Summary

As a technology enthusiast with extraordinary tangible results in manufacturing, distribution, media, entertainment, technology companies, and entrepreneurial growth ventures, my career leading top-performing teams continues in my newest venture in impact investing, as COO and CFO of CoPeace.

In my role as COO and CFO, I oversee finance, strategy, operations, business development, and IT. The goal is to ensure we are focusing on and executing on our very important mission — to democratize investing and support businesses dedicated to making positive environmental and social impact — proving that business can be a force for good.

Accomplishments I am particularly proud of that help to drive success include:

→ C-level leadership team of an Emmy Award-winning transformational company that brought game-changing innovations to live sports broadcasts, including “The 1st & Ten” (Yellow Line) to football; ESPN’s K-Zone to baseball; RACEf/x to motorsport; and TourCast to the PGA Tour. These content rich deployments of advanced technologies are still in use today.

→ Conceptualized and implemented systems and operating efficiencies that resulted in record-setting financial performance as COO of a manufacturer and distributor of food ingredients serving a global clientele.

→ Co-founded an advanced digital media services company, built from scratch and then sold after 12 years. Offerings included a vast scope of services for clients including HBO, Showtime, A&E Networks, BET, United Nations Holocaust Outreach Programme, United States Holocaust Museum, 911 Memorial and Museum, Entertainment One, independent academy award-winning filmmakers.

→ As a lifelong learner, advocate for continuing education, and a dedicated athlete, I received an MBA from Wharton and a BA from Washington University in St. Louis, where I was a three-year letterman on the men's tennis team.

At CoPeace, we are committed to creating a business that values both purpose and profits, which are not mutually exclusive. As COO, I use skills in ERP systems implementation and optimization, planning & management, media, business development, corporate innovation, and financial leadership in providing strategic oversight and day-to-day execution of the business.
