

A Comedy from the Mind of Preston Garcia

Room For Rent

When twenty-something siblings Cooper and Lauryn Driftman inherit their grandma's house, they think they're living on Easy Street, but when they have to rent out their spare room to a rotating cast of crazy tenants, they learn that making ends meet is anything but ...

Project Description

Cooper (PRESTON GARCIA) and Lauren (MITSY SANDERSON) are founding twenty-something siblings, poster children of the frustrated malaise of their generation. So when they inherit their grandmother's house, they're sure they've hit the jackpot. Unfortunately, their inheritance comes burdened with huge costs that put them at risk of losing the house before they've even settled in. In need of fast cash, they create an illegal scheme to rent their spare room to a rotating cast of short-term tenants, each of whom seems to get them into increasingly better water. Along with their childhood best friend, Jay (LONNIE MARTS IV), Cooper and Lauren navigate becoming landlords, trying not to kill each other, and getting their shit together long enough to achieve the dream lives that Grandma believed they deserved all along. ROOM FOR RENT is an anthology-style series, each episode driven by different tenants who cycle through the house each week, creating more drama for Cooper and Lauren's already chaotic life.
