Industry

Coffee continues to thrive as one of the most consumed beverages globally. One notable trend in the coffee market is the growing demand for specialty coffee. Consumers are seeking unique and high-quality coffee experiences while exploring various flavor profiles.

The global specialty coffee market size is estimated to grow from $52 billion in 2021 to $155 billion in 2030. The coffee market is expected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 11.3% from 2023 to 2030 (Grand View Research). According to Business Wire - North American 2022 Coffee Report, the North American coffee market is projected to register a CAGR of 5.9% during the forecast period (2022-2027).

According to Statista, in the state of Georgia, revenue in the coffee market is expected to amount to $92 million in 2023. The coffee market in Georgia is expected to grow annually by 4.98% (CAGR 2023-2028). There are over 8,000 coffee shops in the state of Georgia and over 190 coffee shops in the city of Atlanta. Atlanta's diverse and growing population means varying consumer preferences, including a demand for specialty coffees, organic options, and unique flavor profiles. The Black Coffee Company is well positioned to capitalize on the growth with our specialty coffee in varied forms, organic food options, and the addition of mobile coffee truck/cart.

Current Stage

We currently operate Black Coffee Atlanta (our flagship coffee shop) in Atlanta, GA. Black Coffee Atlanta sells specialty espresso based beverages, hot and cold brewed coffee, hot and iced tea, fresh pastries, healthy breakfast items, coffee bean, loose leaf tea, and branded merchandise. We also sell our coffee, tea, and branded merchandise online at www.theblackcoffeecompany.com.

Future Roadmap

We plan to increase our sales through retail distribution, marketing, and the addition of our mobile coffee truck/cart. The mobile coffee/truck will enable us to capitalize on festivals, farmer's markets, and other events within the greater Atlanta area. We also plan to bring innovation to market in new varieties and package forms.

Projected revenue for 2023 and 2024 are $400,000 and $520,000, respectively.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

The Securities are not equity interests, and Investors have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company's assets or profits, and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company of its actions.

The SEC requires the company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

These are the risks that relate to the Company:

Uncertain Risk

An investment in the Company (also referred to as "we", "us", "our", or "Company") involves a high degree of risk and should only be considered by those who can afford the loss of their entire investment. Furthermore, the purchase of any of the common stock should only be undertaken by persons whose financial resources are sufficient to enable them to indefinitely retain an illiquid investment. Each investor in the Company should consider all of the information provided to such potential investors regarding the Company as well as the following risk factors, in addition to the other information listed in the Company's Form C. The following risk factors are not intended, and shall not be deemed to be, a complete description of the commercial and other risks inherent in the investment in the Company.

Financial Projections

Our business financial projections are only projections.

In terms of revenue, it could be that our financial projections are not accurate or that it takes longer (if at all) to meet projections. If this is the case, our investors may experience a lengthy period on their rate of return or lack of return that is well below that of other investment opportunities. We are a start-up company with historical revenues to date. It is important to note, that while repayment dates are structured as quarterly, the repayment amount is not necessarily a fixed amortization schedule. Rather, the repayment is structured as 10% gross revenue until repayment amount is paid.

There can be no assurance that the Company will meet our projections. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to find sufficient demand for our product, that people think it's a better option than a competing product, or that we will be able to provide the service at a level that allows the Company to make a profit and still attract business.

Stipulations On Investments

Any valuation at this stage is difficult to assess. Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment. The transferability of the Securities you are buying is limited.

Any investment through this crowdfunding campaign is subject to SEC limitations of transfer. This means that the stock/note that you purchase cannot be resold for a period of one year. The exception to this rule is if you are transferring the stock/note back to the Company, to an "accredited investor," as part of an offering registered with the Commission, to a member of your family, trust created for the benefit of your family, or in connection with your death or divorce. Your investment could be illiquid for a long time. You should be prepared to hold this investment for several years or longer. For the 12 months following your investment, there will be restrictions on how you can resell the securities you receive. More importantly, there is no established market for these securities, and there may never be one. As a result, if you decide to sell these securities in the future, you may not be able to find a buyer. The Company may be acquired by an existing player in the coffee industry. However, that may never happen, or it may happen at a price that results in you losing money on this investment.

The Company is offering revenue sharing loan in the amount of up to $100,000.00 in this offering, and may close on any investments that are made. Even if the maximum amount is raised, the Company is likely to need additional funds in the future in order to grow, and if it cannot raise those funds for whatever reason, including reasons relating to the Company itself or the broader economy, it may not survive. If the Company manages to raise only the minimum amount of funds sought, it will have to find other sources of funding for some of the plans outlined in "Use of Proceeds." We may not have enough capital as needed and may be required to raise more capital. We anticipate needing access to credit in order to support our working capital requirements as we grow. Although interest rates are low, it is still a difficult environment for obtaining credit on favorable terms. If we cannot obtain credit when we need it, we could be forced to raise additional capital, modify our growth plans, or take some other action. Issuing more investments may require bringing on additional investors. Securing these additional investors could require pricing our investment below its current price. If so, your investment could lose value as a result of this additional dilution. If we are unable to find additional investors willing to provide capital, then it is possible that we will choose to cease our sales activity. In that case, the only asset remaining to generate a return on your investment could be our intellectual property. Even if we are not forced to cease our sales activity, the unavailability of credit could result in the Company performing below expectations, which could adversely impact the value of your investment.

Limited Operating History

We have limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters. We were incorporated under the laws of Georgia on September 15, 2020. Accordingly, we have no history upon which an evaluation of our prospects and future performance can be made. Our proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with a new enterprise. The likelihood of our creation of a viable business must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the inception of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions, and a corresponding client base. We anticipate that our operating expenses will increase for the near future. There can be no assurances that we will ever operate profitably. You should consider the Company's business, operations and prospects in light of the risks, expenses and challenges faced as an early-stage company.

Subject To Indeterminable Taxes

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in the U.S.

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income based taxes and accruals and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

Not Subjected to Sarbanes-Oxley Regulations

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

Changes to Employment Laws Could Harm Performance

Changes in employment laws or regulation could harm our performance. Various federal and state labor laws govern our relationship with our employees and affect operating costs. These laws include minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, unemployment tax rates, workers' compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership and sales taxes. A number of factors could adversely affect our operating results, including additional government-imposed increases in minimum wages, overtime pay, paid leaves of absence and mandated health benefits, mandated training for employees, increased tax reporting and tax payment changing regulations from the National Labor Relations Board and increased employee litigation including claims relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Health Epidemics & Outbreaks

The Company's business operations may be materially adversely affected by a pandemic such as the Coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak.

In December 2019, a novel strain of coronavirus was reported to have surfaced in Wuhan, China, which spread throughout other parts of the world, including the United States. On January 30, 2020, the World Health Organization declared the outbreak of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) a "Public Health Emergency of International Concern." On January 31, 2020, U.S. Health and Human Services Secretary Alex M. Azar II declared a public health emergency for the United States to aid the U.S. healthcare community in responding to COVID-19, and on March 11, 2020 the World Health Organization characterized the outbreak as a "pandemic." COVID-19 resulted in a widespread health crisis that adversely affected the economies and financial markets worldwide. The Company's business could be materially and adversely affected. The extent to which COVID-19 impacts the Company's business will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of COVID-19 and the actions to contain COVID-19 or treat its impact, among others. If the disruptions posed by COVID-19 or other matters of global concern continue for an extended period of time, the Company's operations may be materially adversely affected.

We face risks related to health epidemics and other outbreaks, which could significantly disrupt the Company's operations and could have a material adverse impact on us.

The outbreak of pandemics and epidemics could materially and adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, and results of operations. If a pandemic occurs in areas in which we have material operations or sales, the Company's business activities originating from affected areas, including sales, materials, and supply chain related activities, could be adversely affected. Disruptive activities could include the temporary closure of facilities used in the Company's supply chain processes, restrictions on the export or shipment of products necessary to run the Company's business, business closures in impacted areas, and restrictions on the Company's employees' or consultants' ability to travel and to meet with customers, vendors or other business relationships. The extent to which a pandemic or other health outbreak impacts the Company's results will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of a virus and the actions to contain it or treat its impact, among others. Pandemics can also result in social, economic, and labor instability which may adversely impact the Company's business.

If the Company's employees or employees of any of the Company's vendors, suppliers or customers become ill or are quarantined and in either or both events are therefore unable to work, the Company's operations could be subject to disruption. The extent to which a pandemic affects the Company's results will depend on future developments that are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted.

Competition

We face competition with respect to our key products that we seek to develop or commercialize in the future. Our competitors include Stumptown Coffee, and Black Rifle Coffee Company. Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and human resources and superior expertise in research and development and marketing specialty coffee. These competitors may also in the future compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, our competitors may commercialize products more rapidly or effectively than we are able to, which would adversely affect our competitive position, the likelihood that our products will achieve initial market acceptance and our ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from our products.

Company Dependence on Co-Founders

As a startup organization, the company is still very dependent on its co-founders. If anything catastrophic were to happen to the company's founding team, the future of the company may be compromised. The Founder/ CEO Jamin Butler works full time for California State University in addition to his role at Black Coffee Company. Co-founder Leonard Lightfoot works for the Department of Defense in addition to his responsibilities at Black Coffee Company. Each of these obligations may result in diminished time being committed to Black Coffee Company and potentially impact company performance.

Reliance On 3rd Party Suppliers

We rely on third party coffee suppliers and coffee roasters for our coffee. We currently rely on one coffee roaster for the majority of our coffee. If we are unable to maintain our relationship with this coffee roaster, our business could be significantly harmed. Furthermore, if our roaster were to experience any problems in its business, particularly in connection with its ability to source, roast, or ship products, our ability to produce and sell coffee could also be significantly harmed. To reduce risk, co-founder Leonard Lightfoot began learning the craft of roasting coffee in Dec. 2021 and is providing 15% of the roasted coffee we serve and sell. Our future plans entail developing an in-house roasting facility.

Reliance On Technology Vendors

The Company relies on Wix for hosting our website and other third party technology vendors such as Stripe, Clover, Square, Google, Apple, Quickbooks, and Paypal for payments and financial services. Any interruption in the availability of these services could have material negative impact on our ability to deliver service to users, as well as the profitability of these operations. Interruptions could occur due to both Internet outages as well as policy changes or terms violations according to these third parties. The prospect of increased regulation and/or Internet censorship may create access challenges to our users and service offerings.

As we grow our customer base and scale to thousands of users, our website's infrastructure as it relates to storage space, bandwidth, processing ability, speed and other factors may begin to deteriorate or fail completely. This may result in deteriorating user experience, system failures or system outages for continued periods of time. If we are unable to resolve any technical glitch, our business and financial conditions could suffer.

Increased Information Technology (IT) Threats

Increased IT security threats and more sophisticated cyber crime pose a potential risk to the security of our IT systems, networks, and services, as well as the confidentiality, availability, and integrity of our data. If the IT systems, networks, or service providers we rely upon fail to function properly, or if we suffer a loss or disclosure of business or other sensitive information, due to any number of causes, ranging from catastrophic events to power outages to security breaches, and our business continuity plans do not effectively address these failures on a timely basis, we may suffer interruptions in our ability to manage operations and reputational, competitive and/or business harm, which may adversely affect our business operations and/or financial condition. In addition, such events could result in unauthorized disclosure of material confidential information, and we may suffer financial and reputational damage because of lost or misappropriated confidential information belonging to us or to our partners, our employees, customers, suppliers or consumers. In any of these events, we could also be required to spend significant financial and other resources to remedy the damage caused by a security breach or to repair or replace networks and IT systems. The trend toward public notifications of such incidents could exacerbate the harm to our business operations or financial condition.

Future Government Regulations

We may be subject to future governmental regulations. Aspects of our business and our products may be regulated at the local, state, and federal levels. Our products may be subject to state, local and Federal environmental laws and regulations, including those relating to the handling and storage of hazardous materials. We and our products may also be subject to significant governmental regulation relating to labor conditions, safety in the workplace, healthcare and other human resource issues. The nature and scope of future legislation, regulations and programs cannot be predicted. While we anticipate that we and our products will be in compliance with all applicable governmental regulations, there still may be risks that such laws and regulations may change with respect to present or future operations. Such additional costs would increase the cost of investments and operations and decrease the demand for products and services. We and our products will be ultimately responsible for compliance with such regulations and for obtaining and maintaining all required permits and licenses. Such compliance may be time consuming and costly, and such expenses may materially affect our future ability to break even or generate profits.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in the US. Changes in employment laws or regulation could harm our performance.

Any Defects In Products

Any defects in the products we source or manufacture, whether caused by a design, manufacturing or component failure or error, may result in returns, claims, delayed shipments to customers or reduced or canceled customer orders. If these defects occur, we will incur additional costs and if in large quantities or too frequent, we may sustain loss of business, loss of reputation and may incur liability.

Volatility In Cost Of Raw Materials

An increase in the cost of raw materials (coffee beans, packaging materials) or energy could affect the Company's profitability. Commodity and other price changes may result in unexpected increases in the cost of raw materials, and other packaging materials used by the Company. The Company may also be adversely affected by shortages of raw materials or packaging materials. In addition, energy cost increases could result in higher transportation, freight and other operating costs. The Company may not be able to increase its prices to offset these increased costs without suffering reduced volume, sales and operating profit, and this could have an adverse effect on your investment.

Coffee prices can be influenced by global factors, such as weather conditions affecting coffee bean production.

Particular dependence on supply of higher-priced Arabic beans (specialty/premium coffee) – as imported mostly from developing countries, price varies along with the economical and political situation of the export country. Dairy products, whose retail prices vary a lot, are used for specialty drinks.

Mission Driven Company

The Company is a mission driven business that is focused on providing a product that is both safe and environmentally-friendly. As a result, the Company may make decisions based on considerations other than strictly maximizing short-term profit and may initially result in high product costs. Additionally, the Company is committed to donating net profits to non-profits. These decisions will likely reduce the amount of revenue available to the Company to operate and grow, and ultimately to return to investors, which may further increase the riskiness of the investment and potential loss of any investment.

Unable To Recruit Key Personnel

The success of the Company will depend on its ability to compete for and retain additional qualified key personnel to enhance the growth. The Company's business would be adversely affected if it were unable to recruit qualified personnel when necessary or if it were to lose the services of certain key personnel and it were unable to locate suitable replacements in a timely manner. Finding and hiring such replacements, if any, could be costly and might require the Company to grant significant equity awards or incentive compensation, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial results and on your investment. The loss, through untimely death, unwillingness to continue or otherwise, of any such persons could have a materially adverse effect on the Company and its business.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights?

No.

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

Yes there are limitations. Investors hold no voting rights in the company.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

Any provision of this instrument (other than the Repayment Amount) may be amended, waived or modified as follows: upon the written consent of the Borrower the holders of a majority in principal of the Loan Amounts raised in this offering.

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

The Company is an LLC with no issued units.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The investor holds no voting rights in the company. Holders of a majority-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's right in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offering (including potentially a public offering). These decisions could affect net revenues and diminish payments made to investors.

Based on the risk the company may never realize revenues or face of Default Event, the Investor may never see any returns.

Additional risk related to the rights of other security holders are discussed in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the unit holders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the net revenues of the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interest may conflict with those of other investors and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the unit holders may change the terms of the Operating Agreement for the Company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The unit holders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decision regarding the securities he or she owns.

The unit holders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Unit holders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability.

Based on the risks described above, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

The value of the promissory notes will be determined by the Company's senior management in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. For example, the notes may be valued based on principal plus anticipated interest payments over the course of the term of the note.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An investor in the promissory note holds no position in the Company and will have no voting rights in the Company, and thus will be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional insurances of securities:

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment or the lack of an opportunity to make a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities

The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from unit holders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the investor, and create pressure on the investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer

As a minority owner of the Company, the investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for unit holders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company. If the management of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties

The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgment as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its unit holders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

27. Does the issuer have an operating history?

28. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of our operations together with our financial statements and related notes appearing at the end of this Offering Memorandum. This discussion contains forward- looking statements reflecting our current expectations that involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results and the timing of events may differ materially from those contained in these forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including those discussed in the section entitled "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this Offering Memorandum.

Results of Operations:

Circumstances which led to the performance of financial statements:

Revenue

Revenue for the fiscal year in 2021 was $74,212 and increased to $277,566 in 2022. The revenue growth came from increasing the operational hours of Black Coffee Atlanta and increasing the products and services offering. There was also the onboarding of wholesale partners that contributed to the revenue growth.

Cost of sales

The cost of goods sold in 2022 was $76,083, an increase of $51,161 from 2021 when the cost of sales was $24,922.

Gross margins

2022 gross profit increased by $152,193 over 2021 gross profit and gross margins as a percentage of revenues increased from 66% in 2021 to 72% in 2022. This increase in margin was caused by the introduction of products and services (catering, private events, wholesale).

Expenses

The Company's expenses consist of, among other things, payroll, marketing and sales expenses, fees for professional services, facilities expenses, insurance expenses, and office expenses. Expenses in 2022 increased by $221,064 from 2021. The increase in expenses in 2022 are due to Black Coffee Atlanta increasing its operational hours and purchasing additional coffee equipment. Additionally, approximately $100,000 of this increase in expenses was due to increased payroll costs used to ramp up staffing in the coffee shop.

Historical results and cash flows:

The Company is currently in the accelerated growth stage. We are recipients of the BeyGOOD Foundation (founded by Beyonce), Amazon and InvestATL grants. We have been featured in 11Alive News (NBC News Affiliate), ATL Voice, and the Real Housewives of Atlanta. We are of the opinion that the historical cash flows will be indicative of the revenue and cash flows expected for the future, but at a slightly lower rate because of the investments we have made and plan to make in business growth and the addition of mobile coffee sales into our business model. Past cash was primarily generated through sales of coffee and merchandise through our flagship coffee shop (Black Coffee Atlanta). Our goal is to raise funds to continue to fuel growth and achieve sales of between $750K and $1.2M by the end of 2024. This growth will be driven by increased direct-to-consumer sales, wholesale sales and media revenue, as well as licensing fees related to our branding.

Liquidity and Capital Resources:

As of October 1, 2023, the Company has capital resources available in the form of credit cards limit of $17,000 and cash on hand of about $5,000. Additionally, we have an outstanding merchant loan in the amount of $673.30 from First Data Merchant Services.

We believe the funds of this campaign are critical to our company operations. These funds will be used to further expand sales, support sales growth, create a more optimal capital structure, diversify revenue streams and gain greater market penetration.

We believe the funds from this campaign are necessary to the viability of the Company. Of the total funds that our Company has, 50 percent will be made up of funds raised from this crowdfunding campaign, when we raise our maximum funding goal.

If Black Coffee Company raises the minimum offering amount, we anticipate that we can operate for approximately six months. This is based on a current burn rate of about $20,000 per month for expenses related to coffee equipment acquisition, salaries that support the growth of the company, and additional marketing and operations-related expenses.

If the Company raises the maximum offering amount, we anticipate the Company will be able to operate for 18 months. This is based on a current burn rate of about $20,000 per month for expenses related to coffee equipment acquisition, salaries that support the growth of the company, and additional marketing and operations-related expenses.

Currently, the Company has not contemplated additional future sources of capital.

In the event that the Company is obligated to repay the Notes and does not have sufficient funds to repay all the Notes in full, payment shall be made to the holders of the Notes on a pro rata basis. The preceding sentence shall not, however, relieve the Company of its obligations to the Lender hereunder.
- 11. Waiver. Borrower waives presentment and demand for payment, notice of dishonor, protest and notice of protest of this Note, and shall pay all costs of collection when incurred, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs and other expenses. The right to plead any and all statutes of limitations as a defense to any demands hereunder is hereby waived to the full extent permitted by law.
- 12. Amendments. Any provision of this instrument (other than the Repayment Amount) may be amended, waived or modified as follows: upon the written consent of the Borrower the holders of a majority in principal of the Repayment Amounts of all Notes.
- 13. We invest in people and ideas that boldly push our society forward, while staying true to the legacy we stand upon. Our raw values are Entrepreneurship, Financial Freedom, and Community Empowerment.

Black Coffee Atlanta (flagship coffee shop) opened its doors on Juneteenth 6/19/21 and has become a hub for entrepreneurs, creatives, and the local community. We have partnered with multiple community-based organizations, federal/state/city officials, and not-for-profit organizations to provide mentoring resources and support for multiple community projects.

Our in-demand coffee shop and event space is over 2,000 sq ft, has a huge parking lot, delicious drinks, and an amazing vibe. Our coffee shop address is 1800 Jonesboro Rd. SE. Atlanta, GA 30315. We invite vendors to come and set up tables to showcase their products and services, and to help build their business.

Black Coffee Company sources all of their coffee beans from fair trade, single-source farms from across the globe. Currently we have coffee from Ethiopia, Kenya, Brazil, Costa Rica and Peru. We roast our coffee medium to dark.
