We are offering shares of our common stock at a price per share of $5.50. We are offering a minimum of 18,182 shares of our common stock for $100,001 and up to a maximum of 909,090 shares of our common stock for $4,999,995. The minimum investment that you may make is $495.00. Our 2021 financial statements have been audited. We are offering the shares of our common stock to prospective investors through the crowdfunding platform available at <https://arcviewcapital.com/> and each subdomain thereof, which we refer to as the Platform. The Intermediary, who operates the Platform, is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, which we refer to as the SEC, as a funding portal and is a funding portal member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, which we refer to as FINRA. We are required to pay a commission to the Intermediary equal to 7% of gross monies raised in the offering.

(1) In addition to the commission payable to the Intermediary, we will incur other offering costs. Those other offering costs primarily consist of legal and accounting expenses payable to our counsel and accounting firms, as well as payment to the escrow agent and the automated clearing house, which we refer to as ACH. We expect that those other offering costs will total approximately $200,000 not including marketing costs. In addition, we will incur fees and expenses, including a $20,000 onboarding fee, a $2,000 monthly subscription fee, and certain transaction fees that are either calculated on a per investor basis or on a payment processing basis, relating to the engagement of Novation Solutions, Inc. (O/A DealMaker), a technology provider that was engaged by us and the Intermediary.

(2) No assurance can be given that all or any portion of the securities offered hereby (i.e., the shares of common stock in our Company being offered in this offering) will be sold. Your funds will be held in an escrow account established by the Intermediary with Equiniti Trust Company, who we refer to as the escrow agent, in compliance with applicable securities laws, until the minimum offering amount is reached. The subscription amount for the shares may be paid to the escrow account by wire transfer or other electronic funds transfer in accordance with the instructions provided on the Platform and will be held in escrow until satisfaction of all the conditions to the closing. The closing of this offering is subject to, among other things, subscriptions for the $100,001 minimum amount being received in the escrow account from qualified investors, which qualified investors may include executive officers and directors of our Company and their affiliates. This offering may be closed at any time after the minimum number of shares of common stock is sold, in one or more closings, and on or before January 31, 2023. If we do not raise the minimum amount offered by January 31, 2023, then we will return all funds received in the escrow account to investors without interest.

GENERAL OFFERING INFORMATION

This offering statement is furnished solely to prospective investors through the crowdfunding platform available at <https://arcviewcapital.com/> and each subdomain thereof. Arcview Capital, LLC, which, collectively with its subsidiaries and affiliates, we refer to as Arcview Capital or the Intermediary, operates the Platform and is registered with the SEC and is a member of FINRA.

Budding Technologies, Inc., which we refer to as the Company, we, us, our, or by our unregistered trade name – Budbo – is a corporation that was formed under Nevada law on June 21, 2021. We are a pre-revenue technology company focused on the design and development of best-in-class technology solutions, powered by blockchain, to tackle supply chain management issues in the cannabis industry. Ideally, we will apply for and obtain patents for the solutions we design and develop. Initially we plan to offer a suite of cannabis industry solutions developed by our founders. That suite, which we refer to collectively as the Budbo Ecosystem, consists of the Budbo App, Budbo Connect, BudboTrax, and our blockchain payment platform. The Budbo App, which is our initial and flagship solution, is a mobile application to help customers find and order locally available cannabis strains and products. Budbo Connect is a retailer dashboard that provides cannabis cultivators and dispensaries with business intelligence, allowing for proactive decision making. Budbo Trax is a telematic solution allowing for seamless tracking in real time of both b2b commercial shipments as well as b2c deliveries of cannabis products. Our blockchain payment platform provides participants in the cannabis industry, including cannabis consumers, dispensaries, and growers, a flexible, secure means to conduct cannabis sales and engage in other cannabis transactions through cryptocurrency. We have already begun to make the Budbo App available to users; we plan to expand its release later this year. We plan to make Budbo Connect and our blockchain payment platform commercially available later this year, with Budbo Trax to be made commercially available in 2023.

We are offering shares of our common stock at a price per share of $5.50. We are offering a minimum of 18,182 shares of our common stock for $100,001 and up to a maximum of 909,090 shares of common stock for $4,999,995. The minimum investment that you may make is $495.00.

We are offering shares of our common stock in reliance on the exemption from registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, which we refer to as the Securities Act, pursuant to Section 4(a)(6) thereof and the regulations promulgated with respect to such section.

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In addition, there is no ready market for the sale of the shares, and it may be difficult or impossible for an investor to sell or otherwise dispose of the shares.

In addition, the right of first refusal in Section 5.5 of the Company’s bylaws also restricts the ability of a stockholder to sell or otherwise transfer its shares of stock in the Company. See “12. Business Overview

Budding Technologies, Inc., which we refer to as the Company, we, us, our, or by our unregistered trade name – Budbo – is a corporation that was formed under Nevada law on June 21, 2021. We are a technology company focused on the design and development of best-in-class technology solutions, powered by blockchain, to tackle supply chain management issues in the cannabis industry. Ideally, we will apply for and obtain patents for the solutions we design and develop.

The global cannabis industry is in the early stages of transitioning from an illicit to a legal economy. From a technology perspective, this rapidly evolving industry presents a unique opportunity: legalized sales of cannabis on a massive scale in new and emerging markets. High-volume sales, in turn, demand seed-to-sale technological solutions. Our Company, we believe, is uniquely positioned to address long-standing seed-to-sale pain points and redefine functionality in cannabis technology.

Business Plan

The Company believes that existing technology businesses focused on the cannabis industry have offered a set of narrow solutions that overlook many issues surrounding the management of the cannabis supply chain. Blockchain technology is ideal for addressing cannabis supply chain managements issues. Blockchain smart contracts, and the digital and the verifiable nature of blockchain, are ideal for recording and facilitating the exchange of value, goods, services, and private data. Putting cannabis data and transactions on blockchain smart contracts will increase the speed of service and save dispensaries and growers hundreds of thousands in reduced paperwork.

Accordingly, the Company is committed to developing and offering best-in-class technology solutions, powered by blockchain, to address cannabis supply chain management issues overlooked by other products and services. Initially we plan to offer a suite of cannabis industry solutions developed by our founders consisting of the Budbo App, Budbo Connect, BudboTrax, and our blockchain payment platform. We refer to that suite as the Budbo Ecosystem.

We believe that the solutions in this suite provide superior functionality for cannabis consumers and business, both in the United States and in the several foreign countries that we are targeting. Our plan is to increase marketing and sales of these Budbo solutions, to continue to refine the solutions in that suite, and to develop new, innovative, and profitable solutions for cannabis consumers and businesses.

See Question 10 for additional information on the use of proceeds from this offering in executing the business plan

Our Initial Solutions

Budbo App

The Budbo App is the Company’s flagship product in our suite of blockchain-powered, technology solutions for the cannabis industry. Built for users of medical cannabis and users of recreational cannabis alike, the Budbo App is a mobile application that offers cannabis consumers a simple, fast, and intuitive user interface for discovering new products as well as finding the perfect product for the consumer’s ailment, need, or preference. The Budbo App utilizes a product swiping feature, which we call “Puff or Pass,” that enables users to indicate cannabis products they prefer or do not prefer. The Budbo App also includes a feature, which we call Budbo’s “Product Match,” that utilizes a proprietary algorithm that considers user reviews, lab results, and terpene profiles, to lead the way in cannabis related product discovery and match users with the ideal cannabis product suited for needs or desires.

As users swipe through the Budbo App, make purchases, and indicate preferences, and take other actions with the Budbo App, consumer data is collected and processed in real time. This data can provide sophisticated market intelligence, and we offer it to our dispensary, grower, manufacturer, and other cannabis business customers. Among other things, this consumer data can provide our business customers with invaluable insight into the purchasing preferences of cannabis users in their locale, thereby allowing those businesses to make better decisions regarding which strains of cannabis to grow, create, and stock on their shelves.

A hallmark of the Budbo Ecosystem is its token rewards system, a central purpose of which is to incentivize users of the Budbo App to indicate their cannabis product preferences and take other actions within the app, thereby generating valuable data for our business customers. In return for taking such actions in the Budbo App, the app user is “rewarded” with ERC-20, Budbo Tokens (BUBO). Where applicable, these tokens can be redeemed for products and features within the Budbo Ecosystem. Our token rewards system utilizes the Polygon.network scaling solution. The Budbo App incorporates a wallet – a feature we refer to as the “Budbo Wallet” – to facilitate a user’s ability to store Budbo Tokens and engage in transactions with them and other cryptocurrencies through our blockchain payment platform.

We have already begun to make the Budbo App available to users; we plan to expand its release later this year. One reason we are seeking to raise funds with this offering is to help with the expanded release of the Budbo App.

Budbo Connect

Budbo Connect is a retailer dashboard that provides growers and vendors (e.g., dispensaries) with business intelligence, allowing for proactive decision making. Budbo Connect is designed with the purpose of helping dispensaries sell more products. Budbo Connect gives dispensaries user-generated data laid out in a simple, elegant interface. Forthcoming point-of-sale and inventory management API integrations, which we plan to release no later than the end of 2023, will allow for retailers to easily maintain current menus and inventory on the Budbo App. Daily user interactions with the Budbo App drive the core analytical engine of Budbo Connect, providing data from users to dispensary owners and cultivators with knowledge on which strains to grow and exactly which products to stock to increase sales and grow revenue.

We plan to make Budbo Connect commercially available later this year. One reason we are seeking to raise funds with this offering is to help take Budbo Connect to market.

BudboTrax

Built to establish a delivery system for orders, BudboTrax is a telematic solution allowing for seamless, real time tracking of both business-to-business cannabis shipments as well as business-to-consumer cannabis deliveries. BudboTrax provides real-time visibility in the transport of cannabis products throughout the cannabis ecosystem. BudboTrax’s functions include:

- Real-time GPS tracking of high value cannabis products on all shipments.
- Shipment documents scanned and stored in the cloud.
- Adjustable geofences and automated alerts.

- Driver “SOS” button to immediately report emergencies to authorities.
- Real-time verifiable pickup and delivery confirmations. visibility

Dispensaries and other vested parties will have full control over and insight into all cannabis movements via the Budbo Connect dashboard. From there, products can be tracked during transport by GPS via a free driver app that is part of the Budbo technology ecosystem. Cannabis dispensaries, cultivators and testing labs are all potential customers for BudboTrax as it can provide them with the confidence of knowing where their product is at all times.

We plan to make Budbo Connect commercially available in 2023. One reason we are raising funds with this offering is to help take Budbo Trax to market.

Our Blockchain Payment Platform

The cannabis industry remains largely an all-cash industry because many cannabis businesses are restricted in their ability to use banks and engage in debit or credit card transactions. The reason is that cannabis is illegal in the U.S. at the federal level and U.S. federal banking laws restrict or prohibit many banks and other financial institutions from taking deposits or processing money derived from cannabis transactions. As such, cannabis businesses face the costly and dangerous risks associated with conducting transactions largely in cash and having sizeable amounts of cash on hand. Cash is susceptible to being stolen, and cannabis businesses must maintain 24-hour surveillance of their businesses (e.g., dispensary sites) to protect their cash from being stolen.

Our blockchain payment platform can help cannabis businesses mitigate these risks by digitizing payments for cannabis transactions, thereby eliminating, or at least reducing, the need to conduct cannabis transactions in cash. Our payment platform is built on the blockchain. It provides participants in the cannabis industry, including cannabis consumers, dispensaries, and growers, a flexible, secure means to conduct cannabis sales and engage in other cannabis transactions through several different cryptocurrencies – not cash. That said, some cannabis business and users may not wish to transact business in cryptocurrency. Our blockchain payment platform is flexible in that regard. By making use of swap protocols and liquidity pools through the Uniswap platform, our blockchain payment platform provides users and businesses the flexibility to conduct transactions through cryptocurrency tokens while still only accepting or dealing with fiat currency.

The “Budbo Wallet” feature within the Budbo App integrates with our blockchain payment platform, thus facilitating cannabis users’ ability to make purchases from cannabis businesses via the Budbo App and our blockchain payment platform. Budbo Connect also integrates with our blockchain payment platform to facilitate the collection of customer analytics and other business intelligence from transactions conducted through the platform.

We plan to make our blockchain payment platform commercially available later this year. One reason we are seeking to raise funds with this offering is to help take that payment platform to market.

Additional Functionalities

We are in the process of finalizing the following functionalities, which we plan to bring to market no later than the end of 2023. These functionalities either will be part of one or more of the solutions in the Budbo Ecosystem or separate features that we will offer as add-ons to one or more of the solutions in the Budbo Ecosystem (e.g., with Budbo Connect, BudboTrax, or both).

- Point of Sale. We plan to offer a PoS integration functionality, including a banking portal, to facilitate mobile payments and PoS services. We plan for this functionality to include Android and iOS apps for consumers.
- Supplies/Equipment Ordering. Growers will be able to use the Purchasing Management module we plan to offer to receive real-time updates regarding purchasing trends and inventory balance.
- Inventory Management. Our Inventory Control module will allow for efficient management of all stages of the product life cycle. This module will enable growers and dispensaries to manage inventory levels and maintain tight controls on inventory replenishment, minimizing excess stock and ensuring timely order fulfillment.
- Seed to Sale Tracking. Our Seed to Sale Tracking Module will enable businesses to track and manage inventory – from planting and growing through processing, product shipping and, ultimately, to transactions at the PoS in dispensaries.
- Logistics. We plan to offer functionality to enable the Budbo Ecosystem to integrate with a cannabis business's logistics department to offer real-time insight into the status of the order delivery. Geo-fencing verification and GPS tracking is planned to be included to provide peace of mind to both consumers and retailers.

- Client Management. Our Customer Database module will allow for storing, accessing, and managing information on patients and other users, including strain preference, time data, geo-location of user, and proximity to dispensaries.
- Analytics. We plan to offer functionality to dispensaries to access real-time updates on targeted user likes, preferences, and products most likely to be purchased to improve their product offering and increase sales. With the use of the smart feature Grow Forecasting, they can meet dispensary demand ahead of time.
- User Interactions. We plan to provide users at the consumer end functionality enabling them to interact in a fun, immersive environment on the Budbo Ecosystem. With this functionality, consumers will be able to share reviews, play games, message, and connect in one place.
- Retail Location Forecasting. It is our plan to provide startup cannabis businesses looking to open a dispensary with a functionality to compare locations and access customer metrics to see which towns and neighborhoods hold the greatest potential.
- Business Modeling. We plan to provide functionality that will enable our business customers to use our real-time patient and consumer analytics to optimize their inventory and increase their sales.

Customers

The target customers for our cannabis technology solutions are cannabis consumers and cannabis businesses in the seed-to-sale supply chain. The latter customer group includes growers, transportation businesses, manufacturers, and dispensaries, all of whom can benefit from the business facing Budbo solutions which offer location-based customer insights and smart contracts stored on the blockchain to GPS tracking for shipments.

Sales and Marketing

Geographic Markets

The Company will initially launch its suite of Budbo solutions in the United States, Canada, Israel, and Germany. Following the initial launch and with product market fit, the Company intends to expand its offering of the Budbo suite of solutions into Luxembourg, Netherlands, and additional worldwide countries where cannabis may be used for medicinal or recreational purposes. The Budbo App will be available to users worldwide to begin building a user base across the globe.

Advertising/Awareness

A press team will place Budbo in commercial and trade industry publications such as High Times, The Leaf Desk and TechCrunch, in order to increase the Budbo brand awareness. The Budbo team will be participating in industry trade shows globally to increase our audience and brand awareness.

Intellectual Property

Our intellectual property includes the content of our website, our registered domain names, the solutions in the Budbo Ecosystem, the software code to those solutions and solutions and functionalities we are developing, trade secrets, and a patent application. To expand on the foregoing, we have registered domain names www.budbo.com and www.budbo.io; our website is found on the latter domain; and we utilize the trademark Budbo, which is not registered in our name; however, we have entered into an agreement to transfer that registered trademark to us and we are in the process of completing and getting on file the necessary forms with the United States Patent & Trademark Office to transfer that registered trademark to our name. We have a U.S. patent application pending entitled "System And Method For Matching Cannabis Users To Cannabis Products - Patent Serial # 17/826,580." This application is for a system and method patent. The invention claimed in the application generally relates to computerized systems and methods for categorizing and recommending cannabis and associated products. It is our intent to file patent applications for new cannabis technology solutions as we develop them.

Competition

Currently, there are several tangential competitors in the seed-to-sale space. Flowhub, for example, offers a cannabis dispensary point-of-sale system, inventory management, compliance, and analytics platform. BioTrackTHC and MJ Freeway offer solutions that analyze compliance with state cannabis regulations and laws and have some production and point of sale components.

By comparison, the technology suite of solutions that the Company offers currently centers on the consumer-business relationship within the cannabis industry. Those solutions provide users with full control over their blockchain-based transaction history that is linked to local dispensaries and seed-to-sale systems, with the Company as the middleman that facilitates the connection.

The Company's three main competitors are Weedmaps and Leafly, which are publicly traded companies, and Dutchie. Weedmaps offers a consumer-facing platform that provides consumers with information regarding cannabis products, including online ordering, local retailer and brand listings, product discovery, and consumer education on cannabis. Weedmaps also offers SaaS solutions for cannabis businesses that includes point of sale, logistics, wholesale, delivery/fulfillment, and ordering solutions. Leafly operates a platform, with related mobile app, that purports to connect consumers to cannabis brands and licensed retailers by offering cannabis retailers and brands subscription-based marketplace listings that provide the audience with information, reviews, menus, and ordering and delivery options through legal retailers. Dutchie operates an e-commerce platform to facilitate consumer making purchases of cannabis products from participating dispensaries. Dutchie also offers cannabis businesses a technology platform with, among other things, point of sale, ecommerce, and payments components.

Regulatory Environment

Cannabis users and cannabis producers and retailers are subject to a rapidly evolving legal landscape in many jurisdictions in the United States and abroad. Indeed, in the United States the sale of cannabis is illegal under federal law and the laws of many states but permissible in several states. This dynamic and uncertain legal landscape will impact the customers of our solutions and, therefore, is likely to impact us. See "Risk Factors" below for more information.

One or more of our solutions or business operations may subject us to federal, state, or foreign laws and regulations regarding the collection, use, and dissemination of personally identifiable information. The data privacy legal landscape is expanding and changing rapidly. Failure to comply with such laws and regulations could subject the Company to penalties, fines, and private lawsuits. See "Risk Factors" below for more information.

Litigation

There are no existing legal suits pending, or to our knowledge, threatened, against our Company, which would have a material effect on the business of our Company.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

An investment in the Company involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the risks described above and those below before deciding to purchase any securities in this offering. If any of these risks actually occurs, our business, financial condition, or results of operations may suffer. As a result, you could lose part or all of your investment.

Risks Related to the Company

We have a limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters.

The Company was formed as Nevada corporation, effective as of June 21, 2021. Therefore, we have a limited operating history, and the Company has no operating revenue to date. We are in a pre-revenue, development stage, and our future operations are subject to all of the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise. The likelihood of the success of our Company must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the development of an entity in the business of designing, developing, and commercializing a mobile app. There can be no assurance that we will be able to generate revenues, that future revenues will be significant, that any sales will be profitable, or that we will have sufficient funds available to complete our marketing and development programs or to market any new products which we may develop. We currently have operating losses, have no substantive source of operating revenue, are unable to self-finance operations, have limited resources, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to develop such revenue sources or that our operations will become profitable, even if we are able to commercialize our products and build brand awareness.

Our Company has a history of incurring losses.

Although our Company has only been in existence since June 2021, we have incurred losses in that time. We incurred net losses of $16,244 for the year ended December 31, 2021. The extent of any future losses and whether or not the Company can generate profits in future years remains uncertain. The Company currently is pre-revenue and does not cover its operating expenses. We expect our capital outlays and operating expenditures to remain constant for the foreseeable future as we continue to focus on research and development and new product development, patent portfolio maintenance and business development. If we fail to generate sufficient revenue and eventually become profitable, or if we are unable to fund our continuing losses by raising additional financing when required, our shareholders could lose all or part of their investments.

Our products (i.e., our solutions) may never achieve significant market acceptance.

We may expend substantial funds and management effort on the development and commercialization of our technology solutions for the cannabis industry with no assurance that we will be successful in selling our products (i.e., our solutions). Our ability to successfully commercialize our solutions will be dependent on the success of our development/engineering team. Our business could also be adversely affected if we expend money without any return. In order to successfully commercialize our solutions, we will need to continue to expand our sales and marketing efforts. If we fail to successfully commercialize our solutions, we may never receive a return on the substantial investments that we have made in product development, sales and marketing, quality assurance, as well as further investments we intend to make, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

We will need additional financing to execute our business plan, which we may not be able to secure on acceptable terms, or at all.

We will require additional financing in the near and long term to fully execute our business plan. Our success depends on our ability to raise such additional financing on reasonable terms and on a timely basis. Conditions in the economy and the financial markets may make it more difficult for us to obtain necessary additional capital or financing on acceptable terms, or at all. If we cannot secure sufficient additional financing, we may be forced to forego strategic opportunities or delay, scale back or eliminate further development of our goals and objectives, operations and investments or employ internal cost savings measures.

In order for our Company to compete and grow, we must attract, recruit, retain, and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay or halt the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in product development, loss of customers and sales and diversion of management resources, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us.

We may implement new lines of business or offer new products and services within existing lines of business.

There are substantial risks and uncertainties associated with these efforts, particularly in instances where the markets are not fully developed. In developing and marketing new lines of business and/or new products and services, we may invest significant time and resources. Initial timetables for the introduction and development of new lines of business and/or new products or services may not be achieved, and price and profitability targets may not prove feasible. We may not be successful in introducing new products and services in response to industry trends or developments in technology, or those new products may not achieve market acceptance. As a result, we could lose business, be forced to price products and services on less advantageous terms to retain or attract clients or be subject to cost increases. As a result, our business, financial condition, or results of operations may be adversely affected.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of its executive officers, board of directors, and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on Luke Patterson, who is the CEO, Secretary, and a member of the Board of Directors, Jacob Patterson, who is the Chief Technology Officer and a member of the Board of Directors, Nick Heldreth, who is the Chief Marketing Officer and a member of the Board of Directors, Stephen Rosen, who is the Chief Financial Officer, and Gary Heitz, who is the Chief Operating Officer. The loss of any of them could harm the Company's reputation, business, financial condition, cash flow, and results of operations.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income-based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in the U.S.

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income-based taxes and accruals and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

Our competitors control a large percentage of the current marketplace for solutions like those we offer.

The biggest risk from our competition is that there are only a few similar type companies, and they control a large percentage of the current marketplace. Although the Company is confident that it can disrupt the industry, the big players such as Leafly, Weedmaps and Dutchie have the financial resources and ability to impede the progress of the Company. The competitors currently do not have the technology that the Company has developed, however, they have the financial resources to quickly develop similar technology to compete directly with the Company.

Cannabis remains illegal at the U.S. federal level and in many states.

A number of states have enacted laws allowing their citizens to purchase and use recreational cannabis and/or medical cannabis and to operate medical and recreational cannabis cultivation, production, or dispensary facilities. However, at the time this offering is being commenced, cannabis is illegal under United States federal law, and under the laws of many states and foreign countries. Strict enforcement of federal law regarding cannabis would likely result in the inability to proceed with the business plans of the Company.

Because our business is ultimately dependent upon continued market acceptance of cannabis by consumers, any negative trends could adversely affect our business operations.

We are dependent on public support, continued market acceptance and the proliferation of consumers in legal cannabis markets. While we believe that the market and opportunities in the space will continue to grow, we cannot predict the future growth rate or size of the market. Any downturns in, or negative outlooks on, the cannabis industry may adversely affect our business and financial condition.

Expansion of our business is dependent on the continued legalization of cannabis.

Expansion of our business is in part dependent upon continued legalization of cannabis in jurisdictions in the United States and foreign countries. The slowing of legalization could negatively impact our business and its prospects for growth.

The rapid changes in the cannabis industry and applicable laws and regulations make predicting and evaluating our future prospects difficult and may increase the risk that we will not be successful.

The cannabis industry – and the complex regulatory regime applicable to it – is evolving rapidly and may develop in ways that we cannot anticipate. The pace of dramatic change in the cannabis industry makes it difficult to assess our future prospects, and you should evaluate our business in light of the risks and difficulties we may encounter as the industry continues to evolve. These risks and difficulties include:

- managing complex, disparate, and rapidly evolving regulatory regimes imposed by U.S. federal, state, and local governments and foreign governments applicable to cannabis and cannabis-related businesses;
- adapting to rapidly evolving cannabis industry trends and the way cannabis consumers and businesses interact with technology;
- successfully competing with existing and future participants in the market for cannabis-related products like ours;
- adapting to changes in the cannabis industry if sales of cannabis expand significantly beyond a regulated model, and commodification of the cannabis industry;
- successfully implementing and executing our business and marketing strategies; and
- successfully expanding our business into new and existing cannabis markets.

If we experience security or data privacy breaches or other unauthorized or improper access to, use of, or destruction of our proprietary or confidential data, employee data, or user data, we may face loss of revenue, harm to our brand, business disruption, and significant liabilities.

We collect, use, and process a variety of personal data, such as email addresses, mobile phone numbers, and location information. As such, we may be an attractive target of data security attacks by third parties. Any failure to prevent or mitigate security breaches or improper access to, use of, or disclosure of any such data could result in significant liability and a material loss of revenue resulting from the adverse impact on our reputation and brand, a diminished ability to retain or attract new users of our solutions, and disruption to our business. We rely on third-party service providers to host or otherwise process some of our data and that of users of our solutions, and any failure by such third party to prevent or mitigate security breaches or improper access to, or disclosure of, such information could have similar adverse consequences for us.

Because the techniques used to obtain unauthorized access, disable, or degrade services, or sabotage systems change frequently and are often unrecognizable until launched against a target, we may be unable to anticipate these techniques and implement adequate preventative measures. Our servers and solutions may be vulnerable to computer viruses or physical or electronic break-ins that our security measures may not detect. Individuals able to circumvent our security measures may misappropriate confidential, proprietary, or personal information held by or on behalf of us, disrupt our operations, damage our computers, or otherwise damage our business. In addition, we may need to expend significant resources to protect against security breaches or mitigate the impact of any such breaches, including potential liability that may not be limited to the amounts covered by our insurance. Security breaches could also expose us to liability under various laws and regulations across jurisdictions and increase the risk of litigation and governmental investigation.

We are subject to industry standards, governmental laws, regulations, and other legal obligations, particularly related to privacy, data protection and information security, and any actual or perceived failure to comply with such obligations could harm our business.

We are subject to regulation by various federal, state, provincial, local, and foreign governmental authorities, including those responsible for monitoring and enforcing employment and labor laws, securities laws, and tax laws. These laws and regulations are subject to change over time and thus we must continue to monitor and dedicate resources to ensure continued compliance.

In addition, our business may be subject to various federal, state, and foreign privacy and data protection laws and regulations. There are several such laws and regulations governing collection, dissemination, use and confidentiality of personally identifiable information. We may receive, store, process, and use personal information. The regulatory framework for data privacy issues worldwide, including in the United States, is rapidly evolving and is likely to remain uncertain for the foreseeable future, as many new laws and regulations regarding the collection, use and disclosure of personally identifiable information and other data have been adopted or are under consideration and existing laws and regulations may be subject to new and changing interpretations. In the United States, there are federal and state laws and regulations pertaining to data privacy. Many foreign countries and governmental bodies, among them Canada and the European Union, have data privacy laws and regulations. A failure or perceived failure by us to comply with federal, state, or foreign data privacy laws, regulations, or industry standards could result in government enforcement actions and prosecutions, private litigation, fines and penalties, or adverse publicity, which, in turn, could have an adverse effect on our reputation and business.

The successful operation of our business depends upon the performance and reliability of Internet, mobile, and other infrastructures that are not under our control.

Aspects of our solutions depend on the performance and reliability of Internet, mobile, and other infrastructures that are not under our control. Disruptions in Internet infrastructure or GPS signals or the failure of telecommunications network operators to provide us with the bandwidth needed for our solutions to operate could interfere with their performance. In addition, we have no control over the costs of the services provided by national telecommunications operators. If mobile Internet access fees or other charges to Internet users increase, use of our flagship solution, the Budbo App, in particular may decrease, which may in turn cause our revenue to significantly decrease.

Our business depends on the efficient and uninterrupted operation of mobile communications systems. The occurrence of an unanticipated problem, such as a power outage, telecommunications delay or failure, security breach, or computer virus could result in delays or interruptions to our products, offerings, and platform, as well as business interruptions for us and platform users. Furthermore, foreign governments may leverage their ability to shut down directed services, and local governments may shut down our platform at the routing level. Any of these events could damage our reputation, significantly disrupt our operations, and subject us to liability, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, and operating results.

Our business depends upon the interoperability of our platform across devices, operating systems, and third-party applications that we do not control.

An important feature of our solutions can be their interoperability with a range of devices, operating systems, and third-party applications. We depend on the accessibility of our platform across these third-party operating systems and applications that we do not control. Moreover, third-party services and products are constantly evolving, and we may not be able to modify the Budbo App or our other solutions to assure their compatibility with that of other third parties following development changes. The loss of interoperability, whether due to actions of third parties or otherwise, could adversely affect our business.

Obtaining and maintaining our patent protection depends on compliance with various procedural, document submission, fee payment and other requirements imposed by governmental patent agencies, and the Company's patent protection could be reduced or eliminated for non-compliance with these requirements.

We plan on filing applications for patents related to some or all of the cannabis technology solutions we may develop. The process for obtaining a U.S. patent can be expensive. In addition, once a patent is issued, periodic maintenance and annuity fees on issued United States patents and most foreign patent applications and patents must be paid to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, or USPTO, and foreign patent agencies, respectively, in order to maintain such patents and patent applications. The USPTO and various foreign governmental patent agencies require compliance with a number of procedural, documentary, fee payment, and other similar provisions during the patent application, examination, and issuance processes. While an inadvertent lapse can, in some cases, be cured by payment of a late fee or by other means in accordance with the applicable rules, there are situations in which noncompliance can result in abandonment or lapse of the patent or patent application, resulting in partial or complete loss of patent rights in the relevant jurisdiction. Non-compliance events that could result in abandonment or lapse of a patent or patent application include failure to respond to official actions within prescribed time limits, non-payment of fees and failure to properly legalize and submit formal documents. If we fail to maintain the patent application, and, if issued, patent, covering our product or product candidates, our competitors might be able to enter the market with similar or identical products or technology, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

We could become subject to patent litigation which could be costly, result in the diversion of management's time and efforts, and require us to pay damages.

Our solutions could become subject to patent litigation which could be costly, result in the diversion of management's time and efforts and require us to pay damages. Whether a product infringes a patent involves complex legal and factual issues, the determination of which is often uncertain. Our competitors may assert that our products, their components, or the systems or methods we employ are covered by U.S. or foreign patents held by them. In addition, they may claim that their patents have priority over patents we may obtain or that our patent application should not be granted or, if a patent is granted to us, it should be invalidated. Because patent applications can take many years to issue, there may be applications now pending of which we are unaware, which may later result in issued patents that our product may infringe. There could also be existing patents that one or more components of our products may inadvertently be infringing, of which we are unaware. As the number of participants in the market for ancillary cannabis products grows, the possibility of patent infringement claims against us increases.

Any litigation or claims against us may cause us to incur substantial costs, could place a significant strain on our financial resources, divert the attention of management from our core business, and harm our reputation. If the relevant patents were upheld as valid and enforceable and we were found to infringe, we could be required to pay substantial damages and/or royalties and could be prevented from selling our products unless we could obtain a license or were able to redesign our products, systems, or methods to avoid infringement.

We are, or may become in the future, dependent on our collaborative agreements for the development of products and business development.

In conducting our product research and development activities, we will in the future rely on our management and engineering, marketing and other team members, and commercial partners for both strategic and financial resources. The loss of, or failure to perform by us, or our failure to secure additional agreements for other products in development, would substantially disrupt or delay our research and development and commercialization activities. Any such loss would likely increase our expenses and materially harm our business, financial condition, and results of operation.

Reliance on third-party relationships and outsourcing arrangements could adversely affect our business.

We utilize third parties, including external marketing and advertising agencies, engineers, independent account managers, and third-party service providers, such as our web hosting service provider, for selected aspects of commercialization of certain software products, support for information technology systems, and certain financial transactional processes. Outsourcing these functions involves the risk that the third parties may not perform to our standards or legal requirements, may not produce reliable results, may not perform in a timely manner, may not maintain the confidentiality of our proprietary information, or may fail to perform at all. Failure of these third parties to meet their contractual, confidentiality, or other obligations to us could have a material adverse effect on our business.

The forecasts of market growth included in our business plan and investor presentations may prove to be inaccurate, and even if the markets in which we compete achieve the forecasted growth, we cannot assure you our business will grow at similar rates, if at all.

Growth forecasts are subject to significant uncertainty and are based on assumptions and estimates that may not prove to be accurate. The forecasts in our business plan and investor presentations may prove to be inaccurate. Even if these markets experience the forecasted growth described in our business plan, we may not grow our business at similar rates, or at all. Our growth is subject to many factors, including our success in implementing our business strategy, which is subject to many risks and uncertainties. Accordingly, the forecasts of market growth included in our business plan should not be taken as indicative of our future growth.

If the quality of our products and technologies does not meet the expectations of prospective customers, then our brand and reputation could suffer, and our business could be adversely impacted.

In the course of conducting our business, we must adequately address quality issues that may arise with our product offerings and technologies. If the quality of our products and technologies does not meet the expectations of our customers, then our brand and reputation could suffer, and our business could be adversely impacted.

Changes in development methods and configurations of our product offerings in development may result in additional costs or delay, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

As we modify existing products and develop new products, we may alter development methods and configurations of the product offerings along the way in an effort to optimize processes and results. Any changes we make carry the risk that they will not achieve the intended objectives and instead could result in unforeseen adverse events or have undesirable effects that impact the altered products. Such changes may also require additional testing and development, which could increase costs, delay product offering launches, and jeopardize our ability to commence or maintain sales and generate revenue as expected, all of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

We may pursue additional opportunities to acquire complementary businesses, which could dilute our shareholders' ownership interests, incur expenditure, and have uncertain returns.

We may seek to expand through future acquisitions of either companies or properties, however, there can be no assurance that we will locate attractive acquisition candidates, or that we will be able to acquire such candidates on economically acceptable terms, if at all, or that we will not be restricted from completing acquisitions pursuant to contractual arrangements. Future acquisitions may require us to expend significant amounts of cash, resulting in our inability to use these funds for other business or may involve significant issuances of equity. Future acquisitions may also require substantial management time commitments, and the negotiation of potential acquisitions and the integration of acquired operations could disrupt our business by diverting management and employees' attention away from day-to-day operations. The difficulties of integration may be increased by the necessity of coordinating geographically diverse organizations, integrating personnel with disparate backgrounds, and combining different corporate cultures.

Any future acquisition involves potential risks, including, among other things:

- difficulty assimilating or integrating acquired or licensed technologies, products, employees, or business operations;
- issues maintaining uniform standards, procedures, controls, and policies;
- unanticipated costs associated with acquisitions or strategic alliances, including the assumption of unknown or contingent liabilities and the incurrence of debt or future write-offs of intangible assets or goodwill;
- diversion of management's attention from our core business and disruption of ongoing operations;
- risks associated with entering new markets in which we have limited or no experience;
- potential losses related to investments in other companies;
- potential loss of key employees of acquired businesses; and
- increased legal and accounting compliance costs.

At times, future acquisition candidates may have liabilities or adverse operating issues that we may fail to discover through due diligence prior to the acquisition. If we consummate any future acquisitions with unanticipated liabilities or that fails to meet expectations, our business, results of operations, cash flows or financial condition may be materially adversely affected. The potential impairment or complete write-off of goodwill and other intangible assets related to any such acquisition may reduce our overall earnings and could negatively affect our balance sheet.

Risks Related to the Company's Securities and this Offering

If we close this offering and do not raise enough to cover our offering related expenses, our offering related expenses will be in excess of the amount raised in this offering, and your entire investment will have been used to pay expenses and not further the growth of the Company.

If we close this offering and the amount raised in it is less than our offering related expenses, all of the funds raised, plus additional corporate funds held by the Company will be used to pay offering expenses. This means that not only will the Company not have raised capital to further its business plan and grow, but your money and existing cash and other resources currently held by the Company will be used only to cover offering expenses. This means that the offering will be detrimental to us instead of furthering our business plan.

You are granting a proxy to vote your common stock to the Chief Executive Officer of our Company, and, thus, will not have the right to vote on any matters coming before the stockholders of our Company for a vote. By granting this proxy you are giving up your right to vote on important matters, including significant corporate actions like mergers, amendments to our certificate of incorporation, a liquidation of our Company and the election of our directors.

At the closing of this offering, you will sign a proxy (included in your subscription agreement) that gives the Chief Executive Officer of our Company the right to vote your common stock on all matters coming before the holders of our common stock for a vote. Our CEO does not have any fiduciary duty to you to vote your common stock in a manner that is in your best interests. Accordingly, our CEO may vote its proxy in a manner that may not be in the best interests of holders of our common stock. For example, our CEO may vote the proxy in favor of an amendment to our certificate of incorporation that adversely affects the rights of the holders of our common stock in order to allow for a new investment to occur where the new investor requires senior rights. By granting a proxy to our CEO, you will not have the right to vote your shares on any matters. As a result, you will have no say in any major corporate actions such as amendments to our certificate of incorporation, the creation of securities that are senior to our common stock, mergers, the sale of all or substantially all of our assets, the election of board members, the liquidation or dissolution of our Company and all other major corporate events.

We may offer and sell securities in a concurrent private placement at prices that are lower than the price that you are paying for your securities and those securities that we sell in the private placement may have rights that are senior to your rights, which would result in dilution and may negatively affect the value of your securities.

We reserve the right to sell our securities in a private placement transaction that occurs concurrent with this offering. Those securities may be common stock, SAFE securities (simplified agreement for future equity), preferred stock, convertible notes, or other securities. Any securities that we sell for cash to investors in a private placement while this offering is ongoing will have a conversion cap, liquidation preference, conversion price, price or similar valuation mechanism that is based upon a valuation for our Company that is equal to or may be lower than or higher than the valuation at which securities are being sold in this offering. Investors should be aware that the securities that we sell in a concurrent private placement may have a liquidation preference, security interest, sinking fund, redemption provision or similar right that is senior to your rights as a common stockholder of this Company and, accordingly, such other securities may be superior to our common stock in various ways even though they are being sold at the same valuation as we are selling our common stock in this offering. Any such concurrent private placement would result in dilution to you, and your rights may be subordinate to the rights of the holders of securities sold in such private placement resulting in a potential loss of all or part of the value of the security you are purchasing in this offering.

Affiliates of our Company, including officers, directors, and existing stockholders of our Company, may invest in this offering and their funds will be counted toward our achieving the minimum amount.

There is no restriction on our affiliates, including our officers, directors, and existing stockholders, investing in the offering. As a result, it is possible that if we have raised some funds, but not reached the minimum amount, affiliates can contribute the balance so that there will be a closing. The minimum amount is typically intended to be a protection for investors and gives investors confidence that other investors, along with them, are sufficiently interested in the offering and our Company and its prospects to make an investment of at least the minimum amount. By permitting affiliates to invest in the offering and make up any shortfall between what non-affiliate investors have invested and the minimum amount, this protection is largely eliminated. Investors should be aware that no funds other than their own and those of affiliates investing along with them, may be invested in this offering.

We intend to use some of the proceeds from the offering for unspecified working capital.

This means that we have ultimate discretion to use this portion of the proceeds as we see fit and have chosen not to set forth any specific uses for you to evaluate. The net proceeds from this offering will be used for the purposes, which our management deems to be in our best interests in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. As a result of the foregoing, our success will be substantially dependent upon our discretion and judgment with respect to application and allocation of the net proceeds of this offering. We may choose to use the proceeds in a manner that you do not agree with, and you will have no recourse. A use of proceeds that does not further our business and goals could harm our Company and its operations and ultimately cause you to lose all or a portion of your investment.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

The securities being sold in this offering will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although our securities may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply, and each investor should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for our securities. Because our securities have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, our securities have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be affected. Limitations on the transfer of the securities may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for our securities in a private sale. Investors should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each investor in this offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Our bylaws contain a right of first refusal, which can also restrict a stockholder's ability to sell or otherwise transfer its shares of Company stock.

Section 5.5 of the Company's bylaws restricts the ability of a stockholder to sell or otherwise transfer his shares of stock in the Company as Section 5.5 provides the Company with a right of first refusal in the event a stockholder seeks to sell or otherwise transfer its shares of stock in the Company, subject to some exemptions. Section 5.5 provides that no stockholder may sell or otherwise transfer any of the shares of stock of the Company, except by a sale or transfer that meets the requirements set forth in Section 5.5. Those requirements generally provide that a stockholder must first give written notice to the Company of the stockholder's desire to sell or otherwise transfer any of his shares of stock, and the Company shall then have the option to purchase the shares specified in the notice at the price and upon the terms set forth in such notice; provided, however, that, with the consent of the stockholder, the Company shall have the option to purchase a lesser portion of the shares specified in said notice at the price and upon the terms set forth therein. Certain transfers are exempt from the requirements of Section 5.5 of the Company's bylaws.

Neither the offering nor the securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to us.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this offering, our Company, or any securities of our Company. We also have relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

There is no guarantee of a return on your investment.

There is no assurance that an investor will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each investor should read the Form C and all exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

We do not intend to pay dividends to our common shareholders in the foreseeable future.

While shares of our common stock are eligible for dividends, we do not plan to declare dividends to our shareholders in the foreseeable future, and we may never declare dividends.

We have the right to extend the offering deadline.

We may extend the offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while we attempt to raise the minimum amount even after the offering deadline stated in this offering statement is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new offering deadline is reached without our Company receiving the minimum amount, at which time committed funds will become immediately available for withdrawal from the investor's brokerage account maintained with the Intermediary without interest or deduction, or until we receive the minimum amount, at which time it will be released to us to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to us, the securities will be issued and distributed to you.

Your ownership of the shares will be subject to dilution.

If we conduct subsequent offerings of securities, issue shares pursuant to a compensation or distribution reinvestment plan or otherwise issue additional shares, investors who purchase securities in this offering who do not participate in those other stock issuances will experience dilution in their percentage ownership of our Company's outstanding shares. Furthermore, shareholders may experience a dilution in the value of their underlying shares depending on the terms and pricing of any future share issuances (including the underlying shares being sold in this offering) and the value of our assets at the time of issuance.

Management has discretion over the proceeds of this offering.

We expect to use the net proceeds of this offering, over time, for general marketing and advertising, leasing costs, debt repayment, and general working capital. However, we have no current specific plans for the net proceeds of this offering other than as outlined in the use of proceeds section of this offering statement. As a result, our management will have the discretion to allocate the net proceeds to uses that investors may not deem desirable. There can be no assurance that the net proceeds can or will be invested to yield a significant return.

There can be no assurance that we will ever provide liquidity to investors through either a sale of our Company or a registration of the securities.

There can be no assurance that any form of merger, combination, or sale of our Company will take place, or that any merger, combination, or sale would provide liquidity for investors. Furthermore, we may be unable to register the securities for resale by investors for legal, commercial, regulatory, market-related, or other reasons. In the event that we are unable to effect a registration, investors could be unable to sell their securities unless an exemption from registration is available.

The offering price in this offering may not represent the value of our securities.

The price of the securities being sold in this offering has been determined based on a number of factors and does not necessarily bear any relationship to our book value, assets, operating results, or any other established criteria of value. Prices for our securities may not be indicative of the fair market value of our securities now or in the future.

General Risk Factors

The current novel coronavirus, or COVID-19, pandemic, or the future outbreak of any other highly infectious or contagious diseases, including but not limited to those based on the Omicron or Delta variants of the coronavirus, could materially and adversely impact or cause disruption to our performance, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and ability to pay distributions. Further, the pandemic has caused disruptions in the U.S. and global economies and financial markets and created widespread business continuity issues of an as yet unknown magnitude and duration.

In December 2019, a novel strain of coronavirus was reported to have surfaced in Wuhan, China. The virus has since spread to over 150 countries and every state in the United States. On March 11, 2020, the World Health Organization declared the outbreak a pandemic, and on March 13, 2020, the United States declared a national emergency. Most states and cities reacted to the coronavirus pandemic, as well as outbreaks thereafter of variants of the coronavirus, including the Omicron and Delta variants, by instituting quarantines, restrictions on travel, "stay at home" rules and restrictions on the types of businesses that may continue to operate, as well as guidance in response to the pandemic, outbreaks of the coronavirus variants, and the need to contain them.

We expect that, like most businesses world-wide, the coronavirus pandemic and outbreaks of coronavirus variants will impact us in ways that may be material. The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic and measures to prevent its spread, as well as the spread of its related Omicron and Delta variants, could materially negatively impact our ability to launch and operate our business and our results of operations, financial condition and liquidity in a number of ways, including a lack of capital sufficient to develop our product offerings or operate our Company and the potential inability to maintain adequate staffing for the development of product offerings and management of our Company due to shelter-in-place orders and/or the continued duration or expansion of the pandemic. The extent of the COVID-19 pandemic's effect on our operational and financial performance will depend on future developments including the duration, spread and intensity of the outbreak, all of which are uncertain and difficult to predict. Due to the speed with which the situation is developing, we are not able at this time to estimate the effect of these factors on our business, but the adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be material.

The impact of global, regional, or local economic and market conditions may adversely affect our business, operating results, and financial condition.

Our performance is subject to global economic conditions and economic conditions in one or more of our key markets. Those economic conditions, including but not limited to inflation, could impact, among other things, our access to capital, liquidity, and other financial resources we need to operate and expand, as well as our operating costs.

Economic conditions may also adversely impact sales of medicinal and recreational cannabis. Such declining sales could result in our clients going out of business or decide not to purchase, or to stop using, one or more of our product offerings. Negative economic conditions may also affect third parties with whom we have entered into relationships and upon whom we depend in order to grow our business.

Inflation may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Inflationary factors such as increases in the cost of our solutions, and overhead costs may adversely affect our operating results. Although we do not believe that inflation has had a material effect on our financial position or results of operations to date, a high rate of inflation in the future may have an adverse effect on our future ability to succeed financially. If we increase our sales prices to address inflation, there is no guarantee that our prices would be competitive in the market or that potential customers would recognize the increase in price is worth the benefits that our solutions provide to them. If sales decrease as a result of a price increase, our gross revenues could be materially impacted which would impact our overall results from operations.

Geopolitical conditions, including acts of war or terrorism could adversely affect our business.

Our operations could be disrupted by acts of war, terrorist activity, or other similar events, including the current or anticipated impact of military conflict and related sanctions imposed on Russia, Belarus, and certain individuals and entities connected to Russian or Belarusian political, business, and financial organizations by the United States and other countries due to Russia's recent invasion of Ukraine. It is not possible to predict the broader consequences of the conflict, including related geopolitical tensions, and the measures and retaliatory actions taken by the U.S. and other countries in respect thereof as well as any counter measures or retaliatory actions by Russia or Belarus in response, including, for example, potential cyberattacks or the disruption of energy exports, is likely to cause regional instability, geopolitical shifts, and could materially adversely affect global trade, currency exchange rates, regional economies and the global economy. The situation remains uncertain, and while it is difficult to predict the impact of any of the foregoing, the conflict and actions taken in response to the conflict could increase our costs and impair our ability to raise additional capital when needed on acceptable terms, if at all, or otherwise adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Not applicable.

Transfer Agent and Registrar

We will act as transfer agent and registrar for the securities, which will be set forth in a stock ledger. No physical certificates will be delivered.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights? Yes No

Holders of our common stock are entitled to one vote per share of common stock held.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the holders of the common stock have granted a proxy to our CEO, which gives our CEO the sole and exclusive right to vote the common stock on behalf of the purchasers of the securities both in connection with all matters coming before the holders of our common stock for a vote. See “Risk Factors - Risks Related to the Company’s Securities and this Offering - You are granting a proxy to vote your common stock to the Chief Executive Officer of our Company, and, thus, will not have the right to vote on any matters coming before the stockholders of our Company for a vote. By granting this proxy you are giving up your right to vote on important matters, including significant corporate actions like mergers, amendments to our certificate of incorporation, a liquidation of our Company and the election of our directors.”

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above? Yes No

We do not have any voting agreements or shareholder/equity holder agreements in place. See the response to question 14 above and the references to the proxy being granted to the CEO.

16. Explain how the terms of the securities being offered may be modified?

The rights of the holders of common stock of our Company may only be modified by the majority vote of the shares of common stock of our Company outstanding and entitled to vote, unless a greater number of voting shares is required by applicable law. The shares being offered are subject, however, to a proxy in favor of our CEO as disclosed elsewhere herein.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES BEING OFFERED

Any securities sold pursuant to Regulation CF being offered may not be transferred by any investor of such securities during the one-year holding period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- (1) to the Company;
- (2) to an “accredited investor;”
- (3) as part of an offering registered with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission or
- (4) to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

Remember that although you may legally be able to transfer the securities, you may not be able to find another party willing to purchase them.

NOTE: The term “accredited investor” means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term “member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent” includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term “spousal equivalent” means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Section 5.5 of the Company’s bylaws also restricts the ability of a stockholder to sell or otherwise transfer his shares of stock in the Company as Section 5.5 provides the Company with a right of first refusal in the event a stockholder seeks to sell or otherwise transfer its shares of stock in the Company, subject to some exemptions. Section 5.5 provides that no stockholder may sell or otherwise transfer any of the shares of stock of the Company, except by a sale or transfer that meets the requirements set forth in Section 5.5. Those requirements generally provide that the stockholder must first give written notice to the Company of the stockholder’s desire to sell or otherwise transfer any of his shares of stock, and the Company shall then have the option to purchase the shares specified in the notice at the price and upon the terms set forth in such notice; provided, however, that, with the consent of the stockholder, the Company shall have the option to purchase a lesser portion of the shares specified in said notice at the price and upon the terms set forth therein. Certain transfers are exempt from the requirements of Section 5.5 of the Company’s bylaws.

DESCRIPTION OF ISSUER’S SECURITIES

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

As of the date of this offering statement, our authorized capital stock consists of 100,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share, and 50,000,000 shares of preferred stock, $0.0001 par value per share. As of the date of this offering statement, a total of 5,469,300 shares of common stock are issued and outstanding, and zero shares of preferred stock are issued and outstanding.

Each share of common stock is entitled to one vote per share. The shares being offered are subject, however, to a proxy in favor of our CEO as disclosed elsewhere herein. Shares of common stock do not have anti-dilution rights. With respect to the rights of holders of shares of preferred stock of the Company, the Company’s Board of Directors is authorized to issue, by resolution, shares of preferred stock in one or more series, and in connection with the creation of any such series, to determine and fix such voting powers, full or limited, or no voting powers, and such designations, preferences and relative participating, optional or other special rights, and qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof, including, without limitation thereof, dividend rights, special voting rights, conversion rights, redemption privileges and liquidation preferences to the extent permitted by the Nevada Revised Statutes.

The Company does not have any debt or other securities authorized or outstanding. The Company does not have any warrants, options, or similar rights outstanding.

We may also offer preferred stock, or other debt or equity securities, including derivative securities like options, warrants and convertible debentures or notes in the future.

We reserve the right to sell our securities in a private placement transaction that occurs concurrent with this offering. Those securities may be common stock, SAFE securities (simplified agreement for future equity), preferred stock, convertible notes, or other securities. Any securities that we sell for cash to investors in a private placement while this offering is ongoing will have a conversion cap, liquidation preference, conversion price, price or similar valuation mechanism that is based upon a valuation for our Company that is equal to or may be lower than or higher than the valuation at which securities are being sold in this offering. Investors should be aware that the securities that we sell in a concurrent private placement may have a liquidation preference, security interest, sinking fund, redemption provision or similar right that is senior to your rights as a common stockholder of this Company and, accordingly, such other securities may be superior to our common stock in various ways even though they are being sold at the same valuation as we are selling our common stock in this offering.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The shares of our common stock being issued in this offering do not have anti-dilution rights, which means that future equity financings or other issuances of securities will dilute the ownership percentage that the investor will have in the Company. It also means that if future financing rounds are done at a lower valuation, you will not receive the benefit of additional shares so that your valuation will remain the same.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer? [] Yes [X] No

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered.

If the principal shareholders exercise their voting rights, then the minority shareholders will have no ability to override the principal shareholders' votes. As a minority shareholder in the Company, you will have limited ability, if at all, to influence our policies or any other corporate matters.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The securities being offered have been arbitrarily valued. Also, see the "The offering price in this offering may not represent the value of our securities" risk factor.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

As a minority shareholder in our Company, you will have limited ability, if at all, to influence our policies or any other corporate matters such as amendments to our articles of incorporation, the creation of securities that are senior to the common stock being offered, mergers, the sale of all or substantially all of our assets, the election of board members, the liquidation or dissolution of our Company and all other major corporate events. Furthermore, the shares being offered are subject to a proxy in favor of our CEO as disclosed elsewhere herein.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including: additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

The securities do not have anti-dilution rights, which means that corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets, or transactions with related parties, could dilute the ownership percentage that the Investor may eventually have in the Company. Furthermore, if future issuances of securities are accomplished at a lower valuation than the valuation used for this offering (i.e., a down round), your valuation will remain the same as you have no price based anti-dilution protection.

24. Describe the terms of any indebtedness of the issuer.

The debts of the issuer are a $32,396.72 loan from Liquimedlock Inc.

Creditor(s)	Amount		Maturity Date
	Outstanding(1)	Interest Rate
Liquimedlock Inc.	$32,396.72	12%	August 31, 2022

(1) As of June 9, 2022.

25. What other exempt offerings has the issuer conducted within the past three years?

Since inception we have sold a total of 5,469,300 shares of our common stock to our existing stockholders in private placement transactions that are exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended by virtue of the exemption provided by Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act and under similar exemptions from state securities law requirements.

26. Was or is the issuer or any entities controlled by or under common control with the issuer a party to any transaction since the beginning of the issuer’s last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12-month period, including the amount the issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

- (1) any director or officer of the issuer;
- (2) any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the issuer’s outstanding voting equity securities, calculated on the basis of voting power;
- (3) if the issuer was incorporated or organized within the past three years, any promoter of the issuer; or
- (4) any immediate family member of any of the foregoing persons.

If yes, for each such transaction, disclose the following:

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Budding Technologies Inc.
Hollywood, South Carolina

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Budding Technologies Inc. (the "Company,"), which comprise the balance sheet as of December 31, 2021 and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the period from Inception (June 21, 2021) to December 31, 2021, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2021 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the period from Inception (June 21, 2021) to December 31, 2021 in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Company and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for period of twelve months from the end of the year ended December 31, 2021.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users made on the basis of these financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Going Concern

As discussed in Note 8, certain conditions indicate that the Company may be unable to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accounting and reporting policies of the Company conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“US GAAP”). The Company has adopted the calendar year as its basis of reporting.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the reported amount of expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could materially differ from these estimates. It is reasonably possible that changes in estimates will occur in the near term.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants as of the measurement date. Applicable accounting guidance provides an established hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available. Observable inputs are inputs that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability and are developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Company. Unobservable inputs are inputs that reflect the Company’s assumptions about the factors that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability. There are three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 - Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 - Include other inputs that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

The fair value hierarchy also requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value.

BUDDING TECHNOLOGIES INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR YEAR ENDED TO DECEMBER 31, 2021

Fair value estimates discussed herein are based upon certain market assumptions and pertinent information available to management as of December 31, 2021. These financial instruments include cash, accounts payable, and accrued liabilities. Fair values for these items were assumed to approximate carrying values because of their short term in nature or they are payable on demand.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

From time-to-time cash balances, held at a major financial institution may exceed federally insured limits of $250,000. Management believes that the financial institution is financially sound, and the risk of loss is low.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include all cash in banks. The Company's cash is deposited in demand accounts at financial institutions that management believes are creditworthy. The Company's cash and cash equivalents in bank deposit accounts, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. As of December 31, 2021, the Company's cash and cash equivalents did not exceed FDIC insured limits.

Accounts Receivable and Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Accounts receivable are recorded at net realizable value or the amount that the Company expects to collect on gross customer trade receivables. We estimate losses on receivables based on known troubled accounts and historical experience of losses incurred. Receivables are considered impaired and written-off when it is probable that all contractual payments due will not be collected in accordance with the terms of the agreement. As of December 31, 2021, the Company had no accounts receivable.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

Long-lived assets, such as property and equipment and identifiable intangibles with finite useful lives, are periodically evaluated for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. We look for indicators of a trigger event for asset impairment and pay special attention to any adverse change in the extent or manner in which the asset is being used or in its physical condition. Assets are grouped and evaluated for impairment at the lowest level of which there are identifiable cash flows, which is generally at a location level. Assets are reviewed using factors including, but not limited to, our future operating plans and projected cash flows. The determination of whether impairment has occurred is based on an estimate of undiscounted future cash flows directly related to the assets, compared to the carrying value of the assets. If the sum of the undiscounted future cash flows of the assets does not exceed the carrying value of the assets, full or partial impairment may exist. If the asset carrying amount exceeds its fair value, an impairment charge is recognized in the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the fair value of the asset. Fair value is determined using an income approach, which requires discounting the estimated future cash flows associated with the asset.

Revenue Recognition

The Company is currently pre-revenue and will follow the provisions and the disclosure requirements described in ASU 2014-09 also referred to as Topic 606. Revenue recognition, according to Topic 606, is determined using the following steps:

1. Identification of the contract, or contracts, with the customer: the Company determines the existence of a contract with a customer when the contract is mutually approved; the rights of each party in relation to the services to be transferred can be identified, the payment terms for the services can be identified, the customer has the capacity and intention to pay, and the contract has commercial substance.

2. Identification of performance obligations in the contract: performance obligations consist of a promised in a contract (written or oral) with a customer to transfer to the customer either a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same and that have the same pattern of transfer to the customer.
3. Recognition of revenue when, or how, a performance obligation is met: revenues are recognized when or as control of the promised goods or services is transferred to customers.

The Company will earn revenues from offering a cannabis platform, that allows consumers to efficiently find their preferred cannabis strain or product in a familiar and gamified manner through a modern and user-friendly interface.

Advertising and Promotion

Advertising and promotional costs are expensed as incurred.

Organizational Costs

In accordance with FASB ASC 720, organizational costs, including accounting fees, legal fee, and costs of incorporation, are expensed as incurred.

Research and Development Costs

Costs incurred in the research and development of the Company's products are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

The Company is a C corporation for income tax purposes. The Company accounts for income taxes under the liability method, and deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying values of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. A valuation allowance is provided on deferred tax assets if it is determined that it is more likely than not that the deferred tax asset will not be realized. The Company records interest, net of any applicable related income tax benefit, on potential income tax contingencies as a component of income tax expense. The Company records tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return based upon the amount that is more likely than not to be realized or paid, including in connection with the resolution of any related appeals or other legal processes. Accordingly, the Company recognizes liabilities for certain unrecognized tax benefits based on the amounts that are more likely than not to be settled with the relevant taxing authority. The Company recognizes interest and/or penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits as a component of income tax expense.

The Company is subject to tax filing requirements as a corporation in the federal jurisdiction of the United States. The Company sustained net operating losses during fiscal year 2021. Net operating losses will be carried forward to reduce taxable income in future years. Due to management's uncertainty as to the timing and valuation of any benefits associated with the net operating loss carryforwards, the Company has elected to recognize an allowance to account for them in the financial statements but has fully reserved it. Under current law, net operating losses may be carried forward indefinitely.

BUDDING TECHNOLOGIES INC.
FOR YEAR ENDED TO DECEMBER 31, 2021

The Company is subject to franchise and income tax filing requirements in the States of Delaware and New York. The Company has not yet filed its 2021 tax returns.

Subsequent Events

The Company considers events or transactions that occur after the balance sheets date, but prior to the issuance of the financial statements to provide additional evidence relative to certain estimates or to identify matters that require additional disclosure. Subsequent events have been evaluated through June 6, 2022, which is the date the financial statements were issued.

Recently Issued and Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2019, FASB issued ASU No. 2019-02, leases, that requires organizations that lease assets, referred to as "lessees", to recognize on the balance sheet the assets and liabilities for the rights and obligations created by those leases with lease terms of more than twelve months. ASU 2019-02 will also require disclosures to help investors and other financial statement users better understand the amount, timing, and uncertainty of cash flows arising from leases and will include qualitative and quantitative requirements. The new standard for nonpublic entities will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, and early application is permitted. We are currently evaluating the effect that the updated standard will have on the financial statements and related disclosures.

In June 2019, FASB amended ASU No. 2019-07, Compensation – Stock Compensation, to expand the scope of Topic 718, Compensation – Stock Compensation, to include share-based payment transactions for acquiring goods and services from nonemployees. The new standard for nonpublic entities will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020, and early application is permitted. The standard implementation did not have a material impact.

In August 2019, amendments to existing accounting guidance were issued through Accounting Standards Update 2019-15 to clarify the accounting for implementation costs for cloud computing arrangements. The amendments specify that existing guidance for capitalizing implementation costs incurred to develop or obtain internal-use software also applies to implementation costs incurred in a hosting arrangement that is a service contract. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, and early application is permitted. The standard implementation did not have a material impact.

The FASB issues ASUs to amend the authoritative literature in ASC. There have been a number of ASUs to date, including those above, that amend the original text of ASC. Management believes that those issued to date either (i) provide supplemental guidance, (ii) are technical corrections, (iii) are not applicable to us or (iv) are not expected to have a significant impact on our financial statements.

In August 2020, FASB issued ASU 2020-06, Accounting for Convertible Instruments and Contracts in an Entity; Own Equity ("ASU 2020-06"), as part of its overall simplification initiative to reduce costs and complexity of applying accounting standards while maintaining or improving the usefulness of the information provided to users of financial statements. Among other changes, the new guidance removes from GAAP separation models for convertible debt that require the convertible debt to be separated into a debt and equity component, unless the conversion feature is required to be bifurcated and accounted for as a derivative or the debt is issued at a substantial premium. As a result, after adopting the guidance, entities will no longer separately present such embedded conversion features in equity, and will instead account for the convertible debt wholly as debt. The new guidance also requires use of the "if-converted" method when calculating the dilutive impact of convertible debt on earnings per share, which is consistent with the Company's current accounting treatment under the current guidance. The guidance is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, and interim periods within those fiscal years, with early adoption permitted, but only at the beginning of the fiscal year. The Company is currently evaluating the impact the adoption of ASU 2020-06 will have on the Company's financial statements.

The FASB issues ASUs to amend the authoritative literature in ASC. There have been a number of ASUs to date, including those above, that amend the original text of ASC. Management believes that those issued to date either (i) provide supplemental guidance, (ii) are technical corrections, (iii) are not applicable to us or (iv) are not expected to have a significant impact our financial statements.

3. DETAILS OF CERTAIN ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

Accounts payable comprise primarily of trade payables.

4. CAPITALIZATION AND EQUITY TRANSACTIONS

Common Stock

The Company is authorized to issue 100,000,000 shares of Common Shares class with a par value of $0.0001. As of December 31, 2021, 5,469,300 shares have been issued and are outstanding.

Preferred Stock

The Company is authorized to issue 50,000,000 shares of Preferred Shares class with a par value of $0.0001. As of December 31, 2021, zero shares have been issued and are outstanding.

5. INCOME TAXES

The provision for income taxes for the year ended December 31, 2021, consists of the following:

As of Year Ended December 31,	2021
Net Operating Loss	$ (3,411)
Valuation Allowance	3,411
Net Provision for income tax	$ -

Significant components of the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities at December 31, 2021:

As of Year Ended December 31,	2021
Net Operating Loss	$ (3,411)
Valuation Allowance	3,411
Total Deferred Tax Asset	$ -

Management assesses the available positive and negative evidence to estimate if sufficient future taxable income will be generated to use the existing deferred tax assets. On the basis of this evaluation, the Company has determined that it is more likely than not that the Company will not recognize the benefits of the federal and state net deferred tax assets, and, as a result, full valuation allowance has been set against its net deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2021. The amount of the deferred tax asset to be realized could be adjusted if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward period are reduced or increased.

BUDDING TECHNOLOGIES INC.
FOR YEAR ENDED TO DECEMBER 31, 2021

For the fiscal year ending December 31, 2021, the Company had federal cumulative net operating loss (“NOL”) carryforwards of $16,244. Utilization of some of the federal and state NOL carryforwards to reduce future income taxes will depend on the Company’s ability to generate sufficient taxable income prior to the expiration of the carryforwards. The federal net operating loss carryforward is subject to an 80% limitation on taxable income, does not expire, and will carry on indefinitely.

The Company recognizes the impact of a tax position in the financial statements if that position is more likely than not to be sustained on a tax return upon examination by the relevant taxing authority, based on the technical merits of the position. As of December 31, 2021, the Company had no unrecognized tax benefits.

The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. As of December 31, 2021, the Company had no accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions.

6. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Contingencies

The Company’s operations are subject to a variety of local and state regulation. Failure to comply with one or more of those regulations could result in fines, restrictions on its operations, or losses of permits that could result in the Company ceasing operations. Management of the Company believes that the Company is in compliance with applicable local and state regulation as of December 31, 2021.

Litigation and Claims

From time to time, the Company may be involved in litigation relating to claims arising out of operations in the normal course of business. As of December 31, 2021, there were no pending or threatened lawsuits that could reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the results of the Company’s operations.

7. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Related party transactions refer to advances received from the CEO in the amount of $100.

8. GOING CONCERN

These financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis. The Company registered on June 21, 2021 and only recently commenced operations. The Company will incur significant additional costs before significant revenue is achieved. These matters raise substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. During the next twelve months, the Company intends to fund its operations with funding from our proposed Regulation Crowdfunding campaign, and additional debt and/or equity financing as determined to be necessary. There are no assurances that management will be able to raise capital on terms acceptable to the Company. If the Company is unable to obtain sufficient amounts of additional capital, it may be required to reduce the scope of its planned development, which could harm its business, financial condition and operating results. The balance sheet and related financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from these uncertainties.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through June 6, 2022, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

There have been no events or transactions during this time which would have a material effect on these financial statements.

Upon Grantor's execution of this Agreement, any and all prior proxies (other than the proxy granted in this Section 9) given by Grantor with respect to the Proxy Shares are hereby revoked and Grantor agrees not to grant any subsequent proxies with respect to the Proxy Shares or enter into any agreement or understanding with any person to vote or give instructions with respect to such subject matter in any manner inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement as long as the Proxy Shares are outstanding. The proxy granted under this Section 9 is irrevocable (to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law), is coupled with an interest sufficient in law to support an irrevocable proxy, is granted pursuant to this Agreement. The attorney and proxy named above is hereby authorized and empowered by Proxy, at any time, to act as Grantor's attorney and proxy to vote the Proxy Shares, and to exercise all voting and other rights of Grantor with respect to the Proxy Shares (including, without limitation, the power to execute and deliver written consents pursuant to the Nevada Revised Statutes and the right to consent to any actions constituting protective provisions or other veto rights in the Company's articles of incorporation or elsewhere), at every annual, special or adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Company and in every written consent in lieu of such meeting.
