RISK FACTORS	18
Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry	18
Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry	18
In the event that we are unable to attract and convert B2B clients, making us only a B2C platform which drives high marketing costs and scale will be more challenging.	18
Mitigation: This is not a big risk as we are currently seeing very strong interest from B2B clients to engage with us.	18
Like any technology platform, we could be hacked and our client data/information could be at risk.	18
Mitigation: We are on AWS on the backend which is the gold standard of cloud storage, and we have access to AWS technologists should this issue arise.	18
We are currently being audited by Colorado Department of Labor for correct worker classification.	18
While there are plenty of precedents in Colorado outside for prevailing such audits, there is a risk that CODL's ruling would classify all of our gig workers as employees and not independent contractors. Mitigation: We have engaged legal counsel who is confident that we will come out of the audit successfully.	18
One of our competitors such as care.com could change their business strategy to provide the matching in an on-demand fashion. Mitigation: Our business is predicated upon customer love and loyalty, and we plan on continuing with our focus on customer retention and brand loyalty.	18

Disintermediation; the risk of bookers and providers going off-platform and engaging in an ongoing relationship. Mitigation: We have built in a number of measures in our technology to make it advantageous for the bookers and providers to stay on our platform and not disintermediate.....19

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing.....19

In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company assets or profits, and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its action.....19

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team, The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company.....19

There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.....19

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company. and thus, be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations for the Company. 19

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Board Of Directors, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Board Of Directors of the Company.....19

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction. but such an opportunity cannot be assured.....19

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.....19

The Company may have the authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the investor, and create pressure in the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.....19

As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or on ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets.....19

Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's. initial investment in the Company.....19

The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgment as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length

but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.....	20
In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all the risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.....	20

Current Market.....	20
Call Emmy is a technology software platform that connects busy parents and institutions with high-quality, fully vetted service providers (sitters, caregivers, household helpers) on demand. Our core product is a platform-agnostic mobile-responsive web application that allows bookers to book providers for short-term, informal engagements (a/k/a babysitting, cleaning, chores, etc) using a simple on-demand interface. Payment is processed through the app, and Call Emmy collects a 30% commission on the total job that bookers pay. Our market consists of parents of children younger than 12 years of age and institutions who need to book informal service providers in an on-demand basis.....	20
Competition.....	21
Competition.....	21
Our primary competitors are Care.com, UrbanSitter and SitterCity. Like us, they seek to address the informal childcare and household management market using internet-based technology. However, their platforms are discovery/registry platforms as opposed to our matching platform. Our secondary competitors are Bambino and other newer app-based, internet platforms that take a more tech-forward approach to the discovery/registry model, but still fall short of the full-service matching technology we offer.....	21
While there are currently no competitors offering an on-demand matching product in the informal childcare space, we are aware that that can and likely will change in the future, making it important for us to advance our technology and grow our base of loyal users as quickly as possible.....	21
.....	21
Customer Base.....	21
Customer Base.....	21

We are a double-sided marketplace, so our customer base consists of two primary constituencies: bookers (parents and institutions) and caregivers. We approach customer acquisition and retention of our two customer bases separately.....	21

How this Security may limit, dilute or qualify the Notes/Bonds issued pursuant to Regulation CF.....	26
The holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering.).....	26
These changes could result in further limitations on the voting rights the Investor will have as an owner of equity in the Company, for example by diluting those rights or limiting them to certain types of events or consents.....	26
To the extent applicable, in cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interest in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rate portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease

which could also diminish the Investor's voting/and or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.....	26

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

In the event that we are unable to attract and convert B2B clients, making us only a B2C platform which drives high marketing costs and scale will be more challenging.

Mitigation: This is not a big risk as we are currently seeing very strong interest from B2B clients to engage with us.

Like any technology platform, we could be hacked and our client data/information could be at risk.

Mitigation: We are on AWS on the backend which is the gold standard of cloud storage, and we have access to AWS technologists should this issue arise.

We are currently being audited by Colorado Department of Labor for correct worker classification.

While there are plenty of precedents in Colorado outside for prevailing such audits, there is a risk that CODL's ruling would classify all of our gig workers as employees and not independent contractors. Mitigation: We have engaged legal counsel who is confident that we will come out of the audit successfully.

One of our competitors such as care.com could change their business strategy to provide the matching in an on-demand fashion. Mitigation: Our business is predicated upon customer love and loyalty, and we plan on continuing with our focus on customer retention and brand loyalty.

Disintermediation; the risk of bookers and providers going off-platform and engaging in an ongoing relationship. Mitigation: We have built in a number of measures in our technology to make it advantageous for the bookers and providers to stay on our platform and not disintermediate.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing.

In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company assets or profits, and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its action.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team, The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company.

There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company. and thus, be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations for the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Board Of Directors, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Board Of Directors of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction. but such an opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

The Company may have the authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the investor, and create pressure in the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or on ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets.

Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's. initial investment in the Company

The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgment as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all the risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

On-demand marketplace connecting parents with trusted sitters and household help service providers.

Business Plan - The Company

The Company is committed to bringing the best user experience to its customers through its innovative on-demand marketplace that connects parents with trusted family-care providers.

History of the Business

The Company's Products and/or Services

Product / Service	Description	Current Market
-------------------	-------------	----------------

Call Emmy is a technology software platform that connects busy parents and institutions with high-quality, fully vetted service providers (sitters, caregivers, household helpers) on demand. Our core product is a platform-agnostic mobile-responsive web application that allows bookers to book providers for short-term, informal engagements (a/k/a babysitting, cleaning, chores, etc) using a simple on-demand interface. Payment is processed through the app, and Call Emmy collects a 30% commission on the total job that bookers pay. Our market consists of parents of children younger than 12 years of age and institutions who need to book informal service providers in an on-demand basis.

Competition

Our primary competitors are Care.com, UrbanSitter and SitterCity. Like us, they seek to address the informal childcare and household management market using internet-based technology. However, their platforms are discovery/registry platforms as opposed to our matching platform. Our secondary competitors are Bambino and other newer app-based, internet platforms that take a more tech-forward approach to the discovery/registry model, but still fall short of the full-service matching technology we offer.

While there are currently no competitors offering an on-demand matching product in the informal childcare space, we are aware that that can and likely will change in the future, making it important for us to advance our technology and grow our base of loyal users as quickly as possible.

Customer Base

We are a double-sided marketplace, so our customer base consists of two primary constituencies: bookers (parents and institutions) and caregivers. We approach customer acquisition and retention of our two customer bases separately.
