"I have worked in the gaming industry for over a decade and invested in many projects, some work and some don't, but occasionally there is one project that transcends platform and demographics. Dance Dash is this kind of gem that shows great potential to become the Dance Dance Revolution of this generation. The core gameplay is easy to learn and accessible to players of all ages. It also blurs the line between virtual reality and 2D screen, it can be enjoyed while wearing an HMD for a fully immersed experience or played on a TV in your living room with just your phone as a camera. It embraces players' hardware constraints instead of creating roadblocks. The UGC feature which lets players create their own soundtracks increases the product's long-term engagement. Whereas the avatar feature paved the way for "memeable" viral marketing campaigns. It is not a VR game, it is a game with VR features and many more. Dance Dash as an investment is the best opportunity for the current market, for its positioning, implementation, and execution."

Dance Dash is a viral phenomenon with over 200 million views on TikTok and YouTube with the hashtag #dancedash and others. Dance is incredibly entertaining in short video format and our game solidifies this from a ton of people busting a move.

For the most intense exergame workout, try a dancing game. "Dance Dash"... from easygoing tunes that won't have you working harder than a two-step, to more high-energy tracks that challenge you to keep up with tireless, virtual K-Pop backup dancers.

-The Wall Street Journal

With tons of positive press for our products and even a feature in the Wall Street Journal, we know we are being recognized as something groundbreaking.

MILLIONS OF GAMES EXIST, WITH BILLIONS OF WORLDS

YET FEW ARE FUN ENOUGH, TO GET OUR BODIES MOVING

As the gaming industry rises, paralleled by skyrocketing obesity rates, a unique opportunity emerges. We're poised to bridge this divide, leveraging gaming's fun and engagement to counteract sedentary lifestyles.

The world at large is at a tipping point where so many are finally fed up with being overweight and unhealthy, but who is to blame when traditional exercise is so boring compared to digital entertainment?

HOW ABOUT MOTION GAMES?

A DAY IN THE DD LIFE

Meet Bob, a gym-averse individual turned Dance Dash devotee.

Bob feels bored at the gym and rarely goes...

He saw a TikTok playing Dance Dash VR, cool!

Pop-up notification of new song added by the community.

Looked fun so he downloads and plays Dance Dash on iPhone!

Bob played together with a friend on TV, super fun!

He later made his own level and uploaded, anyone can play!

His story from spectator to creator within our ecosystem exemplifies our game's transformative potential. It's a narrative of engagement, community, and creativity, powered by our scalable AI technology.
