MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

Stagnant Versus Volatile

The first half of 2005 was a tale of two quarters: stagnant versus volatile. Early in the first quarter, the market saw profit-taking after a strong rally in the last half of 2004. The market then was without a major trend throughout the first quarter, which aided the Fund as individual stocks were rewarded.

The second quarter, in contrast, was punctuated by a strong mid-quarter rally led by small- and mid-capitalization stocks, a rally that tended not to compensate large-cap exposure.

Overlaying this was a rally in the bond market, notwithstanding continued interest rate increases by the Federal Reserve and stubbornly high energy prices. The markets ended the first half of 2005 down slightly from the beginning of the year, even though the economy continued to show signs of growth, and companies continued to exhibit fundamental earnings growth.

“We did not adjust the Fund’s sector weights materially, even though, as the period ended, sector rotation appeared more important than stock selection.”

We did not adjust the Fund’s sector weights materially, even though, as the period ended, sector rotation appeared more important than stock selection. The Fund has held many of its core positions throughout this sector rotation, as we continued to hold confidence in these companies’ earnings prospects and potential cash flow generation over our longer-term investment horizon.

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2005, the Dreyfus Founders Balanced Fund underperformed its benchmark, the Standard & Poor’s 500 Index, which posted a total return of -0.81% for the same period.

Healthcare and IT Benefited Performance

The Fund experienced strong performance from its biotechnology and semiconductor stocks in the healthcare and information technology (IT) sectors, respectively. These industries showed strong improvements during the period in both fundamentals and in stock price movements. Genentech, Inc. was one such strong-performing biotechnology stock. The company performed well through the period due to the receptivity to its new drugs for the treatment of multiple indications of cancer.

- Healthcare
- Materials
- Information Technology

Numerous other healthcare holdings boosted the Fund's relative return for the period. Triad Hospitals, Inc. began to show improvements in its hospital admissions as well as improving trends in its bad debt expense, a factor that plagued the healthcare facilities industry throughout 2004. The Fund's position in Triad was increased at the end of the period as these factors were expected to continue through 2005. The Fund also was aided by its position in Eon Labs, Inc. as Novartis acquired the generic pharmaceutical company earlier in the year. Pharmaceutical company IVAX Corporation reached our price objective during the period, with little catalyst for growth expected for the balance of the year. Therefore, the Fund sold its position in this company, as we felt the monies may be better deployed in other investments.

In information technology, Apple Computer, Inc. continued to benefit from strong sales of its portable music player, the iPod, which also led consumers to ultimately purchase more Apple products, particularly notebook and desktop computers.

The Fund was underweight the materials sector relative to its benchmark; this factor paired with strong stock selection in the sector positively contributed to the Fund's performance for the period.

Underexposure and Weak Stock Selection Impeded Return

For the first six months of 2005, the Fund's relative performance was impaired by underexposure in two strong-performing sectors: energy and utilities.

The Fund also was underweight the industrials sector, as industrials typically begin exhibiting weakness as the economic cycle matures and earnings growth begins to moderate. Although this underweight position produced a positive effect, poor stock selection impeded the Fund's performance in this sector. Industrials holding W.W. Grainger, Inc. declined as higher-than-expected spending on the company's store expansion program and issues with its implementation of a SAP business software solution created concerns about future earnings growth.

The Fund's stock selection in the financials sector also weighed on performance, as some financial companies tend to underperform in an increasing interest rate cycle. First Marblehead Corporation declined during the half as investors became concerned about the company's long-term growth rate. This was primarily due to two factors: slower-than-expected volume growth for the second quarter, and an announcement by a large customer that it is considering keeping a portion of its loans instead of securitizing them through First Marblehead.

Other weak individual performers during the period were found in the consumer discretionary sector. Royal Caribbean Cruises Limited negatively impacted the Fund as investors concerned with the effect high oil prices may have on the company's profits pressured the stock. The Fund continued to hold Royal Caribbean at the end of the period as capacity increases within the cruise industry remained benign and continued robust demand for cruises helped Royal Caribbean to continue strong pricing. Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Balanced Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in unmanaged securities indexes on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index is designed to be representative of the U.S. equities market and consists of 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. The S&P 500 Index does not include a fixed-income component, while the Fund does. The Lipper Balanced Fund Index is an equal dollar weighted index of the largest mutual funds within the Balanced Fund classification, as defined by Lipper. This index is adjusted for the reinvestment of capital gains and income dividends, and reflects the management expenses associated with the funds included in the index. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers for certain share classes, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

industry within the consumer discretionary sector underperformed as box office receipts during the period were a large disappointment. Both Time Warner, Inc. and DreamWorks Animation SKG, Inc. significantly hindered the Fund. Time Warner experienced pressure due to concerns over its earnings performance in the first half of 2005. However, Time Warner remained one of the largest equity holdings in the Fund as of June 30, 2005, as the second-half outlook for its products remained solid and the fundamentals in its top businesses appeared sound. DreamWorks warned of a loss in the second quarter as the company overestimated DVD sales and underestimated returns from its vendors and distributors. The Fund reduced its position in DreamWorks during the period, although we retained a small position due to the company's new projects in development for release over the next two years.

Fixed-Income Performance

In fixed-income markets, higher oil prices, a strengthening dollar and higher short-term interest rates were held accountable for any perceived slowdown in the economy during the period. The housing market provided a considerable offset to these factors, as well as stimulus to the economy, as homeowners continued to extract equity from their homes.

Whereas in the first quarter the Fund was aided by its high-quality bias, high cash position and short duration, the fixed-income portion of the Fund lagged during the second quarter of the period due to its large cash position and

Portfolio Composition of Net Assets

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. concentration in shorter-dated securities. A larger position in cash buffered the Fund when bonds sold off in the first quarter, but created a drag on performance when bonds rallied in the second quarter. A high concentration of corporate bonds also hindered performance as Treasuries and Agencies outpaced corporate debt during the first six months of 2005; corporates experienced several high-profile downgrades in the first quarter causing investor flight to quality and Treasury and Agency outperformance.

Exposure in the five- to seven-year range was added during the second quarter of the period; the Fund held 26% of its fixed-income assets in bonds with maturities five years or longer as of June 30, 2005. The Fund also held 20.9% of its fixed-income assets in corporate debt compared to 4.8% in Agencies. Longer-dated securities performed well for the Fund.

The Fund's exposure of 13% of its fixed-income assets to the fixed-rate mortgage category weighed on performance as mortgages lagged other fixed-income sectors during the period.

In Conclusion

We are monitoring indications that the Federal Reserve may be nearing the end of its tightening cycle. Additionally, as we will be nearing the typical 18-month lag effect on the economy from the onset of the first federal funds rate increase, we will monitor the data for signs of economic change.

The Fund maintained a somewhat more conservative stance as of the end of the period, but increased its equity weighting as we found more compelling growth opportunities over the last several months. We continue to focus on high-quality growth companies that we believe show strong fundamental attributes. As always, we thank you for your continued investment in the Fund.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

b. Certain fees were reimbursed or waived by the management company or its affiliates. Had these fees not been reimbursed or waived, the expense ratios would have been 1.38% (2005), 1.34% (2004), 1.54% (2003), 1.43% (2002), and 1.23% (2001).

c. Portfolio Turnover Rate is a measure of portfolio activity that is calculated by dividing the lesser of purchases or sales of securities, excluding securities having maturity dates at acquisition of one year or less, by the average value of the portfolio securities held during the period, which is a rolling 12-month period.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Balanced Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

U.S. Government Obligations—Some U.S. government obligations, such as Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) pass-through certificates, are supported by the full faith and credit of the United States Treasury. Other obligations, such as securities of the Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB), are supported by the right of the issuer to borrow from the United States Treasury; and others, such as bonds issued by Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA, a private corporation), are supported only by the credit of the agency, authority or instrumentality, although the Secretary of the Treasury has discretionary authority, though not the obligation, to purchase obligations of FNMA.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) quarterly and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC (“Founders”) serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund’s net assets. The fee is 0.65% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.60% of the next $250 million of net assets, 0.55% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.50% of net assets in excess of $750 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $30,570 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund’s share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund’s Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $4,445 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $2,863 |
| Class B | $2,544 |
| Class C | $530 |
| Class R | $60 |
| Class T | $86 |

Founders has agreed to reimburse (or to cause its affiliates to reimburse) the Class R and Class T share classes of the Fund for certain transfer agency expenses pursuant to a written contractual commitment. This commitment will extend through at least August 31, 2006, and will not be terminated without prior notification to the Company's board of directors. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class R and Class T were each reimbursed $44, which reduced the amounts paid to DTI to $16 and $42, respectively.

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $1,116 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $44,200 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $103,719 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $2,072 |
| Class B | $5,537 | $1,846 |
| Class C | $934 | $311 |
| Class T | $42 | $42 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $942 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $5,229 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B shares.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders’ costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund’s portion of the fee waiver was $2,201, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $1,320.

Directors Compensation—The Company’s board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors’ fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company’s board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|----------------------|
| 2008 | $72,497,269 |
| 2009 | $49,289,530 |
| 2010 | $70,087,112 |
| 2011 | $1,472,188 |
| | $193,346,099 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $7,356 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $81,208,742 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $4,298,124 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(1,539,592) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $2,758,532 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $69,241,181 and $84,813,689, respectively. Purchases and sales of long-term U.S. government obligations were $987,082 and $9,433,428, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

A discussion with co-portfolio managers Bradley C. Orr, CFA, left, and James (J.D.) Padgett, CFA, regarding Fund performance for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.

A Mixed Environment

Following the strong advances registered by the domestic equity markets during the fourth quarter of last year, 2005 started on a far less positive note. Markets declined broadly in the first quarter due to a persistent rise in oil prices and the Federal Reserve's tightening monetary policy.

The markets did partially recover during the second quarter, as investors began to speculate that the Federal Reserve may soon end its rate tightening campaign. At the same time, the pace of economic growth remained relatively strong, as evidenced by the robust gross domestic product (GDP) in the second quarter.

During the first six months of 2005, small-cap growth stocks underperformed both small-cap value stocks and large-cap growth stocks. This can be seen when comparing the -3.58% six-month return of the Russell 2000 Growth Index to the 0.90% return of the Russell 2000 Value Index, as well as to the -1.72% and -0.81% returns in the larger-capitalization Russell 1000 Growth Index and the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, respectively.

¹ Excluding sales charges, which result in lower returns for certain share classes. Please see page 7 for Average Annual and Year-to-Date Total Returns for all share classes, including and excluding sales charges.

The Russell 2000 Value Index measures the performance of those Russell 2000 companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values. The Russell 1000 Growth Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of those Russell 1000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index is designed to be representative of the U.S. equities market and consists of 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. The total return figures cited for these indexes assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund.

Portfolio Composition Changes

High energy prices continued to drive demand in the oil services industry; therefore, the Fund added energy holdings during the period in an attempt to garner greater growth potential in this sector. In addition, the Fund's weighting in the consumer discretionary sector was significantly larger than that of its benchmark as we believed many opportunities existed in this sector.

The Fund decreased its weighting in the information technology sector as we felt that valuations weren't compelling enough to outweigh broad fundamental concerns in this sector.

Also, the Fund decreased its weighting in the industrials sector, although industrials were still overweight versus the benchmark. During the first half, many companies in this sector faced decelerating revenue and earnings growth. In fact, earnings expectations dropped after many months of upward revisions. At the same time, valuations were at the high end of historical ranges. We felt the earnings acceleration that had been driven by the recovering economy began to naturally slow, and therefore, we reduced the Fund's exposure to this sector.

Consumer Discretionary Stocks Benefited Performance

The consumer discretionary sector proved particularly strong for the Fund during the six-month period. An overweight position and strong stock selection led to solid outperformance in this sector. Although the strength of consumer spending is an important backdrop for the financial performance of most consumer discretionary companies, there were many stocks within the sector that outperformed despite the uncertain macro-economic environment.

The Fund opportunistically added to its positions in existing consumer discretionary holdings after the market sold these stocks due to short-term or potentially unwarranted concerns. Guitar Center, Inc., a music retailer, and WMS Industries, Inc., a casino gaming machine manufacturer, were two such examples. Guitar Center experienced some weaker results toward the end of the first quarter, causing the stock to decline over 17% from its high. The Fund took this opportunity to significantly increase its position in Guitar Center and benefited from the stock's price increase in the second quarter. WMS reported better-than-expected revenue growth in the fourth quarter of 2004, but was unable to control expenses and increase margins, thus putting future earnings growth in question. The company recovered in the first quarter of 2005, resulting in improved earnings performance. The Fund increased its position in WMS following the fourth quarter earnings disappointment and ensuing stock decline.

The gaming and lodging industry within the consumer discretionary sector has been a focus area for the Fund for some time. The worldwide proliferation of gaming continued to provide a strong tailwind for the industry. Many compelling growth opportunities were found during the first half, including some strong-performing holdings for the Fund. Station Casinos, Inc. provided a boost to the Fund's relative return as the company continued to benefit from strong local gaming trends in the Las Vegas market, driven by fast population growth, market share gains, an increase in the number of patrons, as well as increased revenue per patron. The Fund's position in this company was sold during the period as the valuation became stretched and concerns about future decelerating growth trends began to surface.

Healthcare and Energy Aided Return

The Fund also invested in a few strong-performing healthcare stocks at the right time, benefiting the Fund's relative return. Medical device makers ArthroCare Corporation and Kyphon, Inc. were two such examples.

ArthroCare, a new position for the Fund, experienced an inflection point in its operations in the fourth quarter of 2004, as the company increased earnings guidance for 2005, updated progress on a recent acquisition that accelerated sales, and identified a target operating model that allowed for significant

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Discovery Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Russell 2000 Growth Index measures the performance of stocks of companies in the Russell 2000 Index with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The Russell 2000 Index is a widely recognized, unmanaged small-cap index comprising common stocks of the 2,000 U.S. public companies next in size after the largest 1,000 publicly traded U.S. companies. The total return figures cited for the Russell 2000 Growth Index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to amounts received from class action settlements regarding prior Fund holdings. There is no guarantee that these settlement distributions will occur in the future or have a similar impact on performance. There are risks associated with small-cap investing such as limited product lines, less liquidity, and small market share.

revenue growth and earnings leverage. The company experienced some missteps during the first half of 2005, including a missed regulatory filing, which caused its valuation to drop, thus creating a compelling investment opportunity for the Fund. Kyphon, Inc. continued to post very positive quarterly results. A favorable court ruling upholding the company's patents surrounding a proprietary procedure also was an important contributor to the stock's outperformance during the period.

The pharmaceutical industry, including both generic and specialty drugs, has been an attractive pool of potential growth opportunities for the Fund for a long period of time. Valuations in this industry have been compelling relative to historical levels and the overall market. One of the Fund's holdings in this industry, Endo Pharmaceuticals Holdings, Inc., received a favorable court ruling during the period that allowed the company to sell into a previously patent-protected market for the pain-management drug, OxyContin, which will address a nearly $2 billion market. The ruling took the company's estimated earnings for 2005 up over 50% and the stock price up over 30%.

Energy was a clear sector leader in the Russell 2000 Growth Index. Therefore, increasing the Fund's weighting in this sector allowed the Fund to capture a greater portion of this outperformance. Combined with positive stock selection, the sector proved to be a very favorable contributor to performance. The Fund's weighting in this sector was heavily skewed toward the oil services industry, as opposed to the exploration and production (E&P) industry. We generally believed during the period that oil services stocks exhibited a more favorable risk versus reward ratio than E&P stocks, mainly due to a fairly good correlation between the two industries over time, and the underperformance of oil services stocks relative to the E&P industry more recently.

Rising oil prices throughout the period led to increased demand for oil services, increasing pricing power, and therefore, earnings leverage for these companies. Patterson-UTI Energy, Inc., a top five position in the Fund as of

June 30, 2005, saw increasing demand for its land-drilling rigs and related services during the period. Earnings growth for Patterson was roughly 100% in 2004. National Oilwell Varco, Inc. was also a beneficiary of the strong energy market, driven by higher oil prices and increased drilling demand. National Oilwell Varco also made a very accretive acquisition during the half, following which the market cap exceeded $8 billion, causing the Fund to gradually exit the position and redeploy assets elsewhere in the sector.

IT and Industrials Weighed on Performance

Both the information technology (IT) and industrials sectors underperformed the Russell 2000 Growth Index during the half, and poor stock selection in these sectors negatively impacted relative Fund performance. In the information technology sector, holdings such as Polycom, Inc., Avocent Corporation, Altiris, Inc., and Aeroflex, Inc. were large detractors from performance. Polycom, a maker of video conferencing equipment, reported poor results as the company continued to struggle with sluggish demand. Avocent, a manufacturer of computer server management systems, announced that first quarter results would fall well short of Wall Street expectations, as management executed poorly during an important new product transition. Altiris, a systems management software company, struggled with slowing demand and an inability to control operating expenses. Aeroflex, a maker of semiconductor devices and test and measurement equipment, fell as the company reported weak results in the first quarter.

In the industrials sector, Trex Company, Inc., a building products manufacturer, was hurt by poor weather and excess inventories in its distribution channel.

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Industrials
Information Technology
Financials

Another name that detracted from Fund performance was Inspire Pharmaceuticals, Inc. Inspire, a development stage drug manufacturer, missed its primary endpoint for a late-stage clinical trial, which was important to gain approval for a drug targeting the condition known as dry eye. The stock declined over 50% on the news. The Fund held its position in the stock at the end of the period as we believed a good chance still existed that the company may receive drug approval. Additionally, we believed that Inspire has a robust drug pipeline.

The Fund's holdings in the financials sector also underperformed for the period due to weak stock selection.

In Conclusion

As we entered the second half of 2005, the Fund was overweight the consumer discretionary, healthcare and energy sectors, and underweight the information technology, industrials and financials sectors.

The economic backdrop remains uncertain in our opinion. Most economic indicators remained relatively strong during the period, or at least were trending in the right direction. However, the impact that increasing interest rates and very high oil prices will have on the economy remains uncertain. We will continue to seek to take advantage of the current economic environment as well as to focus on companies that may offer growth opportunities.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Discovery Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.80% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.70% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $150,085 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $35,380 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $17,973 |
| Class B | $24,557 |
| Class C | $6,085 |
| Class R | $11,506 |
| Class T | $975 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $7,868 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $241,350 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $528,304 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $62,340 |
| Class B | $60,555 | $20,185 |
| Class C | $20,059 | $6,686 |
| Class T | $1,807 | $1,807 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $65 and $2 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A and Class T shares, respectively. DSC also retained $32,602 and $613 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $9,574, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $5,070.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|----------------------|
| 2009 | $138,824,492 |
| 2010 | $230,439,968 |
| 2011 | $14,100,468 |
| | $383,364,928 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|----------------|
| Federal Tax Cost | $539,388,769 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $51,400,189 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(21,002,317) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $30,397,872 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

| | Six months ended June 30, 2005 | | Year ended December 31, 2004 | |

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $496,258,083 and $636,707,104, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the "Defendant Funds"). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the "Amended Complaint") on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys' fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders' ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

*A discussion with portfolio manager
John B. Jares, CFA, regarding Fund performance for the six-month period
ended June 30, 2005.*

Oil and the Federal Reserve

The investing environment during the first six months of 2005 can be simply characterized by two economic factors: rising oil prices and the Federal Reserve ratcheting up short-term interest rates in an effort to contain inflation. As a result, most indices posted modest declines during the period despite solid corporate earnings growth.

Company-Specific Impacts

The Fund's strategy in pursuing growth opportunities by researching stocks on a company-by-company basis did not change during the period. Because of and in spite of this strategy, the Fund experienced a mixed lot of stock selection: the Fund had strong selection in numerous sectors as well as weak selection in others.

Although the Fund's first quarter performance was solid relative to its large-cap growth fund peers, its performance in the second quarter proved disappointing. For the first half of 2005, the Dreyfus Founders Equity Growth Fund trailed the return of the Russell 1000 Growth Index, which returned -1.72%, and the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, which returned -0.81%.

Consumer-Related Stocks Boosted Performance

Financials and consumer-related stocks had the largest positive impacts on the Fund's relative return during the period. Continued strength in consumer spending helped buoy consumer discretionary and consumer staples stocks, and the Fund overweighted the consumer discretionary sector with holdings positioned to benefit from the potential growth opportunities this trend provided. Kohl's Corporation experienced a recovery in sales and earnings growth driven by new apparel products and improved corporate execution. Although a stable consumer spending backdrop helped J.C. Penney Company's sales, excellent execution helped lead the stock's favorable performance. Consumer staples stock Gillette Company benefited from a buyout offer from Procter & Gamble Company and from solid fundamentals as well.

Financials
Consumer Discretionary
Consumer Staples

The information technology sector, although underperforming for the period, did harbor stock-specific boons to Fund performance. Among these were Apple Computer, Inc.

and Intel Corporation. Apple saw outstanding growth in revenue as well as earnings per share (EPS) driven primarily by the popularity of the company's iPod and Macintosh products. Strong demand for notebook computers helped drive Intel's processor unit. As a result, the company saw a rebound in revenue growth and improved gross and operating margin trends.

Other individual strong performers during the half were found in the healthcare and industrials sectors. Genentech Inc.'s solid sales and expanded uses for its cancer drugs, AvastinTM and Herceptin[®], drove stock performance. Strong consumer travel demand and high energy prices allowed the airline industry to raise fares. In light of the tough industry operating conditions, this was welcome news that helped to lift the shares of AMR Corporation, the parent company of American Airlines.

Industrials and IT Weighed Heavily

Overweight positions and weak stock selection in the industrials and information technology (IT) sectors impeded the Fund's return for the period. Industrials holding W.W. Grainger, Inc. exhibited sluggish sales trends and lower earnings expectations, which combined to drive the stock lower. In information technology, numerous underachieving issues weighed heavily on the Fund's performance for the period. Sluggish trends in Europe and poor execution in services drove a disappointing first quarter earnings report for International Business Machines Corporation, which was followed by a precipitous fall in stock price. Microsoft Corporation underperformed the market, although it delivered financial results that were in line with investor expectations. Poor execution, disappointing margin trends, and difficulties with certain projects overshadowed strong bookings and revenue growth for Accenture Limited Class A, resulting in a materially lower stock price. An excess of semiconductor inventory led to lackluster industry growth despite

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Equity Growth Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in unmanaged securities indexes on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index is designed to be representative of the U.S. equities market and consists of 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. The Russell 1000 Growth Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of those Russell 1000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The total return figures cited for these indexes assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. In future semiannual reports, the Fund's performance will no longer be compared to the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, as the Russell 1000 Growth Index is more reflective of the Fund's growth style of investing. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers for certain share classes, and adjustments for financial statement purposes.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

stable end-market demand. Combined with relatively high valuation, these factors led Maxim Integrated Products, Inc. to significantly underperform for the period. Although all of the aforementioned stocks were weak performers during the half, the Fund remained invested in these companies as it was our assessment that fundamental business trends may improve and these companies could benefit.

Although strong performing issues were found in healthcare, a significant underweight position in this sector detracted from the Fund's performance.

Finally, other notable poor performing stocks hampered the Fund's return, such as Avaya, Inc. and Time Warner, Inc. Avaya experienced a large loss from a European subsidiary, along with sluggish overall sales trends in PBX (private branch exchange) telephone network equipment, which created a revenue and earnings shortfall in the first quarter of the period. Subsequently, the stock suffered and the Fund exited its position in the company. Consumer discretionary holding Time Warner experienced pressure during the period due to concerns over its second quarter earnings performance.

In Conclusion

As of the end of the period, the Fund was positioned for an expanding economy, with significant exposure to information technology and consumer-related issues. Our strategy remains consistent moving into the second half of 2005; we continue to employ a bottom-up, research-driven approach in searching for the greatest growth opportunities for the portfolio.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Equity Growth Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 0.65% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.60% of the next $250 million of net assets, 0.55% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.50% of net assets in excess of $750 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $123,895 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund’s share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund’s Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $53,155 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $1,308 |
| Class B | $2,535 |
| Class C | $535 |
| Class R | $278 |
| Class T | $82 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $2,830 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid

$10,352 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $88,048 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $1,479 |
| Class B | $6,808 | $2,269 |
| Class C | $5,368 | $1,789 |
| Class T | $21 | $21 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $1,012 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $3,013 and $1 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $3,930, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $2,240.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|---------------------|
| 2009 | $49,538,969 |
| 2010 | $50,083,634 |
| | $99,622,603 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|---------------|
| Post-October Capital Loss Deferral | $1,658,174 |
| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $438,872 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $215,587,769 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $13,239,381 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(7,479,997) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $5,759,384 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

| | Six months ended 6/30/2005 | | Year ended 12/31/2004 | |

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $136,246,320 and $152,600,440, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES FUND MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

Margaret Danuser, regarding Fund performance
for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.*

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2005, Dreyfus Founders Government Securities Fund returned 1.70%. Although a gain, the Fund underperformed its benchmark, the Lehman Brothers U.S. Government Composite Index, which returned 2.93% for the same period.

A Flattening Yield Curve

Bonds had a negative first quarter, with Treasury yields rising except in the very long end of the yield curve. Yields crept higher mainly because of increasing oil prices, fears that the Federal Reserve would be more aggressive to effectively contain inflation, as well as wider credit spreads due to some high-profile corporate bond issuers experiencing rating downgrades. These factors led investors to become more risk-averse in the first few months of the year.

The second quarter, however, saw a bond market reversal as Treasuries led the market higher in spite of two 25 basis point increases in the federal funds rate. The yield curve experienced a flattening: the 2-year to 10-year curve flattened to 28 basis points at the end of the second quarter from 71 basis points on March 31.¹ (To illustrate the flatness of the yield curve at the end of the second quarter, since 1976, the average 2-year to 10-year yield spread has been 76 basis points.²)

“The Fund sold some positions in the portfolio throughout the period with the belief that these positions were fully priced with the market rally.”

Growth of $10,000 Investment

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Government Securities Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses, subject to applicable fee waivers.

The Lehman Brothers U.S. Government Composite Index reflects the performance of public obligations of the U.S. Treasury with a remaining maturity of one year or more and publicly issued debt of U.S. Government agencies and quasi-federal corporations. The total return figures cited for this index do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average Annual and Year-to Date Total Return as of 6/30/05

| Class F Shares Inception Date | Year-to- Date[†] | 1 Year | 5 Years | 10 Years | Since Inception |
|--|--------------------------------------|-------------------|--------------------|---------------------|----------------------------|
| 3/1/88 | 1.70% | 4.79% | 6.16% | 5.40% | 5.88% |

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers, and adjustments for financial statement purposes.

[†] Total return is not annualized.

The long end of the bond market, which typically reacts to inflation expectations, rallied in the belief that the Federal Reserve is anticipatory in its move to contain inflation. The short-end, which is usually more responsive to federal rate changes, experienced a lowering, causing overall gains and a flatter yield curve.

The Federal Reserve's Actions

The period saw the Federal Reserve succeed in appearing more transparent to the markets through rapid releases of meeting minutes and consistent policy announcements. The federal funds rate was raised to 3.25% at the end of June 2005, up from 1.00% in the second quarter of 2004. A rise in short-term interest rates and the subsequent drop in long-term bond yields led many bond market analysts to anticipate an inverted yield curve, which often presages economic slowdown.

Treasuries and Longer-Dated Securities Boost Return

Overall, Fund performance for the period was driven by its positioning in Treasuries and in securities with longer-dated maturities. In the first quarter of the year, overweight Treasury and Agency weightings, limited mortgage exposure and a large cash position drove the Fund's performance. In the second quarter of the year, the Fund held 25.4% of assets in Treasuries, a sector that performed well. The Fund also held over 21% of assets in securities with maturities seven years or longer. This maturity sector beat its shorter counterparts, returning 7.14% for the second quarter.

Portfolio Composition of Net Assets

Government Sponsored Enterprises (GSEs) are not backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. Government, but only by their ability to borrow from the Treasury, other forms of governmental support, or by their own credit. The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. Opinions regarding sectors, industries, companies, and/or themes are those of the portfolio manager and are subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and should not be construed as a recommendation of any specific security.

Cash Hampers Performance

The Fund sold some positions in the portfolio throughout the period with the belief that these positions were fully priced with the market rally. Most sectors appeared to be fully valued, causing the Fund to accumulate cash. Although a larger cash position acted as a buffer in the bond sell-off of the first three months of the year, this higher cash position was a drag on performance as bonds rallied in the second quarter.

In the first quarter, the Fund's holdings in intermediate and longer-dated securities hurt performance as these sectors experienced sharper price drops than shorter-dated holdings. Alternately, shorter-dated securities hindered performance during the second quarter. This was due to the aforementioned flattening yield curve, with the short end selling off to keep up with the rising federal funds rate, while the long end of the curve rallied with confidence that the Federal Reserve would keep a "measured pace" of increases in an attempt to contain inflation.

In Conclusion

The flatness of the yield curve, as existed at the end of the period, has historically indicated a pause or slowdown in economic activity. We will continue to monitor indications that the Federal Reserve may be nearing the end of its tightening cycle. Additionally, the markets are nearing the typical 18-month lag effect on the economy from the onset of the first Federal Reserve tightening in June 2004. Because of this, we will also monitor the data for indications of the health of the economy.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of a Fund, you incur ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees (Government Securities Fund only), shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense examples shown below are intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Funds and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense examples are based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense examples in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense examples in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Funds’ actual expense ratios, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Funds’ actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Funds and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense examples with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Government Securities Fund Expense Example

| | Beginning Account Value (1/1/05) | Ending Account Value (6/30/05) | Expenses Paid During Period* (1/1/05-6/30/05) |
|--------------|--|--------------------------------------|---|
| Actual | $1,000.00 | $1,012.09 | $4.90 |
| Hypothetical | 1,000.00 | 1,019.87 | 4.92 |

*Expenses are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio of 0.98%, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 181/365 (to reflect the one-half year period). The expense ratio reflects reimbursements and/or waivers of expenses by the Fund's investment adviser or its affiliates, earnings credits and brokerage offsets, where applicable.

Money Market Fund Expense Example

| Actual | $1,000.00 | $1,003.57 | $5.03 |
| Hypothetical | 1,000.00 | 1,019.72 | 5.07 |

*Expenses are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio of 1.01%, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 181/365 (to reflect the one-half year period). The expense ratio reflects reimbursements and/or waivers of expenses by the Fund's investment adviser or its affiliates, earnings credits and brokerage offsets, where applicable.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds. All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Government Securities Fund and Dreyfus Founders Money Market Fund (individually, a “Fund” and collectively, the “Funds”). The Funds offer Class F shares. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Funds in the preparation of their financial statements.

Security Valuations—The Company’s board of directors has adopted a policy that requires that Money Market Fund use its best efforts, under normal circumstances, to maintain a constant net asset value of $1.00 per share using the amortized cost method. The amortized cost method involves valuing each security at its cost and thereafter accruing any discount or premium at a constant rate to maturity.

Debt securities held by Government Securities Fund with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase are valued in accordance with the evaluated bid prices supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such prices are not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. Debt securities with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. Premiums and discounts are amortized on all debt securities.

If market quotations are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company’s board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security’s most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security’s sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

U.S. Government Obligations—Some U.S. government obligations, such as Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) pass-through certificates, are supported by the full faith and credit of the United States Treasury. Other obligations, such as securities of the Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB), are supported by the right of the issuer to borrow from the United States Treasury; and others, such as bonds issued by Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA, a private corporation), are supported only by the credit of the agency, authority or instrumentality, although the Secretary of the Treasury has discretionary authority, though not the obligation, to purchase obligations of FNMA.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Funds may invest at least a portion of their assets in foreign securities. In the event a Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and is presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Funds do not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Funds' books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arise from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Funds to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve them from all income taxes. The Funds are treated as separate tax entities for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities.

Distributions to Shareholders—Dividends are declared daily and distributed monthly from net investment income, and capital gains (if any) are distributed annually.

Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Fund bears a portion of the Company's general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of each Fund. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specific potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Funds. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Funds compensate Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the respective Fund's net assets. The fee is 0.65% of the first $250 million of net assets, and 0.50% of the net assets in excess of $250 million for Government Securities Fund and 0.50% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.45% of the next $250 million of net assets, 0.40% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.35% of the net assets in excess of $750 million for Money Market Fund.

Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive the portion of its management fee for the Government Securities Fund that exceeds 0.35% of the first $250 million of average net assets and 0.20% of the average net assets in excess of $250 million. Founders has also contractually agreed in writing to waive the portion of its management fee for the Money Market Fund that exceeds 0.45% of the first $250 million of average net assets, 0.40% of the next $250 million of average net assets, 0.35% of the next $250 million of average net assets, and 0.30% of average net assets in excess of $750 million. These waivers will extend through at least August 31, 2006, and will not be terminated without prior notice to the Company's board of directors. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Founders waived $14,690 and $8,558 for Government Securities Fund and Money Market Fund, respectively.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. Each Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account of the Fund considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Government Securities Fund and Money Market Fund were charged $9,098 and $31,519, respectively, pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for the Funds. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Government Securities Fund and Money Market Fund were charged $3,410 and $11,985, respectively, for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Government Securities Fund and Money Market Fund were charged $123 and $436, respectively, for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Funds, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Government Securities Fund and Money Market Fund paid $245 and $0, respectively, to these entities for such services. These amounts are included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution Plan—DSC also is the distributor of the Funds' shares. Government Securities Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, Government Securities Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, $11,206 in expenses eligible for reimbursement under the plan were absorbed by Founders, which resulted in the Fund paying 0.01% under this plan. The 12b-1 fees for Government Securities Fund in excess of those needed to compensate third parties for distributing the Fund or servicing Fund shareholders will continue to be absorbed by Founders through at least August 31, 2006. This written contractual commitment will not be terminated without prior notice to the Company's board of directors.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee for each Fund is its respective pro rata share (based on the relative average daily net assets of all ten of the Company’s series) of a fee computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the ten series, taken as a whole, from $0 to $500 million and 0.02% of the net assets of the ten series, taken as a whole, in excess of $500 million. The Funds also reimburse Founders for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders’ costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Funds. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Funds held by the custodian. The Funds could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had they not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Company during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among all series funds of the Company in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the fee waivers for Government Securities Fund and Money Market Fund were $217 and $649, respectively, which reduced the amounts paid to Mellon Bank to $796 and $514, respectively.

Directors Compensation—The Company’s board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Company’s ten series. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected series. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors’ fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Funds.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Funds, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company’s board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Funds must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Funds may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

Government Securities Fund

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|-----------|
| 2008 | $134,064 |

Money Market Fund

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|-----------------|
| 2007 | $5,448 |
| 2008 | $11,357 |
| 2009 | $2,628 |
| | $19,433 |

| | Government Securities Fund | Money Market Fund |
|---------------------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------|
| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $5,831 | $30,400 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $9,787,753 | $32,878,007 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $459,193 | $0 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(37,931) | $0 |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $421,262 | $0 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

Government Securities Fund is authorized to issue 100 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Money Market Fund is authorized to issue 2 billion shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Funds for the periods indicated were as follows:

5. Investment Transactions

Purchases and sales of long-term U.S. government obligations for the six months ended June 30, 2005 were $1,052,352 and $986,215, respectively, for Government Securities Fund.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement (“LOC”) with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund’s borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund’s total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Funds did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the "Defendant Funds"). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the "Amended Complaint") on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys' fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders' ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

*A discussion with portfolio manager
John B. Jares, CFA, regarding Fund
performance for the six-month period
ended June 30, 2005.*

Two Economic Factors

Two economic factors greatly weighed on the markets during the first two quarters of the year. Crude oil prices climbed above $60 per barrel during the period, hitting historical highs on numerous occasions. Additionally, the Federal Reserve increased the federal funds rate by 100 basis points during the half in an effort to contain inflationary pressures. The combined effect of these two factors was reflected in the markets, as most indices posted modest declines during the period.

Stock Selection Was Key

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund continued its bottom-up, fundamental-based growth-stock investment strategy. We continued to meet with company management teams and closely scrutinize companies against the current economic backdrop in an attempt to assemble the greatest growth potential for the Fund. This approach led us to select some strong-performing stocks during the period. However, weak stock selection also plagued some sectors, causing the Dreyfus Founders Growth Fund's return for the six months to underperform that of its benchmark, the Russell 1000 Growth Index, which returned -1.72% for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.

*"We continued to meet
with company management
teams and closely scrutinize companies against the current economic backdrop in an attempt to assemble the greatest growth potential for the Fund."*

To summarize the period, the Fund's first quarter performance was strong relative to its large-cap growth fund peers, while its second quarter performance proved disappointing, due to poor-performing stocks.

Consumer-Related Stocks Boosted Performance

Financials was the strongest performing sector in the Fund for the period, owing its positive contribution primarily to strong stock selection. Fund holdings in both the consumer staples and consumer discretionary sectors likewise performed well, as companies in these sectors benefited from continued strength in consumer spending. The Fund invested in more consumer discretionary holdings during the period in an attempt to take advantage of this trend. Among the strongest performers were retailers Kohl's Corporation and J.C. Penney Company, Inc. Kohl's experienced a recovery in sales and earnings growth driven by new products and improved corporate execution. J.C. Penney also saw strong sales and solid execution, which pushed the company's earnings estimates and stock price up. Consumer staples stock Gillette Company benefited from both solid company fundamentals and an acquisition offer from the personal care manufacturing giant Procter & Gamble Company.

Numerous strong performers were also found in the information technology sector, even though the sector overall underperformed for the Fund during the period. Apple Computer, Inc. experienced outstanding growth in revenue due mainly to the popularity of the company's iPod and Macintosh products. Intel Corporation's processor unit was driven by strong demand for notebook computers, which helped the company's revenue growth and helped gross and operating margin trends recover.

Genentech, Inc. was another notable performer during the period. The company experienced solid sales and expanded applications for two of its products, Avastin™ and Herceptin®. The parent company of American Airlines, AMR Corporation, benefited from strong consumer travel demand and high energy prices, factors that allowed the company and overall airline industry to raise fares.

Industrials and IT Performed Poorly

Stock selection in the industrials and information technology (IT) sectors, paired with relative overweight positions, hampered the Fund's return for the period. In industrials, W.W. Grainger, Inc., a supplier of facilities maintenance products, saw its stock price drop on sluggish sales trends and lower earnings expectations. Numerous stocks hurt the Fund's performance in the information technology sector, including International Business Machines Corporation (IBM), Microsoft Corporation, Accenture Limited Class A and Maxim Integrated Products, Inc. IBM suffered from sluggish trends in Europe and disappointing execution in services, which caused the stock price to drop. Microsoft's stock price was hit, although its financial results were in line

Growth of $10,000 Investment

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Growth Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in unmanaged securities indexes on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index is designed to be representative of the U.S. equities market and consists of 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. The Russell 1000 Growth Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of those Russell 1000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The total return figures cited for these indexes assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. In future semiannual reports, the Fund's performance will no longer be compared to the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, as the Russell 1000 Growth Index is more reflective of the Fund's growth style of investing. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to amounts received from class action settlements regarding prior Fund holdings. There is no guarantee that these settlement distributions will occur in the future or have a similar impact on performance.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Industrials
Healthcare
Information Technology

with investor expectations. Poor execution, disappointing margin trends, and difficulties with certain projects overshadowed strong bookings and revenue growth for Accenture. A glut in the semiconductor inventory and lackluster industry growth, combined with a relatively high valuation, weighed on Maxim. However, although these stocks underperformed for the period, we believe that these companies may be positioned to take advantage of improving fundamental business trends; therefore, the Fund remained invested in these stocks as of June 30, 2005.

The Fund's performance in the healthcare sector was hindered during the period by a significant underweight position relative to the Fund's benchmark.

Portfolio Composition of Net Assets

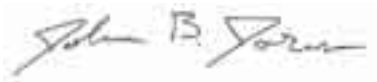

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. Opinions regarding sectors, industries, companies, and/or themes are those of the portfolio manager and are subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and should not be construed as a recommendation of any specific security.

Finally, we should note the poor performance of telecommunications services holding Avaya, Inc., a holding the Fund exited by the end of the period, and consumer discretionary holding Time Warner, Inc. Sluggish sales in the PBX (private branch exchange) telephone network market and an underperforming European subsidiary created a revenue and earnings shortfall for Avaya. Time Warner experienced pressure during the period due to concerns over its second quarter earnings performance.

In Conclusion

The Fund ended the first half of 2005 with a significant exposure to information technology, consumer discretionary and consumer staples issues. As we enter into the second half of the year, our investment strategy remains unchanged. We will continue to employ a research-driven stock-by-stock assessment in composing the Fund in an attempt to find the best growth opportunities for the portfolio.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

| Class T Hypothetical | 1,000.00 | 1,014.15 | 10.64 |

*Expenses are equal to each Class's respective annualized expense ratio, shown below, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 181/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

Expense Ratios

These expense ratios reflect reimbursements and/or waivers of expenses by the Fund's investment adviser or its affiliates, earnings credits and brokerage offsets, where applicable.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Growth Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $30 million of net assets, 0.75% of the next $270 million of net assets, 0.70% of the next $200 million of net assets and 0.65% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $183,470 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $71,220 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $7,612 |
| Class B | $18,385 |
| Class C | $2,069 |
| Class R | $3,929 |
| Class T | $310 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $5,062 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $61,300 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund’s shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund’s Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $460,257 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $7,275 |
| Class B | $41,383 | $13,794 |
| Class C | $5,957 | $1,986 |
| Class T | $119 | $119 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $618 and $5 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A and Class T shares, respectively. DSC also retained $21,147 and $27 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders’ costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $6,602, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $3,996.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|----------------------|
| 2008 | $501,000 |
| 2009 | $516,034,883 |
| 2010 | $209,975,954 |
| | $726,511,837 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $1,301,047 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $379,502,798 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $21,050,315 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(12,822,932) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $8,227,383 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

| | Six months ended 6/30/05 | | Year ended 12/31/04 | |

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $231,921,016 and $287,598,641, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

A Drain from Oil

Several underlying themes greatly affected the global market environment during the period. The overwhelming driving force, however, was the ever-increasing price of oil, which topped $60 per barrel in June. Secondary issues were the rising unemployment rate in the Euro area and the slowing housing market in the United Kingdom. On the positive side, the economic scenario in the United States and subdued worldwide inflation helped support the markets slightly.

Energy stocks were by far the best performers overall during the period, driven by strong worldwide demand for oil, which drove oil prices higher. Naturally, countries with strong oil exposure did very well during the first half of the year; Norway, Canada and Australia, all of which are important producers of oil, were among the best performers for the period. Japan, which imports all of its oil, suffered due to the increasing cost.

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, Dreyfus Founders International Equity Fund underperformed its benchmark, the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Index, which returned -0.71% for the same period. The Fund posted a competitive return¹ versus its benchmark, the MSCI World ex U.S. Growth Index, which returned -1.12%.

¹ Excluding sales charges, which result in lower returns for certain share classes. Please see page 7 for Average Annual and Year-to-Date Total Returns for all share classes, including and excluding sales charges.

The MSCI World ex U.S. Growth Index measures global developed market equity performance of growth securities outside of the United States. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in share price and reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of local taxes, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund.

A Consistent Strategy

Our investment strategy did not change during the period: we continued to search on a stock-by-stock basis for the best growth opportunities as opposed to a top-down country allocation strategy.

Strong Selection and Beneficial Weightings Fueled Fund

Strong performances in France, Spain and Finland, through both advantageous relative weightings and strong selection of stocks, buoyed the Fund's relative return during the period. In France, stock selection in automobile manufacturer Renault SA and pharmaceutical company Sanofi-Aventis were beneficial to relative performance. During the Fund's holding period, Finnish utilities stock Fortum Oyj gained nearly 20%, helping the Fund's position in Finland outperform. Construction company ACS, Actividades de Construcción y Servicios SA also performed strongly during the period, aiding the Fund's relative outperformance in Spain.

"We continued to search on a stock-by-stock basis for the best growth opportunities."

Industrials and Telecom Aided Performance

The Fund experienced positive stock selection in 6 of 10 economic sectors. Outperformance versus the benchmark came primarily from the telecommunications services and industrials sectors. The Fund's telecommunications services holdings benefited from strong performances in Canada's TELUS Corporation and Hong Kong's China Mobile (Hong Kong) Limited. TELUS outperformed due to strong wireless sales reported in early May, while China Mobile continued to show solid subscriber growth during the first half of 2005. In the industrials sector, Danish shipper AP Moller-Maersk AS experienced positive stock performance due to rising shipping rates, strong oil prices and its accretive purchase of container shipping company, P&O Nedlloyd.

A significant underweight position in the financials sector, a weak performing sector within the Fund's benchmark, also aided the Fund's relative return for the period.

Several other stocks had strong contributions to the overall performance of the Fund. Australian-based Oil Search Limited benefited from $60 per barrel oil prices and better-than-expected drilling results in its Yemeni oil field. BHP

Industrials
Telecommunications Services
Financials

Billiton Limited had a strong first half as iron ore, coal and oil prices increased and the company made an accretive acquisition of WMC Resources Limited, an Australian copper and uranium producer. Husky Energy, Inc., a Canadian integrated oil and natural gas firm, advanced with the rest of the energy industry on surging oil prices and widening refining margins. Additionally, news that the company's White Rose offshore project in Newfoundland would be completed on time and on budget boosted its share price further. Keppel Corporation Limited, a Singapore engineering firm, continued to win new orders to build oil rigs, which drove the company's stock price performance.

Weak U.K. Stocks and Underexposure Hurt Return

The largest drag on performance during the period came from the United Kingdom, primarily due to poor stock selection. Fund holdings Vodafone Group PLC and SABMiller PLC were the main detractors from this country. Vodafone's stock price decreased during the period due to increased competition,

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders International Equity Fund on its inception date of 12/29/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses, subject to fee waivers and expense limitations. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Index measures global developed market equity performance outside of the United States. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, expense limitations, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. Investments in foreign securities entail unique risks, including political, market, and currency risks.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

lower prices and shrinking margins. Vodafone K.K., the company's Japanese subsidiary, reported another weak quarter as well. SABMiller's stock price was hurt by poor U.S. beer sales and continued merger and acquisition speculation.

Additionally, holdings in the Netherlands, Belgium and Canada also hurt the Fund's relative performance.

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Consumer Staples
Energy
Information Technology

Fund holdings in the consumer staples sector produced a drain on performance. Belgian-based food retailer Delhaize Group reduced its full-year top- and bottom-line expectations at its quarterly earnings update. Competition with Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. and cost overruns were the main culprits for the revised guidance, which prompted the Fund to exit this position. SABMiller, as mentioned above, also negatively affected the Fund's performance in this sector.

Within the benchmark, energy and utilities were the two best performing sectors during the period. Exploration and production and oil services stocks did particularly well in the rising oil price environment. Utilities also generated strong returns; electricity companies were able to pass along price increases to

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. customers as energy costs rose sharply during the period. However, the Fund's underweight positions in both these sectors generated a negative impact on the Fund's relative performance.

IT and Select Stocks Hampered Performance

The information technology (IT) sector also hampered the Fund's return for the period, mainly owing to a relative overweight position. One of the poor individual IT performers in the Fund was Trend Micro, Inc., a Japanese developer of anti-virus software for home and business use. Trend Micro's stock fell on Microsoft's announcement that it will be packaging a competitor's anti-virus software with its operating system. The Fund exited its position in Trend Micro on this decline.

Another poor individual performer during the period was German-based ThyssenKrupp AG. The company reduced steel volumes due to marketplace overcapacity as China continues to build more stainless facilities, which threatens the overall global supply/demand balance in this segment of the steel market. Casio Computer Company Limited's stock price also declined after Casio Micronics, a 75% owned subsidiary of Casio Computer, lowered its 2005 operating profit estimate based on volume revisions. This was enough to affect Casio Computer's 2005 operating profit estimate, causing the stock to slip. Publishing and Broadcasting Limited was liquidated during the period as the company reported weak earnings following the loss of market share in its television station business.

In Conclusion

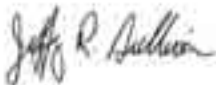

As always, our investing focus is on seeking stocks with improving business momentum and attractive valuations in each country and sector regardless of the market's direction.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders International Equity Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund normally will invest a large portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and is presented as such in the Statement of Operations. Foreign currency held at June 30, 2005 for settling foreign trades is listed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.80% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.70% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Founders has agreed to waive a portion of its management fee and to limit the total expenses of the Fund. Founders agreed to waive that portion of its management fee that exceeds 0.75% of the Fund's average net assets and to limit the annual expenses of the Fund (net of credits received from the Fund's custodian and expense offsets to broker commissions) to 1.40% for Class A and Class F shares, 2.15% for Class B and Class C shares, 1.15% for Class R shares and 1.65% for Class T shares. These reductions are made pursuant to a permanent written contractual commitment. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, $131,025 was reimbursed to the Fund by Founders pursuant to this provision.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $13,410 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $4,685 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $28,984 |
| Class B | $3,613 |
| Class C | $684 |
| Class R | $706 |
| Class T | $441 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended

June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $475 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $1,660 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $13,105 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $30,189 |
| Class B | $7,371 | $2,457 |
| Class C | $1,794 | $598 |
| Class T | $173 | $173 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $7,771 and $1 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.10% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.065% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $10,956, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $20,635.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|---------------------|
| 2008 | $5,074,404 |
| 2009 | $12,777,527 |
| 2010 | $5,986,171 |
| 2011 | $7,339,094 |
| | $31,177,196 |

| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $9,042 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $28,831,630 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $7,587,950 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(212,725) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $7,375,225 |

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $9,848,073 and $13,500,345, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

A discussion with co-portfolio managers John B. Jares, CFA, left, and Daniel E. Crowe, CFA, regarding Fund performance for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.

The View Turned Optimistic

The investing environment during the first half of 2005 could be defined by two distinct periods. During the first period, the market struggled with higher energy prices, the Federal Reserve's continued tightening of its monetary policy, a slowing economy and signs of increasing inflation. However, during the latter part of the half, investors became more optimistic based on stable economic growth in the face of continued high oil prices, relatively benign inflation, strong growth in housing prices and the belief that the Federal Reserve was nearing the end of its tightening cycle. To summarize the half, investors went from viewing the glass as half empty to half full.

In spite of this, the majority of growth indexes were down for the first half of 2005. However, the Fund's benchmark, the Russell Midcap Growth Index, was up slightly for the period. For the six-month period ended June 30, 2005, Dreyfus Founders Mid-Cap Growth Fund underperformed its benchmark, which returned 1.70% for the period.

Shifts in Composition

The number of holdings in the Fund remained relatively consistent throughout the first six months of 2005, with approximately 50-60 names comprising the portfolio at any given point in time. The Fund's cash position rose slightly during the latter part of the period due to both the sale of existing positions that had reached target prices and an increasingly cautious outlook.

While stock selection provided both positive and negative impacts to the Fund's relative return, shifts in sector weightings during the period had a slightly negative impact. Overweight positions in the consumer discretionary and information technology sectors were rebalanced during the half. The consumer discretionary weighting was pulled back due to our concern regarding consumer spending and the effect that potentially slower home price appreciation, higher energy costs and moderate employment growth may have on this sector. The Fund's weighting in the information technology sector also declined during the period. Some information technology positions were sold because of fundamental concerns, as well as select investments reaching valuations at which the potential return was no longer justified by the amount of risk. The proceeds from these liquidations were reinvested in companies in other sectors and industries where potentially greater growth opportunities were identified. This re-weighting hampered the Fund's return, particularly as the information technology sector saw gains through the end of the second quarter.

Conversely, the Fund's weighting in the healthcare sector was increased as we found companies with strong growth prospects trading at reasonable valuations that we believed would likely continue to exhibit strong growth in a slowing economy.

Throughout the period, we maintained an underweight position in the industrials sector due to high valuations and concerns regarding the current economic conditions.

“While stock selection provided both positive and negative impacts to the Fund's relative return, shifts in sector weightings during the period had a slightly negative impact.”

Stock Selection in IT and Materials Aided Return

Our bottom-up stock selection process aided the Fund's performance for the period; the largest contribution to the Fund's return came from strong stock selection in the information technology (IT) and materials sectors. An overweight position in the telecommunications services sector also buoyed the Fund's performance.

In the information technology sector, Blackboard, Inc. a provider of educational software, continued to see strong demand for its academic suite of products as well as upgrades throughout its product line. Cogent, Inc., a provider of automated fingerprint identification systems and other biometrics solutions, was an additional strong performer for the Fund during the period.

Materials holding Lafarge North America, Inc., a diversified provider of construction materials, saw continued strength in cement prices due to a strong economy and limited supply.

Information Technology
Materials
Telecommunications Services

Other strong performers outside the information technology and materials sectors boosted the Fund's performance during the period, in spite of weak stock selection overall in each of these stocks' respective sectors. For example, a distributor of medical and dental products, Henry Schein, Inc. showed strong growth within its U.S. dental business and saw its valuation improve as investors became comfortable that the flu vaccine supply issues the company previously encountered did not have a material impact on the long-term value of the company. American Tower Corporation benefited as investors realized the attractive fundamentals within the cellular tower industry. Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Mid-Cap Growth Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Russell Midcap Growth Index measures the performance of the 800 smallest companies in the Russell 1000 Index with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. The Russell 1000 Index measures the performance of the largest 1,000 publicly traded U.S. companies. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers for certain share classes, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to amounts received from class action settlements regarding prior Fund holdings. There is no guarantee that these settlement distributions will occur in the future or have a similar impact on performance. There are risks associated with mid-cap investing, such as limited product lines, less liquidity, and small market share.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

† Total return is not annualized.

has consolidated to a smaller number of financially strong players, and enjoyed stable price increases, improving balance sheets, and strong cash flow generation during the period. AMR Corporation, the parent company of American Airlines, an addition to the Fund in the first quarter, was a strong contributor to performance due to stronger airline industry pricing and improved load factors. Finally, merchandising initiatives implemented at Kohl's Corporation over the past year led to improvement in same-store sales, driving share price appreciation.

Financials and Healthcare Weighed Heavily

Offsetting the gain seen in the aforementioned sectors, however, was poor stock selection within financials, healthcare and to a lesser extent, energy. Relative weightings in these sectors also detracted from the Fund's return.

In financials, First Marblehead Corporation, a provider of outsourcing services for private education lending, declined as investors grew concerned about two factors that may affect the company's long-term growth rate. First, the company delivered slower-than-expected contract growth in the first quarter. Second, a large customer announced that it is reconsidering the option of securitizing loans through First Marblehead, which would decrease the revenues the company realized from this customer. However, the Fund increased its position in First Marblehead during the period as we viewed the company as attractively valued, given its long-term growth prospects.

Financial guarantor Ambac Financial Group, Inc. saw slower new business growth as tight credit spreads limited the amount of new underwriting business, and a low level of new international business was acquired in the first quarter. While we believe that company management has the long-term ability to deliver value in a disciplined manner, the position size was reduced as Ambac's somewhat muted growth expectations led us to consider other positions offering better growth opportunities.

In healthcare, MGI Pharma, Inc. underperformed as investors continued to be concerned that one of the company's products would fall short of revenue expectations. Sales might slow due to changes by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to the reimbursement rate for cancer drugs, including MGI Pharma's chemotherapy-induced nausea and vomiting (CINV) drug Aloxi®. Additionally, GlaxoSmithKline launched an aggressive campaign in an attempt to win greater share of the CINV market. Biomet, Inc. also underperformed due to worries over slowing procedures growth and increasing concerns about pricing pressure for orthopedic hips and knees. Based on these concerns, the Fund sold its position in Biomet.

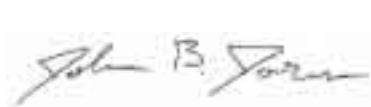

Select Individual Issues Affected Performance

Select stocks in other sectors also proved to be a hindrance to the Fund's relative performance for the semiannual period. Among these poor performers were Zebra Technologies Corporation, Harman International Industries, Inc. and W.W. Grainger, Inc. A slow uptake of radio frequency identification contributed to price declines of Zebra Technologies. Furthermore, the company missed first quarter earnings estimates due to order deferrals and distribution capacity constraints in Europe. The stock price of W.W. Grainger, a supplier of facilities maintenance products, declined as higher-than-expected spending on the company's store expansion program and issues regarding a SAP business software implementation project created concerns about future earnings growth. Although we believe that the initiatives put in place at W.W. Grainger may deliver significant shareholder value, we were disappointed with management's lack of willingness to appropriately manage the balance sheet. Therefore, the Fund's position in this holding was reduced. Finally, Harman International Industries' stock price declined due to concerns regarding its competitive positioning for mid- and lower-tier infotainment systems. First quarter revenues for the company also came in below some analysts' expectations as the company prepared for product launches later this year. We viewed the issue regarding competitive positioning as unfounded and the short-term fluctuations in revenue as irrelevant. Therefore, the Fund used share price weakness as an opportunity to increase its position in the company.

In Conclusion

As we headed into the second half of 2005, the Fund had a slightly conservative position. We structured the portfolio to place more emphasis in sectors we feel may grow through a slowing economy as well as in companies that may offer specific growth catalysts.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Mid-Cap Growth Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $30 million of net assets, 0.75% of the next $270 million of net assets, 0.70% of the next $200 million of net assets and 0.65% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $75,695 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $27,420 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $1,656 |
| Class B | $3,019 |
| Class C | $568 |
| Class R | $182 |
| Class T | $142 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $1,379 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $10,745 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $63,832 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $1,869 |
| Class B | $6,391 | $2,130 |
| Class C | $1,610 | $537 |
| Class T | $37 | $37 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $1,514 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $1,410 and $13 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $1,868, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $1,605.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|---------------------|
| 2009 | $17,754,484 |
| 2010 | $31,942,177 |
| | $49,696,661 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Federal Tax Cost | $99,532,476 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $8,272,628 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(4,026,127) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $4,246,501 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

The Fund is authorized to issue 500 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Fund for the periods indicated were as follows:

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $101,116,063 and $121,701,229, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the "Defendant Funds"). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the "Amended Complaint") on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys' fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders' ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

Tracy P. Stouffer, CFA, regarding Fund performance
for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.*

Weak Investing Environment

Although the first quarter of 2005 provided a difficult international investing environment, the second quarter presented an even more challenging one. Major currencies, including the euro and the yen, dropped against the U.S. dollar, depressing investment returns. Fears of a slowdown in the Chinese and U.S. economies, along with rising transportation, raw materials and energy costs, and higher interest rates, plagued investor sentiment worldwide.

In Europe, French and Dutch “no” votes on the European Union constitution drew much attention during the period. On the positive side, the European region continued to enjoy significant merger and acquisition activity. While the benefits of anticipated synergies are yet to be determined, these transactions highlighted the abundant liquidity in European markets.

For the period ended June 30, 2005, the Dreyfus Founders Passport Fund underperformed its international small-cap benchmark, the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Small Cap Index, which returned 4.13%. The Fund’s performance compared favorably¹ to the large-cap MSCI World ex U.S. Index, which returned -0.71% for the six-month timeframe.

Oil Stocks Aided Performance

Crude oil prices continued to increase during the period, surpassing $60 per barrel. As the first quarter experienced a glut, the second quarter found an acute capacity squeeze through a lack of storage, ports, facilities and boats.

¹ Excluding sales charges, which result in lower returns for certain share classes. Please see page 7 for Average Annual and Year-to-Date Total Returns for all share classes, including and excluding sales charges.

The Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Small Cap Index measures global performance of small capitalization securities outside of the United States. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in share price and reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of local taxes, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund.

These factors combined to boost the performance of many oil services companies. Norway performed strongly from its heavy weighting in this industry, with oil services companies such as Fred Olsen Energy ASA posting a positive return. France's Vallourec SA also saw a stock price increase in this high price and high demand oil environment. The Fund continued to hold numerous oil services stocks as capacity constraints benefited these companies through the end of the period.

Consumer-Related Stocks Helped Fund Return

Some of the Fund's top-performing holdings during the period were found in the consumer discretionary sector. Although Internet gaming is not a new industry, the advent of televised poker tournaments has pumped energy and money into online gaming, particularly online poker. The Fund found

Top 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Consumer Discretionary
Energy
Consumer Staples

numerous growth opportunities in this industry; gaming host companies such as BETandWIN.com Interactive as well as Britain's Gaming VC Holdings SA reaped the benefits of this surging popularity during the period. BetandWin.com was one of Austria's, as well as the Fund's, stronger individual performers. Although the Fund benefited from these stocks, it exited its positions in these companies by the end of the period, as more compelling growth opportunities were found in other areas. A broker of entertainment tickets, Germany's CTS Eventim AG, also positively impacted Fund performance in this sector.

Strong stock selection in the consumer staples sector also aided the Fund's relative return.

Green Push Lifted Return

Despite multiple negative headwinds facing small-cap stocks, the Fund found strong growth prospects in renewable energy sources, such as solar and biofuels, which benefited during the period from both pricing and policy. Beyond the measures implemented due to the Kyoto Protocol, an agreement by various countries to reduce emissions of greenhouse gases, legislation is being passed in many countries, primarily in Europe, which mandates the use of renewable energy. For example, the United Kingdom has legislated that 20% of all new construction's energy come from renewable sources. This also will apply to all new construction for the Olympic games in 2012. Many companies are benefiting, particularly in the solar component market, from this green push. In fact, manufacturers of polysilicon and the solar wafers used in solar panels' photovoltaic cells boosted the Fund's performance during the period; the relative performance of Taiwan and Germany, in which many of these companies are domiciled, was aided in part by this industry. German holding SolarWorld AG was among the Fund's top performers for the period.

“Renewable energy sources, such as solar and biofuels, benefited during the period from both pricing and policy.”

Countries Impacted Performance

Retailer Ic Companys AS, a Danish holding, performed well for the Fund due to a recently implemented comprehensive restructuring plan. The Fund's position in India was positively impacted by the performance of stocks such as equity brokerage house Indiabulls Financial Services and low-cost airline company SpiceJet Limited. The Fund's position in Germany benefited from the aforementioned SolarWorld AG and CTS Eventim AG. Semiconductor issue Wafer Works Corporation also aided the Fund's return from Taiwan.

The Fund's holdings in Hong Kong suffered during the period primarily due to the effect of interest rate increases on the country's pegged currency, as well as its association with China. Our positions in Australia, South Korea, Singapore and Italy also underperformed overall.

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Passport Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses, subject to applicable fee waivers. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Index measures global developed market equity performance outside of the United States. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. There are risks associated with small-cap investments such as limited product lines, less liquidity, and small market share. Investments in foreign securities entail unique risks, including political, market, and currency risks.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

Select Sectors Detracted

The Fund held an underweight position in the financials sector at the end of the period. Paired with weak individual stock performance, primarily from Japanese real estate companies, Islamic Bank of Britain PLC and Upbest Group Limited, the Fund's relative return suffered. Industrials and telecommunications services holdings also underperformed for the Fund.

Company-Specific Disappointments

Although the consumer discretionary sector provided a positive impact during the period, numerous holdings in this sector underperformed. Among them were France's 123 Multimedia, clothing retailer RNB Retail and Brands AB, Gentosha, Inc., and Hong Kong's Pearl Oriental Enterprises Limited. Gentosha, a Japanese bookstore, fell as the market awaited the outcome of the company's internal restructuring efforts.

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. Opinions regarding sectors, industries, companies, and/or themes are those of the portfolio manager and are subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and should not be construed as a recommendation of any specific security.

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Financials

Industrials

Telecommunications Services

Information technology holdings Cyber Agent Limited, PChome Online and Boss Media AB also declined during the half. PChome Online's stock fell due to a change in the company's business model, resulting in much lower margins.

D1 Oils PLC also detracted from the Fund's return in spite of the strong performance of the energy sector.

In Conclusion

At the end of the period, we continued to find investment opportunities in sectors with shortages or bottlenecks, including energy infrastructure, renewable energy and energy conservation plays. We also were very positive on companies that contribute to the development of the sophistication of financial markets and products. Finally, we were looking for opportunities to invest in beneficiaries of petrodollars.

As always, we continue to seek out international small-cap companies with the strongest growth potential by intensive analysis, management contact and fundamental, bottom-up research.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Passport Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund normally will invest a large portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and is presented as such in the Statement of Operations. Foreign currency held at June 30, 2005 for settling foreign trades is listed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.80% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.70% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $31,810 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $6,490 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $15,184 |
| Class B | $23,939 |
| Class C | $9,647 |
| Class R | $210 |
| Class T | $857 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $1,487 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $20,419 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $89,300 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|----------------------|-------------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $24,007 |
| Class B | $63,794 | $21,264 |
| Class C | $31,529 | $10,510 |
| Class T | $590 | $590 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $1,361 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $26,389 and $1,684 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.10% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.065% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $81,085, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $167,116.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|----------------------|
| 2008 | $17,533,320 |
| 2009 | $109,892,631 |
| 2010 | $11,833,084 |
| | $139,259,035 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Post-October Capital Loss Deferral | $50,886 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $99,471,809 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $5,376,592 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(2,763,784) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $2,612,808 |

Certain foreign countries impose a tax on capital gains, which is accrued by the Fund based on unrealized appreciation on affected securities. This unrealized appreciation is not included in the table above. The tax is paid when the gain is realized.

4. Capital Share Transactions

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $400,710,058 and $422,477,913, respectively.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement (“LOC”) with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund’s borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund’s total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

A Mixed Economic Environment

During the first six months of 2005, the United States contributed positively to the worldwide investing environment through such factors as strong domestic consumer demand, solid corporate earnings growth, a strengthening U.S. dollar and lower unemployment. China's increased demand for goods also injected the global economy, and inflation, in general, remained steady.

However, crude oil prices continued to skyrocket during the period, reaching over $60 per barrel. Although many energy companies and resource-rich countries benefited from high oil prices and high demand, this increase created a tax on growth throughout the world. The Federal Reserve in the United States continued its monetary tightening policy, which also weighed on investor activity. Structural economic problems plagued the Euro area, and Western European countries continued to struggle with increased competition. Mixed Japanese economic data also caused investor concern during the period.

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, Dreyfus Founders Worldwide Growth Fund underperformed its benchmark, the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World Index, which returned -0.70% for the same period. The Fund's return compared more favorably¹ to that of the MSCI World Growth Index, which returned -1.33%.

¹ Excluding sales charges, which result in lower returns for certain share classes. Please see page 7 for Average Annual and Year-to-Date Total Returns for all share classes, including and excluding sales charges.

The MSCI World Growth Index measures global developed market equity performance of growth securities. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in share price and reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of local taxes, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund.

Stock-By-Stock Basis

Our strategy in assembling the portfolio during the period remained consistent; we continued to analyze stocks on a company-by-company basis for possible inclusion in the Fund, rather than focusing on sector or country weightings.

U.S., European and Australian Stocks Aided Performance

Solid stock selection in the U.S. positively impacted Fund performance during the reporting period. Likewise, France, Germany, Australia and Finland buoyed the Fund’s return, due primarily to strong selection of stocks within each respective country. Australia fueled the Fund’s return as Oil Search Limited benefited from the high energy price environment and better-than-expected drilling results in its Yemeni oil field. Finnish utilities stock Fortum Oyj gained nearly 20% during the Fund’s holding period, helping the Fund’s position in Finland outperform.

“Although many energy companies and resource-rich countries benefited from high oil prices and high demand, this increase created a tax on growth throughout the world.”

Strong company-specific performance in the information technology sector was the chief contributor to the Fund’s six-month return. Information technology stocks were among the Fund’s top performers overall, with Apple Computer, Inc., Texas Instruments, Inc. and Intel Corporation leading the pack. Apple experienced outstanding growth in revenue as well as earnings per share (EPS) driven by the popularity of the company’s iPod and Macintosh products. Strong demand for mobile telephone handsets drove strong demand for semiconductors and chipsets produced by Texas Instruments. Improved demand trends also lifted the company’s gross and operating margins. Intel’s processor unit was driven by strong demand for notebook computers. The company saw a rebound in revenue growth and improved gross and operating margin trends as a result of this demand.

Top 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Information Technology
Consumer Discretionary
Telecommunications Services

Fund holdings within the consumer discretionary sector aided relative Fund performance as well. Propelled mainly by the strong consumer spending environment within the United States, issues such as Gillette Company outperformed. Gillette's stock price was also boosted by an acquisition offer by personal care manufacturing giant, Procter & Gamble Company.

Strong stock selection in the telecommunications services sector also produced a positive effect on the Fund's relative return for the period. TELUS Corporation outperformed due to excellent results reported in early May, citing strong wireless sales. Mobile phone provider Nokia Oyj also performed strongly during the period.

Healthcare holding Genentech, Inc., industrials' AMR Corporation, and consumer staples issue Safeway, Inc. were other notable performers during the period. Genentech's stock performance was driven by solid sales and expanded uses for its cancer drugs, AvastinTM and Herceptin[®]. The shares of AMR, parent company of American Airlines, were lifted due to strong consumer travel demand and increased fares due to high energy prices. Safeway's stock price also increased during the period.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Worldwide Growth Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses, subject to applicable fee waivers. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World Index measures global developed market equity performance. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers for certain share classes, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. Investments in foreign securities entail unique risks, including political, market, and currency risks.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

Weak Stock Selection Hampered Return

On a country basis, the largest drag on performance during the period came from the United Kingdom, primarily due to poor stock selection. Vodafone Group PLC and SABMiller PLC were the main detractors for the Fund from

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

- Energy
- Utilities
- Financials

this country. Vodafone’s stock dropped due to increased competition, lower product pricing and shrinking margins. The company’s Japanese subsidiary, Vodafone K.K., reported another weak quarter as well. SABMiller fell on poor U.S. beer sales and continued merger and acquisition speculation.

Additionally, holdings in the Netherlands, Canada and Belgium detracted from performance due to company-specific disappointments.

Within the benchmark, energy was the strongest performing sector during the period, as exploration and production and oil services stocks did particularly well, driven by rising oil prices and limited refining capacity. Although numerous energy stocks performed well for the Fund, it held a relative underweight position in this sector, which, paired with overall weak stock selection, detracted from the Fund’s relative return for the period.

Portfolio Composition of Net Assets

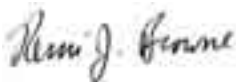

The Fund’s portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. Opinions regarding sectors, industries, companies, and/or themes are those of the portfolio managers and are subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and should not be construed as a recommendation of any specific security.

An underweight position in utilities and poor stock selection in financials also produced a drag on the Fund's return.

Some of the names that detracted from Fund performance came from a variety of sectors. Poor execution, disappointing margin trends, and difficulties with certain projects overshadowed strong bookings and revenue growth for Accenture Limited. W.W. Grainger, Inc. exhibited sluggish sales trends and lower earnings expectations. Despite strong demand trends, Royal Caribbean Cruises Limited came in well below consensus earnings estimates for the fourth quarter of 2004, which were reported in February of 2005. Additionally, high fuel prices and a lack of cost controls were the major variances that led to the company's poor results. Trend Micro, Inc., a Japanese developer of anti-virus software, fell on Microsoft's announcement that it will be packaging a competitor's anti-virus software with its operating system. Manpower, Inc. and JetBlue Airways Corporation underperformed for the period as well.

In Conclusion

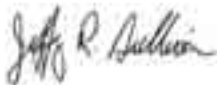

The Fund's strategy remains unchanged. We will continue to use a bottom-up, fundamentally based research approach to seek companies that may exhibit revenue and earnings growth, and that are characterized by valuations that make sense compared to the market, the peer group and their growth rates.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

Expense Example

| | Beginning Account Value (1/1/05) | Ending Account Value (6/30/05) | Expenses Paid During Period* (1/1/05-6/30/05) |

c. Annualized.

d. Certain fees were waived by the custodian or reimbursed by the management company or its affiliates. Had these fees not been reimbursed or waived, the expense ratios would have been 2.35% (2005), 2.16% (2004), 2.56% (2003), 5.48% (2002), and 10.02% (2001).

e. Portfolio Turnover Rate is a measure of portfolio activity that is calculated by dividing the lesser of purchases or sales of securities, excluding securities having maturity dates at acquisition of one year or less, by the average value of the portfolio securities held during the period, which is a rolling 12-month period.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Worldwide Growth Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund normally will invest a large portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and is presented as such in the Statement of Operations. Foreign currency held at June 30, 2005 for settling foreign trades is listed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.80% of the next $250 million of net assets, and 0.70% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $42,640 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $16,732 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $713 |
| Class B | $2,129 |
| Class C | $287 |
| Class R | $3,780 |
| Class T | $89 |

Certain as-of shareholder transactions may result in gains or losses to the Fund. Depending on the circumstances, these gains may be payable to, or reimbursable from, the transfer agent; such gains and losses are presented on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $1,056 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $17,744 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $70,833 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $748 |
| Class B | $6,895 | $2,298 |
| Class C | $992 | $331 |
| Class T | $54 | $54 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $48 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $2,426 and $1 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B shares and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed by applying the following rates, as applicable, to the domestic assets and foreign assets, with the proportions of domestic and foreign assets recalculated monthly, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

| On Assets in Excess of | But Not Exceeding | Domestic Fee | Foreign Fee |
|------------------------|-------------------|--------------|-------------|
| $0 | $500 million | 0.06% | 0.10% |
| $500 million | $1 billion | 0.04% | 0.065% |
| $1 billion | | 0.02% | 0.02% |

Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $10,918, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $18,106.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|---------------------|
| 2009 | $44,574,793 |
| 2010 | $22,200,649 |
| 2011 | $3,142,525 |
| | $69,917,967 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Federal Tax Cost | $69,622,674 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $11,386,581 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(732,144) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $10,654,437 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

| | Six months ended 6/30/05 | | Year ended 12/31/04 | |

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $55,030,641 and $61,397,510, respectively.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the "Defendant Funds"). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the "Amended Complaint") on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys' fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders' ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

Stagnant Versus Volatile

The first half of 2005 was a tale of two quarters: stagnant versus volatile. Early in the first quarter, the market saw profit-taking after a strong rally in the last half of 2004. The market then was without a major trend throughout the first quarter, which aided the Fund as individual stocks were rewarded.

The second quarter, in contrast, was punctuated by a strong mid-quarter rally led by small- and mid-capitalization stocks, a rally that tended not to compensate large-cap exposure.

Overlaying this was a rally in the bond market, notwithstanding continued interest rate increases by the Federal Reserve and stubbornly high energy prices. The markets ended the first half of 2005 down slightly from the beginning of the year, even though the economy continued to show signs of growth, and companies continued to exhibit fundamental earnings growth.

“We did not adjust the Fund’s sector weights materially, even though, as the period ended, sector rotation appeared more important than stock selection.”

We did not adjust the Fund’s sector weights materially, even though, as the period ended, sector rotation appeared more important than stock selection. The Fund has held many of its core positions throughout this sector rotation, as we continued to hold confidence in these companies’ earnings prospects and potential cash flow generation over our longer-term investment horizon.

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2005, the Dreyfus Founders Balanced Fund underperformed its benchmark, the Standard & Poor’s 500 Index, which posted a total return of -0.81% for the same period.

Healthcare and IT Benefited Performance

The Fund experienced strong performance from its biotechnology and semiconductor stocks in the healthcare and information technology (IT) sectors, respectively. These industries showed strong improvements during the period in both fundamentals and in stock price movements. Genentech, Inc. was one such strong-performing biotechnology stock. The company performed well through the period due to the receptivity to its new drugs for the treatment of multiple indications of cancer.

- Materials
- Information Technology

Numerous other healthcare holdings boosted the Fund's relative return for the period. Triad Hospitals, Inc. began to show improvements in its hospital admissions as well as improving trends in its bad debt expense, a factor that plagued the healthcare facilities industry throughout 2004. The Fund's position in Triad was increased at the end of the period as these factors were expected to continue through 2005. The Fund also was aided by its position in Eon Labs, Inc. as Novartis acquired the generic pharmaceutical company earlier in the year. Pharmaceutical company IVAX Corporation reached our price objective during the period, with little catalyst for growth expected for the balance of the year. Therefore, the Fund sold its position in this company, as we felt the monies may be better deployed in other investments.

In information technology, Apple Computer, Inc. continued to benefit from strong sales of its portable music player, the iPod, which also led consumers to ultimately purchase more Apple products, particularly notebook and desktop computers.

The Fund was underweight the materials sector relative to its benchmark; this factor paired with strong stock selection in the sector positively contributed to the Fund's performance for the period.

Underexposure and Weak Stock Selection Impeded Return

For the first six months of 2005, the Fund's relative performance was impaired by underexposure in two strong-performing sectors: energy and utilities.

The Fund also was underweight the industrials sector, as industrials typically begin exhibiting weakness as the economic cycle matures and earnings growth begins to moderate. Although this underweight position produced a positive effect, poor stock selection impeded the Fund's performance in this sector. Industrials holding W.W. Grainger, Inc. declined as higher-than-expected spending on the company's store expansion program and issues with its implementation of a SAP business software solution created concerns about future earnings growth.

The Fund's stock selection in the financials sector also weighed on performance, as some financial companies tend to underperform in an increasing interest rate cycle. First Marblehead Corporation declined during the half as investors became concerned about the company's long-term growth rate. This was primarily due to two factors: slower-than-expected volume growth for the second quarter, and an announcement by a large customer that it is considering keeping a portion of its loans instead of securitizing them through First Marblehead.

Other weak individual performers during the period were found in the consumer discretionary sector. Royal Caribbean Cruises Limited negatively impacted the Fund as investors concerned with the effect high oil prices may have on the company's profits pressured the stock. The Fund continued to hold Royal Caribbean at the end of the period as capacity increases within the cruise industry remained benign and continued robust demand for cruises helped Royal Caribbean to continue strong pricing. Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Balanced Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in unmanaged securities indexes on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index is designed to be representative of the U.S. equities market and consists of 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. The S&P 500 Index does not include a fixed-income component, while the Fund does. The Lipper Balanced Fund Index is an equal dollar weighted index of the largest mutual funds within the Balanced Fund classification, as defined by Lipper. This index is adjusted for the reinvestment of capital gains and income dividends, and reflects the management expenses associated with the funds included in the index. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers for certain share classes, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

industry within the consumer discretionary sector underperformed as box office receipts during the period were a large disappointment. Both Time Warner, Inc. and DreamWorks Animation SKG, Inc. significantly hindered the Fund. Time Warner experienced pressure due to concerns over its earnings performance in the first half of 2005. However, Time Warner remained one of the largest equity holdings in the Fund as of June 30, 2005, as the second-half outlook for its products remained solid and the fundamentals in its top businesses appeared sound. DreamWorks warned of a loss in the second quarter as the company overestimated DVD sales and underestimated returns from its vendors and distributors. The Fund reduced its position in DreamWorks during the period, although we retained a small position due to the company's new projects in development for release over the next two years.

Fixed-Income Performance

In fixed-income markets, higher oil prices, a strengthening dollar and higher short-term interest rates were held accountable for any perceived slowdown in the economy during the period. The housing market provided a considerable offset to these factors, as well as stimulus to the economy, as homeowners continued to extract equity from their homes.

Whereas in the first quarter the Fund was aided by its high-quality bias, high cash position and short duration, the fixed-income portion of the Fund lagged during the second quarter of the period due to its large cash position and

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. concentration in shorter-dated securities. A larger position in cash buffered the Fund when bonds sold off in the first quarter, but created a drag on performance when bonds rallied in the second quarter. A high concentration of corporate bonds also hindered performance as Treasuries and Agencies outpaced corporate debt during the first six months of 2005; corporates experienced several high-profile downgrades in the first quarter causing investor flight to quality and Treasury and Agency outperformance.

Exposure in the five- to seven-year range was added during the second quarter of the period; the Fund held 26% of its fixed-income assets in bonds with maturities five years or longer as of June 30, 2005. The Fund also held 20.9% of its fixed-income assets in corporate debt compared to 4.8% in Agencies. Longer-dated securities performed well for the Fund.

The Fund's exposure of 13% of its fixed-income assets to the fixed-rate mortgage category weighed on performance as mortgages lagged other fixed-income sectors during the period.

In Conclusion

We are monitoring indications that the Federal Reserve may be nearing the end of its tightening cycle. Additionally, as we will be nearing the typical 18-month lag effect on the economy from the onset of the first federal funds rate increase, we will monitor the data for signs of economic change.

The Fund maintained a somewhat more conservative stance as of the end of the period, but increased its equity weighting as we found more compelling growth opportunities over the last several months. We continue to focus on high-quality growth companies that we believe show strong fundamental attributes. As always, we thank you for your continued investment in the Fund.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Balanced Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

U.S. Government Obligations—Some U.S. government obligations, such as Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) pass-through certificates, are supported by the full faith and credit of the United States Treasury. Other obligations, such as securities of the Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB), are supported by the right of the issuer to borrow from the United States Treasury; and others, such as bonds issued by Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA, a private corporation), are supported only by the credit of the agency, authority or instrumentality, although the Secretary of the Treasury has discretionary authority, though not the obligation, to purchase obligations of FNMA.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) quarterly and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC (“Founders”) serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund’s net assets. The fee is 0.65% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.60% of the next $250 million of net assets, 0.55% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.50% of net assets in excess of $750 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $30,570 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund’s share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund’s Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $4,445 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $2,863 |
| Class B | $2,544 |
| Class C | $530 |
| Class R | $60 |
| Class T | $86 |

Founders has agreed to reimburse (or to cause its affiliates to reimburse) the Class R and Class T share classes of the Fund for certain transfer agency expenses pursuant to a written contractual commitment. This commitment will extend through at least August 31, 2006, and will not be terminated without prior notification to the Company's board of directors. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class R and Class T were each reimbursed $44, which reduced the amounts paid to DTI to $16 and $42, respectively.

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. ("Mellon Bank"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $1,116 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $44,200 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $103,719 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $2,072 |
| Class B | $5,537 | $1,846 |
| Class C | $934 | $311 |
| Class T | $42 | $42 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $942 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $5,229 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B shares.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders’ costs in providing the services.

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund’s portion of the fee waiver was $2,201, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $1,320.

Directors Compensation—The Company’s board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors’ fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company’s board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|----------------------|
| 2008 | $72,497,269 |
| 2009 | $49,289,530 |
| 2010 | $70,087,112 |
| 2011 | $1,472,188 |
| | $193,346,099 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $7,356 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $81,208,742 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $4,298,124 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(1,539,592) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $2,758,532 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

The Fund is authorized to issue 850 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Fund for the periods indicated were as follows:

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $69,241,181 and $84,813,689, respectively. Purchases and sales of long-term U.S. government obligations were $987,082 and $9,433,428, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

A discussion with co-portfolio managers Bradley C. Orr, CFA, left, and James (J.D.) Padgett, CFA, regarding Fund performance for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.

A Mixed Environment

Following the strong advances registered by the domestic equity markets during the fourth quarter of last year, 2005 started on a far less positive note. Markets declined broadly in the first quarter due to a persistent rise in oil prices and the Federal Reserve's tightening monetary policy.

The markets did partially recover during the second quarter, as investors began to speculate that the Federal Reserve may soon end its rate tightening campaign. At the same time, the pace of economic growth remained relatively strong, as evidenced by the robust gross domestic product (GDP) in the second quarter.

During the first six months of 2005, small-cap growth stocks underperformed both small-cap value stocks and large-cap growth stocks. This can be seen when comparing the -3.58% six-month return of the Russell 2000 Growth Index to the 0.90% return of the Russell 2000 Value Index, as well as to the -1.72% and -0.81% returns in the larger-capitalization Russell 1000 Growth Index and the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, respectively.

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2005, Dreyfus Founders Discovery Fund's performance¹ compared favorably to the Fund's benchmark, the Russell 2000 Growth Index, which, as mentioned above, posted a total return of -3.58% for the same period.

¹ Excluding sales charges, which result in lower returns for certain share classes. Please see page 7 for Average Annual and Year-to-Date Total Returns for all share classes, including and excluding sales charges.

The Russell 2000 Value Index measures the performance of those Russell 2000 companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values. The Russell 1000 Growth Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of those Russell 1000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index is designed to be representative of the U.S. equities market and consists of 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. The total return figures cited for these indexes assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund.

Portfolio Composition Changes

High energy prices continued to drive demand in the oil services industry; therefore, the Fund added energy holdings during the period in an attempt to garner greater growth potential in this sector. In addition, the Fund's weighting in the consumer discretionary sector was significantly larger than that of its benchmark as we believed many opportunities existed in this sector.

The Fund decreased its weighting in the information technology sector as we felt that valuations weren't compelling enough to outweigh broad fundamental concerns in this sector.

Also, the Fund decreased its weighting in the industrials sector, although industrials were still overweight versus the benchmark. During the first half, many companies in this sector faced decelerating revenue and earnings growth. In fact, earnings expectations dropped after many months of upward revisions. At the same time, valuations were at the high end of historical ranges. We felt the earnings acceleration that had been driven by the recovering economy began to naturally slow, and therefore, we reduced the Fund's exposure to this sector.

Consumer Discretionary Stocks Benefited Performance

The consumer discretionary sector proved particularly strong for the Fund during the six-month period. An overweight position and strong stock selection led to solid outperformance in this sector. Although the strength of consumer spending is an important backdrop for the financial performance of most consumer discretionary companies, there were many stocks within the sector that outperformed despite the uncertain macro-economic environment.

The Fund opportunistically added to its positions in existing consumer discretionary holdings after the market sold these stocks due to short-term or potentially unwarranted concerns. Guitar Center, Inc., a music retailer, and WMS Industries, Inc., a casino gaming machine manufacturer, were two such examples. Guitar Center experienced some weaker results toward the end of the first quarter, causing the stock to decline over 17% from its high. The Fund took this opportunity to significantly increase its position in Guitar Center and benefited from the stock's price increase in the second quarter. WMS reported better-than-expected revenue growth in the fourth quarter of 2004, but was unable to control expenses and increase margins, thus putting future earnings growth in question. The company recovered in the first quarter of 2005, resulting in improved earnings performance. The Fund increased its position in WMS following the fourth quarter earnings disappointment and ensuing stock decline.

The gaming and lodging industry within the consumer discretionary sector has been a focus area for the Fund for some time. The worldwide proliferation of gaming continued to provide a strong tailwind for the industry. Many compelling growth opportunities were found during the first half, including some strong-performing holdings for the Fund. Station Casinos, Inc. provided a boost to the Fund's relative return as the company continued to benefit from strong local gaming trends in the Las Vegas market, driven by fast population growth, market share gains, an increase in the number of patrons, as well as increased revenue per patron. The Fund's position in this company was sold during the period as the valuation became stretched and concerns about future decelerating growth trends began to surface.

Healthcare and Energy Aided Return

The Fund also invested in a few strong-performing healthcare stocks at the right time, benefiting the Fund's relative return. Medical device makers ArthroCare Corporation and Kyphon, Inc. were two such examples.

ArthroCare, a new position for the Fund, experienced an inflection point in its operations in the fourth quarter of 2004, as the company increased earnings guidance for 2005, updated progress on a recent acquisition that accelerated sales, and identified a target operating model that allowed for significant

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Discovery Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Russell 2000 Growth Index measures the performance of stocks of companies in the Russell 2000 Index with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The Russell 2000 Index is a widely recognized, unmanaged small-cap index comprising common stocks of the 2,000 U.S. public companies next in size after the largest 1,000 publicly traded U.S. companies. The total return figures cited for the Russell 2000 Growth Index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to amounts received from class action settlements regarding prior Fund holdings. There is no guarantee that these settlement distributions will occur in the future or have a similar impact on performance. There are risks associated with small-cap investing such as limited product lines, less liquidity, and small market share.

revenue growth and earnings leverage. The company experienced some missteps during the first half of 2005, including a missed regulatory filing, which caused its valuation to drop, thus creating a compelling investment opportunity for the Fund. Kyphon, Inc. continued to post very positive quarterly results. A favorable court ruling upholding the company's patents surrounding a proprietary procedure also was an important contributor to the stock's outperformance during the period.

The pharmaceutical industry, including both generic and specialty drugs, has been an attractive pool of potential growth opportunities for the Fund for a long period of time. Valuations in this industry have been compelling relative to historical levels and the overall market. One of the Fund's holdings in this industry, Endo Pharmaceuticals Holdings, Inc., received a favorable court ruling during the period that allowed the company to sell into a previously patent-protected market for the pain-management drug, OxyContin, which will address a nearly $2 billion market. The ruling took the company's estimated earnings for 2005 up over 50% and the stock price up over 30%.

Energy was a clear sector leader in the Russell 2000 Growth Index. Therefore, increasing the Fund's weighting in this sector allowed the Fund to capture a greater portion of this outperformance. Combined with positive stock selection, the sector proved to be a very favorable contributor to performance. The Fund's weighting in this sector was heavily skewed toward the oil services industry, as opposed to the exploration and production (E&P) industry. We generally believed during the period that oil services stocks exhibited a more favorable risk versus reward ratio than E&P stocks, mainly due to a fairly good correlation between the two industries over time, and the underperformance of oil services stocks relative to the E&P industry more recently.

Rising oil prices throughout the period led to increased demand for oil services, increasing pricing power, and therefore, earnings leverage for these companies. Patterson-UTI Energy, Inc., a top five position in the Fund as of

“The Fund added energy holdings during the period in an attempt to garner greater growth potential in this sector.”

June 30, 2005, saw increasing demand for its land-drilling rigs and related services during the period. Earnings growth for Patterson was roughly 100% in 2004. National Oilwell Varco, Inc. was also a beneficiary of the strong energy market, driven by higher oil prices and increased drilling demand. National Oilwell Varco also made a very accretive acquisition during the half, following which the market cap exceeded $8 billion, causing the Fund to gradually exit the position and redeploy assets elsewhere in the sector.

IT and Industrials Weighed on Performance

Both the information technology (IT) and industrials sectors underperformed the Russell 2000 Growth Index during the half, and poor stock selection in these sectors negatively impacted relative Fund performance. In the information technology sector, holdings such as Polycom, Inc., Avocent Corporation, Altiris, Inc., and Aeroflex, Inc. were large detractors from performance. Polycom, a maker of video conferencing equipment, reported poor results as the company continued to struggle with sluggish demand. Avocent, a manufacturer of computer server management systems, announced that first quarter results would fall well short of Wall Street expectations, as management executed poorly during an important new product transition. Altiris, a systems management software company, struggled with slowing demand and an inability to control operating expenses. Aeroflex, a maker of semiconductor devices and test and measurement equipment, fell as the company reported weak results in the first quarter.

In the industrials sector, Trex Company, Inc., a building products manufacturer, was hurt by poor weather and excess inventories in its distribution channel.

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Industrials
Information Technology
Financials

Another name that detracted from Fund performance was Inspire Pharmaceuticals, Inc. Inspire, a development stage drug manufacturer, missed its primary endpoint for a late-stage clinical trial, which was important to gain approval for a drug targeting the condition known as dry eye. The stock declined over 50% on the news. The Fund held its position in the stock at the end of the period as we believed a good chance still existed that the company may receive drug approval. Additionally, we believed that Inspire has a robust drug pipeline.

The Fund's holdings in the financials sector also underperformed for the period due to weak stock selection.

In Conclusion

As we entered the second half of 2005, the Fund was overweight the consumer discretionary, healthcare and energy sectors, and underweight the information technology, industrials and financials sectors.

The economic backdrop remains uncertain in our opinion. Most economic indicators remained relatively strong during the period, or at least were trending in the right direction. However, the impact that increasing interest rates and very high oil prices will have on the economy remains uncertain. We will continue to seek to take advantage of the current economic environment as well as to focus on companies that may offer growth opportunities.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Discovery Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.80% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.70% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $150,085 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $35,380 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $17,973 |
| Class B | $24,557 |
| Class C | $6,085 |
| Class R | $11,506 |
| Class T | $975 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $7,868 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $241,350 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $528,304 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $62,340 |
| Class B | $60,555 | $20,185 |
| Class C | $20,059 | $6,686 |
| Class T | $1,807 | $1,807 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $65 and $2 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A and Class T shares, respectively. DSC also retained $32,602 and $613 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $9,574, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $5,070.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|----------------------|
| 2009 | $138,824,492 |
| 2010 | $230,439,968 |
| 2011 | $14,100,468 |
| | $383,364,928 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|----------------|
| Federal Tax Cost | $539,388,769 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $51,400,189 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(21,002,317) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $30,397,872 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

The Fund is authorized to issue 450 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Fund for the periods indicated were as follows:

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $496,258,083 and $636,707,104, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the "Defendant Funds"). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the "Amended Complaint") on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys' fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders' ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

*A discussion with portfolio manager
John B. Jares, CFA, regarding Fund
performance for the six-month period
ended June 30, 2005.*

Oil and the Federal Reserve

The investing environment during the first six months of 2005 can be simply characterized by two economic factors: rising oil prices and the Federal Reserve ratcheting up short-term interest rates in an effort to contain inflation. As a result, most indices posted modest declines during the period despite solid corporate earnings growth.

Company-Specific Impacts

The Fund's strategy in pursuing growth opportunities by researching stocks on a company-by-company basis did not change during the period. Because of and in spite of this strategy, the Fund experienced a mixed lot of stock selection: the Fund had strong selection in numerous sectors as well as weak selection in others.

Although the Fund's first quarter performance was solid relative to its large-cap growth fund peers, its performance in the second quarter proved disappointing. For the first half of 2005, the Dreyfus Founders Equity Growth Fund trailed the return of the Russell 1000 Growth Index, which returned -1.72%, and the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, which returned -0.81%.

*"Although the Fund's first relative to its large-cap growth fund peers, its performance in the second quarter

Consumer-Related Stocks Boosted Performance

Financials and consumer-related stocks had the largest positive impacts on the Fund's relative return during the period. Continued strength in consumer spending helped buoy consumer discretionary and consumer staples stocks, and the Fund overweighted the consumer discretionary sector with holdings positioned to benefit from the potential growth opportunities this trend provided. Kohl's Corporation experienced a recovery in sales and earnings growth driven by new apparel products and improved corporate execution. Although a stable consumer spending backdrop helped J.C. Penney Company's sales, excellent execution helped lead the stock's favorable performance. Consumer staples stock Gillette Company benefited from a buyout offer from Procter & Gamble Company and from solid fundamentals as well.

Top 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Financials
Consumer Discretionary
Consumer Staples

The information technology sector, although underperforming for the period, did harbor stock-specific boons to Fund performance. Among these were Apple Computer, Inc.

and Intel Corporation. Apple saw outstanding growth in revenue as well as earnings per share (EPS) driven primarily by the popularity of the company's iPod and Macintosh products. Strong demand for notebook computers helped drive Intel's processor unit. As a result, the company saw a rebound in revenue growth and improved gross and operating margin trends.

Other individual strong performers during the half were found in the healthcare and industrials sectors. Genentech Inc.'s solid sales and expanded uses for its cancer drugs, AvastinTM and Herceptin[®], drove stock performance. Strong consumer travel demand and high energy prices allowed the airline industry to raise fares. In light of the tough industry operating conditions, this was welcome news that helped to lift the shares of AMR Corporation, the parent company of American Airlines.

Industrials and IT Weighed Heavily

Overweight positions and weak stock selection in the industrials and information technology (IT) sectors impeded the Fund's return for the period. Industrials holding W.W. Grainger, Inc. exhibited sluggish sales trends and lower earnings expectations, which combined to drive the stock lower. In information technology, numerous underachieving issues weighed heavily on the Fund's performance for the period. Sluggish trends in Europe and poor execution in services drove a disappointing first quarter earnings report for International Business Machines Corporation, which was followed by a precipitous fall in stock price. Microsoft Corporation underperformed the market, although it delivered financial results that were in line with investor expectations. Poor execution, disappointing margin trends, and difficulties with certain projects overshadowed strong bookings and revenue growth for Accenture Limited Class A, resulting in a materially lower stock price. An excess of semiconductor inventory led to lackluster industry growth despite Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Equity Growth Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in unmanaged securities indexes on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index is designed to be representative of the U.S. equities market and consists of 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. The Russell 1000 Growth Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of those Russell 1000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The total return figures cited for these indexes assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. In future semiannual reports, the Fund's performance will no longer be compared to the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, as the Russell 1000 Growth Index is more reflective of the Fund's growth style of investing. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

stable end-market demand. Combined with relatively high valuation, these factors led Maxim Integrated Products, Inc. to significantly underperform for the period. Although all of the aforementioned stocks were weak performers during the half, the Fund remained invested in these companies as it was our assessment that fundamental business trends may improve and these companies could benefit.

Although strong performing issues were found in healthcare, a significant underweight position in this sector detracted from the Fund's performance.

Finally, other notable poor performing stocks hampered the Fund's return, such as Avaya, Inc. and Time Warner, Inc. Avaya experienced a large loss from a European subsidiary, along with sluggish overall sales trends in PBX (private branch exchange) telephone network equipment, which created a revenue and earnings shortfall in the first quarter of the period. Subsequently,

Portfolio Composition of Net Assets

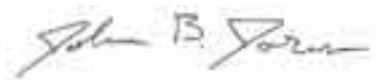

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. the stock suffered and the Fund exited its position in the company. Consumer discretionary holding Time Warner experienced pressure during the period due to concerns over its second quarter earnings performance.

In Conclusion

As of the end of the period, the Fund was positioned for an expanding economy, with significant exposure to information technology and consumer-related issues. Our strategy remains consistent moving into the second half of 2005; we continue to employ a bottom-up, research-driven approach in searching for the greatest growth opportunities for the portfolio.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Equity Growth Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 0.65% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.60% of the next $250 million of net assets, 0.55% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.50% of net assets in excess of $750 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $123,895 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund’s share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund’s Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $53,155 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund’s Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $1,308 |
| Class B | $2,535 |
| Class C | $535 |
| Class R | $278 |
| Class T | $82 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $2,830 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid

$10,352 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $88,048 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $1,479 |
| Class B | $6,808 | $2,269 |
| Class C | $5,368 | $1,789 |
| Class T | $21 | $21 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $1,012 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $3,013 and $1 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $3,930, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $2,240.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|---------------------|
| 2009 | $49,538,969 |
| 2010 | $50,083,634 |
| | $99,622,603 |

The aggregate cost of investments and the composition of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investment securities for federal income tax purposes as of June 30, 2005 are noted below. Unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the table below excludes appreciation/depreciation on foreign currency translation, if any. The primary difference between book and tax appreciation or depreciation is wash sale loss deferrals.

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Post-October Capital Loss Deferral | $1,658,174 |
| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $438,872 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $215,587,769 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $13,239,381 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(7,479,997) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $5,759,384 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

| | Six months ended 6/30/2005 | | Year ended 12/31/2004 | |

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $136,246,320 and $152,600,440, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

*A discussion with portfolio manager
John B. Jares, CFA, regarding Fund
performance for the six-month period
ended June 30, 2005.*

Two Economic Factors

Two economic factors greatly weighed on the markets during the first two quarters of the year. Crude oil prices climbed above $60 per barrel during the period, hitting historical highs on numerous occasions. Additionally, the Federal Reserve increased the federal funds rate by 100 basis points during the half in an effort to contain inflationary pressures. The combined effect of these two factors was reflected in the markets, as most indices posted modest declines during the period.

Stock Selection Was Key

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund continued its bottom-up, fundamental-based growth-stock investment strategy. We continued to meet with company management teams and closely scrutinize companies against the current economic backdrop in an attempt to assemble the greatest growth potential for the Fund. This approach led us to select some strong-performing stocks during the period. However, weak stock selection also plagued some sectors, causing the Dreyfus Founders Growth Fund's return for the six months to underperform that of its benchmark, the Russell 1000 Growth Index, which returned -1.72% for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.

*"We continued to meet
with company management
teams and closely scrutinize companies against the current economic backdrop in an attempt to assemble the greatest growth
potential for the Fund."*

To summarize the period, the Fund's first quarter performance was strong relative to its large-cap growth fund peers, while its second quarter performance proved disappointing, due to poor-performing stocks.

Consumer-Related Stocks Boosted Performance

Financials was the strongest performing sector in the Fund for the period, owing its positive contribution primarily to strong stock selection. Fund holdings in both the consumer staples and consumer discretionary sectors likewise performed well, as companies in these sectors benefited from continued strength in consumer spending. The Fund invested in more consumer discretionary holdings during the period in an attempt to take advantage of this trend. Among the strongest performers were retailers Kohl's Corporation and J.C. Penney Company, Inc. Kohl's experienced a recovery in sales and earnings growth driven by new products and improved corporate execution. J.C. Penney also saw strong sales and solid execution, which pushed the company's earnings estimates and stock price up. Consumer staples stock Gillette Company benefited from both solid company fundamentals and an acquisition offer from the personal care manufacturing giant Procter & Gamble Company.

Numerous strong performers were also found in the information technology sector, even though the sector overall underperformed for the Fund during the period. Apple Computer, Inc. experienced outstanding growth in revenue due mainly to the popularity of the company's iPod and Macintosh products. Intel Corporation's processor unit was driven by strong demand for notebook computers, which helped the company's revenue growth and helped gross and operating margin trends recover.

Genentech, Inc. was another notable performer during the period. The company experienced solid sales and expanded applications for two of its products, Avastin™ and Herceptin®. The parent company of American Airlines, AMR Corporation, benefited from strong consumer travel demand and high energy prices, factors that allowed the company and overall airline industry to raise fares.

Industrials and IT Performed Poorly

Stock selection in the industrials and information technology (IT) sectors, paired with relative overweight positions, hampered the Fund's return for the period. In industrials, W.W. Grainger, Inc., a supplier of facilities maintenance products, saw its stock price drop on sluggish sales trends and lower earnings expectations. Numerous stocks hurt the Fund's performance in the information technology sector, including International Business Machines Corporation (IBM), Microsoft Corporation, Accenture Limited Class A and Maxim Integrated Products, Inc. IBM suffered from sluggish trends in Europe and disappointing execution in services, which caused the stock price to drop. Microsoft's stock price was hit, although its financial results were in line

Growth of $10,000 Investment

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Growth Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in unmanaged securities indexes on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index is designed to be representative of the U.S. equities market and consists of 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. The Russell 1000 Growth Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of those Russell 1000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The total return figures cited for these indexes assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. In future semiannual reports, the Fund's performance will no longer be compared to the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, as the Russell 1000 Growth Index is more reflective of the Fund's growth style of investing. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to amounts received from class action settlements regarding prior Fund holdings. There is no guarantee that these settlement distributions will occur in the future or have a similar impact on performance.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Industrials
Healthcare
Information Technology

with investor expectations. Poor execution, disappointing margin trends, and difficulties with certain projects overshadowed strong bookings and revenue growth for Accenture. A glut in the semiconductor inventory and lackluster industry growth, combined with a relatively high valuation, weighed on Maxim. However, although these stocks underperformed for the period, we believe that these companies may be positioned to take advantage of improving fundamental business trends; therefore, the Fund remained invested in these stocks as of June 30, 2005.

The Fund's performance in the healthcare sector was hindered during the period by a significant underweight position relative to the Fund's benchmark.

Portfolio Composition of Net Assets

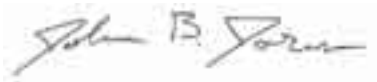

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. Opinions regarding sectors, industries, companies, and/or themes are those of the portfolio manager and are subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and should not be construed as a recommendation of any specific security.

Finally, we should note the poor performance of telecommunications services holding Avaya, Inc., a holding the Fund exited by the end of the period, and consumer discretionary holding Time Warner, Inc. Sluggish sales in the PBX (private branch exchange) telephone network market and an underperforming European subsidiary created a revenue and earnings shortfall for Avaya. Time Warner experienced pressure during the period due to concerns over its second quarter earnings performance.

In Conclusion

The Fund ended the first half of 2005 with a significant exposure to information technology, consumer discretionary and consumer staples issues. As we enter into the second half of the year, our investment strategy remains unchanged. We will continue to employ a research-driven stock-by-stock assessment in composing the Fund in an attempt to find the best growth opportunities for the portfolio.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Growth Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $30 million of net assets, 0.75% of the next $270 million of net assets, 0.70% of the next $200 million of net assets and 0.65% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $183,470 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $71,220 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $7,612 |
| Class B | $18,385 |
| Class C | $2,069 |
| Class R | $3,929 |
| Class T | $310 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $5,062 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $61,300 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $460,257 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $7,275 |
| Class B | $41,383 | $13,794 |
| Class C | $5,957 | $1,986 |
| Class T | $119 | $119 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $618 and $5 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A and Class T shares, respectively. DSC also retained $21,147 and $27 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $6,602, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $3,996.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|----------------------|
| 2008 | $501,000 |
| 2009 | $516,034,883 |
| 2010 | $209,975,954 |
| | $726,511,837 |

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $1,301,047 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $379,502,798 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $21,050,315 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(12,822,932) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $8,227,383 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

The Fund is authorized to issue 750 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Fund for the periods indicated were as follows:

| | Six months ended 6/30/05 | | Year ended 12/31/04 | |

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $231,921,016 and $287,598,641, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

A Drain from Oil

Several underlying themes greatly affected the global market environment during the period. The overwhelming driving force, however, was the ever-increasing price of oil, which topped $60 per barrel in June. Secondary issues were the rising unemployment rate in the Euro area and the slowing housing market in the United Kingdom. On the positive side, the economic scenario in the United States and subdued worldwide inflation helped support the markets slightly.

Energy stocks were by far the best performers overall during the period, driven by strong worldwide demand for oil, which drove oil prices higher. Naturally, countries with strong oil exposure did very well during the first half of the year; Norway, Canada and Australia, all of which are important producers of oil, were among the best performers for the period. Japan, which imports all of its oil, suffered due to the increasing cost.

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, Dreyfus Founders International Equity Fund underperformed its benchmark, the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Index, which returned -0.71% for the same period. The Fund posted a competitive return¹ versus its benchmark, the MSCI World ex U.S. Growth Index, which returned -1.12%.

¹ Excluding sales charges, which result in lower returns for certain share classes. Please see page 7 for Average Annual and Year-to-Date Total Returns for all share classes, including and excluding sales charges.

The MSCI World ex U.S. Growth Index measures global developed market equity performance of growth securities outside of the United States. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in share price and reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of local taxes, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund.

A Consistent Strategy

Our investment strategy did not change during the period: we continued to search on a stock-by-stock basis for the best growth opportunities as opposed to a top-down country allocation strategy.

Strong Selection and Beneficial Weightings Fueled Fund

Strong performances in France, Spain and Finland, through both advantageous relative weightings and strong selection of stocks, buoyed the Fund's relative return during the period. In France, stock selection in automobile manufacturer Renault SA and pharmaceutical company Sanofi-Aventis were beneficial to relative performance. During the Fund's holding period, Finnish utilities stock Fortum Oyj gained nearly 20%, helping the Fund's position in Finland outperform. Construction company ACS, Actividades de Construcción y Servicios SA also performed strongly during the period, aiding the Fund's relative outperformance in Spain.

"We continued to search on a stock-by-stock basis for the best growth opportunities."

Industrials and Telecom Aided Performance

The Fund experienced positive stock selection in 6 of 10 economic sectors. Outperformance versus the benchmark came primarily from the telecommunications services and industrials sectors. The Fund's telecommunications services holdings benefited from strong performances in Canada's TELUS Corporation and Hong Kong's China Mobile (Hong Kong) Limited. TELUS outperformed due to strong wireless sales reported in early May, while China Mobile continued to show solid subscriber growth during the first half of 2005. In the industrials sector, Danish shipper AP Moller-Maersk AS experienced positive stock performance due to rising shipping rates, strong oil prices and its accretive purchase of container shipping company, P&O Nedlloyd.

A significant underweight position in the financials sector, a weak performing sector within the Fund's benchmark, also aided the Fund's relative return for the period.

Several other stocks had strong contributions to the overall performance of the Fund. Australian-based Oil Search Limited benefited from $60 per barrel oil prices and better-than-expected drilling results in its Yemeni oil field. BHP

Industrials
Telecommunications Services
Financials

Billiton Limited had a strong first half as iron ore, coal and oil prices increased and the company made an accretive acquisition of WMC Resources Limited, an Australian copper and uranium producer. Husky Energy, Inc., a Canadian integrated oil and natural gas firm, advanced with the rest of the energy industry on surging oil prices and widening refining margins. Additionally, news that the company's White Rose offshore project in Newfoundland would be completed on time and on budget boosted its share price further. Keppel Corporation Limited, a Singapore engineering firm, continued to win new orders to build oil rigs, which drove the company's stock price performance.

Weak U.K. Stocks and Underexposure Hurt Return

The largest drag on performance during the period came from the United Kingdom, primarily due to poor stock selection. Fund holdings Vodafone Group PLC and SABMiller PLC were the main detractors from this country. Vodafone's stock price decreased during the period due to increased competition,

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders International Equity Fund on its inception date of 12/29/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses, subject to fee waivers and expense limitations. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Index measures global developed market equity performance outside of the United States. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, expense limitations, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. Investments in foreign securities entail unique risks, including political, market, and currency risks.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

lower prices and shrinking margins. Vodafone K.K., the company's Japanese subsidiary, reported another weak quarter as well. SABMiller's stock price was hurt by poor U.S. beer sales and continued merger and acquisition speculation.

Additionally, holdings in the Netherlands, Belgium and Canada also hurt the Fund's relative performance.

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

- Consumer Staples
- Energy
- Information Technology

Fund holdings in the consumer staples sector produced a drain on performance. Belgian-based food retailer Delhaize Group reduced its full-year top- and bottom-line expectations at its quarterly earnings update. Competition with Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. and cost overruns were the main culprits for the revised guidance, which prompted the Fund to exit this position. SABMiller, as mentioned above, also negatively affected the Fund's performance in this sector.

Within the benchmark, energy and utilities were the two best performing sectors during the period. Exploration and production and oil services stocks did particularly well in the rising oil price environment. Utilities also generated strong returns; electricity companies were able to pass along price increases to

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. customers as energy costs rose sharply during the period. However, the Fund's underweight positions in both these sectors generated a negative impact on the Fund's relative performance.

IT and Select Stocks Hampered Performance

The information technology (IT) sector also hampered the Fund's return for the period, mainly owing to a relative overweight position. One of the poor individual IT performers in the Fund was Trend Micro, Inc., a Japanese developer of anti-virus software for home and business use. Trend Micro's stock fell on Microsoft's announcement that it will be packaging a competitor's anti-virus software with its operating system. The Fund exited its position in Trend Micro on this decline.

Another poor individual performer during the period was German-based ThyssenKrupp AG. The company reduced steel volumes due to marketplace overcapacity as China continues to build more stainless facilities, which threatens the overall global supply/demand balance in this segment of the steel market. Casio Computer Company Limited's stock price also declined after Casio Micronics, a 75% owned subsidiary of Casio Computer, lowered its 2005 operating profit estimate based on volume revisions. This was enough to affect Casio Computer's 2005 operating profit estimate, causing the stock to slip. Publishing and Broadcasting Limited was liquidated during the period as the company reported weak earnings following the loss of market share in its television station business.

In Conclusion

As always, our investing focus is on seeking stocks with improving business momentum and attractive valuations in each country and sector regardless of the market's direction.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders International Equity Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund normally will invest a large portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and is presented as such in the Statement of Operations. Foreign currency held at June 30, 2005 for settling foreign trades is listed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.80% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.70% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Founders has agreed to waive a portion of its management fee and to limit the total expenses of the Fund. Founders agreed to waive that portion of its management fee that exceeds 0.75% of the Fund's average net assets and to limit the annual expenses of the Fund (net of credits received from the Fund's custodian and expense offsets to broker commissions) to 1.40% for Class A and Class F shares, 2.15% for Class B and Class C shares, 1.15% for Class R shares and 1.65% for Class T shares. These reductions are made pursuant to a permanent written contractual commitment. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, $131,025 was reimbursed to the Fund by Founders pursuant to this provision.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $13,410 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $4,685 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $28,984 |
| Class B | $3,613 |
| Class C | $684 |
| Class R | $706 |
| Class T | $441 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended

June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $475 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $1,660 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $13,105 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

Distribution and shareholder servicing fees paid to DSC by the Fund's Class A, B, C and T shares for the six months ended June 30, 2005, were as follows:

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $30,189 |
| Class B | $7,371 | $2,457 |
| Class C | $1,794 | $598 |
| Class T | $173 | $173 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $7,771 and $1 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.10% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.065% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $10,956, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $20,635.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|---------------------|
| 2008 | $5,074,404 |
| 2009 | $12,777,527 |
| 2010 | $5,986,171 |
| 2011 | $7,339,094 |
| | $31,177,196 |

|---------------------------------------|--------------|
| Undistributed Ordinary Income | $9,042 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $28,831,630 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $7,587,950 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(212,725) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $7,375,225 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

The Fund is authorized to issue 450 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Fund for the periods indicated were as follows:

| | Six months ended 6/30/05 | | Year ended 12/31/04 | |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------|----------------|------------------------|----------------|
| | Shares | Amount | Shares | Amount |

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $9,848,073 and $13,500,345, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

A discussion with co-portfolio managers John B. Jares, CFA, left, and Daniel E. Crowe, CFA, regarding Fund performance for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.

The View Turned Optimistic

The investing environment during the first half of 2005 could be defined by two distinct periods. During the first period, the market struggled with higher energy prices, the Federal Reserve's continued tightening of its monetary policy, a slowing economy and signs of increasing inflation. However, during the latter part of the half, investors became more optimistic based on stable economic growth in the face of continued high oil prices, relatively benign inflation, strong growth in housing prices and the belief that the Federal Reserve was nearing the end of its tightening cycle. To summarize the half, investors went from viewing the glass as half empty to half full.

In spite of this, the majority of growth indexes were down for the first half of 2005. However, the Fund's benchmark, the Russell Midcap Growth Index, was up slightly for the period. For the six-month period ended June 30, 2005, Dreyfus Founders Mid-Cap Growth Fund underperformed its benchmark, which returned 1.70% for the period.

Shifts in Composition

The number of holdings in the Fund remained relatively consistent throughout the first six months of 2005, with approximately 50-60 names comprising the portfolio at any given point in time. The Fund's cash position rose slightly during the latter part of the period due to both the sale of existing positions that had reached target prices and an increasingly cautious outlook.

While stock selection provided both positive and negative impacts to the Fund's relative return, shifts in sector weightings during the period had a slightly negative impact. Overweight positions in the consumer discretionary and information technology sectors were rebalanced during the half. The consumer discretionary weighting was pulled back due to our concern regarding consumer spending and the effect that potentially slower home price appreciation, higher energy costs and moderate employment growth may have on this sector. The Fund's weighting in the information technology sector also declined during the period. Some information technology positions were sold because of fundamental concerns, as well as select investments reaching valuations at which the potential return was no longer justified by the amount of risk. The proceeds from these liquidations were reinvested in companies in other sectors and industries where potentially greater growth opportunities were identified. This re-weighting hampered the Fund's return, particularly as the information technology sector saw gains through the end of the second quarter.

Conversely, the Fund's weighting in the healthcare sector was increased as we found companies with strong growth prospects trading at reasonable valuations that we believed would likely continue to exhibit strong growth in a slowing economy.

Throughout the period, we maintained an underweight position in the industrials sector due to high valuations and concerns regarding the current economic conditions.

“While stock selection provided both positive and negative impacts to the Fund's relative return, shifts in sector weightings during the period had a slightly negative impact.”

Stock Selection in IT and Materials Aided Return

Our bottom-up stock selection process aided the Fund's performance for the period; the largest contribution to the Fund's return came from strong stock selection in the information technology (IT) and materials sectors. An overweight position in the telecommunications services sector also buoyed the Fund's performance.

In the information technology sector, Blackboard, Inc. a provider of educational software, continued to see strong demand for its academic suite of products as well as upgrades throughout its product line. Cogent, Inc., a provider of automated fingerprint identification systems and other biometrics solutions, was an additional strong performer for the Fund during the period.

Materials holding Lafarge North America, Inc., a diversified provider of construction materials, saw continued strength in cement prices due to a strong economy and limited supply.

Information Technology
Materials
Telecommunications Services

Other strong performers outside the information technology and materials sectors boosted the Fund's performance during the period, in spite of weak stock selection overall in each of these stocks' respective sectors. For example, a distributor of medical and dental products, Henry Schein, Inc. showed strong growth within its U.S. dental business and saw its valuation improve as investors became comfortable that the flu vaccine supply issues the company previously encountered did not have a material impact on the long-term value of the company. American Tower Corporation benefited as investors realized the attractive fundamentals within the cellular tower industry. Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Mid-Cap Growth Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Russell Midcap Growth Index measures the performance of the 800 smallest companies in the Russell 1000 Index with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. The Russell 1000 Index measures the performance of the largest 1,000 publicly traded U.S. companies. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers for certain share classes, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to amounts received from class action settlements regarding prior Fund holdings. There is no guarantee that these settlement distributions will occur in the future or have a similar impact on performance. There are risks associated with mid-cap investing, such as limited product lines, less liquidity, and small market share.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

has consolidated to a smaller number of financially strong players, and enjoyed stable price increases, improving balance sheets, and strong cash flow generation during the period. AMR Corporation, the parent company of American Airlines, an addition to the Fund in the first quarter, was a strong contributor to performance due to stronger airline industry pricing and improved load factors. Finally, merchandising initiatives implemented at Kohl's Corporation over the past year led to improvement in same-store sales, driving share price appreciation.

Financials and Healthcare Weighed Heavily

Offsetting the gain seen in the aforementioned sectors, however, was poor stock selection within financials, healthcare and to a lesser extent, energy. Relative weightings in these sectors also detracted from the Fund's return.

In financials, First Marblehead Corporation, a provider of outsourcing services for private education lending, declined as investors grew concerned about two factors that may affect the company's long-term growth rate. First, the company delivered slower-than-expected contract growth in the first quarter. Second, a large customer announced that it is reconsidering the option of securitizing loans through First Marblehead, which would decrease the revenues the company realized from this customer. However, the Fund increased its position in First Marblehead during the period as we viewed the company as attractively valued, given its long-term growth prospects.

Financial guarantor Ambac Financial Group, Inc. saw slower new business growth as tight credit spreads limited the amount of new underwriting business, and a low level of new international business was acquired in the first quarter. While we believe that company management has the long-term ability to deliver value in a disciplined manner, the position size was reduced as Ambac's somewhat muted growth expectations led us to consider other positions offering better growth opportunities.

In healthcare, MGI Pharma, Inc. underperformed as investors continued to be concerned that one of the company's products would fall short of revenue expectations. Sales might slow due to changes by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to the reimbursement rate for cancer drugs, including MGI Pharma's chemotherapy-induced nausea and vomiting (CINV) drug Aloxi®. Additionally, GlaxoSmithKline launched an aggressive campaign in an attempt to win greater share of the CINV market. Biomet, Inc. also underperformed due to worries over slowing procedures growth and increasing concerns about pricing pressure for orthopedic hips and knees. Based on these concerns, the Fund sold its position in Biomet.

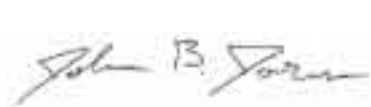

Select Individual Issues Affected Performance

Select stocks in other sectors also proved to be a hindrance to the Fund's relative performance for the semiannual period. Among these poor performers were Zebra Technologies Corporation, Harman International Industries, Inc. and W.W. Grainger, Inc. A slow uptake of radio frequency identification contributed to price declines of Zebra Technologies. Furthermore, the company missed first quarter earnings estimates due to order deferrals and distribution capacity constraints in Europe. The stock price of W.W. Grainger, a supplier of facilities maintenance products, declined as higher-than-expected spending on the company's store expansion program and issues regarding a SAP business software implementation project created concerns about future earnings growth. Although we believe that the initiatives put in place at W.W. Grainger may deliver significant shareholder value, we were disappointed with management's lack of willingness to appropriately manage the balance sheet. Therefore, the Fund's position in this holding was reduced. Finally, Harman International Industries' stock price declined due to concerns regarding its competitive positioning for mid- and lower-tier infotainment systems. First quarter revenues for the company also came in below some analysts' expectations as the company prepared for product launches later this year. We viewed the issue regarding competitive positioning as unfounded and the short-term fluctuations in revenue as irrelevant. Therefore, the Fund used share price weakness as an opportunity to increase its position in the company.

In Conclusion

As we headed into the second half of 2005, the Fund had a slightly conservative position. We structured the portfolio to place more emphasis in sectors we feel may grow through a slowing economy as well as in companies that may offer specific growth catalysts.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Mid-Cap Growth Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund may invest at least a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract, if any, is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and would be presented as such in the Statement of Operations.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $30 million of net assets, 0.75% of the next $270 million of net assets, 0.70% of the next $200 million of net assets and 0.65% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $75,695 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $27,420 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $1,656 |
| Class B | $3,019 |
| Class C | $568 |
| Class R | $182 |
| Class T | $142 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $1,379 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $10,745 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $63,832 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

Distribution and shareholder servicing fees paid to DSC by the Fund's Class A, B, C and T shares for the six months ended June 30, 2005, were as follows:

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $1,869 |
| Class B | $6,391 | $2,130 |
| Class C | $1,610 | $537 |
| Class T | $37 | $37 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $1,514 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $1,410 and $13 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.06% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.04% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $1,868, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $1,605.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|---------------------|
| 2009 | $17,754,484 |
| 2010 | $31,942,177 |
| | $49,696,661 |

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Federal Tax Cost | $99,532,476 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $8,272,628 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(4,026,127) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $4,246,501 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

The Fund is authorized to issue 500 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Fund for the periods indicated were as follows:

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $101,116,063 and $121,701,229, respectively.

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the "Defendant Funds"). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the "Amended Complaint") on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys' fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders' ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

Tracy P. Stouffer, CFA, regarding Fund performance
for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.*

Weak Investing Environment

Although the first quarter of 2005 provided a difficult international investing environment, the second quarter presented an even more challenging one. Major currencies, including the euro and the yen, dropped against the U.S. dollar, depressing investment returns. Fears of a slowdown in the Chinese and U.S. economies, along with rising transportation, raw materials and energy costs, and higher interest rates, plagued investor sentiment worldwide.

In Europe, French and Dutch “no” votes on the European Union constitution drew much attention during the period. On the positive side, the European region continued to enjoy significant merger and acquisition activity. While the benefits of anticipated synergies are yet to be determined, these transactions highlighted the abundant liquidity in European markets.

For the period ended June 30, 2005, the Dreyfus Founders Passport Fund underperformed its international small-cap benchmark, the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Small Cap Index, which returned 4.13%. The Fund’s performance compared favorably¹ to the large-cap MSCI World ex U.S. Index, which returned -0.71% for the six-month timeframe.

Oil Stocks Aided Performance

Crude oil prices continued to increase during the period, surpassing $60 per barrel. As the first quarter experienced a glut, the second quarter found an acute capacity squeeze through a lack of storage, ports, facilities and boats.

¹ Excluding sales charges, which result in lower returns for certain share classes. Please see page 7 for Average Annual and Year-to-Date Total Returns for all share classes, including and excluding sales charges.

The Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Small Cap Index measures global performance of small capitalization securities outside of the United States. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in share price and reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of local taxes, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund.

These factors combined to boost the performance of many oil services companies. Norway performed strongly from its heavy weighting in this industry, with oil services companies such as Fred Olsen Energy ASA posting a positive return. France's Vallourec SA also saw a stock price increase in this high price and high demand oil environment. The Fund continued to hold numerous oil services stocks as capacity constraints benefited these companies through the end of the period.

Consumer-Related Stocks Helped Fund Return

Some of the Fund's top-performing holdings during the period were found in the consumer discretionary sector. Although Internet gaming is not a new industry, the advent of televised poker tournaments has pumped energy and money into online gaming, particularly online poker. The Fund found numerous growth opportunities in this industry; gaming host companies such as BETandWIN.com Interactive as well as Britain's Gaming VC Holdings SA reaped the benefits of this surging popularity during the period. BetandWin.com was one of Austria's, as well as the Fund's, stronger individual performers. Although the Fund benefited from these stocks, it exited its positions in these companies by the end of the period, as more compelling growth opportunities were found in other areas. A broker of entertainment tickets, Germany's CTS Eventim AG, also positively impacted Fund performance in this sector.

Strong stock selection in the consumer staples sector also aided the Fund's relative return.

Green Push Lifted Return

Despite multiple negative headwinds facing small-cap stocks, the Fund found strong growth prospects in renewable energy sources, such as solar and biofuels, which benefited during the period from both pricing and policy. Beyond the measures implemented due to the Kyoto Protocol, an agreement by various countries to reduce emissions of greenhouse gases, legislation is being passed in many countries, primarily in Europe, which mandates the use of renewable energy. For example, the United Kingdom has legislated that 20% of all new construction's energy come from renewable sources. This also will apply to all new construction for the Olympic games in 2012. Many companies are benefiting, particularly in the solar component market, from this green push. In fact, manufacturers of polysilicon and the solar wafers used in solar panels' photovoltaic cells boosted the Fund's performance during the period; the relative performance of Taiwan and Germany, in which many of these companies are domiciled, was aided in part by this industry. German holding SolarWorld AG was among the Fund's top performers for the period.

“Renewable energy sources, such as solar and biofuels, benefited during the period from both pricing and policy.”

Countries Impacted Performance

Retailer Ic Companys AS, a Danish holding, performed well for the Fund due to a recently implemented comprehensive restructuring plan. The Fund's position in India was positively impacted by the performance of stocks such as equity brokerage house Indiabulls Financial Services and low-cost airline company SpiceJet Limited. The Fund's position in Germany benefited from the aforementioned SolarWorld AG and CTS Eventim AG. Semiconductor issue Wafer Works Corporation also aided the Fund's return from Taiwan.

The Fund's holdings in Hong Kong suffered during the period primarily due to the effect of interest rate increases on the country's pegged currency, as well as its association with China. Our positions in Australia, South Korea, Singapore and Italy also underperformed overall.

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please call 1-800-525-2440 to obtain the most recent month-end performance data.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Passport Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses, subject to applicable fee waivers. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World ex U.S. Index measures global developed market equity performance outside of the United States. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. There are risks associated with small-cap investments such as limited product lines, less liquidity, and small market share. Investments in foreign securities entail unique risks, including political, market, and currency risks.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

† Total return is not annualized.

Select Sectors Detracted

The Fund held an underweight position in the financials sector at the end of the period. Paired with weak individual stock performance, primarily from Japanese real estate companies, Islamic Bank of Britain PLC and Upbest Group Limited, the Fund's relative return suffered. Industrials and telecommunications services holdings also underperformed for the Fund.

Company-Specific Disappointments

Although the consumer discretionary sector provided a positive impact during the period, numerous holdings in this sector underperformed. Among them were France's 123 Multimedia, clothing retailer RNB Retail and Brands AB, Gentosha, Inc., and Hong Kong's Pearl Oriental Enterprises Limited. Gentosha, a Japanese bookstore, fell as the market awaited the outcome of the company's internal restructuring efforts.

The Fund's portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. Opinions regarding sectors, industries, companies, and/or themes are those of the portfolio manager and are subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and should not be construed as a recommendation of any specific security.

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Financials

Industrials

Telecommunications Services

Information technology holdings Cyber Agent Limited, PChome Online and Boss Media AB also declined during the half. PChome Online's stock fell due to a change in the company's business model, resulting in much lower margins.

In Conclusion

At the end of the period, we continued to find investment opportunities in sectors with shortages or bottlenecks, including energy infrastructure, renewable energy and energy conservation plays. We also were very positive on companies that contribute to the development of the sophistication of financial markets and products. Finally, we were looking for opportunities to invest in beneficiaries of petrodollars.

As always, we continue to seek out international small-cap companies with the strongest growth potential by intensive analysis, management contact and fundamental, bottom-up research.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Passport Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund normally will invest a large portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and is presented as such in the Statement of Operations. Foreign currency held at June 30, 2005 for settling foreign trades is listed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.80% of the next $250 million of net assets and 0.70% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $31,810 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $6,490 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $15,184 |
| Class B | $23,939 |
| Class C | $9,647 |
| Class R | $210 |
| Class T | $857 |

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $1,487 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $20,419 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $89,300 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

Distribution and shareholder servicing fees paid to DSC by the Fund's Class A, B, C and T shares for the six months ended June 30, 2005, were as follows:

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|----------------------|-------------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $24,007 |
| Class B | $63,794 | $21,264 |
| Class C | $31,529 | $10,510 |
| Class T | $590 | $590 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $1,361 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $26,389 and $1,684 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed at the annual rate of 0.10% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the first $500 million, 0.065% of the average daily net assets of the Fund on the next $500 million and 0.02% of the average daily net assets of the Fund in excess of $1 billion, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $81,085, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $167,116.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|----------------------|
| 2008 | $17,533,320 |
| 2009 | $109,892,631 |
| 2010 | $11,833,084 |
| | $139,259,035 |

|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Post-October Capital Loss Deferral | $50,886 |
| Federal Tax Cost | $99,471,809 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $5,376,592 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(2,763,784) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $2,612,808 |

Certain foreign countries impose a tax on capital gains, which is accrued by the Fund based on unrealized appreciation on affected securities. This unrealized appreciation is not included in the table above. The tax is paid when the gain is realized.

4. Capital Share Transactions

The Fund is authorized to issue 400 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Fund for the periods indicated were as follows:

5. Investment Transactions

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and U.S. government obligations) were $400,710,058 and $422,477,913, respectively.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement (“LOC”) with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund’s borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund’s total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the “Defendant Funds”). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint”) on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders’ ability to perform its contract with the Funds.

A Mixed Economic Environment

During the first six months of 2005, the United States contributed positively to the worldwide investing environment through such factors as strong domestic consumer demand, solid corporate earnings growth, a strengthening U.S. dollar and lower unemployment. China's increased demand for goods also injected the global economy, and inflation, in general, remained steady.

However, crude oil prices continued to skyrocket during the period, reaching over $60 per barrel. Although many energy companies and resource-rich countries benefited from high oil prices and high demand, this increase created a tax on growth throughout the world. The Federal Reserve in the United States continued its monetary tightening policy, which also weighed on investor activity. Structural economic problems plagued the Euro area, and Western European countries continued to struggle with increased competition. Mixed Japanese economic data also caused investor concern during the period.

For the six months ended June 30, 2005, Dreyfus Founders Worldwide Growth Fund underperformed its benchmark, the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World Index, which returned -0.70% for the same period. The Fund's return compared more favorably¹ to that of the MSCI World Growth Index, which returned -1.33%.

¹ Excluding sales charges, which result in lower returns for certain share classes. Please see page 7 for Average Annual and Year-to-Date Total Returns for all share classes, including and excluding sales charges.

The MSCI World Growth Index measures global developed market equity performance of growth securities. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in share price and reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of local taxes, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund.

Stock-By-Stock Basis

Our strategy in assembling the portfolio during the period remained consistent; we continued to analyze stocks on a company-by-company basis for possible inclusion in the Fund, rather than focusing on sector or country weightings.

U.S., European and Australian Stocks Aided Performance

Solid stock selection in the U.S. positively impacted Fund performance during the reporting period. Likewise, France, Germany, Australia and Finland buoyed the Fund’s return, due primarily to strong selection of stocks within each respective country. Australia fueled the Fund’s return as Oil Search Limited benefited from the high energy price environment and better-than-expected drilling results in its Yemeni oil field. Finnish utilities stock Fortum Oyj gained nearly 20% during the Fund’s holding period, helping the Fund’s position in Finland outperform.

“Although many energy companies and resource-rich countries benefited from high oil prices and high demand, this increase created a tax on growth throughout the world.”

Strong company-specific performance in the information technology sector was the chief contributor to the Fund’s six-month return. Information technology stocks were among the Fund’s top performers overall, with Apple Computer, Inc., Texas Instruments, Inc. and Intel Corporation leading the pack. Apple experienced outstanding growth in revenue as well as earnings per share (EPS) driven by the popularity of the company’s iPod and Macintosh products. Strong demand for mobile telephone handsets drove strong demand for semiconductors and chipsets produced by Texas Instruments. Improved demand trends also lifted the company’s gross and operating margins. Intel’s processor unit was driven by strong demand for notebook computers. The company saw a rebound in revenue growth and improved gross and operating margin trends as a result of this demand.

Top 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

Information Technology
Consumer Discretionary
Telecommunications Services

Fund holdings within the consumer discretionary sector aided relative Fund performance as well. Propelled mainly by the strong consumer spending environment within the United States, issues such as Gillette Company outperformed. Gillette's stock price was also boosted by an acquisition offer by personal care manufacturing giant, Procter & Gamble Company.

Strong stock selection in the telecommunications services sector also produced a positive effect on the Fund's relative return for the period. TELUS Corporation outperformed due to excellent results reported in early May, citing strong wireless sales. Mobile phone provider Nokia Oyj also performed strongly during the period.

Healthcare holding Genentech, Inc., industrials' AMR Corporation, and consumer staples issue Safeway, Inc. were other notable performers during the period. Genentech's stock performance was driven by solid sales and expanded uses for its cancer drugs, Avastin™ and Herceptin®. The shares of AMR, parent company of American Airlines, were lifted due to strong consumer travel demand and increased fares due to high energy prices. Safeway's stock price also increased during the period.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class F shares of Dreyfus Founders Worldwide Growth Fund on 6/30/95 to a $10,000 investment made in an unmanaged securities index on that date. The Fund's performance assumes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares. The Fund offers multiple classes of shares. Performance shown is for Class F, which is open only to grandfathered investors. The Fund's performance in the graph takes into account all applicable Class F fees and expenses, subject to applicable fee waivers. These figures do not reflect the maximum sales charges applicable to Class A, B, C, or T shares of the Fund. For these share classes, applying these charges will result in lower returns for investors.

The Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) World Index measures global developed market equity performance. The total return figures cited for this index assume change in security prices and reinvestment of dividends, but do not reflect the costs of managing a mutual fund. Further information related to Fund performance is contained elsewhere in this report.

Average annual and year-to-date total returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares, but do reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions, fee waivers for certain share classes, and adjustments for financial statement purposes. Part of the Fund's historical performance is due to the purchase of securities sold in initial public offerings (IPOs). There is no guarantee that the Fund's investments in IPOs, if any, will continue to have a similar impact on performance. Investments in foreign securities entail unique risks, including political, market, and currency risks.

* The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4% and is reduced to 0% after six years, at which time the Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

 The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class C shares is 1% for shares redeemed within one year of the date of purchase.

† Total return is not annualized.

Weak Stock Selection Hampered Return

On a country basis, the largest drag on performance during the period came from the United Kingdom, primarily due to poor stock selection. Vodafone Group PLC and SABMiller PLC were the main detractors for the Fund from

Bottom 3 Performing Sectors in the Fund

- Energy
- Utilities
- Financials

this country. Vodafone’s stock dropped due to increased competition, lower product pricing and shrinking margins. The company’s Japanese subsidiary, Vodafone K.K., reported another weak quarter as well. SABMiller fell on poor U.S. beer sales and continued merger and acquisition speculation.

Additionally, holdings in the Netherlands, Canada and Belgium detracted from performance due to company-specific disappointments.

Within the benchmark, energy was the strongest performing sector during the period, as exploration and production and oil services stocks did particularly well, driven by rising oil prices and limited refining capacity. Although numerous energy stocks performed well for the Fund, it held a relative underweight position in this sector, which, paired with overall weak stock selection, detracted from the Fund’s relative return for the period.

Portfolio Composition of Net Assets

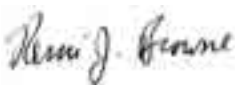

The Fund’s portfolio composition is subject to change, and there is no assurance the Fund will continue to hold any particular security. Opinions regarding sectors, industries, companies, and/or themes are those of the portfolio managers and are subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and should not be construed as a recommendation of any specific security.

An underweight position in utilities and poor stock selection in financials also produced a drag on the Fund's return.

Some of the names that detracted from Fund performance came from a variety of sectors. Poor execution, disappointing margin trends, and difficulties with certain projects overshadowed strong bookings and revenue growth for Accenture Limited. W.W. Grainger, Inc. exhibited sluggish sales trends and lower earnings expectations. Despite strong demand trends, Royal Caribbean Cruises Limited came in well below consensus earnings estimates for the fourth quarter of 2004, which were reported in February of 2005. Additionally, high fuel prices and a lack of cost controls were the major variances that led to the company's poor results. Trend Micro, Inc., a Japanese developer of anti-virus software, fell on Microsoft's announcement that it will be packaging a competitor's anti-virus software with its operating system. Manpower, Inc. and JetBlue Airways Corporation underperformed for the period as well.

In Conclusion

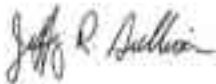

The Fund's strategy remains unchanged. We will continue to use a bottom-up, fundamentally based research approach to seek companies that may exhibit revenue and earnings growth, and that are characterized by valuations that make sense compared to the market, the peer group and their growth rates.

FUND EXPENSES

(unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, depending on the class of shares of the Fund you own, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including front-end and contingent deferred sales charges; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees, shareholder services fees, and other expenses. The expense example shown below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The expense example is based on an investment of $1,000 on January 1, 2005 and held through June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Actual” in the title provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.60), then multiply the result by the number under the column heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” for the class of shares you own to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Expenses For Comparison Purposes The numbers included in the expense example in the rows with the word “Hypothetical” in the title provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio for each class of shares, and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare the hypothetical expenses in the expense example for the class of shares you own with the hypothetical expenses that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the expense example are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect the transaction costs described above. Therefore, the hypothetical expenses in the expense example are useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if the transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Dreyfus Founders Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) is an open-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). Ten series of shares are currently issued: Balanced, Discovery, Equity Growth, Government Securities, Growth, International Equity, Mid-Cap Growth, Money Market, Passport and Worldwide Growth Funds (the “Funds”). All of the Company’s series Funds are diversified portfolios. The following notes pertain to Dreyfus Founders Worldwide Growth Fund (the “Fund”). The Fund offers Class A, Class B, Class C, Class F, Class R and Class T shares. Class A and Class T shares are subject to a sales charge imposed at the time of purchase, Class B shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”) imposed on Class B shares redeemed within six years of purchase, Class C shares are subject to a CDSC imposed on Class C shares redeemed within one year of purchase and Class F and Class R shares are sold at net asset value per share (with Class R shares sold only to eligible institutional investors). Other differences between the classes include services offered to and the expenses borne by each Class. The following significant accounting policies have been consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuations—A domestic equity security listed or traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter market is valued at its last sale price on the exchange or market where it is principally traded or, in the case of a security traded on Nasdaq, at its official closing price. Lacking any sales on that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available, or in the case of written call options, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers.

A foreign equity security traded on a foreign exchange is valued at the last quoted official closing price available before the time when the Fund’s assets are valued, or at the last quoted sales price if the exchange does not provide an official closing price or if the foreign market has not yet closed. Lacking any sales that day, the security is valued at the current closing bid price, or by quotes from dealers making a market in the security if the closing bid price is not available. Since February 22, 2005, New York closing exchange rates have been used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars. Previously, London closing exchange rates were used to convert foreign currencies to U.S. dollars.

A debt security with a remaining maturity greater than 60 days at the time of purchase is valued in accordance with the evaluated bid price supplied by a pricing service approved by the Company’s board of directors or, if such price is not available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest asked quotations obtained from at least two securities dealers. A debt security with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less at the time of purchase is valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, unless it is determined that amortized cost would not represent market value, in which case the securities would be marked to market. The Fund amortizes premiums and discounts on all debt securities.

If market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, securities will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors or pursuant to procedures approved by the board of directors. These situations may include instances where an event occurs after the close of the market on which a security is traded but before the Fund calculates its net asset value, and it is determined that the event has materially affected the value of the security. Fair value of foreign equity securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using correlations between the movement of prices of foreign securities and indexes of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as closing market prices of relevant ADRs and futures contracts.

Using fair value to price securities may result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net asset values. In addition, it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be different from the value that may be realized upon the security's sale, and that these differences may be material to the net asset value of the Fund.

Security Transactions—Security transactions are accounted for as of the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Net realized gains and losses are determined on the basis of identified cost, which is also used for federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Securities and Currency Transactions—Foreign securities carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political and currency risks. The Fund normally will invest a large portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund may enter into a foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. The resultant foreign currency gain or loss from the contract is recorded as foreign currency gain or loss and is presented as such in the Statement of Operations. Foreign currency held at June 30, 2005 for settling foreign trades is listed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments and foreign currency translation arises from changes in the values of assets and liabilities, including investments in securities held at the date of the financial statements, resulting from changes in the exchange rates and changes in market prices of securities held.

Federal Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes since it is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to make distributions of income and capital gains sufficient to relieve it from all income taxes. The Fund is treated as a separate tax entity for federal income tax purposes.

Investment Income—Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend, if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily, as earned, and includes the accretion of discounts and the amortization of premiums over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Distributions to Shareholders—The Fund declares and distributes dividends (if any) and capital gains (if any) annually. Dividends and distributions, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Expenses—Each Class of the Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf and, in addition, each Class bears a portion of general expenses based on the relative net assets or the number of shareholder accounts of the Class. The type of expense determines the allocation method.

The Company's board of directors has authorized the payment of certain Fund expenses with commissions on Fund portfolio transactions. These commissions reduce Other Expenses and are included in the Expense Offset to Broker Commissions in the Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Indemnifications—In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain provisions indemnifying other parties against specified potential liabilities. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Other—Certain prior year information has been reformatted, without substantive change, to conform with the current period presentation.

2. Fees and Transactions with Affiliates

Advisory Fees—Founders Asset Management LLC ("Founders") serves as investment adviser to the Fund. Founders is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation, a publicly-owned financial services company which provides a comprehensive range of financial products and services in domestic and selected international markets.

In accordance with an investment advisory agreement between the Company and Founders, the Fund compensates Founders for its services as investment adviser by the payment of fees computed daily and paid monthly at the annual rate equal to a percentage of the average daily value of the Fund's net assets. The fee is 1.00% of the first $250 million of net assets, 0.80% of the next $250 million of net assets, and 0.70% of net assets in excess of $500 million.

Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency Fees for Class F Shares—The Company has a shareholder services agreement with Dreyfus Service Corporation (“DSC”), the direct owner of Founders and a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Dreyfus Corporation (“Dreyfus”, an affiliate of Founders), whereby the Funds have agreed to compensate DSC for providing certain shareholder servicing functions to holders of Class F shares. The Fund paid DSC a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis, to $24.00 per Class F shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $42,640 pursuant to this shareholder services agreement.

Dreyfus Transfer, Inc. (“DTI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the transfer and dividend disbursing agent for all of the Fund's share classes. With the exception of out-of-pocket charges, the fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class F shares are paid by DSC. The out-of-pocket charges from DTI are paid by the Fund. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $16,732 for out-of-pocket transfer agent charges.

Transfer Agency Fees for Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T Shares—The fees charged by DTI with respect to the Fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares are paid by the Fund. The Fund paid DTI a monthly fee ranging, on an annual basis, from $12.58 to $13.00, per shareholder account considered to be an open account at any time during a given month, plus out-of-pocket charges. Class-specific transfer agency fees, including both the per account fees paid to DTI and out-of-pocket charges, during the six months ended June 30, 2005 were as follows:

| | Transfer Agency Fees |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Class A | $713 |
| Class B | $2,129 |
| Class C | $287 |
| Class R | $3,780 |
| Class T | $89 |

Certain as-of shareholder transactions may result in gains or losses to the Fund. Depending on the circumstances, these gains may be payable to, or reimbursable from, the transfer agent; such gains and losses are presented on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Cash Management Fees—The Funds also pay Mellon Bank N.A. (“Mellon Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation and an affiliate of Founders, fees for certain cash management services. These include various services related to the processing of shareholder transactions in the Funds. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund was charged $1,056 for cash management fees, which are included in the out-of-pocket transfer agency charges above.

Other Transfer Agency Fees—Various broker-dealers, retirement plan administrators and other entities have established omnibus accounts with the Fund, and provide sub-transfer agency, recordkeeping or similar services to persons holding Fund shares through those accounts. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund paid $17,744 to these entities for such services. This amount is included in the transfer agency fees shown on the Statement of Operations.

Distribution and Shareholder Services Plans—DSC also is the distributor of the Fund's shares. The Fund has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class F shares. Under the plan, the Fund is authorized to reimburse DSC for expenses paid for distributing or servicing its Class F shares at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the value of the average daily net assets of the Fund's Class F shares. During the six months ended June 30, 2005, Class F shares were charged $70,833 pursuant to this Distribution Plan.

The Fund also has adopted a Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act applicable to its Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under this plan, the Fund pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class B and C shares at the annual rate of 0.75% of the value of the average daily net assets of its Class B and C shares, respectively, and pays DSC a fee for distributing its Class T shares at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of its Class T shares.

In addition, the Fund has adopted a Shareholder Services Plan applicable to its Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares. Under the Shareholder Services Plan, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay DSC an annual fee of 0.25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services.

Distribution and shareholder servicing fees paid to DSC by the Fund's Class A, B, C and T shares for the six months ended June 30, 2005, were as follows:

| | Distribution Fees | Shareholder Servicing Fees |
|---------|-------------------|----------------------------|
| Class A | N/A | $748 |
| Class B | $6,895 | $2,298 |
| Class C | $992 | $331 |
| Class T | $54 | $54 |

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, DSC retained $48 in sales commissions from the sales of Class A shares. DSC also retained $2,426 and $1 of contingent deferred sales charges relating to redemptions of Class B shares and Class C shares, respectively.

Fund Accounting and Administrative Services Fees—The Funds have agreed to compensate Founders for providing accounting services, administration, compliance monitoring, regulatory and shareholder reporting, as well as related facilities, equipment and clerical help. The fee is computed by applying the following rates, as applicable, to the domestic assets and foreign assets, with the proportions of domestic and foreign assets recalculated monthly, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

| On Assets in Excess of | But Not Exceeding | Domestic Fee | Foreign Fee |
|------------------------|-------------------|--------------|-------------|
| $0 | $500 million | 0.06% | 0.10% |
| $500 million | $1 billion | 0.04% | 0.065% |
| $1 billion | | 0.02% | 0.02% |

Founders has contractually agreed in writing to waive any fees received for these services to the extent they exceed Founders' costs in providing the services.

Custodian Fees—Mellon Bank serves as custodian for the Fund. The fees for the custody services are subject to reduction by credits earned on the cash balances of the Fund held by the custodian. The Fund could have employed these assets elsewhere to produce income had it not entered into this arrangement. The custodian has contractually agreed in writing to a fee waiver for the Funds during the time periods and in the amounts set forth below:

| Time Period | Amount of Waiver |
|-------------------|------------------|
| 9/1/04 to 8/31/05 | $200,000 |
| 9/1/05 to 8/31/06 | $200,000 |

The fee waiver is allocated among the Funds in proportion to their respective shares of the total custodian fee. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Fund's portion of the fee waiver was $10,918, which reduced the amount paid to Mellon Bank to $18,106.

Directors Compensation—The Company's board of directors has adopted a deferred compensation plan for Company directors that enables directors to elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of the annual compensation that they are entitled to receive from the Company. Under the plan, the compensation deferred is invested in shares of one or more of the Funds. The amount paid to the director under the plan will be determined based upon the performance of the selected Funds. The current value of these amounts is included in Other Assets and Other Liabilities on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of directors' fees under the plan does not affect the net assets of the Fund.

Certain officers of the Company are also officers and/or directors of Founders, which pays their compensation. The affairs of the Fund, including services provided by Founders, are subject to the supervision and general oversight of the Company's board of directors.

3. Federal Tax Information

Net investment income and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations that may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sale losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and capital loss carryovers.

The tax components of capital represent distribution requirements the Fund must satisfy under the income tax regulations and losses or tax deductions the Fund may be able to offset against income and capital gains realized in future years. Accumulated capital losses and post-October 31 capital losses noted below, if any, as of December 31, 2004, represent capital loss carryovers that may be available to offset future realized capital gains and thereby reduce future taxable gains distributions. Post-October 31 foreign currency losses noted below, if any, may be used to offset future net investment income and thereby reduce future ordinary income distributions. Accumulated capital losses as of December 31, 2004 were:

| Expiration | Amount |
|------------|---------------------|
| 2009 | $44,574,793 |
| 2010 | $22,200,649 |
| 2011 | $3,142,525 |
| | $69,917,967 |

|---------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Federal Tax Cost | $69,622,674 |
| Gross Tax Appreciation of Investments | $11,386,581 |
| Gross Tax Depreciation of Investments | $(732,144) |
| Net Tax Appreciation | $10,654,437 |

4. Capital Share Transactions

The Fund is authorized to issue 450 million shares of $0.01 par value capital stock. Transactions in shares of the Fund for the periods indicated were as follows:

| | Six months ended 6/30/05 | | Year ended 12/31/04 | |

6. Line of Credit

The Company has a line of credit arrangement ("LOC") with State Street Bank and Trust Company, to be used for temporary or emergency purposes, primarily for financing redemption payments. Each Fund's borrowings are limited to the lesser of (a) $50 million, or (b) the lesser of 25% of the Fund's total net assets or the maximum amount which the Fund is permitted to borrow pursuant to the prospectus, any law or any other agreement. Combined borrowings are subject to the $50 million cap on the total LOC. Each Fund agrees to pay annual fees and interest on the unpaid balance based on prevailing market rates as defined in the LOC. At June 30, 2005, the Fund did not have any borrowings under the LOC.

7. Legal Matters

In early 2004, two purported class and derivative actions were filed against Mellon Financial Corporation, Mellon Bank, Founders, Dreyfus, and certain directors of the Dreyfus Founders Funds and the Dreyfus Funds (together, the "Defendant Funds"). In September 2004, plaintiffs served a Consolidated Amended Complaint (the "Amended Complaint") on behalf of a purported class of all persons who acquired interests in any of the Defendant Funds between January 30, 1999 and November 17, 2003, and derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds. The Amended Complaint in the newly styled In re Dreyfus Mutual Funds Fee Litigation also named DSC, Premier Mutual Fund Services, Inc. and two additional directors of the Defendant Funds as defendants and alleges violations of the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law and common-law claims. Plaintiffs seek to recover allegedly improper and excessive Rule 12b-1 and advisory fees allegedly charged to the Defendant Funds for marketing and distribution services. More specifically, plaintiffs claim, among other things, that 12b-1 fees and directed brokerage were improperly used to pay brokers to recommend the Defendant Funds over other funds, and that such payments were not disclosed to investors. In addition, plaintiffs assert that economies of scale and soft-dollar benefits were not passed on to the Defendant Funds. Plaintiffs further allege that 12b-1 fees were improperly charged to certain of the Defendant Funds that were closed to new investors. The Amended Complaint seeks compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the advisory contracts, and an accounting and restitution of any unlawful fees, as well as an award of attorneys' fees and litigation expenses. As noted, some of the claims in this litigation are asserted derivatively on behalf of the Defendant Funds that have been named as nominal defendants. With respect to such derivative claims, no relief is sought against the Defendant Funds. Founders, Dreyfus and the Defendant Funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and intend to defend the action vigorously. The defendants filed motions to dismiss the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2004, and those motions are pending.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Founders nor the Funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Funds or Founders' ability to perform its contract with the Funds.
