Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
Note 4 – Loans and Allowance for Loan Losses

1. We note your response to comments 3 and 4 regarding the allowance for loan loss methodology. In order to better understand how your quantitative historical data supports the look back period for both your commercial and consumer loan portfolios please provide the following:
 - In tabular format, a schedule which details net charge-offs broken down for each class of financing receivable within each of the two loan portfolio segments (commercial and consumer) for each of the last five fiscal periods and interim period of 2011. In your response, you should also clearly explain how this quantitative data, along with the other factors you considered, supports the use of a 20-quarter rolling
