Problem

Global Pediatric Mental and Behavioral Health Crisis

A Global health crisis has accelerated among 350 Million children/adolescents worldwide who suffer from a behavioral health or developmental disability. Over $1.8 Trillion is spent per year on direct behavioral healthcare.

In the U.S., 25 million children (ages 1-19yo) have a diagnosable behavioral health or developmental disability. Around 70% (17.5M) of these kids are NEVER treated, primarily due to the severe shortage of pediatric behavioral health providers!

The lack of care has lead to frightening increases in suicide rates. For 15-19 year old teens, suicide is now the 3rd leading cause of death. Suicide has hit a 40-year high in teen girls.

There just are not enough pediatric mental/behavioral health providers to treat the millions of children/adolescents in need of care.

Solution

Improving access and quality of pediatric behavioral healthcare

TrueGen increases access to and improves the quality of behavioral healthcare for millions of children and adolescents, by helping behavioral health specialists deliver a higher level of care more efficiently, with AI and modern technology.

modern technology.

TrueGen is developing a digital platform solution, exclusively for pediatric mental/behavioral healthcare providers (e.g. pediatric psychiatrists, neuropsychologists, and psychologists).

The platform's digital tools and workflow will enhance, or 'amplify', the efforts of providers/specialists so they are able to treat more children earlier which increases the probability of good clinical outcomes.

Product

Automation + Integration + AI = Better Outcomes

Scientifically-proven methods to deliver higher quality of care, to more children, at lower costs

The TrueGen software platform is built for the behavioral and mental health provider to:

- Manage, operate, and streamline patient care
- Enhance efficiency of patient care
- Increase access to care
- Improve care standardization

Leading to:

- Better patient outcomes
- Improved quality of life (QOL)

By digitalizing tasks, streamlining clinical workflows, and integrating artificial intelligence (AI), the pediatric behavioral health provider can manage more patients with the same amount of time and energy.

Therefore, more children can receive the care they need!

Business Model

Subscriptions Based (SaaS)

- SaaS (software as a service) clinical platform model centered around pediatric behavioral healthcare
- Monthly or annual subscription fee per provider depending on the level of integration
- Our system ingrates within and supports the provider's clinical workflow and decision making
- Customer base in order of targeting priority includes:
 - i. private practice providers
 - ii. provider networks
 - iii. medical institutions

As we build our provider base and begin to scale, TrueGen will look to expand into other 'potential' customer targets, including direct to consumer (DTC) or other health collaborations/partnerships such as enterprise or health plan targeting.

Traction

$325,000 in revenue in Year 1

- Achieved $325k in revenue in vr1 for a related business and clinical platform.

Monthly recurring revenue of $10,000.

- $285,000 of funding to date
- We have built an automated and integrated a clinical platform and initially launched to help with COVID-19 testing at the height of the pandemic.
Primary business strategy (i.e. pediatric behavioral health) was put on hold due to the pandemic. Same platform will be customized for the TrueGen strategy.
- TrueGen update: We are now building a clinical advisory board to help launch a pilot with 1,000 patients.

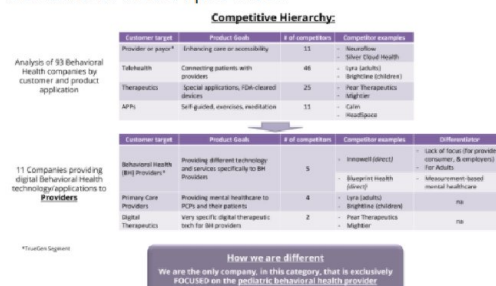

Competition

We are highly differentiated in very large and rapidly growing market!

TrueGen operates and competes within the Provider segment. Our software will be acquired and utilized by pediatric behavioral health providers. In a deeper analysis of the 11 companies within this segment, there are only 2 true direct competitors (Blueprint Health & Innowell), but both are general software targeting the adult population.

How are we different?

We are the only company, in this category, that is exclusively FOCUSED on the pediatric behavioral health provider.
