3. Your inventory levels at December 31, 2010 and June 30, 2011 appear high compared to sales for the twelve months ended December 31, 2010 and the six months ended June 30, 2011. Please clarify in the filing how you determine valuation accounts for inventory and why you believe your inventory is recoverable at each period end. In this regard, if your products have shelf lives, please elaborate on the shelf lives and how it affects your valuation accounts and obsolescence.
4. Please clarify why the revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2011 increased $526,031 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2010. Specify how much of the increased related to price vs. volume and how many new products were offered that contributed to the increase.
