Summary

Welcome to my LinkedIn profile! I'm one of the founders of Novella AI, a trailblazing software company revolutionizing the post-production landscape. With a decade of experience as a Production & Operations Manager for major music venues, I've honed a keen eye for detail and a relentless drive for excellence.

My passion for creating unforgettable experiences led me into the world of post-production, where I've spent over eight years pushing the boundaries of what's possible. At Novella AI, we're on a mission to empower post-production teams with cutting-edge tools that streamline workflows and elevate creative output.

As a results-driven leader, I'm committed to fostering innovation and building a culture of continuous improvement. Our software is designed to save time, reduce costs, and deliver exceptional results. Whether you're a seasoned industry veteran or just starting out, I'm excited to connect with like-minded professionals who share our vision for the future of post-production. Let's create something extraordinary together.
