OPTIONAL QUESTION & ANSWER FORMAT FOR AN OFFERING STATEMENT

Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either State that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions. The term “issuer” in these questions and answers includes any “co-issuer” jointly offering or selling securities with the issuer in reliance on the exemption in Securities Act Section 4(a)(6) and in accordance with Securities Act Section 4A and Regulation Crowdfunding (§ 227.100 et seq.). Any information provided with respect to the issuer should also be separately provided with respect to any co-issuer.

Be very careful and precise in answering all questions. Give full and complete answers so that they are not misleading under the circumstances involved. Do not discuss any future performance or other anticipated event unless you have a reasonable basis to believe that it will actually occur within the foreseeable future. If any answer requiring significant information is materially inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the Company, its management and principal shareholders may be liable to investors based on that information.

BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

7. Describe in detail the business of the issuer and the anticipated business plan of the issuer.

Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. is the spiritual sister channel of Dry Bar Comedy, LLC. It is licensed to use the “Dry Bar” name and shares the same film studio and distributor Angel Studios.

For Phase 1, Dry Unscripted, Inc. will follow the same business plan as Dry Bar Comedy, LLC which is to produce and monetize comedy

Using the capital raised from a Reg CF campaign, we will produce dozens of improv comedy specials from improv comedy duos, trios, and teams from all around the world.

We will release these specials for free on all social media platforms with monetization (Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, etc.).

As we monetize our content and build an audience, we will identify our highest impact creators (the improv comedians with the highest views) and will create additional comedy content with them, growing their brand in tandem with Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc.

As we continue to grow our library of comedy specials, we will license out the content to various streaming services and networks.

This business plan proved to be very successful for Dry Bar Comedy and their library of stand up comedy specials. We believe we will find similar success doing the same for improv comedy specials.

As we grow through our Phase 1 plan, we will rolling out our phase 2 and 3 plans which include creating additional comedy content (sketch comedy, film, TV, original content) and building software that will connect comedians to their audiences and directly selling tickets to them for live events, cameos, and other entertainment services.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommend- ed or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky

An investment in the Company involves a number of risks. Accordingly, an investment in the Company is suitable only for investors of substantial means who have no immediate need for liquidity of the amount invested and who can afford a risk of loss of all or a substantial part of such investment. Although the Officers and Board Members believe that responsible returns can be achieved by investing in the Company, there can be no assurance that such returns will be realized or that an investor will receive a return of any of its capital contributions. In addition, potential investors should be aware that there will be occasions when the Officers and Board Members may encounter potential conflicts of interest in connection with the Company. Accordingly, the following considerations should be carefully evaluated before making an investment in the Company.

No Assurance of Adequate Capitalization

Even if we generate the minimum amount of capital ($250,000) there is no guarantee that will be sufficient to build a business to a profitable level.

No Guarantee of Investment Returns

No guarantee or representation is made that the Company's business operations will be successful, or that its business objectives will be achieved. The Company may not achieve the profitability it desires, and therefore may be unable to distribute any return to its Members. A purchaser should therefore only invest in the Company if the purchaser can withstand a total loss of its investment. Past investment performance is not a guarantee of future results of the Company or any investment of the Company.

General Risks Associated with Business Ventures

Any return on investment to the Members will depend upon the success of the business ventures entered into on behalf of the Company by the Officers. There generally will be little or no publicly available information regarding the status and prospects of such business ventures. Many decisions by the Officers regarding the business ventures of the Company will be dependent upon the ability of its Members and agents to obtain relevant information from non-public sources. The success of each such business venture will depend upon many factors beyond the Company's control.

No Resale Market or Disposition of Shares

While securities, such as the Shares, that are sold under Regulation CF are not "restricted" securities, various resale issues are inherent with such securities and presently there is no market for the resale of the Shares, nor do the Officers anticipate undertaking any of the necessary steps required to enable resale of the Shares, therefore, no such resale market is expected to develop. Although an Investor has the right to assign his/her interest in the profits of the Company with the consent of the Officers, no assignee of an Investor has the right to become a substituted Investor in place of his/her assignor, unless the Officers consent thereto in writing, which they are not obligated to do. For the foregoing reasons it is unlikely that the Investors will ever be able to sell the Shares they purchase.

No Withdrawal from Company

Withdrawals of Members from the Company generally will not be permitted, although the Operating Agreement may specify certain circumstances under which a Member may be entitled, or required, to withdraw from the Company. A withdrawn Member may not be entitled to immediate payment for its Interest. Any withdrawal of a Member may reduce the amount of Company capital available for investment or other activities.

Potential Conflict of Interest

One of the owners of Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. is Harmon Brothers, LLC. None of the Members of Harmon Brothers, LLC own enough equity in Harmon Brothers, LLC, nor does Harmon Brothers, LLC own enough equity in Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. to cause any Member of Harmon Brothers, LLC to be a beneficial owner of more than 20% of the voting equity of Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc., so none of them are disclosed in the ownership chart of this Form C.

However, some of the owners of Harmon Brothers, LLC (Neal, Jeffrey, and Daniel Harmon) are also owners of VAS Portal, LLC. We believe that because none of them are involved with the day-to-day operations of either Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. or VAS Portal, LLC, that there is no conflict of interest, but we believe that it is still relevant information to make you, the investor, aware of .

The Company's assumptions concerning future operations may not be realized.

The Company's goal is to produce a commercially profitable comedy channel. The Company's projected results are dependent on the successful implementation of the Company's business plan and strategies and are based on hypothetical assumptions and events over which the Company has only partial or no control.

Furthermore, as a comedy channel comprised of improv comedy content, the potential market may be smaller than more traditional comedy channels. The Company desires to obtain a wide acceptance and popularity, but we cannot guarantee this for Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc.

While management believes that its goals and objectives are reasonable and achievable, no assurance can be given that they will be realized. The revenue we could generate will vary greatly based on factors that we cannot quantify, including things such as ultimate cost of production, methods of distribution later negotiated, audience interest, general economic outlook, etc.

Management will have broad discretion as to the use of the proceeds from the Offering.

The Company's management will have broad discretion as to the use of the net proceeds from the Offering for the purpose of producing content with Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. Investors will be relying on the judgment of the Company's management regarding the use of the proceeds for the purpose of producing content with Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc.

Investors will own non-voting preferred shares and will have no ability to control or influence the business decisions of the Company.

Investors in the offering will obtain non-voting preferred shares. As a result, current management will continue to have control of the business decisions and operations of the Company. It is possible that management will not make successful management decisions in all cases.

The Company is a newly formed company and has no history upon which investors can evaluate the Company.

The Company was recently formed for the purpose of developing, producing, and distributing improv comedy specials through the Dry Bar Unscripted brand. Accordingly, the Company has no operating history on which prospective investors may evaluate the Company's business and prospects. The Company has no revenues and requires the net proceeds from the sale of Preferred Shares to fund development and production of improv comedy content with Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. If and when production of the Series commences, no assurance can be given that Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. will receive market acceptance when produced. The Company faces all of the risks inherent in a new business, including the expenses, difficulties, complications and delays frequently encountered in connection with the formation and commencement of operations, the production and distribution of a movie, and the competitive environment in which the Company intends to operate. The Company may not successfully address any of these risks. If the Company does not successfully address these risks, the Company's business will be seriously harmed.

Because the film and comedy business is highly speculative, the Company may never achieve profitability.

The film industry is highly speculative and involves a substantial degree of risk. No assurance can be given of the economic success of any piece of content since the revenues derived from the production and distribution of said content primarily depend on its acceptance by the public, which cannot be predicted. The commercial success of comedy content also depends on the quality and acceptance of competing comedy channels and shows released into the marketplace at or near the same time, the availability of alternative forms of entertainment and leisure time activities, general economic conditions and other tangible and intangible factors, all of which can change and cannot be predicted with certainty. We have no control over what other films or shows or content is released at the same time as our content and thus we cannot know, but it is always possible that another company's content may be more desirable than our own and we are unsuccessful in competing in the marketing. No assurance can be given that Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. will appeal to the public or that other shows and films may not be more appealing and therefore reduce the demand to view content produced by Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. Accordingly, there is a substantial risk that Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. will not be commercially successful, in which case the Company may be unable to recoup costs associated with the production of content produced by Dry Bar Unscripted or realize revenues or profits from the sale of content produced by Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc.

Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. may not succeed if it receives unfavorable reviews.

The financial success of a comedy channel, in large measure, depends on the reaction of the public, which is often influenced by professional reviewers or critics for newspapers, television and other media. It is impossible to judge in advance what the reaction of these reviewers and critics will be to Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. To the extent that the content produced by Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. receives unfavorable reviews from these reviewers and critics, its chances of success may be substantially diminished.

The Company will have to rely on the services of professionals and other key personnel who may be difficult to replace and the loss of any such persons could adversely affect the Company's business.

If the Company is not able to retain the services of key personnel retained by management, there will be a material adverse effect on the Company. If any one of these individuals becomes incapacitated or otherwise becomes unavailable, a qualified successor would have to be engaged. The Company may elect to offer membership shares in the Company to key production personnel (such as producers, writers, actors, stunt coordinators and unit production managers) as a means of obtaining the best possible crew at the lowest up-front cost. Dry Bar Unscripted Inc.'s production and completion may be adversely affected if new personnel must be engaged, or if such personnel demand more favorable compensation. No assurance can be given that a qualified successor could be engaged. These professionals and key personnel also may be involved in other projects that may take them away from the production of content produced by Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. and cause delays, all of which may increase the cost of production and decrease the likelihood of being able to complete the planned amount of content, which would have an adverse effect on the Company's business and prospects.

Most of our competitors, which include large and small studios and production companies, have significantly greater financial and marketing resources, as well as experience, than do we.

We are a very small and unproven entity as compared to some of our competitors. We will compete with film studios, both large and small, production companies, independent producers, and agencies. Most of the major U.S. studios are part of large diversified corporate groups with a variety of other operations, including television networks and cable channels, that can provide both the means of distributing their products and stable sources of earnings that may allow them better to offset fluctuations in the financial performance of their operations. The major studios have more resources with which to compete for ideas, storylines and scripts. This may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, established smaller studios, production companies and agencies have significantly greater financial and marketing resources than do we. Many have sophisticated websites and the ability to advertise in a wide variety of media. We will principally depend on the business contacts of our executive officers. There are no assurances that our approach will be successful.

We may be required to raise additional capital to fully fund our business plan and expand our operations.

Currently, we have no revenue-generating activities. The purpose of this offering is to raise up to $5,000,000 million towards our production budget and other crowdfunding and business administrative expenses. Even after taking account of the funds raised in this offering, we may need to raise additional funds to finalize the full production and execution of Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. We may seek to sell common or preferred equity or convertible debt securities, enter into a credit facility or another form of third-party funding or seek other debt financing in order to fund the development of Dry Bar Unscripted. We may also consider raising additional capital in the future to expand our business, to pursue strategic investments, to take advantage of financing opportunities or for other reasons.

Additional capital may not be available at such times or in amounts as needed by us. Even if capital is available, it might be available only on unfavorable terms. Any additional equity or convertible debt financing into which we enter could be dilutive to our then existing members. Any future debt financing into which we enter may impose covenants upon us that restrict our operations, including limitations on our ability to incur liens or additional debt, pay dividends, repurchase our equity, make certain investments and engage in certain merger, consolidation, or asset sale transactions. Any debt financing or additional equity that we raise may contain terms that are not favorable to us or our members. If we raise additional funds through collaboration and licensing arrangements with third parties, it may be necessary to relinquish some rights to our produced content, or grant licenses on terms that are not favorable to us. If access to sufficient capital is not available as and when needed, our business will be materially impaired and we may be required to cease operations, curtail the acquisition, recycling or marketing of produced content, or we may be required to significantly reduce expenses, sell assets, seek a merger, or joint venture partner, file for protection from creditors or liquidate all our assets.

The Company could potentially be found to have not complied with securities law in connection with its Regulation CF Offering related to “Testing the Waters.”

Prior to filing their Offering Circular, the Company engaged in “testing the waters” permitted under Regulation CF, which allows issuers to communicate to determine whether there is interest in the offering. All communication sent is deemed to be an offer of securities for purposes of the antifraud provisions of federal securities laws. Although all requisite disclaimers were included and visible on the “Testing the Waters” page, it is possible that some of the communications may be found to not have included proper disclaimers required for “testing the waters”.

Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. is a long-term project.

The development and production of even a single comedy special typically involves the passage of a significant amount of time, as does the development and production of a full library of comedy specials. As the Company’s business contemplates the production of Dry Bar Unscripted, a library of comedy content, it goes without saying that it may necessitate the passage of even more significant amount of time than it otherwise would for even one such production. One or more rounds of investor financing may continue for one or several years, attempts to sell the Series may take months to years (if they are ultimately even successful at all), production of the Series may extend for several months to years, and it may be even longer still before the show even makes it to air.

There are numerous potential legal challenges.

The entertainment industry is a notoriously litigious one, in which ownership and attribution claims are raised all the time with respect to original ideas. It would not be unheard of for one or more third parties to claim that they inspired or helped come up with the concepts or even the idea behind the Series itself and thereafter threaten to or actually bring suit against the Company or one or more of the Officers or Board Members on the alleged basis that those persons or entities are due some measure of contribution or redress from the profits of the Company. In such an instance, even when the claims amount to nothing, they must still be litigated and/or settled before a distributor will allow the Series to be aired.

We may not generate sufficient cash flow to make distributions to you.

There is no assurance that we will ever have income sufficient to cover our expenses and have sufficient cash flow to make distributions to you. Even if we make distributions, there can be no assurance concerning the timing or amounts of the distributions. You may be required to bear the economic risk of the investment for an indefinite period of time. Ultimately, each investor's risk with respect to this offering includes the potential for a complete loss of their investment.

Abandonment or Close of Production.

The Officers and board members have the right to abandon production of Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. at any time, for any reason whatsoever. In the case of such abandonment, the Members must be prepared for a loss, except to the extent that unspent amounts remain on account. Such amounts will be returned to the Members on a pro-rata basis. Losses may be decreased if abandonment of a given production occurs following the vesting of the Company's rights to participate in subsidiary revenue, or if prior merchandising or album income previously had been earned.

Pandemic Related Risks.

COVID-19 continues to affect all facets of the world economy. The Company's projects are subject to pandemic-related supply and demand disruptions. This includes the effects of the virus on our customers and vendors as well as the measures taken to mitigate the spread of the virus. The COVID-19 pandemic has also caused, and is likely to continue to cause, severe economic, market and other disruptions worldwide. We cannot assure that conditions in the bank lending, capital and other financial markets will not continue to deteriorate as a result of the pandemic, or that our access to capital and other sources of funding will not become constrained, which could adversely affect the availability and terms of future borrowings, renewals or refinancings.

Unpredictability Of Decreased Monetization Or Demonetization On Digital Platforms

As Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc. produces content to be released on various digital platforms such as Facebook, YouTube, Instagram, Tik Tok, etc. we have no control over the monetization practices and policies of any given platform. Even despite best efforts to abide by all community guidelines outlined in varying social platforms' terms of service, any digital platform may reduce the amount of monetization Dry Bar Unscripted, Inc.'s through changes to their algorithms or even demonetization entirely.

Special Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements.

This Offering Circular may contain forward-looking statements relating to future events or the future performance of the Company or its operating companies. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as may, will, should, expect, plan, intend, anticipate, believe, estimate, predict, potential or continue, the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology. These statements are only predictions. Actual events or results may differ materially. In evaluating these statements, prospective investors should specifically consider various factors, including the risks outlined in this Risk Factors section of the Memorandum. These risk factors may cause actual events or results to differ materially from any forward-looking statement. Although the Officers believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements cannot be guaranteed. Moreover, neither the Company, the Board Members, the Officers nor any of their affiliates assume responsibility for the accuracy and completeness of the forward-looking statements. The Company, the Officers, the Officers and their affiliates are under no duty to update any of the forward-looking statements after the date of this Memorandum to conform such statements to actual results or to changes in expectations.

4. to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term “accredited investor” means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term “member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent” includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. 19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer? No

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

Because the investors in this offering do not control the day-to-day operations of the Company, the principal shareholders of the Company may make decisions that the investors do not approve of or that harm the interests of the investors.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

There are several ways to value a company, and none of which are perfect and all of them involve a certain amount of guesswork. The same method can produce a different valuation if used by a different person.

Liquidation Value - the amount for which the assets of the company can be sold, minus the liabilities owed. The value for most startups lies in their potential, as many early stage companies do not have many assets.

Book Value - this is based on an analysis of the company's financial statements, usually looking at the company's balance sheet as prepared by its accountants. However, the balance sheet only looks at costs (i.e, what was paid for the asset), and does not consider whether the asset has increased in value over time. In addition, some intangible assets, such as patents, trademarks or tradenames, are very valuable but are not usually represented at their market value on the balance sheet.

Earnings Approach - this is based on what the investor will pay (the present value) for what the investor expects to obtain in the future (the future return), taking into account inflation, the lost opportunity to participate in other investments, the risk of not receiving the return, and so on.

However, predictions of the future are not certain and valuation of future returns is a best guess. Different methods of valuation produce a different answer as to what your investment is worth. Future investors (including people seeking to acquire the Company) may value the Company differently.

They may use a different valuation method, or different assumptions about the Company's business and its market. Different valuations may mean that the value assigned to your investment changes. It frequently happens that when a large institutional investor such as a venture capitalist or private equity firm makes an investment in a company, it values the company at a lower price than the initial investors did. If this happens, the value of the investment will go down.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

As a minority interest holder, the investors in this offering cannot control any day-to-day decisions of the Company that might affect the value of their interest. As an investor in the Preferred Units, you will not have any rights in regard to the actions of the Company, including additional issuances of securities, company repurchase of securities, a sale of the Company or its significant assets, or company transactions with related parties. - issuer repurchases of securities

- a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or,

Because holders of Preferred Shares do not have the right to vote, the Common Shareholders may vote to sell without the investor's approval. The investors in this Offering have the right to receive a preferred return before the Common Shareholders receive any return.
