Invested $65,000 ⓘ

"Even before I was an investor in GOT BAG I was an evangelist for the brand. GOT BAG is more than a company—it's a paradigm shift in the sustainable goods marketplace, proving that a business can be both a force for positive environmental change and a model of profitability/scalability.

In my extensive experience within the e-commerce space, where I've engaged with powerhouses like The North Face, Nike, and Bulletproof, it's rare to encounter a brand like GOT BAG. It's very seldom that I meet brands that have amazing products/design...

Beyond Bags, Backpacks, and Accessories - Empowering Fashion through Eco-Revolution

ELEVATE YOUR STYLE. EMPOWER OUR OCEANS.

GOT BAG redefines fashion with a unique blend of style, sustainability, and social purpose with products crafted from recycled Ocean Impact Plastic™.

Based in the eco-friendly hub of Oregon, we found our home amid the stunning landscapes and green ethos of the Pacific Northwest. Inspired by the region's commitment to sustainability, our headquarters embody the spirit of environmental consciousness.

We're excited to extend an invitation to our community to join the Global Ocean Transformation. Invest in GOT BAG North America Inc. and be part of our operations spanning the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

The Problem.

"Every year, 11 million tons of plastic end up in our oceans, in addition to the estimated 200 million tons currently circulating in our marine environments.

The fashion industry alone contributes over one-third of all microplastics in oceans. Consumers are disheartened by the lack of genuine eco-friendly options and crave fashion that creates a positive environmental impact.

It's our collective responsibility to act, as we hold the power to make a significant impact and halt the pollution threatening our oceans."

What if we could align our approach to fashion with the demands of today's customers?

The Opportunity.

Seizing the Sustainable Wave: A Green Opportunity

The North American Luggage & Bag industry, valued at $34.58 billion in 2023, is projected to grow annually by 1.99% (CAGR 2023-2026).

Additionally, the sustainable fashion industry, currently at $6.5 billion, is set to rise to approximately $15 billion by 2030.

Generation Z, often seen as trendsetters, is particularly inclined toward eco-conscious products. Over 80% of Gen Z consumers believe that companies should help solve environmental problems.

GOT BAG is 100% committed to transparency and authenticity in its sustainability efforts.

In a thriving North American Luggage & Bag industry, the time is ripe for a fashion brand committed to true authenticity and transparency. Targeting trendsetting Gen Z consumers, we position ourselves as the trusted choice, uniquely poised to make a significant impact in the evolving landscape of eco-conscious travel fashion.

In an industry where authenticity matters, we stand out as the trusted choice for eco-conscious consumers, making a real impact where it counts.

The Solution.

After years of research and development, we introduced the world's first travel bags crafted from recycled Ocean Impact Plastic™, a pioneering achievement in sustainable design. We are a committed brand transforming plastic trash into contemporary, functional accessories, showcasing how fashion can be a catalyst for meaningful change.

With our groundbreaking cleanup operations in Indonesia, we've established a vertical supply chain, enabling us to make a tangible positive impact on the environment. Join us in empowering the fashion world with eco-revolution fabrics.

GOT BAG is a lifestyle travel brand on a mission to combat ocean plastic pollution seamlessly blending fashion with environmental responsibility.

Unique Mission: We aspire to provide genuinely sustainable alternatives in a market flooded with brands contributing to the problem rather than the solution.

Dual Identity: Unlike many self-proclaimed sustainable fashion brands, we're making a real impact

Eco-Fashion Pioneer: In a world where eco-conscious products are in demand, we not only meet this trend through our own cleanup operation in Indonesia.

but also offer a distinctive solution for those consumers.

Fashion Making an Impact - By the Numbers

Embarking on a global adventure, we've reached many notable milestones. Since our establishment in North America in 2021, our journey has been defined by substantial growth.

GOT BAG spans three continents, achieving over $20 million in global net revenue for 2023.

GOT BAG North America Inc. boasts a $3m revenue run rate and a 100%+ annual growth rate.

Over 100,000 backpacks sold online and to elite retailers like REI, Saks, Free People and many more!

Over 250% growth in valuation, doubling our current investors' unrealized returns in just 12 months.

Although we've achieved significant success, we know we're only scratching the surface of our potential. The North American market presents diverse distribution channels, and our exceptional performance, surpassing Q1 2024 forecasts by about 200%, positions us confidently for a promising year ahead.

mangrove forests, and coastal waterways!

Empowering communities and fishermen, we orchestrate daily clean-up operations, extracting thousands of pounds of plastic waste from the environment. In the past, this discarded plastic would end up either dumped or burned, with no purpose.

At GOT BAG, we believe in giving plastic a second chance. By compensating local communities for their cleanup endeavors, we transform trash into treasure. Our meticulous process involves cleaning the plastic, pelletizing it, converting it into yarn, and crafting it into fabric or components for our exquisite bags, backpacks, accessories, and luggage. Every purchase is a step towards protecting our oceans, as we contribute to their preservation one beautifully crafted bag at a time.

Proudly Certified, Committed to Impactful Change

Sometimes, awards and certificates say more than words ever could.

We've been fortunate to receive our fair share over the years, but there's one that truly stands out for us. As of June 2023, we're incredibly proud to announce that GOT BAG is now officially B-Corp certified. It's a testament to our ongoing commitment to making a positive social and environmental impact.

Our Market.

Who are our customers and how do they think/act?

- Our customer base spans two segments. The primary target includes Gen Z.

Our customer base spans two segments. The primary target includes Gen Z trendsetters and eco-conscious urban professionals in North America, tech-savvy and socially engaged, valuing sustainable and stylish accessories. Our secondary target comprises eco-conscious families and outdoor enthusiasts prioritizing safety, durability, and eco-friendly choices.

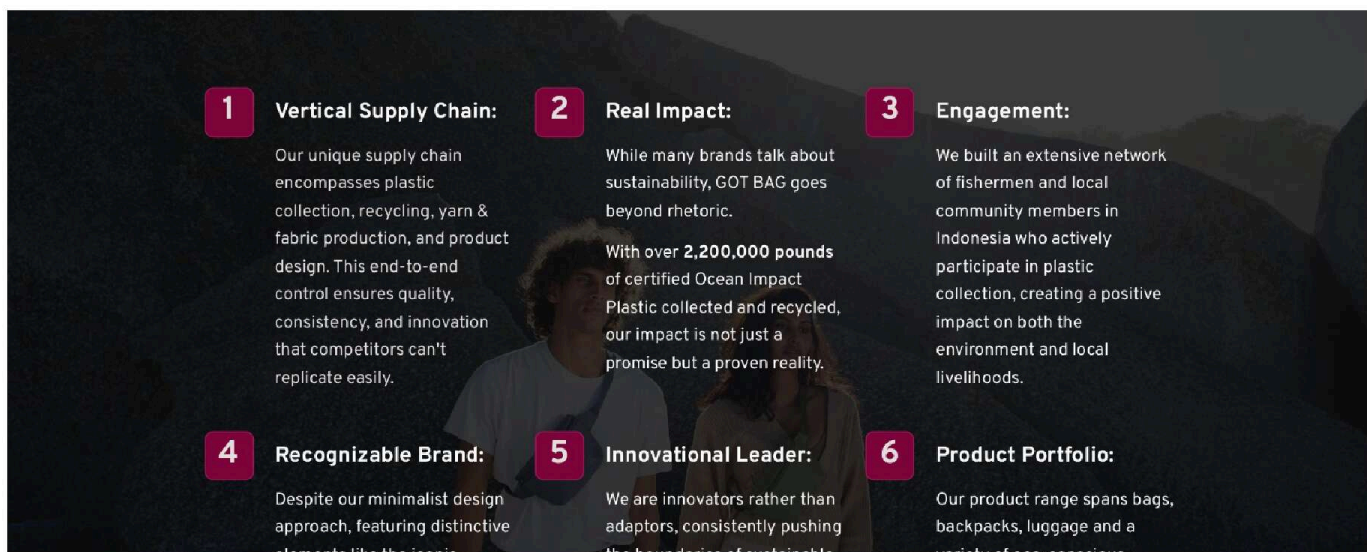

How big is the opportunity?

- The global luggage and bag industry, valued at $57.11 billion in 2023, is projected to grow by 1.99% annually. The sustainable fashion industry, at $6.5 billion, is expected to reach $15 billion by 2030. Our focus on North America, with its $40 billion market, aligns with industry growth. Our strategic positioning and innovative approach aim to capture a significant share of this market by appealing to diverse consumer preferences, and enhancing our market penetration and growth prospects.

Our Competitive Advantage.

At GOT BAG, we navigate the world of sustainable fashion with a unique compass, setting us apart from the sea of competitors. While others talk the talk, we walk the walk by not only offering eco-conscious products but also creating a positive impact with each purchase. Our bags aren't just stylish companions for your adventures; they're an ode to sustainability, meticulously crafted from recycled ocean plastic.

So, why choose us? We're not just in the business of making bags; we're on a mission to turn the tide on plastic pollution, and we invite you to be part of the journey.

What's the blueprint for our growth and path to success?

To chart our path to success, we prioritize strategic partnerships, both in retail and across industries, to expand our reach and enhance brand credibility. Our growth strategy includes exploring online platforms like Amazon, introducing new products, and fostering customer engagement for increased loyalty and referrals.

Sustainability is integral to our mission, and we transparently share our initiatives on social media to build trust. Internally, operational efficiency, talent acquisition, and data-driven decision-making are paramount. By optimizing processes, attracting top talent, and leveraging analytics, we position ourselves for sustained growth.

Investing in e-commerce, we aim to enhance the user experience with AI-driven recommendations, streamlined checkouts, and personalized promotions. This comprehensive approach ensures our brand’s long-term success and impact. The following slide contains forward projections that cannot be guaranteed.

How do we cut costs and increase margins?

To enhance cost efficiency and increase margins, we strategically optimize our supply chains and leverage synergies with GOT BAG Europe. By relocating production outside of China, we immediately reduce duties and eliminate penalty tariffs, significantly boosting our profit margins. Efficient full container shipments to our Las Vegas warehouse further reduce COGS, enhancing overall profitability. Accelerating direct-to-consumer (D2C) sales, investing in new e-commerce initiatives, and collaborating on research and development with GOT BAG Europe all contribute to maximizing our margins. Joint procurement and shared manufacturing spaces provide bulk purchasing advantages and streamline production, cutting overhead and operational costs. Leveraging GOT BAG Europe's logistics network and collaborating on marketing efforts amplify our reach while minimizing expenses.

As we grow together, economies of scale lead to lower average costs, reducing unit costs across operations. Additionally, centralized administrative functions with GOT BAG Europe optimize overhead expenses, ensuring cost-effectiveness in shared administration.

Navigating Growth Challenges: Our Strategic Path Forward

- What's preventing us from growing even faster?
- How will raising money solve this problem?

What's preventing us from growing even faster?

Our growth potential faces challenges such as limited funding, hindering crucial investments and impeding expansion plans. Establishing our brand in new markets requires consistent efforts for brand recognition and consumer trust-building. Economic fluctuations and shifting consumer spending patterns present challenges in demand predictions and necessitate adaptive marketing strategies. Fierce competition in established markets demands innovative strategies to carve a unique space and attract consumers. Global events and logistics challenges disrupt the supply chain, affecting inventory levels and product availability. Recruiting and retaining skilled professionals is essential for operational efficiency, posing challenges within limited budget constraints.

Additionally, trade tensions and geopolitical events impact consumer confidence, influencing market stability and purchasing behavior. Addressing these challenges strategically is crucial for unlocking our full growth potential.

How will raising money solve this problem?

Securing funding is instrumental in overcoming challenges and driving strategic growth, providing the means to innovate, expand, and stay agile in a dynamic market landscape. Increased investment empowers impactful online and in-store marketing campaigns, expanding brand visibility and attracting a wider customer base. Adequate capital facilitates strategic entries into diverse markets such as college bookstores, corporate branding, and active lifestyle segments, creating fresh revenue streams and reducing dependency risks. Furthermore, it enables the attraction of top talent, fostering innovation, superior customer service, and overall business growth. Resources derived from funding support mutually beneficial collaborations with brands and organizations, amplifying reach and enhancing consumer bases through strategic partnerships. Allocating funds to participate in key trade shows provides networking opportunities and product showcases, boosting brand visibility and market penetration. Financial flexibility ensures swift adaptation to emerging market trends, positioning the company as an industry leader.
