Methods for how the securities may be valued by the issuer in the future:

In the future, we will also use the same approach, i.e. the P/E ratio of representative stocks in the Leisure and Recreation Services Industry listed on the US Stock Exchange to value the securities to be issued by the Company. The Board of Directors of the Company believes P/E ratio is simple to apply and is a widely accepted valuation method.

The Board of Directors will, from time to time, review the use of valuation methods in valuing our securities to ensure fair and reasonable estimations in different situations and different corporate stages.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

- Purchasers of the securities in this offering have limited rights to demand distributions (e.g. dividends) from the Issuer.
- The majority owner may make a decision that the Purchasers consider bad and puts Purchaser's interest in the Issuer at risk.
- Although, as Class B Membership Units holders, the Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, the Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.
- Since the securities in this offering are not publicly traded and are subject to restrictions on resale or transfer including holding period requirements, the securities in this offering are illiquid.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled no voting rights and therefore they are not entitled to exert influence in the affairs of the company or the composition of its board of directors.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the issuer.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions:a. Additional Issuances of Securities

Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the issuer.

b. Issuer Repurchases of Securities

The issuer could be authorized to repurchase the company's issued securities subject to the approval by the company's board of directors. Purchasers of the securities may not impede the issuer's right to repurchase its securities from other shareholders. Moreover, the repurchase could be made at a price much lower than company's business value or its fair valuation, which could be indicative of the resale price of the securities thereafter.

c. A Sale of the Issuer or of Assets of the Issuer

Although as Class B Membership Units holders the Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, the Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

d. Transactions with Related Parties

Transactions with related parties are transactions between the issuer or any of its subsidiaries and a connected person. These transactions include both capital and revenue nature transactions. They may be one-off transactions or continuing transactions.

Purchasers should be aware that these transactions may create conflicts of interests between themselves and the Issuer.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

The issuer has no material terms of indebtedness.

25. What other exempt offerings has the issuer conducted within the past three years?

The issuer has no exempt offerings conducted within the past three years.

26. Was or is the issuer or any entities controlled by or under common control with the issuer a party to any transaction since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12-month period, including the amount the issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

- a. any director or officer of the issuer;
- b. any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the issuer's outstanding voting equity securities, calculated on the basis of voting power;
- c. if the issuer was incorporated or organized within the past three years, any promoter of the issuer; or
- d. any immediate family member of any of the foregoing persons.

Discussion of our financial milestones and operational, liquidity and challenges

In this offering, the Company plans to issue Class B Membership Units and use the proceed to build a health and wellness exercise company during the next five years. It intends to do that by offering a variety of services and products including TCY monthly memberships, TCY teaching licenses and certificates, 2-day and 5-day TCY immersion retreats, and health, wellness, and accessory private-label products.

John C. Neubauer, the founder of Tai Chi Yoga, LLC, has in the past offered Tai Chi Yoga instruction thru his “unmarketed” website www.taichiyoga.com. It consisted first of DVDs that were shipped via regular mail and in more recent years via shared Dropbox files. His business approach to realize the five-year business projections include:

MONTHLY MEMBERSHIPS: Priced at $11.95 a month, his newly-designed website (under construction) will offer online access to the existing teaching video, illustrated workbook and 150-page eBook first published in 2011 and updated in 2021. It will also showcase separate videos for each individual yoga and tai chi movement to make it easier to learn and practice online.

TEACHING LICENSES AND CERTIFICATIONS: In recent years, there have been requests to certify teachers in the instruction of Neubauer’s Tai Chi Yoga. Due to the time constraints of his professional pursuits helping others with their businesses, he has not pursued that approach. Now under this business model, Neubauer will offer licenses to teach under his trademarked (and in the process of being registered) “Tai Chi Yoga” name which will become in demand after his appearance on America’s Real Deal. The license will allow a person or group to market their services using for example “John’s Tai Chi Yoga” studio or “Susan’s Tai Chi Yoga” center.

IMMERSION RETREATS: Because of the desire of practicing students to have in-person training experiences with the Tai Chi Yoga founder, Tai Chi Yoga will offer periodic 2-day Immersion Retreats in Park City, Utah. Such retreats are expected to be very popular among those looking to combine vacation opportunities with health and wellness benefits.

PRIVATE-LABEL PRODUCTS: Tai Chi Yoga is in the process of developing a line of health, wellness and accessory products (like T-shirts and yoga mats) that people will be able to order directly from its main website or thru its licensees’ websites. These product sales will build the Tai Chi Yoga brand as a respected source of innovative health and wellness while providing additional revenue streams.

If we cannot raise $25,000, the target offering amount, we may have to delay the execution of our business plan or we will raise additional funding by another round of Regulation Crowdfunding offering but there can be no assurance that we will be successful or not.

New business developments or other unforeseen events may occur, resulting in the need to raise additional funds. There can be no assurances regarding the Company’s business prospects with respect to any other opportunity. Any other development would require us to obtain additional financing.

The Company is seeking a minimum of $25,000 in this offering. We expect that the Company's proceeds from this offering would be enough to finance its operation in the next 12-24 months.

The proceed of this offering will significantly improve our financial condition and liquidity, and will allow us to expand our business in the coming 1-2 years, though we believe the proceed of this offering does not affect the viability of our business. However, investors should be aware that our past records are not representative of the future.

We will primarily fund our operations and capital expenditure requirements from operating cash flows. We also expect to fund our operations from the proceeds of this offering and any credit facilities available to us in the future.

We may need additional crowdfunding offerings to finance our operation and we intend to use substantially all of the net proceeds from these offerings to achieve the goals and implement the business strategies described in our business plan.

Appendix A - BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

TAI CHI YOGA, LLC Business Plan April 2022

SUMMARY: Tai Chi Yoga, LLC (TCY) – a Utah limited liability corporation - plans to build a health and wellness exercise company during the next five years. It intends to do that by offering a variety of services and products including TCY monthly memberships, TCY teaching licenses and certificates, 2-day and 5-day TCY immersion retreats, and health, wellness, and accessory private-label products.

WHAT IS TAI CHI YOGA: In 1977, John C. Neubauer innovated the combination of the passive Chinese martial arts “tai chi” with the Indian stretching and relaxation exercise “yoga”. He owned and had been teaching yoga since 1974 in the largest yoga studio in the State of Kentucky. He had also been practicing tai chi separately since 1975. In 1977 he decided to combine the two into a single discipline. As he did so, he realized that the health and wellness benefits he experienced were profoundly greater from the practice of both as a single discipline than by practicing each separately.

WHAT IS YOGA: Yoga is a blend of gentle stretching, integrated breathing and relaxation believed to be founded in India centuries ago. Introduced in the US in the 20th century, it has slowly been gaining in popularity and practitioners in the past 25 years. Today there are many varieties of yoga practiced by and taught to millions in the US. Most yoga methods generally focus on stationary stretching movements that include forward stretches, reverse stretches, balances, spinal twists, and inverted positions. Its practice contributes to improved circulation, better concentration, and greater relaxation. It leaves one feeling as if they are unwinding from life's tensions and stresses.

WHAT IS TAI CHI: Tai Chi is a series of standing, flowing movements in which the body revolves around a bent-knee suspended spine. It is done in rhythm with one's breathing. To the casual onlooker, it looks like ballet in slow motion. Because it is widely practiced in China (especially among the elderly), tai chi is believed to be the most practiced health and wellness exercise in the world. Its graceful, flowing movements leave one with a floating feeling. Tai chi is considered the most passive of the martial arts; although its practice as a martial arts diminished in the 19th century as it evolved instead into more of a movement meditation.

THE COMBINATION: While yoga by itself is a helpful unwinding exercise, it lacks the flowing movement of tai chi that simulates the floating feeling. While tai chi by itself is a helpful flowing movement regimen, it lacks the unwinding stretches of yoga – especially the inverted positions which have been shown to be especially helpful to healing leg cramps, reducing varicose veins, and bringing rich oxygenated blood to the head improving brain health and concentration. Thus the combination of both incorporates the unwinding of yoga with the floating of tai chi in a way that its regular practitioners feel increases the overall health benefits; like $1 + 1 = 3$. For example, the owner of a Munich, Germany ballet company to whose dancers Neubauer taught in 1977 insisted that after 4 weeks of training, his dancers performed with better overall flow, grace, and relaxation with their movement seeming to come more naturally from the inside instead of forced from the outside.

BUSINESS HISTORY: During the years, tai chi yoga founder John Neubauer has taught thousands of people in Europe and the United States. He has taught people of all ages, sizes, shapes, and health conditions. Yet he never did so as a business. He did so out of his personal passion to help those around them realize better physical, emotional, and spiritual health from its practice. In 1999 at the urging of his supporters and students, he produced a teaching video and illustrated workbook that he made available online via www.taichiyoga.com. However because of his primary professional pursuits helping others build their businesses (www.johnneubauerinc.com), he has never worked to build Tai Chi Yoga as a business until now.

BUSINESS CONSIDERATIONS: Two considerations are driving the decision to develop Tai Chi Yoga as a substantial business at this time. There is a growing sense that the market for Tai Chi Yoga as a single discipline is ready to explode. Because time is a precious commodity to most people, the opportunity to combine the benefits of two separate disciplines into a single 30-60 minute daily routine will increase its market demand.

As important, as the business career of John Neubauer enters its last 20 year phase – he would like to leave as a legacy his Tai Chi Yoga having positively affected the physical, emotional, and spiritual well being of millions thru out the world; by bringing joy to life's journey to those millions.

BUSINESS APPROACH: Neubauer has in the past offered Tai Chi Yoga instruction thru his “unmarketed” website www.taichiyoga.com. It consisted first of DVDs that were shipped via regular mail and in more recent years via shared Dropbox files. His business approach to realize the five-year business projections include:

1. MONTHLY MEMBERSHIPS: Priced at $11.95 a month, his newly-designed website (under construction) will offer online access to the existing teaching video, illustrated workbook and 150-page eBook first published in 2011 and updated in 2021. It will also showcase separate videos for each individual yoga and tai chi movement to make it easier to learn and practice online. The teaching video filmed in 1999 will be reshot and modernized for increased ease of use and practice. Plus there are 110 "how-to" videos shot in June 2022 that are included to help users better understand the movements within the video courses. Finally there will be 2-4 posts monthly of “tips and instructional insights” to increase user-experience and increase the number of months of continuing membership. The teaching content will also be programmed so that it is not downloadable; thus protecting the assets from being copied and pirated. When a person orders online the Monthly Membership thru the website, an auto-responder will immediately send each member a unique login and password which will only be usable If the monthly membership is not renewed or is cancelled, then the unique login and password will be deactivated.
2. TEACHING LICENSES AND CERTIFICATIONS: In recent years, there have been requests to certify teachers in the instruction of Neubauer's Tai Chi Yoga. Due to the time constraints of his professional pursuits helping others with their businesses, he has not pursued that approach. Now under this business model, Neubauer will offer licenses to teach under his trademarked (and in the process of being registered) “Tai Chi Yoga” name which will become in demand after his appearance on America’s Real Deal. The license will allow a person or group to market their services using for example “John’s Tai Chi Yoga” studio or “Susan’s Tai Chi Yoga” center. When one becomes a licensee, in exchange they will agree to pay to Tai Chi Yoga 3% of all their gross revenues from their teaching registrations. They will also be able to sell thru their website (which will be co-hosted as a sub website of www.taichiyoga.com) the private-label Tai Chi Yoga products. Their marketing of the private-label products will be at the same retail price as those on the main taichiyoga.com website. However they will only pay a wholesale price for each sold product enabling them to increase the profits of their Tai Chi Yoga license. The cost for each new licensee will be $2,995 for the first year and $995 for each ensuing year that they choose to continue with the license. If for example they want to have multiple instructors certified or if an instructor working for a stand-alone yoga or tai chi studio desires to be certified to teach Tai Chi Yoga, then their certification will cost each $1,995 if they only want to be certified and not to purchase a license.

3. IMMERSION RETREATS: Because of the desire of practicing students to have in-person training experiences with the Tai Chi Yoga founder, Tai Chi Yoga will offer periodic 2-day Immersion Retreats in Park City, Utah. Such retreats are expected to be very popular among those looking to combine vacation opportunities with health and wellness benefits. Park City is already a coveted destination because of its famous nearby skiing resorts and its stunning summer mountain landscapes. In addition to the 2-day retreats in Park City, Utah, Tai Chi Yoga has a location in the country of Belize along the Caribbean coast where it will be able to sponsor periodic longer 5-day retreats year round. Registration fees for the 2-day retreats will be $2,995; for the 5-day retreats $5,995.
4. PRIVATE-LABEL PRODUCTS: Tai Chi Yoga is in the process of developing a line of health, wellness and accessory products (like T-shirts and yoga mats) that people will be able to order directly from its main website or thru its licensees’ websites. These product sales will build the Tai Chi Yoga brand as a respected source of innovative health and wellness while providing additional revenue streams.

COMPETITIVE ENVIRONMENT: There are many yoga teaching studios in the US as well as there being many martial arts studios that offer tai chi instruction as a part of its martial arts offerings. However there are only a few studios in a Google search that offer both classes yoga and tai chi. Most importantly, there seem to be no others at this point that have combined yoga and tai chi into a single exercise discipline – thus creating a unique environment to be the first and biggest in doing so. Moreover the registering of the trademarked name “Tai Chi Yoga” will minimize the emergence of copy cats in the near future – which provides Tai Chi Yoga, LLC a unique window to be the first and biggest.

ABOUT JOHN C. NEUBAUER, FOUNDER AND CEO: The background and history of John C. Neubauer (74) as the innovator and founder of Tai Chi Yoga is well documented on its current website: www.taichiyoga.com. His 50 year+ business background is also highlighted in his website: www.johnneubauerinc.com.

Appendix B - RISK FACTORS

We are heavily dependent on our Tai Chi Yoga Brand. Our success depends significantly on our ability to sell our Tai Chi Yoga Brand yoga, fitness, meditation, health and wellness programs, which in turn depends on, among other things, the market perception and acceptance of the Tai Chi Yoga Brand and the culture, heritage, lifestyle and images associated with the brand, some of which may not be within our control. Negative publicity or disputes, in the US or abroad, regarding our Tai Chi Yoga Brand, our products and services, our Company, our management or our sponsored organizations or individuals could materially and adversely affect public perception of our Tai Chi Yoga Brand. Any impact on our ability to continue to sell Tai Chi Yoga Brand products and services, or any significant damage to our Tai Chi Yoga Brand image could materially and adversely affect our business for the year.

Reliance on John C. Neubauer

The Company's success is, to a considerable extent, attributable to its key executives, in particular the expertise and experience of John C. Neubauer. John C. Neubauer as the innovator and founder of Tai Chi Yoga. John C. Neubauer is an accomplished executive and consultant with 40+ years of experience in developing and managing innovative, complex projects. Should John C. Neubauer cease to be involved in the Company's operations, the Company's profitability may be adversely affected.

The growth of the health and fitness economy in the US may not continue. We cannot be certain consumers' interest in health and fitness will be sufficient to sustain continued growth in the future. If consumers' interest in health and fitness activity declines, we cannot assure you that such a decline would not have a material adverse effect on our cash flow, financial condition, and results of operations.

We may not be able to accurately predict or fulfill consumer preferences or demand. We derive a significant amount of our sales from the sale of yoga, fitness, meditation, health and wellness programs that are subject to rapidly changing consumer preferences. Our sales and profit are sensitive to these changing preferences, and our success depends substantially on our ability to originate and define product and services, trends as well as to anticipate, gauge and react to changing consumer demands in a timely manner. Demand for, and market acceptance of, new products and services, which we design to meet changes in consumer preferences is often uncertain. Our failure to anticipate, identify or react swiftly to changes in consumer preferences could result in lower sales and lower operating profits. Conversely, if we fail to anticipate increased consumer demand for our services, it may result in foregone sales and could negatively impact our customer goodwill, brand image and profitability.

We operate in a very competitive market and the intense competition we face may result in lower profit margins. The fitness, health and wellness services industry in the US is highly competitive and the competitors in this market include both international and domestic companies. The principal methods of competition are through, among other things, brand loyalty, products and services variety and quality, marketing and promotion, price and the ability to meet commitments to customers. Some of our competitors may have greater financial, management, human, distribution or other resources than us. Our results of operations could be affected by a number of competitive factors, including our competitors increasing their operational efficiencies, adopting competitive pricing strategies, expanding their operations, or adopting innovative retail sales methods. In addition, our competitors may endeavour to maintain and increase their market share, which may be at our expense. Our results of operations and market position may be adversely impacted by these competitive pressures.

Our success depends significantly on other talented personnel. There are many yoga teaching studios in the US as well as there being many martial arts studios that offer tai chi instruction as a part of its martial arts offerings. As a result the demand of skilled personnel is high and there is a shortage of skilled personnel with adequate industry knowledge and experience in the US. As a result, we have experienced, and expect to continue to experience, intense competition for highly competent personnel. Other international and domestic companies that operate in the US may be able to offer more favourable compensation packages to recruit personnel whom we consider desirable. As a result, we may not be able to attract and retain qualified personnel needed to sustain our business growth, or our staff expenses in relation thereto may increase significantly, both of which would have a material adverse impact on our results of operations and financial condition.

We face possible infringement of our trademarks and other intellectual property rights and counterfeiting of our products. We believe our trademarks and other intellectual property rights are important to our success and competitive position. However, third parties may in the future attempt to challenge the ownership and/or validity of our intellectual property rights. In addition, our business is subject to the risk of third parties counterfeiting the Tai Chi Yoga Brand or otherwise infringing our intellectual property rights. We may not always be successful in securing protection for our intellectual property rights and preventing other infringements of our intellectual property rights. We may need to resort to litigation in the future to enforce our intellectual property rights. Any such litigation could result in substantial costs and a diversion of our resources. Our failure to protect and enforce our intellectual property rights could have a material adverse impact on our business, operating profit and overall financial condition.

We may be involved in intellectual property rights infringement litigation initiated by others. During the course of our operations, we may inadvertently infringe third-party copyright and other intellectual property rights, as a result of which other parties may initiate litigation or other proceedings against us. Responding to and defending these proceedings may require substantial costs and diversion of resources, and the result of these proceedings may be uncertain. Our reputation may also be adversely affected.

Registration of trademarks similar to ours or the same as ours but in different categories by other parties may have a negative impact on the market perception of our brands and could adversely affect our sales. We may not be able to prevent the registration by other companies of similar trademarks, or the registration by other companies of the same trademarks in categories other than those in which we have registered, which could have a material adverse impact on our brand and operations.

We have a limited operating history. The history of our business can be traced back to March 22, 2022 when Tai Chi Yoga, LLC was established. We, therefore, have a limited history of operation. In particular, the historical financial information included in this Offering Statement may not necessarily reflect our results of operations in the future. The historical financial information included in this Offering Statement does not reflect the changes that have occurred or will occur in our capital structure, funding and operations as a result of this Offering.

We may be exposed to liability claims which could adversely affect our reputation and business. In the event that we are found to be liable for any liability claim which is initiated due to, among other things, injuries or accidents occurring at our yoga, fitness, meditation, health and wellness programs, we could be required to pay substantial monetary damages. Furthermore, even if we successfully defend ourselves against a claim, we may incur a substantial amount of money and time in defending such a claim and our reputation could suffer.

Our insurance coverage may not be sufficient to cover all losses or potential claims from our customers

We may become subject to liabilities against which we are not insured adequately or at all or liabilities against which cannot be insured. Should any significant property damage or personal injury occur in our facilities or to our employees due to accidents, natural disasters, or similar events which are not covered or inadequately covered by our insurance, our business may be adversely affected, potentially leading to a loss of assets, lawsuits, employee compensation obligations, or other form of economic loss. Any losses that we may incur which we are not insured against may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Advertising and increased marketing effort may not lead to higher sales or increase in our revenue

To increase public awareness of our business and enhance our brand, one of our business strategies is to advertise and run marketing campaigns. Nonetheless, despite our efforts and substantial costs incurred in these marketing efforts and advertisements, it may not necessarily lead to higher sales of our products and services or increase in our revenue.

We may need additional capital, and our ability to obtain additional capital is subject to uncertainties.

We believe that our current cash and cash equivalents, anticipated cash flow from operations and the proceeds from this offering will be sufficient to meet our anticipated cash needs, including our cash needs for working capital and capital expenditures, for at least the next 12 months. We may, however, require additional cash resources to finance our continued growth or other future developments, including any investments we may decide to pursue. The amount and timing of such additional financing needs will vary depending on investments in new facilities, decorations and the amount of cash flow from our operations. If our resources are insufficient to satisfy our cash requirements, we may seek additional financing by selling additional equity or debt securities or obtaining a credit facility.

We have incurred operating losses in the past, and may not maintain profitability in the future. We incurred net loss of $25,051 during the period between March 22, 2022 and May 30, 2022. We had a total deficit equity of $25,051 at May 31, 2022. We expect our operating expenses to increase in the future as we increase our sales and marketing efforts and develop a new website. We will also incur additional legal, accounting expenses. These efforts and additional expenses may be more costly than we expect, and we cannot guarantee that we will be able to increase our revenue to offset our operating expenses. Our revenue growth may slow or our revenue may decline for a number of other reasons, including reduced demand for our products and services, increased competition, a decrease in the growth or reduction in size of our overall market, the impacts to our business from the pandemic, or if we cannot capitalize on growth opportunities. If our revenue does not grow at a greater rate than our operating expenses, we will not be able to maintain profitability.

Our financial and operating results may vary from period to period.

Our revenue, operating expenses and results of operations may vary from period to period and from year to year in response to a variety of factors beyond our control, including general business and economic conditions, employment rates, inflation and interest rates, and consumer discretionary income. Our future performance is therefore cannot be guaranteed.

We may need additional capital to support the growth of our business and the achievement of our goals. Although we expect the proceeds from this offering, as well as our cash and cash equivalents, will be adequate to meet our anticipated funding needs for the foreseeable future, we may need additional capital to support the growth of our business, achieve our business goals and respond to future challenges. We may need to engage in equity or debt financings to secure additional funds. We may not be able to acquire these financings on reasonable terms, which may be disadvantageous to our Membership Unit holders.
