December 31, 2022

1. Organization

Nature of Business

JonesTrading Institutional Services LLC (the Company) is a registered broker-dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). The Company is also registered with the National Futures Association ("NFA"). The Company is engaged in providing services as an institutional broker-dealer to its customers throughout the United States of America and Canada. The Company maintains its corporate office in Thousand Oaks, California, and branch offices throughout the United States of America. JonesTrading International Limited (JTIL), a wholly owned subsidiary, is located in London, England, and provides services throughout Europe. JonesTrading Canada, Inc. (JTC) another wholly owned subsidiary of the Company is incorporated in British Columbia, Canada and has its primary office in Toronto, ON.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statement includes the accounts of its wholly owned subsidiaries and all significant intercompany transactions and accounts have been eliminated in consolidation for the financial statement presentation.

Basis of Presentation and Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statement in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain amounts reported in the consolidated financial statement and accompanying notes. Significant estimates include the fair value of stock-based compensation and allowance for receivables.

Management believes that the estimates utilized in preparing its consolidated financial statement are reasonable. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the consolidated financial statement, cash and cash equivalents consist primarily of cash on deposit, money market accounts, and treasury bills, all of which have original maturities of three months or less. Interest income on cash is recognized on an accrual basis. Cash equivalents are stated at cost plus accrued interest, which approximates fair value.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Soft Dollar Programs

The Company permits institutional customers to allocate a portion of their gross commissions to pay for research products and other services provided by third parties. The amounts allocated for those purposes are commonly referred to as soft-dollar arrangements. The Company accounts for soft dollar expenses on an accrual basis. An accrued soft-dollar research payable of $5,480,632 is classified as trade accounts payable in the consolidated statement of financial condition. The funds do not represent “customer funds” of the relevant customers or “funds carried for the account of” the relevant customers as defined in Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities Exchange Act.

Due from Brokers

Due from brokers consists of amounts due to the Company from clearing agents. Management evaluates collectability of receivables periodically and adjusts the balance to the amount it expects to collect. Management believes its risk of loss on currently recorded receivables is minimal and accordingly no allowance for doubtful accounts has been provided.

Commissions and Other Receivables

Commissions and other receivables consist primarily of amounts due to the Company in relation to options transactions that are billed at month-end. Management evaluates collectability of receivables periodically and adjusts the balance to the amount it expects to collect. Management believes its risk of loss on currently recorded receivables is minimal and accordingly no significant allowance for doubtful accounts has been provided.

Credit Loss on Financial Instruments

The Company follows the FASB Accounting Standard Update (ASU) 2016-13 Financial Instruments—Credit Losses (Topic 326). This guidance requires entities to use a current expected credit loss impairment model rather than incurred losses. The Company considers factors such as credit quality, age of balances, historical experience and current and future economic conditions that may affect the Company’s expectation of collectability in determining allowance for credit losses. Management believes its risk of loss on currently recorded receivables is minimal and accordingly no allowance for credit losses has been provided.

Income Taxes

The Company is a flow-through entity for federal tax and state purposes and provides its unit holders with federal and state K-1 statements annually. Accordingly, no provision has been made for U.S. federal income taxes in the accompanying consolidated financial statement. The Company files state returns in various states. Some state and local jurisdictions apply an income tax to unincorporated entities.

The Company's subsidiary JTC is incorporated as a private corporation and pays Canadian federal and provincial taxes. The company's subsidiary JTIL is a disregarded entity for U.S. income tax purposes. It is a corporation for U.K. income tax purposes and files a U.K. corporate tax return. Historically JTIL has operating losses and accordingly the company has a full valuation allowance on any deferred tax asset that would be recorded. The deferred tax asset of JTIL as of December 31, 2022 was nominal.

Under P.L. 115-97 ("The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act"), the Company's members are liable for the tax on deferred income and the current income of JTC. Since this tax is not imposed on the Company, no provision for this tax is included in the financial statements.

The Company recognizes the tax benefit of uncertain tax positions only when the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by a tax authority. Based on its evaluation, the Company has concluded that there are no significant uncertain tax positions requiring recognition in its financial statement, nor has the Company been assessed interest or penalties by any major tax jurisdictions. The Company's evaluation was performed for all tax years ending December 31, 2022. Tax years 2019 through 2021 are subject to examination by taxing authorities.

Foreign Currency

The financial position and results of operations of the Company's foreign wholly owned subsidiary, JonesTrading Canada Inc., are measured using the Canadian Dollar as the local currency. The financial position and results of operations of JonesTrading International Limited, are measured using the Pound Sterling as the local currency. Assets and liabilities have been translated at the rates of exchange on the balance sheet dates. Revenues and expenses for the years ended December 31, 2022 have been translated into U.S. dollars at average exchange rates prevailing during the years. The resulting foreign currency translation adjustments are recorded as other comprehensive income in the accompanying consolidated financial statement.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

As of December 31, 2022, the exchange rate between U.S. Dollars and Canadian Dollars was U.S. $1.00 = CAD 1.3550, and the weighted average exchange rate for the year then ended was U.S. $1.00 = CAD 1.3019. As of December 31, 2022, the exchange rate between U.S. Dollars and Pound Sterling was U.S. $1.00 = GBP 0.8272, and the weighted average exchange rate for the year then ended was U.S. $1.00 = GBP 0.8115.

Gains and losses from foreign currency exchange transactions such as those resulting from exchanges of foreign currency are included in the Consolidated Statement of Income and Comprehensive Income.

3. Fair Value

The Company defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The standard establishes the following hierarchy used in fair value measurements and expands the required disclosures of assets and liabilities measured at fair value:

- Level 1 -Inputs use quoted unadjusted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Company has the ability to access.
- Level 2 -Fair value measurements use other inputs that are observable, either directly or indirectly. These inputs include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets as well as other inputs such as interest rates and yield curves that are observable at commonly quoted intervals.
- Level 3 -Inputs that are unobservable inputs, including inputs that are available in situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the related asset or liability.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing assets and liabilities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those assets and liabilities.

Certain financial instruments are carried at cost on the Statement of Financial Condition, which approximates fair value due to their short-term, highly liquid nature. These instruments are classified as Level 1.

JonesTrading Institutional Services LLC and Subsidiaries

3. Fair Value (continued)

Assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis are summarized below

Money Market Mutual Funds	$17,569,086	$ -	$ -	$17,569,086

At December 31, 2022, the Company's net capital was $23,861,410, which was $20,710,590 in excess of this requirement. The Company consolidates its wholly owned subsidiaries under generally accepted accounting principles. Revenues and expenses reported on the consolidated statement of income include $44,063,900 and $3,183,593, respectively from our operating subsidiaries. The FOCUS report includes an additional $67,292,998 of assets and liabilities from our operating subsidiaries and an additional $280,018 of equity for notes receivable from members.

Under its rules, FINRA may prohibit a member firm from expanding its business or paying dividends if resulting net capital would be less than 5 percent of aggregate debit balances. Advances to affiliates, dividend payments and other equity withdrawals by the Company are subject to certain notification and other provisions of the SEC and FINRA rules. In addition, the Company is subject to certain notification requirements related to withdrawals of excess net capital.

Litigation

From time to time, the Company may be involved in ordinary routine litigation incidental to its business. Currently, there are no material litigations against the Company.

Certain conditions may exist as of the date the consolidated financial statement is issued, which may result in a loss to the Company, but which will only be resolved when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. The Company assesses such contingent liabilities, and such assessment inherently involves an exercise of judgment. In assessing loss contingencies related to legal proceedings that are pending against the Company, or un-asserted claims that may result in such proceedings, the Company evaluates the perceived merits of any legal proceedings or un-asserted claims, as well as the perceived merits of the amount of relief sought or expected to be sought therein.

If the assessment of a contingency indicates that it is probable that a material loss has been incurred and the amount of the liability can be estimated, then the estimated liability would be accrued in the Company's consolidated financial statement. If the assessment indicates that a potentially material loss contingency is not probable, but is reasonably possible, or is probable but cannot be estimated, then the nature of the contingent liability and an estimate of the range of possible losses, if determinable and material, would be disclosed.

Loss contingencies considered remote are generally not disclosed, unless they involve guarantees, in which case the guarantees would be disclosed. There can be no assurance that such matters will not materially and adversely affect the Company's business and financial position.

The Company functions as an introducing broker that places and executes customer orders. The orders are then settled by an unrelated clearing organization that maintains custody of customers' securities. Through indemnification provisions in agreements with clearing organizations, customer activities may expose the Company to off-balance sheet credit risk. Financial instruments may have to be purchased or sold at prevailing market prices in the event a customer fails to settle a trade on its original terms or in the event cash and securities in customer margin accounts are not sufficient to fully cover customer obligations. The Company seeks to control the risks associated with customer activities through customer screening and selection procedures as well as through requirements on customers to maintain margin collateral in compliance with various regulations and clearing organization policies.
