company’s determination of the Investor’s sophistication and ability to assume the risk of the investment. This means that your desired investment amount may be limited or lowered based solely on the Company’s determination and not in line with relevant investment limits set forth by the Regulation CF rules. This also means that other Investors may receive larger allocations of the Offering based solely on the Company’s determination.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering Deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering Deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Target Offering Amount even after the Offering Deadline stated herein is reached. While you have the right to cancel your investment in the event the Company extends the Offering Deadline, if you choose to reconfirm your investment, your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering Deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Target Offering Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Target Offering Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after the release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

The Company may also end the Offering early.

If the Target Offering Amount is met after 21 calendar days, but before the Offering Deadline, the Company can end the Offering by providing notice to Investors at least 5 business days prior to the end of the Offering. This means your failure to participate in the Offering in a timely manner, may prevent you from being able to invest in this Offering – it also means the Company may limit the amount of capital it can raise during the Offering by ending the Offering early.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Securities will not be freely tradable under the Securities Act until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Securities may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply, and each Investor should consult with their attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not ever be a public market for the Securities. Because the Securities have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or foreign jurisdiction, the Securities have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Securities may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Securities in a private sale. Investors should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Investor in this Offering will be required to represent that they are purchasing the Securities for their own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Investor is not an owner of the Company and has no decision-making rights or vote

You are not entitled, as a holder of the Securities, to vote or receive dividends or be deemed the holder of capital stock for any purpose, nor will you have any of the rights of a stockholder or member of the Company, as applicable, or any right to vote for the election of directors or upon any matter submitted at any meeting thereof, or to give or withhold consent to any Company action (other than as pursuant to the Token DPA) or to receive notice of meetings, or to receive subscription rights. Accordingly, no person should purchase a Security unless he or she is willing to entrust all aspects of management to the Company. Furthermore, you will not have any rights to the profits or intellectual property of the Company, and your only claim to the assets of the Company are the rights of payment as set forth in the Token DPA.

A significant portion of the proceeds from the Offering will be used to pay accrued and unpaid wages and expenses of the Company's current officers, and future wages to the Company's current officers

These significant proceeds will not be available for the ongoing operations of the Company but will instead be paid to these insiders as unpaid compensation for prior service to the Company, and future compensation for future services to the Company.

Adam Carver
Gilad Goren
Dennis Reichelt

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the Offering, the Company's current owners of 20% or more beneficially own 98% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

Investors will not be entitled to any inspection or information rights other than those required by law.

Investors will not have the right to inspect the books and records of the Company or to receive financial or other information from the Company, other than as required by law. Other security holders of the Company may have such rights. Regulation CF requires only the provision of an annual report on Form C and no additional information. Additionally, there are numerous methods by which the Company can terminate annual report obligations, resulting in no information rights, contractual, statutory or otherwise, owed to Investors. This lack of information could put Investors at a disadvantage in general and with respect to other security holders, including certain security holders who have rights to periodic financial statements and updates from the Company such as quarterly unaudited financials, annual projections and budgets, and monthly progress reports, among other things.

There is no present market for the Securities and we have arbitrarily set the price.

The Offering price was not established in a competitive market. We have arbitrarily set the price of the Securities with reference to the general status of the securities market and other relevant factors. The Offering price for the Securities should not be considered an indication of the actual value of the Securities and is not based on our asset value, net worth, revenues or other established criteria of value. We cannot guarantee that the Securities can be resold at the Offering price or at any other price.

While the Securities provide mechanisms whereby holders of the Securities would be entitled to a return of their purchase amount upon the occurrence of certain events, if the Company does not have sufficient cash on hand, this obligation may not be fulfilled.

Upon the occurrence of certain events, as provided in the Securities, holders of the Securities may be entitled to a return of the principal amount invested. Despite the contractual provisions in the Securities, this right cannot be guaranteed if the Company does not have sufficient liquid assets on hand. Therefore, potential Investors should not assume a guaranteed return of their investment amount.

There can be no assurance that we will ever provide liquidity to Investors through either a sale of the Company or a registration of the Securities.

There can be no assurance that any form of merger, combination, or sale of the Company will take place, or that any merger, combination, or sale would provide liquidity for Investors. Furthermore, we may be unable to register the Securities for resale by Investors for legal, commercial, regulatory, market-related or other reasons. In the event that we are unable to effect a registration, Investors could be unable to sell their Securities unless an exemption from registration is available.

There is no guarantee of a return on an Investor's investment.

There is no assurance that an Investor will realize a return on their investment or that they will not lose their entire investment. For this reason, each Investor should read this Form C and all exhibits carefully and should consult with their attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

IN ADDITION TO THE RISKS LISTED ABOVE, RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES NOT PRESENTLY KNOWN, OR WHICH WE CONSIDER IMMATERIAL AS OF THE DATE OF THIS FORM C, MAY ALSO

HAVE AN ADVERSE EFFECT ON OUR BUSINESS AND RESULT IN THE TOTAL LOSS OF YOUR INVESTMENT.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

The Company provides operating capacity and maintenance to the BitGreen blockchain, a distributed general ledger application that supports a diverse and decentralized community of participants in the technology, blockchain and cryptocurrency sector. After the first issuance of BitGreen tokens, the Company also intends to create an investment platform for users to directly invest their tokens into sustainable projects and initiatives in the ESG space.

Business Plan

The Company's business model is primarily Business-to-Business and Business-to-Business-to-Consumer, and targets users tied to the Social Impact and Environmental Advocacy sectors. We serve enterprises and third-party development teams whose activities, for-profit businesses or nonprofit work could potentially benefit from the employment of distributed ledger technology. As we provide this Blockchain-as-a-Service service, we allow third-party applications the opportunity to utilize the BitGreen blockchain for on-chain governance, data storage, processing power, encryption, transparency, auditing, and other features. We anticipate earning revenue for the protocol via transaction fees from these applications. The Company's future business plans may also include creating an investment platform for BitGreen holders to invest their tokens directly into sustainable projects and initiatives on the platform. To the extent the nature of the operations require specific licenses and/or approval from government entities, these licenses and/or approvals must be obtained prior to the business executing on its business plan.

The Company's Products and/or Services

Product / Service	Description	Current Market
BitGreen blockchain	Distributed ledger	Third-party development teams who aspire to employ blockchain in their development.

BitGreen is a blockchain protocol developed by Adam Carver, Dennis Reichelt, and Gilad Goren, incorporated on September 10, 2021. Separate from the Bitcoin Green protocol, which is a fork of the PIVX protocol (see "Risk Factors related to the Company's Business and Industry") and was until recently known as BitGreen, BitGreen is built using the Substrate SDK, a product developed by Parity, the team behind the Polkadot Network. Substrate enables developers to create application-specific blockchains tailored for specific purpose and use cases, for instance ESG and DeFi. Purpose-built blockchains offer material advantages for unique use case applications over smart contract applications built atop general purpose blockchains. BitGreen intends to be a Layer 1 technology on top of which other teams will build network resources relating to Environmental and Social Governance enterprises, and aims to participate in a Parachain auction in 2022 or 2023. Additionally, Bitgreen has contemplated the support of an external decentralized app that would facilitate third-party transactions related to off-chain investments in the Environmental and Social Governance space. Common transactions are intended to involve using smart contracts for the collateral of infrastructure assets such as Solar, Wind, and Electric Vehicle Charging Stations, or uncollateralized lending structures such as microfinance transactions. Although undeveloped as yet, Bitgreen intends to explore this option with regulators (see "Risk Factors Related to the Company's Business and Industry") to determine compliance, and utilize the best practices already being tested and in production by existing DeFi protocols.

Competition

The Company's primary competitors are Regen Network, Celo, MoSS Earth, Nori, Goldfinch Finance.

The markets for the Company's products and services are highly competitive and the Company is confronted by aggressive competition in all areas of its business. The Company's competitors may aggressively cut prices or lower their product margins to gain or maintain market share. Principal competitive factors important to the Company include price, service and support, and corporate reputation.

Customer Base

Our customers will be application development teams and ultimately, their customers. We expect the end user demographics to concentrate in two buckets: crypto converts and "green advocates" -- consumers who pay a slight premium in their everyday lives to go green or healthy. Some of their identifying behaviors might include reading labels at the supermarket and buying organic, recycling, driving a hybrid or EV.

Supply Chain

The Company does not materially depend upon any vendors. Our most important asset is our technology and people. Our goal is to have the best talent, with specialized skills to enhance our differentiation and competitiveness.

1. if the Company decides in good faith that it will not be able to generate and deliver the Tokens due to technical, business and/or regulatory challenges, the Company may in its discretion satisfy its obligations with respect to the debt outstanding under the DPA equivalent to the amount in escrow at the time plus an additional 20% of the debt amount under the DPA, which will total fifty percent (50%) of the obligations, with no interest or other duties owed to the relevant Investor, and with the remaining amount of fifty percent (50%) or less of the obligations being deemed a debt forgiveness by the Investor, or
2. if the Company fails to reach Milestone No. 2 within the projected timeline, within thirty (30) days of the failure, the Company will provide notice to the Investor, and the Investor may then provide notice to the Company demanding an early repayment of the obligations. Within fifteen (15 days) of receiving the notice, the Company may in its discretion satisfy its obligations with respect to the debt outstanding under the DPA equivalent to at least thirty percent (30%) of the obligations, with no interest or other duties owed to the relevant Investor, and with the remaining amount of seventy percent (70%) or less of the obligations being deemed a debt forgiveness by the Investor.

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF ACTIVITIES

Bitgreen Inc. (“Bitgreen”, the “Company”, “we”, “our”, “ours” or “us”) is an independent Delaware C Corporation that serves to provide operating capacity and maintenance to the Bitgreen Blockchain, a distributed general ledger application that supports a diverse and decentralized community of participants in the technology, blockchain and cryptocurrency sector. The Company, in its capacity as the initial creator of the Blockchain and coordinator of resources, supplies advice and integrated support for users and external development teams.

The Bitgreen Blockchain is a decentralized database that supports the production and use of decentralized applications. These applications exist for the general purpose and benefit of the Bitgreen community, and are often created by external third-parties who are unaffiliated with Bitgreen Inc. We assist these external teams in sharing our community’s goals, clarifying areas of mutual interest, and offering guidance pertaining to technology development, marketing, financial budgeting and distribution to the Community.

Bitgreen was founded in September 2021 by veteran technologists in the startup and fintech space to nurture an online community of purpose-led entrepreneurs to build decentralized applications targeting real-world impact related to environmental conservation and social and/or economic equality. The Bitgreen cryptocurrency is a governance and utility token that allows users to directly participate in democratic governance votes related to the Community, as well as gain access to decentralized applications that require the Bitgreen token for an express purpose or utility. The Company operates its business primarily from its offices located in New York, NY and Frankfurt, Germany.

The Company will conduct a crowdfunding campaign under regulation CF in 2021 to raise operating capital.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

Our financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”). Our fiscal year ends on December 31. The Company has no interest in variable interest entities and no predecessor entities.

Use of Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include all cash balances, and highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less when purchased.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

ASC 820 “Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures” establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs in measuring fair value. The hierarchy prioritizes the inputs into three levels based on the extent to which inputs used in measuring fair value are observable in the market.

These tiers include:

Level 1: defined as observable inputs such as quoted prices in active markets;

Level 2: defined as inputs other than quoted prices in active markets that are either directly or indirectly observable; and

Level 3: defined as unobservable inputs in which little or no market data exists, therefore requiring an entity to develop its own assumptions.

Concentrations of Credit Risks

The Company's financial instruments that are exposed to concentrations of credit risk primarily consist of its cash and cash equivalents. The Company places its cash and cash equivalents with financial institutions of high credit worthiness. The Company's management plans to assess the financial strength and credit worthiness of any parties to which it extends funds, and as such, it believes that any associated credit risk exposures are limited.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue from the sale of products and services in accordance with ASC 606, "Revenue Recognition" following the five steps procedure:

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with customers

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to performance obligations

Step 5: Recognize Revenue When or As Performance Obligations Are Satisfied

The Company will identify and analyze its performance obligations with respect to customer contracts once the first contract is signed.

Equity based compensation

The Company does not currently have an equity-based compensation plan.

Income Taxes

The Company is subject to corporate income and state income taxes in the state it does business. The Company's first tax return is due April 15th, 2022.

Recent accounting pronouncements

The FASB issues ASUs to amend the authoritative literature in ASC. There have been a number of ASUs to date that amend the original text of ASC. Management believes that those issued to date either (i) provide supplemental guidance, (ii) are technical corrections, (iii) are not applicable to us or (iv) are not expected to have a significant impact on our financial statements.

NOTE 3 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company follows ASC 850, "Related Party Disclosures," for the identification of related parties and disclosure of related party transactions. See Note 5.

NOTE 4 – CONTINGENCIES, COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS AND REGULATIONS

We are currently not involved with or know of any pending or threatening litigation against the Company or any of its officers. Further, the Company is currently complying with all relevant laws and regulations.

NOTE 5 – DEBT

The Company had outstanding $164k due to shareholders for out-of-pocket expenses incurred prior to the formation of the entity. The amounts accrue no interest and are due on demand.

NOTE 6 – EQUITY

The Company has authorized 10,000,000 of common shares with a par value of $0.00001 per share. 6,000,000 shares were issued to founders of the Company in exchange for a nominal amount of a stock subscription receivable.

Common stockholders are entitled to one vote and can receive dividends at the discretion of the boards of directors.

NOTE 7 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Company has evaluated events subsequent to September 10th, 2021 to assess the need for potential recognition or disclosure in this report. Such events were evaluated through October 13, 2021, the date these financial statements were available to be issued. No events require recognition or disclosure.

NOTE 8 – GOING CONCERN

The accompanying balance sheet has been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The entity has not commenced principal operations and may generate losses.

The Company's ability to continue as a going concern in the next twelve months following the date the financial statements were available to be issued is dependent upon its ability to produce revenues and/or obtain financing sufficient to meet current and future obligations and deploy such to produce profitable operating results. Management has evaluated these conditions and plans to generate revenues and raise capital as needed to satisfy its capital needs. No assurance can be given that the Company will be successful in these efforts. These factors, among others, raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time. The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts and classification of liabilities.

NOTE 9 – RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

COVID-19

The spread of COVID-19 has severely impacted many local economies around the globe. In many countries, businesses are being forced to cease or limit operations for long or indefinite periods of time. Measures taken to contain the spread of the virus, including travel bans, quarantines, social distancing, and closures of non-essential services have triggered significant disruptions to businesses worldwide, resulting in an economic slowdown. Global stock markets have also experienced great volatility and a significant weakening. Governments and central banks have responded with monetary and fiscal interventions to stabilize economic conditions.

The duration and impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as the effectiveness of government and central bank responses remains unclear currently. It is not possible to reliably estimate the duration and severity of these consequences, as well as their impact on the financial position and results of the Company for future periods. Note: this disclosure assumes there is no significant doubt about the entity's ability to continue as a going concern.

Blockchain for Sustainability and Climate Finance

$0 Raised of minimum goal		i

Highlights

A DeFi-native protocol enabling climate and sustainability finance

Built to be the home of all ESG activity on blockchain

Provides Blockchain-as-a-Service partnerships to mission-aligned companies

Built on Polkadot Network -- targeting Parachain status 2022/23

Experienced startup team in crypto, DeFi, sustainability

Bootstrapped 7 months, initial product near completion

Problem

The $50 Trillion Question

How can we prevent irreversible damage related to climate change? The UN Sustainable Development Plan calls for $50 Trillion in new funding by 2030 -- an astounding amount.

This sector, known as Impact Investing, crossed $715 Billion in 2020. It includes spending on Infrastructure (Energy, Retrofits), Development (Microfinance, Social Investing), Adaptation (Drought, Rising Seas), and more.

But this $715B is far less than the $4 Trillion annual need. How will we fill the gap?

Solution

Why is this problem solvable now?

Climate action has been hard to fund, as it's mainly been stuck in government spending and large asset managers. Crypto can change that.

Cryptocurrency already boasts a $2.5 Trillion market cap and $100 Billion TVL in Decentralized Finance (DeFi) as of Oct 25, 2021. Inexpensive, efficient, immutable, auditable, transparent global transacting are accelerants to multiplying impact investing.

At the same time, green products now lead multiple consumer categories, ESG (Environmental and Social Governance) spending is at an all-time high, and the US and EU are negotiating trillion-dollar infrastructure packages.

Product

Presenting BitGreen: A Blockchain Protocol Uniquely Built For Impact

Many environmental and social initiatives work differently, but share the same goals. Their supply chains, customer bases, value propositions, and regulatory frameworks overlap. We aim to coalesce all of these to create efficiencies and develop vast network effects.

BitGreen

Built Using Substrate SDK, powered by Polkadot

BitGreen on Polkadot

BitGreen is built using the Substrate SDK, a product developed by Parity ... the team behind Polkadot. Substrate enables developers to create application-specific blockchains tailored for specific purposes, for instance ESG and DeFi. Our development began months ago, and we are preparing for a 2022 launch.

Building Our Network Through Mobile

Traction

We started BitGreen in Spring 2021 through bootstrapping and sweat equity. To date, we've developed a prototype Substrate blockchain and mobile app, both of which are in internal test-net. We've also signed MOUs with 5 external clients and continue to add to our business development pipeline.

Customers

BitGreen Targets Two Fast-Growing Customer Groups

Crypto 🪙 + Eco-Friendly 🌱

We categorize our first adopter user groups into Crypto Converts and Green Advocates.

BitGreen targets two fast-growing customer groups

The former includes coin holders who already own crypto and do not require onboarding. Research suggests this is 100 million people globally and approximately 15% of the US adult population.

The latter are consumers who read labels at supermarkets, own Teslas and gladly pay premiums for organic. This demographic ranges from 60% of Gen Z to 40% of Baby Boomers.

Business model

B2B and B2B2C

BitGreen generates value for the protocol network through transaction fees and scale of usage by third-party and external applications. BitGreen has no plans to sell any specific products by itself, but rather develops, maintains, and earns consideration for providing the basic framework and operating system for decentralized apps on its blockchain. We believe as network usage scales, so too will the network's intrinsic value grow.

Market

Impact Investing crossed $715B in 2020. While this total is still small relative to the $50 Trillion needed, the sector has been growing at a 20% CAGR. Most investments originate with Asset Managers and PE. Our target audience (inner circle below) has been largely frozen out from participating.

Source: Global Impact Investing Network (GIIN) surveys 2020 and 2019

Our second target market, Crypto and DeFi, has been on fire since March 2020. Its growth is being aided by new institutional investment and the SEC approving the first Bitcoin ETF in Oct-21.

Crypto market cap, 2014 - Oct 2021

DeFi Total Value Locked (TVL) has rocketed from nearly $0 in early 2020 to over $100B in 18 months. This is our target first adopter user base.

Competition

BitGreen has a few competitors who also leverage blockchain technology to develop ESG solutions. However we view them less as adversaries than collaborators to grow this burgeoning market.

Comps

Project	Focus	Launch	Market Cap	Blockchain
Celo	Remittances and payments	April 2021	$2B	Celo
Energy Web	Energy grid and power management	March 2020	$300m	Energy Web
Regen	Carbon credit tokenization & resale	April 2021	$290m	Cosmos

Other companies in our sphere include Goldfinch (microfinance), Nori and MoSS Earth (carbon credits).

Vision

Global Change

Our higher objective is positive global change, and seizing the present market opportunity to catalyze this movement.

We believe crypto can be the spark. That's why our business aims to introduce durable and innovative incentive structures to shape human behavior at a collective level. 75% of Americans want to protect the environment in their daily lives, yet only 20% do so. That gap, between intention and incentive, is our opportunity.

Within fifteen (15) calendar days of receiving an Early Fiat Repayment Notice, the Company must direct the Portal to release the Early Fiat Repayment Amount.
