NOTES TO STATEMENTS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION
December 31, 2021

Note 1 – Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

Harold W. Dance, Inc. DBA Harold Dance Investments (the “Company”) is a Registered Investment Advisor (“RIA”) and broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”). The Company is a Utah Corporation conducting business primarily in Northern Utah. The Company offers investment advisory services and agency transactions in mutual funds and annuities.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company’s cash balances maintained with banks are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $250,000. The Company’s account balances maintained with brokerage firms are insured up to $500,000 by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation with a limit of $250,000 for cash. The Company’s mutual fund investments are concentrated within a few large fund groups. The Company reviews, as necessary, the financial standing of these funds. The Company has not experienced any credit losses in such accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

The Company sells mutual funds for various mutual fund companies for which services the Company receives commission payments. In the event these mutual fund companies do not fulfill their commission payment obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. It is the Company’s policy to review, as necessary, the financial condition of these mutual fund companies.

Securities Owned

The Company classifies its securities owned as “available for sale.” Securities classified as “available for sale” are carried in the financial statements at fair value. Realized and unrealized gains and losses, determined using the specific identification method, are included in operations.

Fees Receivable

Fees receivable are amounts due from mutual fund and variable annuity companies for distribution services and amounts due from clients for investment advisory services. Fees receivable are unsecured and are carried at their estimated collectible amounts. No provision for losses on fees receivable exists based on past historical experience, with the mutual fund and variable annuity companies and with clients, combined with current information from those companies and clients. Management believes that the historical loss information is a reasonable base on which to determine expected credit losses because the nature of those receivables (i.e., the risk characteristics of its vendors have not changed significantly over time).

Equipment

Items capitalized as equipment are carried at cost. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of 3 to 7 years. The cost of property disposed of and related accumulated depreciation is removed from the accounts at the time of disposal, and gain or loss is credited or charged to operations.

Leases

Operating lease right-of-use (ROU) asset represents the Company's right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liability represents the Company's obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. Operating lease ROU asset and lease liability are recognized at commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. If a leasing arrangement does not provide an implicit rate, the Company's incremental borrowing rate is used based on the information available at commencement date in determining the present value of lease payments. The operating lease ROU asset also includes any lease payments made and excludes lease incentives. Lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the Company will exercise that option. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. For operating leases with a term of one year or less, the Company does not recognize a lease liability or ROU asset on the financial statements.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

Application of Accounting Standards

In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-13, “Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326),” which changes the impairment model for most financial instruments. Prior guidance required the recognition of credit losses based on an incurred loss impairment methodology that reflects losses once the losses are probable. The new standard requires the use of a current expected credit loss model to immediately recognize an estimate of credit losses that are expected to occur over the life of the financial instruments that are in the scope of this update, including trade receivables. The standard does not prescribe a specific method to make an estimate, so the application requires judgement and should consider historical information, current information, and reasonable and supportable forecasts, and includes estimates of prepayment.

There were no other new accounting pronouncements relevant for the year ended December 31, 2021 that we believe would have a material impact on our financial position or results of operations

Note 2 – Restricted Cash

The Company has established a special reserve bank account for the benefit of customers under Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Company maintained a minimum balance in the account of $4,000.

Note 3- Fees Receivable

During the year ended December 31, 2021 the Company had $254,726 receivable from mutual fund and variable annuity companies for distribution services and amounts due from clients for investment advisory services.

	2021

Note 5 – Fair Value Measurements

The Company's investments are reported at fair value in the accompanying statements of financial position. The methods used to measure fair value may produce an amount that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Company believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The Company follows a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The Company uses the following valuation techniques to measure fair value for its assets and liabilities:

Level 1 – Quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 – Significant other observable inputs (e.g. quoted prices for similar items in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar items in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable such as interest rate and yield curves, and market-corroborated inputs);

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, which are valued based on management's estimates of assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability.

The following tables provide financial assets carried at fair value:

		December 31, 2021
		Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Fair value hierarchy:
Mutual funds - balanced	$	252,063	-	-	252,063
Money market funds		20,596	-	-	20,596
Investments at fair value				$	272,659

The fair value of the mutual funds and money market funds is based on the quoted net asset value or unit cost of the shares held by the Company at year-end.

Note 6 – Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital, and also requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital shall not exceed 15 to 1. For 2021 the Company's minimum net capital requirement was $25,000. At December 31, 2021, the Company had net capital of $374,431, which was $349,431 in excess of its required net capital of $25,000. The Company's net capital ratio was 0.091 to 1.

Note 7 – Subsequent Events

The Company evaluated its December 31, 2021, statements of financial condition for subsequent events through the date the financial statements were issued. The Company is not aware of any subsequent events which would require recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.
