Summary

A skilled and adaptable salesperson with eight years of proven sales experience in various environments, working in B2B and B2C across various verticals.

Most recently, I built PANGEA's sales business from scratch, creating a team of 6 and selling hundreds of thousands of products in our first year through long-term worldwide partnerships.

Previously, I worked in Singapore selling Macro Economic research to C-suite executives. In the first year, a 101% sales target was achieved, coming top of the Singapore sales team and setting a company monthly sales record in the Singapore office.

In my two years in London, I was the first sales team member, where I was consistently the top performer, helping to take the company from Seed to Series A.

\\ Skilled in Growth, Outreach strategy, Closing, Sales negotiation, Sales copywriting, Email analytics, Cold-calling, Face to face pitching, Marketing, Salesforce/Hubspot, Market Research and English

A strong business development professional with a Business and Management Degree specialising in Marketing and Operations Management from the renowned Aston Business School, UK.

PANGEA

1 year 3 months

Sales Director

August 2021 - March 2022 (8 months)

Bali, Indonesia

PANGEA Movement leverages market analytics and data to identify high-demand Outdoor products on e-commerce and replace them with unique ecological and carbon-negative alternatives that the market loves.

We launch them on Kickstarter, scale them online globally at high speed, and use part of the funds to stop ocean pollution and capture CO2.

Our products are based on sustainable supply chains and circular models that directly regenerate our planet with each purchase. The more PANGEA products our customers buy, the better for the environment.

50+ tons of trash cleaned from 11 countries with 1,500+ volunteers, 16 river trash barriers placed so far that stop 5 tons of trash per month before it enters our oceans, 2,700 mangrove trees planted, and counting!

On a mission to place 500 river barriers in 100 of the most polluting rivers of the world, organize 1 cleanup in each country of our planet, and plant 1M mangrove trees.

"Where some see trash we see treasure"

Our next goal is to recycle the plastic we prevent from entering our oceans into new products by innovating in material science and circular economy to close the PANGEA Positive Loop.

Head Of Sales

January 2021 - August 2021 (8 months)

Bali, Indonesia

PANGEA is an ecological brand that implements circular economy models and sustainable supply chains to replace high-polluting consumer products with innovative ecological alternatives. We create high-performance, trash-negative and carbon-negative apparel and accessories for the outdoors.

We use part of the funds to clean our planet through community-led cleanups all around the world, and to place river barriers to stop ocean trash pollution. PANGEA is targeting exclusively the 1,000 most polluted rivers in the world to achieve the highest impact per river barrier. We started funding two barriers in Bali as an experiment, and expanded to the city of Padang in West Sumatra—home to 3 of the 1,000 rivers—and placed and operate 12 barriers to date.

Our Vision

Global brand and ecological movement that cleans the world through cleanups, waste management and preventing new trash creation.

Our Mission

To listen to other nature lovers and use their feedback to create the most innovative and ecological outdoor products in the world, that clean the planet more than they pollute.

We have been fully funded on Kickstarter and Indiegogo

We raised over USD $480,000 from 8,000 backers around the world

Our goal is to launch 9 more innovative sustainable products, and clean in 150 countries by the end of 2023!

EyeforTravel

International Marketing Coordinator

July 2014 - July 2015 (1 year 1 month)

My role within the team was to support the team's efforts; to identify more potential customers, finalise any e-mails in terms of copy, make website changes, create potential customer lists from our database that we targeted in email marketing communication.

I was also in full control of the social media's interaction of the EyeforTravel brand which had substantial responsibility. My specific role gave me responsibility for the social media side to the EyeforTravel brand, that being Twitter, LinkedIn and the LinkedIn groups, Facebook page and Google+ account. I was able to increase our monthly social media following by 180% over 6 months using varied techniques. Along with that I was responsible for creating and sending out our weekly newsletter which is sent to over 20k followers. Smaller tasks included website changes, weekly and monthly analytic reports for our social media activity and uploading post conference material into our system ready to send to attendee's.

FC Business Intelligence Ltd
International Marketing Coordinator - Internship
July 2014 - July 2015 (1 year 1 month)
London, United Kingdom

Here at FCBI, we bring people together. Our events are exactly that... our events. Each one is independent, impartial, and built from the ground up through extensive in-depth research, whether it's a tightly-focused niche-interest meeting, or a large-scale industry summit.

FCBI acts as a hub of knowledge. Our websites are the core of our activities. Each one offers a wealth of research-based articles about the areas we work in, created by a global network of expert contributors. It's not just dry news, either – we focus on editorial and opinion pieces to keep readers engaged as well as informed.

We produce and deliver information others can't. To help our clients determine their strategy, our teams research the most difficult business questions. Whether it's studies on the progress of emerging technologies, data on fast-moving markets, or updates on regulatory change, we're always up to speed.
