Sab's years of experience in technology, startups and consumer products has made him the perfect board member for Tawkers. As the CEO and Co-Founder I have reached to him countless times for direction on all areas including, product, user acquisition, bus dev and big picture strategy. When I reach he is available, and his insights have directly generated positive results for Tawkers!

Sab is a smart, thoughtful professional who gets things done. He is calm and unflappable under fire, which I witnessed firsthand during a visit to a distribution partner as they peppered us with tough questions. If there were an award for smoothness and relationship-building with partners he would get the gold. It was a pleasure to work with him.
