"As the lead investor in CareerGenie, I am thrilled to be part of a venture that addresses a fundamental aspect of our lives: our careers. Having experienced multiple career transitions myself, I recognize the challenges that job seekers face in navigating today's rapidly evolving job market. Founder and CEO Abhy's journey resonates deeply with me, as he has not only identified a common problem but has also dedicated years to crafting a solution that empowers individuals to find fulfilling career paths. Through personalized support and leveraging data-driven insights, CareerGenie is revolutionizing the job search process, making it both scalable and affordable. The impact-driven team behind CareerGenie, coupled with Abhy's firsthand experience in guiding thousands of students and alumni through their career journeys, instills confidence in the potential of this venture to transform the way we approach career development. I am investing in CareerGenie because I believe in its mission to democratize access to career guidance and empower individuals to achieve their professional aspirations. I am also investing because I have had the privilege to study and work with Abhy and I know from first hand about his dedication, skills and most importantly passion for this topic. I am also sure of his leadership and human skills that will be able to inspire his team to make this dream a real success. Join me in supporting this innovative solution that has the power to reshape the future of work for countless individuals.”

Our Story

Our careers make up almost a third of our entire life's journey. Most of us define our contribution to the society and take many of our life's decisions around our careers. Yet, not all of us have access to the tools & knowledge needed to explore the evolving possibilities within the world of work and find our space to build a fulfilling career.

After going through 4 career changes himself and helping many colleagues & classmates through their career journeys, our founder & CEO, Abhy, noticed a common problem faced by job seekers. The whole process of job search is boring, disconnected from the rapidly changing demands of the job-market and gets demotivating very easily as rejections start piling up.

This pushed Abhy to spend the next 5 years working as the Head of Technology Careers at the university & business school he graduated from, where he helped 1000s of students & alumni navigate their career journeys and 100s of employers hire emerging talent. He realized first-hand that given access to personalized advice & regular support, job seekers achieve much better career outcomes as well as better satisfaction from the jobs they choose.

However, such personalized support was only available in a one-on-one setting, and was not scalable or affordable to all job seekers.

Abhy's data-senses started tingling and he started testing prototypes of how personalized support can be made scalable using job-market data-driven career pathways that adapt to a job-seeker's skills & interests.

After feedback from 1000s of job seekers and assembling a team of impact-driven rockstars, CareerGenie came to life!

team of impact driven rockstars, CareerGenie came to me.
