Romil Patel

Head of Strategy & Operations
New York, New York, United States

Summary

Romil is head strategy and operations at Erithmitic, a VC-backed alternative asset manager.

At Erithmitic, Romil leads the strategic planning and execution for fundraising, product development and company growth initiatives. Prior to Erithmitic, Romil served as Chief of Staff at Bridgeton (parent company of Erithmitic), a real estate platform investing, developing and operating exceptional hospitality/office experiences and investing in technology ventures that intersect with the physical world.

Prior to focusing his career in real estate and fintech, Romil was an early-stage VC investor and startup operator across businesses that excited him (B2B marketplaces, medical devices, health-tech and consumer goods)!

Romil graduated from the George Washington University with a biomedical engineering degree, cum laude, and a Master of Engineering Management degree from Dartmouth College.
