Buffered PLUS Based on the iShares[®] MSCI Brazil Index Fund due October 25, 2012Buffered Performance Leveraged Upside SecuritiesSM

Buffered PLUS are senior unsecured obligations of JPMorgan Chase & Co., will pay no interest, provide for a minimum payment of only 10% of principal at maturity and have the terms described in the accompanying product supplement no. MS-2-A-II, the prospectus supplement and the prospectus, as supplemented or modified by this pricing supplement. At maturity, if the asset has appreciated, investors will receive the stated principal amount of their investment plus leveraged upside performance of the asset, subject to the maximum payment at maturity. At maturity, if the asset has depreciated and (i) if the closing price of the asset has not declined by more than the buffer amount, an investor will receive the stated principal amount or (ii) if the closing price of the asset has declined in value by more than the specified buffer amount, the investor will lose 1% for every 1% decline beyond the specified buffer amount, subject to a minimum payment at maturity. The investor may lose up to 90% of the stated principal amount of the Buffered PLUS. All payments on the Buffered PLUS are subject to the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co.

Tax considerations:	You should review carefully the section entitled "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the accompanying product supplement no. MS-2-A-II. Subject to the limitations described therein, and based on certain factual representations received from us, in the opinion of our special tax counsel, Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, your Buffered PLUS should be treated as "open transactions" for U.S. federal income tax purposes that, subject to the discussion of the "constructive ownership" rules in the following sentence, generate long-term capital gain or loss if held for more than one year. The Buffered PLUS may be treated as subject to the constructive ownership rules of Section 1260 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), in which case any gain recognized in respect of the Buffered PLUS that would otherwise be long-term capital gain and that is in excess of the "net underlying long-term capital gain" (as defined in Section 1260) would be treated as ordinary income, and an interest charge would apply as if that income had accrued for tax purposes at a constant yield over the term of the Buffered PLUS. Our special tax counsel has not expressed an opinion with respect to whether the constructive ownership rules apply to the Buffered PLUS. Accordingly, U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the potential application of the constructive ownership rules. In addition, in 2007 Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") released a notice requesting comments on the U.S. federal income tax treatment of "prepaid forward contracts" and similar instruments, such as the Buffered PLUS. The notice focuses in particular on whether to require holders of these instruments to accrue income over the term of their investment. It also asks for comments on a number of related topics, including the character of income or loss with respect to these instruments; the relevance of factors such as the nature of the underlying property to which the instruments are linked; the degree, if any, to which income (including any mandated accruals) realized by Non-U.S. Holders should be subject to withholding tax; and whether these instruments are or should be subject to the constructive ownership regime described above. While the notice requests comments on appropriate transition rules and effective dates, any Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered PLUS, possibly with retroactive effect. Both U.S. and Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered PLUS, including the potential application of the constructive ownership rules, possible alternative treatments and the issues presented by this notice. Non-U.S. Holders should also note that they may be withheld upon at a rate of up to 30% unless they have submitted a properly completed IRS Form W-8BEN or otherwise satisfied the applicable documentation requirements. The discussion in the preceding paragraph, when read in combination with the discussion in "Risk Factors — The tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered PLUS are unclear" in this document and the section entitled "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the accompanying product supplement, constitutes the full opinion of Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP regarding the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of Buffered PLUS.

How Buffered PLUS Work

Payoff Diagram

The payoff diagram below illustrates the payment at maturity on the Buffered PLUS based on the following terms:

Stated principal amount:	$10 per Buffered PLUS
Leverage factor:	200%
Buffer amount:	10%
Maximum payment at maturity:	$11.875 (118.75% of the stated principal amount) per Buffered PLUS
Minimum payment at maturity:	$1.00 per Buffered PLUS

Buffered PLUS Payoff Diagram

How it works

- If the final share price is greater than the initial share price, for each $10 principal amount Buffered PLUS, investors will receive the $10 stated principal amount plus 200% of the appreciation of the closing price of one ETF Share over the term of the Buffered PLUS, subject to the maximum payment at maturity. In the payoff diagram, an investor will realize the maximum payment at maturity at a final share price of 109.375% of the initial share price.
 - If the final share price is greater than the initial share price by 5%, the investor would receive a 10% return, or $11.00 per Buffered PLUS.
 - If the final share price is greater than the initial share price by 40%, the investor would receive only the maximum payment at maturity of $11.875, or 118.75% of the stated principal amount, per Buffered PLUS.
- If the final share price is equal to the initial share price or less than the initial share price by an amount less than or equal to the buffer amount of 10%, the investor will receive the stated principal amount of $10.
- If the final share price is less than the initial share price by an amount greater than the buffer amount of 10%, the investor would receive an amount that is less than the $10 stated principal amount by an amount proportionate to the decline, plus the buffer amount of 10%. The minimum payment at maturity is $1.00 per Buffered PLUS.
 - If the final share price is less than the initial share price by 30%, the investor would lose 20% of its principal and receive $8.00 at maturity, or 80% of the stated principal amount.

Payment at Maturity

At maturity, investors will receive for each $10 stated principal amount of Buffered PLUS that they hold an amount in cash based upon the final share price, determined as follows:

If the final share price is greater than the initial share price:

$10 + leveraged upside payment:

subject to the maximum payment at maturity for each Buffered PLUS,

Principal	Leveraged Upside Payment
	Principal	Leverage Factor	Share Percent Increase
\$10	\$10	200%	$\left(\frac{\text{final share price} - \text{initial share price}}{\text{initial share price}} \right)$

If the final share price is equal to the initial share price or is less than the initial share price by an amount less than or equal to the buffer amount of 10%:

the stated principal amount of $10

If the final share price is less than the initial share price by an amount greater than the buffer amount of 10%:

($10 × share performance factor) + $1.00

Principal	Share Performance Factor
\$10	$\frac{\text{final share price}}{\text{initial share price}}$	+ \$1.00

Because the share performance factor will be less than 0.90, this payment at maturity will be less than $10.

Under no circumstances will the payment at maturity be less than $1.00 per Buffered PLUS.

Risk Factors

The following is a non-exhaustive list of certain key risk factors for investors in the Buffered PLUS. For further discussion of these and other risks, you should read the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page PS-7 of the accompanying product supplement no. MS-2-A-II. We also urge you to consult your investment, legal, tax, accounting and other advisers in connection with your investment in the Buffered PLUS.

- Buffered PLUS do not pay interest, and you could lose up to 90% of your principal. The terms of the Buffered PLUS differ from those of ordinary debt securities in that the Buffered PLUS do not pay interest and provide a minimum payment at maturity of only 10% of the stated principal amount of the Buffered PLUS, subject to the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co. If the final share price is less than 90% of the initial share price, you will receive for each Buffered PLUS that you hold a payment at maturity that is less than the $10 stated principal amount of each Buffered PLUS by an amount proportionate to the decline in the closing price of one ETF Share on the valuation date from the initial share price, plus $1.00 per Buffered PLUS. Accordingly, you could lose up to 90% of your principal.
- Appreciation potential is limited to the maximum payment at maturity. The appreciation potential of Buffered PLUS is limited by the maximum payment at maturity of $11.875 (118.75% of the stated principal amount) per Buffered PLUS. Although the leverage factor provides 200% exposure to any amount by which the final share price is greater than the initial share price, because the maximum payment at maturity will be limited to 118.75% of the stated principal amount for the Buffered PLUS, any amount by which the final share price is greater than the initial share price by more than 9.375% will not further increase the return on the Buffered PLUS.
- The Buffered PLUS are subject to the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co., and any actual or anticipated changes to our credit ratings or credit spreads may adversely affect the market value of the Buffered PLUS. Investors are dependent on JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s ability to pay all amounts due on the Buffered PLUS at maturity, and therefore investors are subject to our credit risk and to changes in the market's view of our creditworthiness. Any actual or anticipated decline in our credit ratings or increase in the credit spreads charged by the market for taking our credit risk is likely to adversely affect the value of the Buffered PLUS.
- Economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of the issuer may be different from those of investors. We and our affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of the Buffered PLUS, including acting as calculation agent and hedging our obligations under the Buffered PLUS. In performing these duties, the economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the Buffered PLUS. The calculation agent has determined the initial share price (subject to adjustments), will determine the final share price, and will calculate the amount of payment you will receive at maturity. Determinations made by the calculation agent, including with respect to the occurrence or non-occurrence of market disruption events, the selection of a successor to the ETF Shares or calculation of the final share price in the event of a discontinuance of the ETF Shares, and any anti-dilution adjustments, may affect the payout to you at maturity.
- The inclusion in the original issue price of commissions and estimated cost of hedging is likely to adversely affect secondary market prices. Assuming no change in market conditions or any other relevant factors, the price, if any, at which JPMS is willing to purchase Buffered PLUS in secondary market transactions will likely be lower than the original issue price, because the original issue price includes, and secondary market prices are likely to exclude, commissions paid with respect to the Buffered PLUS, as well as the estimated cost of hedging the issuer's obligations under the Buffered PLUS. In addition, any such prices may differ from values determined by pricing models used by JPMS, as a result of dealer discounts, mark-ups or other transaction costs. The Buffered PLUS are not designed to be short-term trading instruments. Accordingly, you should be able and willing to hold your Buffered PLUS to maturity.

Buffered PLUS Based on the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund due October 25, 2012

Buffered Performance Leveraged Upside SecuritiesSM

- The market price of the Buffered PLUS is influenced by many unpredictable factors. Several factors will influence the value of the Buffered PLUS in the secondary market and the price at which JPMS may be willing to purchase or sell the Buffered PLUS in the secondary market, including: the closing price and expected volatility of the ETF Shares, interest and yield rates, time remaining to maturity, the dividend rate of common stocks underlying the ETF Shares, interest rates generally, geopolitical conditions and economic, financial, political and judicial events that affect the ETF Shares or equity markets generally and which may affect the final share price of the ETF Shares, the exchange rate and the volatility of the exchange rate between the U.S. dollar and the currencies in which securities underlying the ETF Shares are traded and the correlation between that rate and the prices of ETF Shares, the occurrence of certain events to the ETF Shares that may or may not require an adjustment to the adjustment factor and any actual or anticipated changes in our credit ratings or credit spreads. The price of the ETF Shares may be and has recently been volatile, and we can give you no assurance that the volatility will lessen. You may receive less, and possibly significantly less, than the stated principal amount per Buffered PLUS if you try to sell your Buffered PLUS prior to maturity.
- Investing in the Buffered PLUS is not equivalent to investing in the ETF Shares. Investing in the Buffered PLUS is not equivalent to investing in the ETF Shares, the Underlying Index or the stocks underlying the ETF Shares or in the Underlying Index. Investors in the Buffered PLUS will not have voting rights or rights to receive dividends or other distributions or any other rights with respect to the ETF Shares, the Underlying Index or the stocks underlying the ETF Shares or the Underlying Index.
- Adjustments to the stocks underlying the ETF Shares or to the MSCI Brazil Index could adversely affect the value of the Buffered PLUS. BlackRock Fund Advisors ("BFA") is currently the investment adviser to the ETF Shares, which seeks investment results that correspond generally to the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the MSCI Brazil Index. MSCI is responsible for designing and maintaining the MSCI Brazil Index. MSCI can add, delete or substitute the stocks underlying the MSCI Brazil Index or make other methodological changes that could change the value of the MSCI Brazil Index. Pursuant to an investment strategy or otherwise, the investment adviser to the ETF Shares may add, delete or substitute the stocks underlying the ETF Shares. Any of these actions could adversely affect the price of the ETF Shares and, consequently, the value of the Buffered PLUS.
- There are risks associated with the ETF Shares. Although the ETF Shares are listed for trading on the NYSE Arca, Inc. and a number of similar products have been traded on various national securities exchanges for varying periods of time, there is no assurance that an active trading market will continue for the ETF Shares or that there will be liquidity in the trading market. The ETF Shares are subject to management risk, which is the risk that the investment strategy of the investment adviser to the ETF Shares, the implementation of which is subject to a number of constraints, may not produce the intended results. These constraints could adversely affect the market price of the ETF Shares, and consequently, the value of the Buffered PLUS.
- We have no affiliation with the ETF Shares. To our knowledge, we are not currently affiliated with any issuers of the stocks underlying the ETF Shares. We assume no responsibility for the adequacy of the information about the ETF Shares and the Underlying Index contained in this pricing supplement or in product supplement no. MS-2-A-II. You should make your own investigation into the ETF Shares and the Underlying Index. We are not responsible for the ETF Shares' public disclosure of information, whether contained in SEC filings or otherwise.
- There are differences between the ETF Shares and the Underlying Index. The ETF Shares do not fully replicate the Underlying Index, may hold securities not included in the Underlying Index and their performance will reflect additional transaction costs and fees that are not included in the calculation of the Underlying Index, all of which may lead to a lack of correlation between the ETF Shares and the Underlying Index. In addition, corporate actions with respect to the sample of equity securities (such as mergers and spin-offs) may impact the variance between the performances of the ETF Shares and the Underlying Index. Finally, because the ETF Shares are traded on NYSE Arca, Inc. and are subject to market supply and investor demand, the market value of one ETF Share may differ from the net asset value per ETF Share. For all of the foregoing reasons, the performance of the ETF Shares may not correlate with the performance of the Underlying Index.

Buffered PLUS Based on the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund due October 25, 2012

Buffered Performance Leveraged Upside SecuritiesSM

- The Buffered PLUS are subject to currency exchange risk. Because the prices of the equity securities underlying the ETF Shares are converted into U.S. dollars for the purposes of calculating the net asset value of the ETF Shares, holders of the Buffered PLUS will be exposed to currency exchange rate risk with respect to the currencies in which securities underlying the ETF Shares are traded, which is primarily the Brazilian real. Your net exposure will depend on the extent to which the currencies in which securities underlying the ETF Shares are traded strengthen or weaken against the U.S. dollar. If the U.S. dollar strengthens against the currencies in which securities underlying the ETF Shares are traded, the net asset value of the ETF Shares will be adversely affected and the amount we pay you at maturity, if any, may be reduced. Of particular importance to potential currency exchange risk are:
 - existing and expected rates of inflation;
 - existing and expected interest rate levels;
 - the balance of payments; and
 - the extent of government surpluses or deficits in Brazil and the United States of America

All of these factors are in turn sensitive to the monetary, fiscal and trade policies pursued by the governments of Brazil and the United States and other countries important to international trade and finance.

- The Buffered PLUS entail non-U.S. securities emerging markets risk. The equity securities that compose the ETF Shares have been issued by non-U.S. companies located primarily in Brazil, which is an emerging markets country. Investments in securities linked to the value of such non-U.S. equity securities involve risks associated with the securities markets in those countries (including Brazil), including risks of volatility in those markets, governmental intervention in those markets and cross shareholdings in companies in certain countries. Also, there is generally less publicly available information about companies in some of these jurisdictions than about U.S. companies that are subject to the reporting requirements of the SEC, and generally non-U.S. companies are subject to accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards and requirements and securities trading rules different from those applicable to U.S. reporting companies. The prices of securities in foreign markets may be affected by political, economic, financial and social factors in those countries, or global regions, including changes in government, economic and fiscal policies and currency exchange laws. Countries with emerging markets may have relatively unstable governments, may present the risks of nationalization of businesses, restrictions on foreign ownership and prohibitions on the repatriation of assets, and may have less protection of property rights than more developed countries. The economies of countries with emerging markets may be based on only a few industries, may be highly vulnerable to changes in local or global trade conditions, and may suffer from extreme and volatile debt burdens or inflation rates. Local securities markets may trade a small number of securities and may be unable to respond effectively to increases in trading volume, potentially making prompt liquidation of holdings difficult or impossible at times. Moreover, the economies in such countries may differ favorably or unfavorably from the economy in the United States in such respects as growth of gross national product, rate of inflation, capital reinvestment, resources and self-sufficiency.
- Owning the Buffered PLUS is not the same as owning the ETF Shares. Owning the Buffered PLUS is not the same as owning the ETF Shares. Accordingly, changes in the closing price of one ETF Share may not result in a comparable change of the market value of the Buffered PLUS. If the closing price of one ETF Share on any trading day increases above the initial share price, the value of the Buffered PLUS may not increase comparably, if at all. It is possible for the closing price of the ETF Shares to increase moderately while the value of the Buffered PLUS declines.
- The anti-dilution protection for the ETF Shares is limited. The calculation agent will make adjustments to the adjustment factor for certain events affecting the ETF Shares. However, the calculation agent will not make an adjustment in response to all events that could affect the ETF Shares. If an event occurs that does not require the calculation agent to make an adjustment, the value of the Buffered PLUS may be materially and adversely affected.

- Hedging and trading activity by the calculation agent and its affiliates could potentially affect the value of the Buffered PLUS. The hedging or trading activities of the issuer's affiliates and of any other hedging counterparty with respect to the Buffered PLUS on or prior to the pricing date and prior to maturity could have adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, the value of the ETF Shares in a manner that could decrease the amount an investor may receive on the Buffered PLUS at maturity. Any of these hedging or trading activities on or prior to the pricing date could have affected the initial share price and, therefore, could have increased the level that the final share price must reach before you receive a payment at maturity that exceeds the issue price of the Buffered PLUS. Additionally, such hedging or trading activities during the term of the Buffered PLUS, including on the valuation date, could adversely affect the final share price and, accordingly, the amount of cash an investor will receive at maturity.
- Secondary trading may be limited. The Buffered PLUS will not be listed on a securities exchange. There may be little or no secondary market for the Buffered PLUS. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow you to trade or sell the Buffered PLUS easily. JPMS may act as a market maker for the Buffered PLUS, but is not required to do so. Because we do not expect that other market makers will participate significantly in the secondary market for the Buffered PLUS, the price at which you may be able to trade your Buffered PLUS is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which JPMS is willing to buy the Buffered PLUS. If at any time JPMS or another agent does not act as a market maker, it is likely that there would be little or no secondary market for the Buffered PLUS.
- The tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered PLUS are unclear. There is no direct legal authority as to the proper U.S. federal income tax characterization of the Buffered PLUS, and we do not intend to request a ruling from the IRS regarding the Buffered PLUS. The IRS might not accept, and a court might not uphold, the characterization and tax treatment of the Buffered PLUS described in "Fact Sheet — General Information — Tax considerations" in this document and in "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the accompanying product supplement no. MS-2-A-II. If the IRS were successful in asserting an alternative characterization or treatment for the Buffered PLUS, the timing and character of income on the Buffered PLUS could differ materially and adversely from our description herein. Even if the characterization of the Buffered PLUS is respected, the IRS may assert that the Buffered PLUS constitute "constructive ownership transactions" within the meaning of Section 1260 of the Code, in which case any gain recognized in respect of the Buffered PLUS that would otherwise be long-term capital gain and that is in excess of the "net underlying long-term capital gain" (as defined in Section 1260) would be treated as ordinary income, and an interest charge would apply as if that income had accrued for tax purposes at a constant yield over the Buffered PLUS's term. Our special tax counsel has not expressed an opinion with respect to whether the constructive ownership rules apply to the Buffered PLUS. In addition, in 2007 Treasury and the IRS released a notice requesting comments on the U.S. federal income tax treatment of "prepaid forward contracts" and similar instruments, such as the Buffered PLUS. The notice focuses in particular on whether to require holders of these instruments to accrue income over the term of their investment. It also asks for comments on a number of related topics, including the character of income or loss with respect to these instruments; the relevance of factors such as the nature of the underlying property to which the instruments are linked; the degree, if any, to which income (including any mandated accruals) realized by Non-U.S. Holders should be subject to withholding tax; and whether these instruments are or should be subject to the constructive ownership regime described above. While the notice requests comments on appropriate transition rules and effective dates, any Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered PLUS, possibly with retroactive effect. Both U.S. and Non-U.S. Holders should review carefully the section entitled "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the accompanying product supplement no. MS-2-A-II and consult their tax advisers regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered PLUS, including the potential application of the constructive ownership rules, possible alternative treatments and the issues presented by this notice. Non-U.S. Holders should also note that they may be withheld upon at a rate of up to 30% unless they have submitted a properly completed IRS Form W-8BEN or otherwise satisfied the applicable documentation requirements.

Investment Objective and Strategy

The iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond generally to the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of publicly traded securities in the Brazilian market, as measured by the MSCI Brazil Index. The iShares® Brazil Index Fund holds equity securities traded primarily in Brazil. The MSCI Brazil Index was developed by MSCI Inc. (“MSCI”) as an equity benchmark for Brazilian stock performance, and is designed to measure equity market performance in Brazil.

As of March 31, 2011, the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund’s three largest equity securities were OAO “Gazprom,” Petrobras Petróleo Brasileiro S.A., Preferred and Samsung Electronics Company Ltd. Its three largest sectors were financials, energy and materials.

The iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund uses a representative sampling strategy (as described below under “—Representative Sampling”) to try to track the MSCI Brazil Index. The iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund generally invests at least 95% of its assets in the securities of the MSCI Brazil Index and in depositary receipts representing securities included in the MSCI Brazil Index. The iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund will at all times invest at least 80% of its assets in the securities of the MSCI Brazil Index or in depositary receipts representing securities included in the MSCI Brazil Index. The iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund may invest the remainder of its assets in other securities, including securities not in the MSCI Brazil Index, futures contracts, options on futures contracts, other types of options and swaps related to the MSCI Brazil Index, as well as cash and cash equivalents, including shares of money market funds affiliated with BFA or its affiliates.

Representative Sampling

BFA uses a “representative sampling” indexing strategy to manage the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund. “Representative sampling” is an indexing strategy that involves investing in a representative sample of securities that collectively has an investment profile similar to the MSCI Brazil Index. Securities selected are expected to have, in the aggregate, investment characteristics (based on factors such as market capitalization and industry weightings), fundamental characteristics (such as return variability and yield) and liquidity measures similar to those of the MSCI Brazil Index. The iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund may or may not hold all of the securities in the MSCI Brazil Index.

Buffered PLUS Based on the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund due October 25, 2012

Buffered Performance Leveraged Upside SecuritiesSM*Correlation*

The MSCI Brazil Index is a theoretical financial calculation, while the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund is an actual investment portfolio. The performance of the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund and the MSCI Brazil Index may vary due to transaction costs, non-U.S. currency valuation, asset valuations, corporate actions (such as mergers and spin-offs), timing variances, and differences between the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund's portfolio and the MSCI Brazil Index resulting from legal restrictions (such as diversification requirements) that apply to the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund but not to the MSCI Brazil Index or the use of representative sampling. "Tracking error" is the difference between the performance (return) of a fund's portfolio and that of its underlying index. BFA expects that, over time, the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund's tracking error will not exceed 5%. The iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund, using a representative sampling strategy, can be expected to have a greater tracking error than a fund using a replication strategy. Replication is a strategy in which a fund invests in substantially all of the securities in its underlying index in approximately the same proportions as in the underlying index.

Industry Concentration Policy

The iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund will concentrate its investments (i.e., hold 25% or more of its total assets) in a particular industry or group of industries to approximately the same extent that the MSCI Brazil Index is concentrated. For purposes of this limitation, securities of the U.S. government (including its agencies and instrumentalities) and repurchase agreements collateralized by U.S. government securities are not considered to be issued by members of any industry.

Holdings Information

As of March 31, 2011, 99.70% of the iShares® MSCI Brazil Index Fund's holdings consisted of equity securities, 0.07% consisted of cash and 0.23% was in other assets, including dividends booked but not yet received.
