PROBLEM

Convenience stores are Stuck in the past

Did you know that the convenience store industry has the potential to make $654 billion ⁽¹⁾ in sales each year? That's a crazy amount of money! However, there are a few problems that are holding the industry back from reaching its full potential. Our team is working hard to tackle these issues and become the go-to solution for business owners and entrepreneurs.

✓ Lower costs

Lower costs across the board - less real estate, no construction, no staffing

✓ Flexible

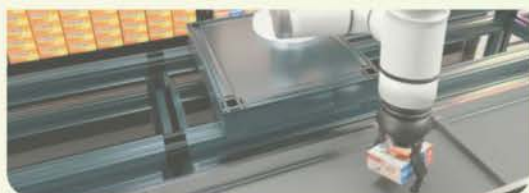

Our smart stores are flexible - they can fit in more places and be relocated easily

✓ 24/7 automation

24/7 automation is more convenient for customers and eliminates theft

✓ Fast

Customers can drive-through or order on the app and pick up their order in 1.5 minutes

The labor shortage slows hiring

Finding people to staff stores, especially for 24/7 stores, is getting harder and harder. Many tasks like restocking and inventory are labor intensive, which require more employees and drive up costs.

Shoplifting costs

retailers $100B⁽³⁾

Shoplifting and robberies are a constant threat for store owners. Losing money to theft is especially burdensome when margins are tight. And the risk of crime is a threat to employees and customers alike.

TRACTION

$44.8M in potential revenue lined up

The market is demanding our solution. We received deliver our for our smart stores after opening this deal to the public. That represents $44.8M in potential revenue. We aim to deliver our first Smart Stores in Q4 2024.

We are patenting the best solution for automating reality in the future.

Automation is a win-win. People are increasingly on the go and want quicker, cheaper, and more convenient solutions, while business owners want more sales and lower costs. Automation delivers, which is why companies from Nordstrom to Amazon are embracing it. We do it better.

No crowds

Customers don't have to search through aisles

Touchless experience

No manual restocking

Flexibility

Smaller retail footprint

Pharmacies

Electric & Gas Stations

Pet supply stores

convenience store industry's biggest problems

There are 152,000 convenience stores in the U.S. doing $654B in sales each year⁽⁴⁾. This is a huge market for us to disrupt.

Not only are our smart stores an upgrade over existing stores, but we lower the barrier to entry for new owners, making it easier to access this market's revenue potential.
