June 8, 2011, Brad managed Shion directly

Shion has done a great job with 80legs since taking over as CEO almost two years ago. He has a nice combination of technical and business skills that help him excel in his role. He is a hacker at heart and has a constant thirst for knowledge that keeps him connected to the tech/startup world. Shion is even attempting to energize the tech scene in Houston!

Streaming TV at Amazon

May 30, 2011, Ani worked with Shion but they were at different companies

Working with Shion for the past few years has been very rewarding experience. At Cox Digital/Adify, we've successfully expanded our utilization of the 80legs service, due much in part to Shion's ability to understand our needs & concerns, and translate them into new product features or enhancements. His collaborative spirit and deep knowledge of the distributed computing space makes him my go-to person. ...see more
