

The JPMorgan Alerian MLP Index Exchange Traded Notes

The JPMorgan Alerian MLP Index Exchange Traded Notes (“ETNs”) are senior, unsecured obligations of JPMorgan Chase & Co. (the “Issuer”) that deliver exposure to the portfolio of midstream energy Master Limited Partnerships (“MLPs”) underlying the Alerian MLP Index. The ETNs pay a variable quarterly coupon whose value is linked to the cash distributions, if any, paid on the underlying MLPs, less the Accrued Tracking Fee<sup>1</sup>. On a weekly basis, investors may request that the Issuer repurchase<sup>2</sup> the ETNs before the maturity date. An investment in the ETNs may result in a loss, and the quarterly coupons are variable and may be zero.

What are MLPs?

MLPs are limited partnerships that are publicly traded on a U.S. securities exchange. MLPs as an asset class originated in the 1980s as a result of laws passed by Congress designed to encourage investment in energy and natural resources. The majority of MLPs in existence today operate in the energy infrastructure industry and engage in the transportation and storage of natural resources such as refined petroleum products and natural gas.

Why invest in MLPs?

■ Relatively low correlation: MLPs have had relatively low correlation to a wide range of asset classes including equities and commodities.

■ Potential for attractive yields: The historical yields on MLPs have been attractive compared to other income-oriented investments.

Benefits of Investing in the ETNs

■ Exposure to energy MLPs: The ETNs, through a single investment, provide convenient access to the portfolio of energy MLPs in the AMZ Index.

■ Quarterly Coupons: The ETNs pay quarterly, variable coupons which are based on the cash distributions, if any, paid on the MLPs in the AMZ Index, less the Accrued Tracking Fee.

■ No K-1 forms: Investors will not receive K-1 forms as a result of their investment in the ETNs.

■ Exchange-traded: The ETNs trade on the NYSE Arca, Inc.

1. The “Accrued Tracking Fee” for a given coupon period, as more fully described in the relevant pricing supplement, represents an amount equal to the Tracking Fee of 0.85% per annum accrued for that coupon period multiplied by the Current Indicative Value on the Index Business Day prior to the date of determination, plus the aggregate amounts, if any, by which the previous Accrued Tracking Fees have exceeded the cash distributions, if any, made by the underlying MLPs. The Current Indicative Value, as more fully described in the relevant pricing supplement, equals the principal amount of the ETNs multiplied by a fraction the numerator of which is the VWAP Level of the Index as of the date of determination and the denominator of which is the Initial VWAP Level of the Index.

2. Investors may request on a weekly basis that the Issuer repurchase a minimum of 50,000 notes prior to the maturity date, subject to the procedures described in the relevant pricing supplement. Early repurchases will be subject to a Repurchase Fee of 0.125%, as further described in the relevant pricing supplement.

There is no guarantee that the Index or the ETNs will outperform any alternative investment strategy. Your payment at maturity or upon early repurchase of the ETNs, as more fully described in the relevant pricing supplement is based on the VWAP Level of the Alerian MLP Index and not on its closing level. The VWAP Level of the Index is calculated using the volume-weighted average price of the Index Components.

What are the main risks in the ETNs?

The ETNs are not principal protected and may result in a loss.

The ETNs are exposed to the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co.

The ETNs may not have an active trading market and may not continue to be listed on an exchange over their term.

The payment at maturity or upon early repurchase of the ETNs will be based on the VWAP Level of the Index and not on the closing level of the Index. The VWAP Level of the Index will most likely differ from the closing level of the Index or the IIV.

The Accrued Tracking Fee reduces the potential coupons and/or the payment at maturity or upon early repurchase.

The coupon payments on the ETNs will be variable and may be zero.

The Alerian MLP Index began publishing on June 1, 2006 and, therefore, has a limited history.

The Issuer's obligation to repurchase the ETNs is subject to substantial minimum size restrictions.

The tax consequences of the ETNs are uncertain.

You will not know how much you will receive upon early repurchase at the time that you elect we repurchase your ETNs.
