OFFERING STATEMENT

Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either state that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions.

Be very careful and precise in answering all questions. Give full and complete answers so that they are not misleading under the circumstances involved. Do not discuss any future performance or other anticipated event unless you have a reasonable basis to believe that it will actually occur within the foreseeable future. If any answer requiring significant information is materially inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the Company, its management, and principal shareholders may be liable to investors based on that information.

BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

7. Describe in detail the business of the issuer and the anticipated business plan of the issuer.

General

Testament Pictures, LLC was formed as a Delaware limited liability company on April 29, 2022 to produce TESTAMENT (the “Series”), which is intended to be distributed through online video streaming services, television and home video.

TESTAMENT began as a series of five short films retelling some of Jesus’ most famous parables which eventually were weaved together into a larger storyline following the writer of the Gospel of Luke and the Book of Acts; Luke. This anthology feature film was titled TESTAMENT: The Parables Retold. The idea then developed into the multi-season show we are working towards now. The Series will offer us the opportunity to explore the Book of Acts and the Epistles in the New Testament with all the richness and detail that the texts offer up. The Series, like the movie, will reimagine the story in an alternate-modern day in a world where Jesus came, died, and was resurrected two thousand years later. This bold direction is to grab audiences where they're at and invite us all to relook at the Early Church and see our place within it today. We plan for the Series to have 8 episodes per season and are looking and between five and six seasons in total.

The series will be produced in the UK by ROARLIGHT LTD, the parent company of Testament Pictures LLC, of which Paul Syrstad (Director & Creator) is the Company Director. Through ROARLIGHT LTD, Paul Syrstad produced, directed, and co-wrote all of The Parables Retold series of short films as well as the original feature film TESTAMENT.

The previously produced feature film, TESTAMENT (on which the Series is based), is included in the offering. Investors will own part of the Series as well as the already-produced motion picture. The short films (The Parables Retold series consisting of The Sower, The Good Samaritan, The Hidden Treasure, The Rich Fool, and The Talents) within the movie are licensed to Testament Pictures LLC for use within the feature film on a non-exclusive basis and are not owned by Testament Pictures LLC.

The movie and series will be distributed through Angel Studios and made available on their streaming platform app. The app will encourage viewers to engage in Angel's "Pay It Forward" model, where people pay for the next viewer's stream. Angel will also navigate sales and licensing deals with other platforms and distributions who would be interested in distributing TESTAMENT as well.

In future, merchandise including books, clothing, study guides (etc.) based on the movie and series will be made available for sale. This too will be managed and distributed through Angel Studios.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

Risks Related to the Company and our Business

The Company's assumptions concerning future operations may not be realized.

The Company's goal is to produce a commercially profitable episodic television series using a production budget as set forth in the table below. The Company's projected results are dependent on the successful implementation of the Company's business plan and strategies and are based on hypothetical assumptions and events over which the Company has only partial or no control.

Furthermore, as a faith-based, niche television series, the potential market may be smaller than your average blockbuster.

While management believes that its goals and objectives are reasonable and achievable, no assurance can be given that they will be realized. The revenue we could generate will vary greatly based on factors that we cannot quantify, including things such as ultimate cost of production, methods of distribution later negotiated, audience interest, general economic outlook, etc.

Management will have broad discretion as to the use of the proceeds from the offering.

The Company's management will have broad discretion as to the use of the net proceeds from the Offering for the purpose of producing the Series. Investors will be relying on the judgment of the Company's management regarding the use of the proceeds for the purpose of producing the Series.

The production of the Series will require many other highly-skilled creative and production personnel, including cinematographers, editors, and costume designers, set designers, sound technicians, lighting technicians, and actors. Although the Company expects to find high quality candidates to fill these positions, there can be no assurance of their cooperation and participation through completion of the Series. Replacing key talent could delay production or reduce the quality of the Series, which would impair the Company's revenue. Also, many of these positions will require the Company to hire members of unions or guilds. As a result, the Company's ability to terminate unsatisfactory or non-performing works could be adversely affected by existing union or guild contracts and regulations. This could delay production of the Series and significantly increase costs.

The Company is a newly formed company and has a limited operating history upon which investors can evaluate the Company.

The Company was recently formed for the purpose of developing, producing and distributing the Series. Accordingly, the Company has a limited operating history on which prospective investors may evaluate the Company's business and prospects. The Company has only one revenue-generating product: the original film "TESTAMENT: The Parables Retold" and requires the net proceeds from the sale of Preferred Units to fund development and production of the Series. If and when production of the Series commences, no assurance can be given that the Series will receive market acceptance when produced.

The company is new and faces all of the risks of a start-up company.

The Company will encounter challenges and difficulties frequently experienced by early-stage companies, including the expenses, difficulties, complications and delays frequently encountered in connection with the formation and commencement of operations, the production and distribution of a movie, and the competitive environment in which the Company intends to operate. The Company may not successfully address any of these risks. If the Company does not successfully address these risks, the Company's business will be seriously harmed.

The Company's success depends on the successful production and distribution of a single episodic television series and the Company is unable to diversify its investment to reduce its risk of failure.

The Company will only produce the Series and create additional content and merchandise based upon the Series. No assurance can be given that the Company's management team will be able to successfully develop, produce and make arrangements for the distribution of the Series. Because the Company will have only one asset, the Series, the Company is more vulnerable to unanticipated occurrences than a more diversified business. The development, production, completion and distribution of the Series is subject to numerous uncertainties, including financing requirements, personnel availability and the release schedule of competing films. There may be additional problems which could adversely affect the Company's profitability, including (without limitation) public taste, which is unpredictable and susceptible to change; competition with other films and/or shows, motion pictures and other leisure activities; advertising costs; uncertainty with respect to release dates; and the failure of other parties to fulfill their contractual obligations and other contingencies. No assurance can be given that the Company will be able to successfully develop, produce, distribute, or realize any revenue from the Series. Failure to develop, produce, distribute or realize any such revenues will have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results and financial condition.

Additionally, the Company's lack of diversification may make it vulnerable to oversupplies in the market. Most of the major U.S. production studios are part of large diversified corporate groups with a variety of other operations, including television networks and cable channels, which can provide means of distributing their products. The number of productions released by the Company's competitors, particularly the major U.S. production studios, in any given period may create an oversupply of product in the market and may make it difficult for the Company to succeed.

Because the television industry business is highly speculative, the Company may never achieve profitability.

The television industry is highly speculative and involves a substantial degree of risk. No assurance can be given of the economic success of any television series since the revenues derived from the production and distribution of such product primarily depend on its acceptance by the public, which cannot be predicted. The commercial success of a television series also depends on the quality and acceptance of competing products and shows released into the marketplace at or near the same time, the availability of alternative forms of entertainment and leisure time activities, general economic conditions and other tangible and intangible factors, all of which can change and cannot be predicted with certainty. We have no control over what other films or shows or content is released at the same time as our content and thus we cannot know, but it is always possible, that another company's content may be more desirable than our own and we are unsuccessful in competing in the marketing. No assurance can be given that the Series will appeal to the public or that other shows and films may not be more appealing and therefore reduce the demand to view the Series. Accordingly, there is a substantial risk that the Series will not be commercially successful, in which case the Company may be unable to recoup costs associated with the production of the Series or realize revenues or profits from the sale of the Series.

The Series may not succeed if it receives unfavorable reviews.

The financial success of a television series, in large measure, depends on the reaction of the public, which is often influenced by professional reviewers or critics for newspapers, television and other media. It is impossible to judge in advance what the reaction of these reviewers and critics will be to the Series. To the extent that the Series receives unfavorable reviews from these reviewers and critics, its chances of success may be substantially diminished.

Technological advances may reduce demand for films and televisions.

The entertainment industry in general, and the motion picture and television industry in particular, are continuing to undergo significant changes, primarily due to technological developments. Because of this rapid growth of technology, shifting consumer tastes and the popularity and availability of other forms of entertainment, it is impossible to predict the overall effect these factors will have on the potential revenue from and profitability of an episodic television series.

The Company's actual operating results may differ from its initial estimates.

The Company's operating results depend on production costs, public tastes and promotion success. The Company expects to generate its future revenues from the distribution and exploitation of the Series and the rights therein. The Company's future revenues will depend on getting the Series produced and into distribution, upon the timing and the level of market acceptance of the Series, as well as upon the ultimate cost to produce, distribute and promote it. The revenues derived from the distribution of the Series depend primarily on its acceptance by the public, which cannot be predicted and does not necessarily bear a direct correlation to the production costs incurred. The commercial success of the Series will also depend upon terms and conditions of its distribution, promotion and marketing and certain other factors. Accordingly, the Company's revenues are, and will continue to be, extremely difficult to forecast.

There is no guarantee revenues will remain consistent over time.

It is likely that revenues generated from the Series will not remain consistent over time. Even if the Company is successful in creating, distribution and marketing the Series, revenues generated upon initial release of any seasons will likely decrease over time as subsequent seasons of the Series are released. Further, once production, distribution and marketing of the Series is complete, revenues from the Series are likely to decrease over time.

The Series will be subject to the risks associated with the production and distribution of a television series.

Production costs are currently just an estimate and may significantly increase over time depending on many unknown outside influences, or those that may be known as related to the specific costs of currently expected expenditures for items still not under contract at a fixed price.

Force Majeure Events can materially impact our business.

There are certain events, including but not limited to, (i) acts of God, floods, droughts, earthquakes, or other natural disasters, (ii) epidemics or pandemics, (iii) terrorist attacks, civil war, civil commotion or riots, war, threat of or preparation for war, armed conflict, imposition of sanctions, embargoes, (iv) interruption or failure of utility services, and so on ("Force Majeure Events"), that can have an impact on our business operations, supply chains, travel, commodity prices, consumer confidence and business forecasts. For example, it could complicate our ability to produce and distribute our Series. Implementing health and safety measures during production of the Series could add significant costs to our estimated production budgets and delay the release of the same. There may be other effects stemming from Force Majeure Events that are deleterious to our Company which we have not yet considered.

General economic conditions can materially impact our business.

The financial success of the Company may be sensitive to adverse changes in general economic conditions in the United States, such as recession, inflation, unemployment, and interest rates, and overseas, such as currency fluctuations. Such changing conditions could reduce demand in the marketplace for the Series.

Additionally, adverse changes in global and domestic economic conditions or a worsening of the United States economic could materially adversely affect us. The commercial success of a television series depends significantly on consumer confidence and discretionary spending, which are still under pressure from the United States and global economic conditions. A worsening of the economic downturn and decrease in consumer spending, especially discretionary spending for nonessential products and services, may adversely impact the Series or our ability to implement our business strategy.

The Company intends to distribute the Series on Angel Studios, Inc.

The Company has a license agreement to distribute the Series through Angel Studios' streaming platform. Distribution channels and methods can also fall out of grace with users/viewers and we may not be able to adapt quickly enough to keep momentum for the adoption of viewers of our content.

The Company will have to rely on the services of professionals and other key personnel who may be difficult to replace and the loss of any such persons could adversely affect the Company's business.

If the Company is not able to retain the services of key personnel retained by management, there will be a material adverse effect on the Company. If any one of these individuals becomes incapacitated or otherwise becomes unavailable, a qualified successor would have to be engaged. The Company may elect to offer membership units in the Company to key production personnel (such as producers, writers, actors, stunt coordinators and unit production managers) as a means of obtaining the best possible crew at the lowest up-front cost. The Series' production and completion may be adversely affected if new personnel must be engaged, or if such personnel demand more favorable compensation. No assurance can be given that a qualified successor could be engaged. These professionals and key personnel also may be involved in other projects that may take them away from the production of the Series and cause delays, all of which may increase the cost of production of the Series and decrease the likelihood of being able to complete the Series, which would have an adverse effect on the Company's business and prospects.

Most of our competitors, which include large and small studios and production companies, have significantly greater financial and marketing resources, as well as experience, than do we.

We are a very small and unproven entity as compared to our competitors. We will compete with film studios, both large and small, production companies, independent producers and agencies. Most of the major U.S. studios are part of large diversified corporate groups with a variety of other operations, including television networks and cable channels, that can provide both the means of distributing their products and stable sources of earnings that may allow them better to offset fluctuations in the financial performance of their operations. The major studios have more resources with which to compete for ideas, storylines and scripts. This may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, established smaller studios, production companies and agencies have significantly greater financial and marketing resources than do we. Many have sophisticated websites and the ability to advertise in a wide variety of media. We will principally depend on the business contacts of our executive officers. There are no assurances that our approach will be successful.

We will be required to raise additional capital to fully fund our business plan and expand our operations.

Currently, we have one revenue generating product: the original film "TESTAMENT: The Parables Retold." The Company, however, will pay 40% of the net income generated from the original film and the “Parables Retold” short films to Roarlight Limited for the purpose of paying certain royalties owed to cast, crew, and other team members involved in the production and development of those assets, and the remaining net income will be allocated towards the funding of the Series. The purpose of this offering is to raise an additional $4,555,150 towards the production of Season 1 of the Series. Part of this budget will be allocated to ongoing script and story development, with the balance allocated towards production. If the Company raises less than the maximum offering amount, it will either be required to seek alternative financing, which may not be available or may not be available on terms available to the company or investors, or the Company will be required to reduce its production and marketing budget.

Additional capital may not be available at such times or in amounts as needed by us. Even if capital is available, it might be available only on unfavorable terms. Any additional equity or convertible debt financing into which we enter could be dilutive to our then existing members. Any future debt financing into which we enter may impose covenants upon us that restrict our operations, including limitations on our ability to incur liens or additional debt, pay dividends, repurchase our equity, make certain investments and engage in certain merger, consolidation or asset sale transactions. Any debt financing or additional equity that we raise may contain terms that are not favorable to us or our members. If we raise additional funds through collaboration and licensing arrangements with third parties, it may be necessary to relinquish some rights to our scripts and manuscripts, or grant licenses on terms that are not favorable to us. If access to sufficient capital is not available as and when needed, our business will be materially impaired and we may be required to cease operations, curtail the acquisition, recycling or marketing of scripts and manuscripts, or we may be required to significantly reduce expenses, sell assets, seek a merger or joint venture partner, file for protection from creditors or liquidate all our assets.

Substantial delays between the completion of this Offering and the production of the Series may cause the Company’s expenses to be increased and it may take the Company longer to generate revenues.

The Company cannot be certain when it will begin production of the Series. Any actor playing a leading role, and other members of our production team will need to complete, delay or abandon other potential obligations before production of the Series will begin. While the Company intends on beginning production of the Series as soon as practical after sufficient proceeds are raised, the Company has no way of predicting exactly when it will raise sufficient capital from the Offering to begin production of the Series. Therefore, the Company has no way to predict the availability of its principal cast and creative staff. In addition, other considerations such as the weather conditions of the location the Company chooses to utilize when production begins mean the timing of the commencement of the principal photography phase is difficult to predict.

Budget overruns may adversely affect the Company’s business.

Actual production costs may exceed their budget, sometimes significantly. Risks, such as labor disputes, death or disability of star performers, rapid high technology changes relating to special effects, or other aspects of production, such as shortages of necessary equipment, damage to film negatives, master tapes and recordings, or adverse weather conditions, may cause cost overruns and delay or frustrate completion of the Series. If any of the Series incurs substantial budget overruns, the Company may have to seek additional financing from outside sources to complete production. No assurance can be given as to the availability of such financing on terms acceptable to the company. In addition, if a production incurs substantial budget overruns, there can be no assurance that such costs will be recouped, which could have a significant adverse impact on the Company’s business, results of operations or financial results.

The Company’s success depends on protecting its intellectual property.

The Company's success will depend, in part, on its ability to protect its proprietary rights in the Series. The Company will rely primarily on a combination of copyright laws and other methods to protect its respective proprietary rights in the Series. However, there can be no assurance that such measures will protect the Company's proprietary information, or that its competitors will not develop screenplays for feature films otherwise similar to the Company's, or that the Company will be able to prevent competitors from developing a similar television series for production. The Company believes that its proprietary rights will not infringe on the proprietary rights of third parties. However, there can be no assurance that third parties will not assert infringement claims against the Company in the future with respect to the Series. Such assertion may require the Company to incur substantial legal fees and costs in order to protect its rights, or possibly enter into arrangements on terms unfavorable to it in order to settle such claims. To the extent that the Company fails to adequately protect its respective intellectual property rights in the Series, or if the financial burden of enforcing its rights becomes too cost-prohibitive, the Company may be unable to continue to implement its business strategy, which would have a material adverse-effect on the Company's business, prospects, financial condition, and results of operations.

Furthermore, the Series is intended to tell stories depicted in the Bible. Such stories have no copyright protection and other film or television series producers can tell and have previously told Bible stories on screen.

The Company could potentially be found to have not complied with securities law in connection with this Offering related to "Testing the Waters."

Prior to filing this Form C, the Company engaged in "testing the waters" permitted under Regulation Crowdfunding (17 CFR 227.206), which allows issuers to communicate with potential investors to determine whether there is interest in the offering. All communication sent is deemed to be an offer of securities for purposes of the antifraud provisions of federal securities laws. Any investor who expressed interest prior to the date of this Offering should read this Form C thoroughly and rely only on the information provided herein and not on any statement made prior to the Offering. The communications sent to investors prior to the Offering are attached hereto. Some of these communications may not have included proper disclaimers required for "testing the waters."

We may not generate sufficient cash flow to make distributions to you.

There is no assurance that we will ever have income sufficient to cover our expenses and have sufficient cash flow to make distributions to you. Even if we make distributions, there can be no assurance concerning the timing or amounts of the distributions. You may be required to bear the economic risk of the investment for an indefinite period of time. Ultimately, each investor's risk with respect to this offering includes the potential for a complete loss of their investment.

Certain assets related to the current "Testament" film are only licensed to the Company and the Company will not receive any revenue from such assets.

Roarlight Limited contributed all of its right, title and interest in the film known as "Testament" to the Company in exchange for its equity interest in the Company. However, certain short films related to the film, namely the "Parables Retold" short films, were not contributed, but licensed, to the Company through a perpetual, irrevocable, fully-transferable and sub-licensable license. Roarlight Limited will continue to retain any and all revenues with respect to "The Parables Retold" short films.

Risks Related to the Securities and the Offering

Investors will own non-voting Preferred Units and will have no ability to control or influence the business decisions of the Company.

Investors in the offering will obtain non-voting Preferred Units. As a result, current management will continue to have control of the business decisions and operations of the Company. It is possible that management will not make successful management decisions in all cases.

Voting control is in the hands of a single entity, Roarlight Limited. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to owners or investors under Delaware law, Roarlight Limited may be able to exercise significant influence on matters requiring owner approval, including the election of managers, approval of significant company transactions, and will have unfettered control over the Company's management and policies. You may have interests and views that are different from our management. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change of control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, Roarlight Limited could use its voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

Investors may experience dilution in the future if the Company raises additional units.

If the Series is successful, the Company may, in the sole discretion of the Manager, authorize and issue additional membership units to raise additional capital to fund subsequent seasons of the Series. Any such issuance would dilute the ownership percentage of investors in our Company, including investors in this Offering. The Manager also has a right to issue new classes of membership interests that may affect the rights of investors in this round.

The offering price of the Units may be arbitrarily determined.

Since no public market exists for the Preferred Units, the offering price for the Preferred Units was not determined on an arm's length basis and does not necessarily represent the fair market value of the Preferred Units. In determining the terms of the Offering, the Company gave consideration to the risks associated with its business plan, its assumptions regarding its future financial performance and other considerations it deemed relevant. However, the offering price of the Preferred Units may not bear any direct relationship to the foregoing considerations or any other generally accepted criteria of value and many of such criteria cannot be used in evaluating the offering price because the Company has no operating or financial history.

Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially start-ups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment.

There is no public market for the Preferred Units and such are subject to certain restrictions on transfer.

Investors should regard the Preferred Units as an illiquid investment. No public market for the Preferred Units exists or is likely to develop in the near future. Any resale of the Preferred Units may require the transferor to register the transferred Preferred Units under applicable state securities laws, or find an exemption therefrom.

The Preferred Units may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the 1-year period beginning when the securities were issued unless such securities are transferred:

- (1) to the issuer;
- (2) to an accredited investor;

- (3) as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
- (4) to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

There is no guarantee of return on investment.

There is no assurance that a purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each investor should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

This offering involves “rolling closings,” which may mean that earlier investors may not have the benefit of information that later investors have.

We may conduct closings on funds tendered in the offering at any time. At that point, investors whose subscription agreements have been accepted will become Members of our Company. We may file amendments to our Form C reflecting material changes and investors whose subscriptions have not yet been accepted will have the benefit of that additional information. These investors may withdraw their subscriptions and get their money back. Investors whose subscriptions have already been accepted, however, will already be a member of the Company and will have no such right.

THE OFFERING

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The purpose of this offering is to raise funds to produce Season 1 of the Series, which we intend will include 8 episodes. It is estimated that if we raise the minimum offering amount, we hope to complete hire a few Key Heads of Departments for the Series. If we raise the maximum offering amount, we hope to develop, produce, and finalize approximately 8 episodes (the entirety of Season 1) for the Series.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering?

The above figures represent only estimated costs. This expected use of proceeds from this Offering represents our intentions based upon our current plans and business conditions. The amounts and timing of our actual expenditures may vary significantly depending on numerous factors. As a result, our management will have broad discretion over the allocation of the net proceeds from this Offering. We may find it necessary or advisable to use the net proceeds from this Offering for other purposes, and we will have broad discretion in the application of net proceeds from this Offering. In other words, we reserve the right to change the above use of proceeds if management believes it is in the best interests of the Company.

11. (a) Did the issuer make use of any written communication or broadcast script for testing the waters either (i) under the authorization of Rule 241 within 30 days of the initial filing of the offering statement, or (ii) under the authorization of Rule 206? If so, provide copies of the materials used.

Yes, please see the attached transcripts and testing-the-waters communications.

(b) How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

If the offering reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline, we may elect to do an initial closing of the offering and then continue to raise funds up to the maximum amount up to the deadline or until the maximum is raised. Upon closing, a notice will be sent to each investor confirming the amount of securities purchased. The Preferred Units will not be certificated. Investors may access their investments in their applicable VAS Portal, LLC (Angel Funding) user account.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met.

If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five (5) business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment).

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be canceled, and the committed funds will be returned.

You may cancel your investment with the above restrictions directly in your VAS Portal, LLC (Angel Funding) account by clicking on the cancel commitment button under the investment in your My Investments page.

OWNERSHIP AND CAPITAL STRUCTURE

The Offering

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered:

The securities being sold are Preferred Units (the "Preferred Units") of Testament Pictures, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company. The Company is offering up to 4,555,150 of its Preferred Units in this Offering at a price of $1.00 per Preferred Unit. The Preferred Units will have a "preferred return" of 120% of the investor's full investment before the holders of Common Units receive any profit payment.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights? Yes No

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above? Yes No

Explain: Pursuant to the Operating Agreement, the investors holding Preferred Units have limitations on their ability to transfer their interest and will not be able to vote on the decisions of the Company. Additionally, upon certain "Trigger Events" (as defined in the Operating Agreement), the Company will have the ongoing option to purchase all or any of the Preferred Units held by an investor. The following description summarizes certain important terms of the Preferred Units of the Company and does not provide every detail that may be of interest to investors in this Offering. A description of the rights of the Members holding Preferred Units may be found in the Operating Agreement.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

The Manager has been given the right to raise funds through equity crowdfunding. Any adjustments to this or any other Offering may be made by the Manager.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Being Offered

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one-year period beginning when the securities were issued unless such securities are transferred:

- (1) to the issuer;
- (2) to an accredited investor;
- (3) as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or

(4) to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term “accredited investor” means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term “member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent” includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term “spousal equivalent” means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer’s Securities

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Securities (or Amount) Authorized	Securities (or Amount) Outstanding	Voting Rights	Other Rights
Common Units	Unlimited	15,829,150	Yes
Preferred Units	Unlimited	467,097	No	Preferred return before Common Unit distributions

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The securities could be diluted by future offerings. The holders of Preferred Units do not have voting rights.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer? Yes No

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

Because the investors in this Offering do not control the day-to-day operations of the Company, the Manager of the Company may make decisions that the investors do not approve of or that harm the interests of the investors.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The price of the Preferred Units being offered in this Offering was determined solely by the Manager and bears no relation to traditional measures of valuation. We expect that any future valuation will take the same approach, subject to the terms and conditions of the Operating Agreement.

There are several ways to value a company, and none of them is perfect and all of them involve a certain amount of guesswork. The same method can produce a different valuation if used by a different person.

Liquidation Value – the amount for which the assets of the company can be sold, minus the liabilities owed. The value for most startups lies in their potential, as many early stage companies do not have many assets.

Book Value – this is based on an analysis of the company’s financial statements, usually looking at the company’s balance sheet as prepared by its accountants. However, the balance sheet only looks at costs (i.e, what was paid for the asset), and does not consider whether the asset has increased in value over time. In addition, some intangible assets, such as patents, trademarks or tradenames, are very valuable but are not usually represented at their market value on the balance sheet.

Earnings Approach – this is based on what the investor will pay (the present value) for what the investor expects to obtain in the future (the future return), taking into account inflation, the lost opportunity to participate in other investments, the risk of not receiving the return, and so on. However, predictions of the future are not certain and valuation of future returns is a best guess.

Different methods of valuation produce a different answer as to what your investment is worth. Future investors (including people seeking to acquire the Company) may value the Company differently. They may use a different valuation method, or different assumptions about the Company’s business and its market. Different valuations may mean that the value assigned to your investment changes. It frequently happens that when a large institutional investor such as a venture capitalist or private equity firm makes an investment in a company, it values the company at a lower price than the initial investors did. If this happens, the value of the investment will go down.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

As a minority interest holder, the investors in this offering cannot control any day-to-day decisions of the Company that might affect the value of their interest. As an investor in the Preferred Units, you will not have any rights in regard to the actions of the Company, including additional issuances of securities, company repurchases of securities, a sale of the Company or its significant assets, or company transactions with related parties. Investors in this Offering will hold minority, non-voting interests.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporation actions including:

- Additional issuances of securities;

If additional issuances are made, the investors in this Offering may become diluted.

- Issuer repurchases of securities;

The Company may repurchase the securities if the investor is attempting to transfer them, or upon a “Trigger Event” as described in Article 9 of the Operating Agreement.

- A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer; or Because holders of Preferred Units do not have the right to vote, the Common Unit holders may vote to sell without the investor's approval. The investors in this Offering have the right to receive a preferred return before the Common Unit holders receive any return.

- Transactions with related parties?

As an investor in the Preferred Units, you will not have any rights in regard to the actions of the Company, including company transactions with related parties.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

On June 1, 2022, the Company entered into a Campaign Booster Loan and Security Agreement with Angel Studios, Inc., pursuant to which Angel Studios will lend an amount up to $1,000,000 to the Company to fund the digital ad-buying for the offering, which is included in the budget estimates above. The principal amount outstanding under the loan will accrue interest at the rate of 12% per annum. The maturity date of the loan is the earlier of (a) the date that is 5 days after the Company receives funds from this Offering, and (b) the date that is 6 months after the date of the Campaign Loan Booster Loan and Security Agreement.

25. What other exempt offerings has the issuer conducted within the past three years?

On 23 November 2022, the Company completed a Regulation Crowdfunding offering in which it raised $444,850 toward the production of Season 1 of the Series.

26. Was or is the issuer of any entities controlled by or under common control with the issuer party to any transaction since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12-month period, including the amount the issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

- (1) any director or officer of the issuer;
- (2) any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the issuer's outstanding voting securities, calculated on the basis of voting power;
- (3) if the issuer was incorporated or organized within the past three years, any promoter of the issuer; or
- (4) any immediate family member of any of the foregoing persons.

No to all of this.

If yes, for each such transaction, disclose the following:

On April 29, 2022, Roarlight Limited contributed the "Testaments" film, as well as all intellectual property related to the "Testaments" film, to the Company (except for the "Parables Retold" short films). In exchange, Roarlight Limited received 15,750,000 Common Units in the Company.

Paul Syrstad, as the creator of the "Testaments" film and the proposed Series, is the sole owner of Roarlight Limited. Roarlight Limited is based in London, UK and is under contract with the Company with respect to the development and production of the Series.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

27. Does the issuer have an operating history? Yes No

28. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

The Company has a limited operating history. The Company has expended capital in the formation of the entity, but there are no current operations that would affect the liquidity of the Company, and no capital resources are yet needed until this offering closes, but then the Company would have the capital to produce some portion of the Series. Currently The Company has $51,279.42 cash in hand and are currently distributing the original film through Angel Studios. Payouts to The Company are made quarterly and are yet to receive the first payout. There are a few upcoming expenses as the series continues the writing and development phase.

The Company has entered into a Campaign Booster Loan and Security Agreement with Angel Studios, Inc., pursuant to which Angel Studios will lend an amount up to $1,000,000 to the Company to fund the digital ad-buying for the offering, which is included in the budget estimates above.

Please see the attached Reviewed Financial Statements for the Company for the financials of the Company and the notes on those statements.

ONGOING REPORTING

32. The issuer will file a report electronically with the Securities & Exchange Commission annually and post the report on its website, no later than:

120 days after the end of each fiscal year covered by the report.

33. Once posted, the annual report may be found on the issuer's website at:

www.testamentseries.tv, then navigate to the offering tab

The issuer must continue to comply with the ongoing reporting requirements until:

- (1) the issuer is required to file reports under Section 13(a) or Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act;
- (2) The issuer has filed, since its most recent sale of securities pursuant to this part, at least one annual report pursuant to this section and has fewer than 300 holders of record;
- (3) The issuer has filed, since its most recent sale of securities pursuant to this part, the annual reports required pursuant to this section for at least the three most recent years and has total assets that do not exceed $10,000,000;
- (4) the issuer or another party repurchases all of the securities issued in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act, including any payment in full of debt securities or any complete redemption of redeemable securities; or
- (5) the issuer liquidates or dissolves its business in accordance with state law.
