Stefan Avalos

President at GlitchyCard LLC
Los Angeles, California, United States

Summary

I am a motion picture and television writer, director, producer and editor. As a writer/director, my feature film work includes, "Strad Style", "The Last Broadcast", "The Money Game" and "The Ghosts of Edendale".

Currently producing the feature, ATM Boy.

I am a member of the Producers Guild of America.

I am well versed in all aspects of movie production, post production and distribution, having over twenty five years of professional experience.

I frequently write for print and electronic media regarding various areas of the entertainment business. My articles range from the technical to the business aspects of movie production.

I am the owner of Caveman Post, a boutique post production facility focused primarily on Visual Effects.

I am involved in VR development and AI/Machine learning applied to VFX. I have built specialized High-pixel count camera systems for VR and other purposes.
