Summary

As Founder of Vegpalapp, I help drive Vegpalapp's mission of connecting vegans from all over the world. As a passionate animal rights activist, I am infinitely dedicated to strengthening the vegan movement. Since Vegpal launched, I have been in close communication with the Vegpal community, getting feedback on what they want. And we are currently building just that.

Having worked in the Public Schools setting as a Special Educator for over 6 years, I fostered a culture that celebrated inclusion, kindness and creative thinking. I've taken these invaluable skills with me, as I've stepped into my role as Founder at Vegpalapp. As an innovator and entrepreneur, I am currently pursuing my newfound passion for purpose-driven entrepreneurship.

When vegans meet and connect, beautiful things happen. I'm thrilled to be a part of a company that facilitates such connections and relationship building.
