Hypothetical Examples of Amounts Payable upon Automatic Call or at Maturity

The following table illustrates the hypothetical simple total return (i.e., not compounded) on the notes that could be realized on the applicable Review Date for a range of movements in the Review Price as shown under the column “Review Price Appreciation/Depreciation at Review Date.” The following table assumes a hypothetical Trigger Price equal to a hypothetical Initial Share Price of $12.00. The table assumes that the percentages used to calculate the call price applicable to the first, second, third and final Review Dates are 7.25%, 14.50%, 21.75% and 29.00%, respectively, regardless of the appreciation of the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock, which may be significant; the actual percentages will be determined on the pricing date. There will be only one payment on the notes whether called or at maturity. An entry of “N/A” indicates that the notes would not be called on the applicable Review Date and no payment would be made for such date. The hypothetical returns set forth below are for illustrative purposes only and may not be the actual total returns applicable to a purchaser of the notes.

Review Price	Review Price Appreciation/Depreciation at Review Date	Total Return at First Review Date	Total Return at Second Review Date	Total Return at Third Review Date	Total Return at Final Review Date

$1.200	-90.00%	N/A	N/A	N/A	-88.89%
$0.000	-100.00%	N/A	N/A	N/A	-100.00%

The following examples illustrate how the total returns set forth in the table on the previous page are calculated.

Example 1: The closing price of one share of the Reference Stock increases from the Initial Share Price of $12.00 to a Review Price of $13.20 on the first Review Date. Because the Review Price on the first Review Date of $13.20 is greater than the corresponding Trigger Price of $12.00, the notes are automatically called, and the investor receives a single payment of $1,072.50 per $1,000 principal amount note.

Example 2: The closing price of one share of the Reference Stock decreases from the Initial Share Price of $12.00 to a Review Price of $11.40 on the first Review Date, $10.80 on the second Review Date and $9.60 on the third Review Date and increases from the Initial Share Price of $12.00 to a Review Price of $14.40 on the final Review Date. Although the Review Price on each of the first three Review Dates ($11.40, $10.80 and $9.60) is less than the corresponding Trigger Price of $12.00, because the Review Price on the final Review Date ($14.40) is greater than the corresponding Trigger Price of $12.00, the notes are automatically called, and the investor receives a single payment of $1,290 per $1,000 principal amount note.

Example 3: The closing price of one share of the Reference Stock decreases from the Initial Share Price of $12.00 to a Review Price of $11.40 on the first Review Date, $8.40 on the second Review Date, $9.60 on the third Review Date and $10.80 on the final Review Date. Because (a) the Review Price on each of the Review Dates ($11.40, $8.40, $9.60 and $10.80) is less than the corresponding Trigger Price of $12.00 and (b) the Final Share Price is not less than the Initial Share Price by more than 10%, the notes are not automatically called and the payment at maturity is the principal amount of $1,000 per $1,000 principal amount note.

Example 4: The closing price of one share of the Reference Stock decreases from the Initial Share Price of $12.00 to a Review Price of $11.40 on the first Review Date, $10.80 on the second Review Date, $9.60 on the third Review Date and $8.40 on the final Review Date. Because (a) the Review Price on each of the Review Dates ($11.40, $10.80, $9.60 and $8.40) is less than the corresponding Trigger Price of $12.00, and (b) the Final Share Price is more than 10% below the Initial Share Price, the notes are not automatically called and the investor receives a payment at maturity that is less than the principal amount for each $1,000 principal amount note, calculated as follows:

$$$1,000 + [$1,000 \times (-30\% + 10\%) \times 1.1111] = $777.78$$

Selected Purchase Considerations

- APPRECIATION POTENTIAL — If the Review Price is greater than or equal to the Trigger Price on a Review Date, your investment will yield a payment per $1,000 principal amount note of $1,000 plus: (i) at least 7.25%* x $1,000 if called on the first Review Date; (ii) at least 14.50%* x $1,000 if called on the second Review Date; (iii) at least 21.75%* x $1,000 if called on the third Review Date; or (iv) at least 29.00%* x $1,000 if called on the final Review Date. Because the notes are our senior unsecured obligations, payment of any amount if called or at maturity is subject to our ability to pay our obligations as they become due.
*The actual percentages applicable to the first, second, third and final Review Dates will be determined on the pricing date but will not be less than 7.25%, 14.50%, 21.75% and 29.00%, respectively.
- POTENTIAL EARLY EXIT WITH APPRECIATION AS A RESULT OF AUTOMATIC CALL FEATURE — While the original term of the notes is just under two years, the notes will be called before maturity if the Review Price is at or above the Trigger Price on the applicable Review Date and you will be entitled to the applicable payment corresponding to such Review Date as set forth on the cover of this term sheet.
- LIMITED PROTECTION AGAINST LOSS — If the notes are not automatically called and the Final Share Price is less than the Initial Share Price by no more than 10%, you will be entitled to receive the full principal amount of your notes at maturity. If the Final Share Price is less than the Initial Share Price by more than 10%, for every 1% decline of the Final Share Price below 10%, you will lose an amount equal to 1.1111% of the principal amount of your notes. Under these circumstances you will lose some or all of your principal.
- RETURN LINKED TO A SINGLE REFERENCE STOCK — The return on the notes is linked to the performance of a single Reference Stock, which is the common stock of El Paso Corporation. For additional information see “The Reference Stock” in this term sheet.
- CAPITAL GAINS TAX TREATMENT — You should review carefully the section entitled “Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences” in the accompanying product supplement no. 111-A-I. Subject to the limitations described therein, and based on certain factual representations received from us, in the opinion of our special tax counsel, Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, it is reasonable to treat the notes as “open transactions” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Assuming this characterization is respected, the gain or loss on your notes should be treated as short-term capital gain or loss unless you hold your notes for more than a year, in which case the gain or loss should be long-term capital gain or loss, whether or not you are an initial purchaser of notes at the issue price. However, the Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”) or a court may not respect this characterization or treatment of the notes, in which case the timing and character of any income or loss on the notes could be significantly and adversely affected. In addition, in 2007 Treasury and the IRS released a notice requesting comments on the U.S. federal income tax treatment of “prepaid forward contracts” and similar instruments, which might include the notes. The notice focuses in particular on whether to require holders of these instruments to accrue income over the term of their investment. It also asks for comments on a number of related topics, including the character of income or loss with respect to these instruments; the relevance of factors such as the nature of the underlying property to which the instruments are linked; the degree, if any, to which income (including any mandated accruals) realized by Non-U.S. Holders should be subject to withholding tax; and whether these instruments are or should be subject to the “constructive ownership” regime, which very generally can operate to recharacterize certain long-term capital gain as ordinary income and impose an interest charge. While the notice requests comments on appropriate transition rules and effective dates, any Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the notes, possibly with retroactive effect. Both U.S. and Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the notes, including possible alternative treatments and the issues presented by this notice. Non-U.S. Holders should also note that they may be withheld upon at a rate of up to 30% unless they have submitted a properly completed IRS Form W-8BEN or otherwise satisfied the applicable documentation requirements.

The discussion in the preceding paragraph, when read in combination with the section entitled “Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences” in the accompanying product supplement, constitutes the full opinion of Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP regarding the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of notes.

Selected Risk Considerations

An investment in the notes involves significant risks. Investing in the notes is not equivalent to investing directly in the Reference Stock. These risks are explained in more detail in the “Risk Factors” section of the accompanying product supplement no. 111-A-I dated April 28, 2010.

- YOUR INVESTMENT IN THE NOTES MAY RESULT IN A LOSS — If the notes are not automatically called and the Final Share Price is less than the Initial Share Price by more than 10%, you will lose 1.1111% of your principal amount at maturity for every 1% decline in the Final Share Price as compared to the Initial Share Price below the 10% buffer. Under these circumstances, you will lose some or all of your investment.
- CREDIT RISK OF JPMORGAN CHASE & CO. — The notes are subject to the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co. and our credit ratings and credit spreads may adversely affect the market value of the notes. Investors are dependent on JPMorgan Chase & Co.’s ability to pay all amounts due on the notes at maturity or upon an automatic call, and therefore investors are subject to our credit risk and to changes in the market’s view of our creditworthiness. Any decline in our credit ratings or increase in the credit spreads charged by the market for taking our credit risk is likely to affect adversely the value of the notes.
- LIMITED RETURN ON THE NOTES — Your potential gain on the notes will be limited to the call premium applicable for a Review Date, as set forth on the cover of this term sheet, regardless of the appreciation of the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock, which may be significant. Because the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock at various times during the term of the notes could be higher than on the Review Dates and at maturity, you may receive a lower payment if called or at maturity, as the case may be, than you would have if you had invested directly in the Reference Stock.
- REINVESTMENT RISK — If your notes are automatically called early, the term of the notes may be reduced to as short as six months. There is no guarantee that you would be able to reinvest the proceeds from an investment in the notes at a comparable return for a similar level of risk in the event the notes are automatically called prior to the maturity date.
- CERTAIN BUILT-IN COSTS ARE LIKELY TO AFFECT ADVERSELY THE VALUE OF THE NOTES PRIOR TO MATURITY — While the payment upon an automatic call or at maturity described in this term sheet is based on the full principal amount of your notes, the original issue price of the notes includes the agent’s commission and the estimated cost of hedging our obligations under the notes. As a result, the price, if any, at which J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., which we refer to as JPMSI, will be willing to purchase notes from you in secondary market transactions, if at all, will likely be lower than the original issue price and any sale prior to the maturity date could result in a substantial loss to you. The notes are not designed to be short-term trading instruments. Accordingly, you should be able and willing to hold the notes to maturity.
- NO OWNERSHIP OR DIVIDEND RIGHTS IN THE REFERENCE STOCK — As a holder of the notes, you will not have any ownership interest or rights in the Reference Stock, such as voting rights or dividend payments. In addition, the issuer of the Reference Stock will not have any obligation to consider your interests as a holder of the notes in taking any corporate action that might affect the value of the Reference Stock and the notes.
- NO AFFILIATION WITH THE REFERENCE STOCK ISSUER — We are not affiliated with the issuer of the Reference Stock. We assume no responsibility for the adequacy of the information about the Reference Stock issuer contained in this term sheet. You should undertake your own investigation into the Reference Stock and its issuer. We are not responsible for the Reference Stock issuer’s public disclosure of information, whether contained in SEC filings or otherwise.
- SINGLE STOCK RISK — The price of the Reference Stock can fall sharply due to factors specific to the Reference Stock and its issuer, such as stock price volatility, earnings, financial conditions, corporate, industry and regulatory developments, management changes and decisions and other events, as well as general market factors, such as general stock market volatility and levels, interest rates and economic and political conditions.

- NO INTEREST PAYMENTS — As a holder of the notes, you will not receive any interest payments.
- LACK OF LIQUIDITY — The notes will not be listed on any securities exchange. JPMSI intends to offer to purchase the notes in the secondary market but is not required to do so. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow you to trade or sell the notes easily. Because other dealers are not likely to make a secondary market for the notes, the price at which you may be able to trade your notes is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which JPMSI is willing to buy the notes.
- POTENTIAL CONFLICTS — We and our affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of the notes, including acting as calculation agent and hedging our obligations under the notes. In performing these duties, the economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the notes. We and/or our affiliates may also currently or from time to time engage in business with El Paso Corporation, including extending loans to, or making equity investments in, El Paso Corporation or providing advisory services to El Paso Corporation. In addition, one or more of our affiliates may publish research reports or otherwise express opinions with respect to El Paso Corporation, and these reports may or may not recommend that investors buy or hold the Reference Stock. As a prospective purchaser of the notes, you should undertake an independent investigation of El Paso Corporation as in your judgment is appropriate to make an informed decision with respect to an investment in the notes.
- HEDGING AND TRADING IN THE REFERENCE STOCKS — While the notes are outstanding, we or any of our affiliates may carry out hedging activities related to the notes, including in the Reference Stock or instruments related to the Reference Stock. We or our affiliates may also trade in the Reference Stock or instruments related to one or more of the Reference Stocks from time to time. Any of these hedging or trading activities as of the pricing date and during the term of the notes could adversely affect our payment to you at maturity.
- THE ANTI-DILUTION PROTECTION FOR THE REFERENCE STOCK IS LIMITED — The calculation agent will make adjustments to the Stock Adjustment Factor for certain corporate events affecting the Reference Stock. However, the calculation agent will not make an adjustment in response to all events that could affect the Reference Stock. If an event occurs that does not require the calculation agent to make an adjustment, the value of the notes may be materially and adversely affected.
- MANY ECONOMIC AND MARKET FACTORS WILL IMPACT THE VALUE OF THE NOTES — In addition to the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock on any day, the value of the notes will be affected by a number of economic and market factors that may either offset or magnify each other, including:
 - the expected volatility in the Reference Stock;
 - the time to maturity of the notes;
 - the dividend rate on the Reference Stock;
 - interest and yield rates in the market generally;
 - a variety of economic, financial, political, regulatory and judicial events;
 - the occurrence of certain events affecting the issuer of the Reference Stock that may or may not require an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor, including a merger or acquisition; and
 - our creditworthiness, including actual or anticipated downgrades in our credit ratings.
