Recognition:

Christopher's Bakery & Comfort Foods LLC's owner, Courtenay Harris, has a long history with baked goods. His father, a teacher by day, would often bake his secret-recipe Vanilla Wafer Cake at night to give to friends. Courtenay's younger brother, Christopher, loved to taste the batter before it went into the oven. More than that, Christopher loved the noises his father made when he would attempt to crush Vanilla Wafers by beating them with a rolling pin! Unfortunately, days after Christopher's birth he was diagnosed as hydrocephalic (fluid on the brain) and one side effect of his diagnosis was epilepsy. Despite all of the amazing work that Miami Children's Hospital did, Christopher passed away in 2003. Christopher's Bakery is a way to honor Courtenay's brother by offering something to the world that he, himself, loved so much.
