Global Composite Piping Solutions, LLC ("GCPS") has developed and patented an innovative, large-diameter thermoplastic composite pipe technology which dramatically reduces weight and increases pressure capabilities that equal or exceed steel pipe. Our technology is uniquely positioned to displace other types of large-diameter pipe including steel, PCCP, traditional HDPE, and fiberglass pipe. Our manufacturing process allows us also to meet the specific needs of each customer through complete customization of both resin type and composite fibers to address the physical properties of the product in the pipeline.

GCPS has also developed and patented a mobile manufacturing process that allows large diameter pipelines to be manufactured at or near the project site or in remote areas where delivering prefabricated pipe is unfeasible or prohibitively expensive.

Our technology and processes have increased flow and corrosion performance using thermoplastics and composites that results in a significant reduction in the cost of materials and even greater savings in installation costs, time, ongoing maintenance, cathodic protection and freight with mobile manufacturing.
