MGE Energy Reports First-Quarter Earnings

Madison, Wis., May 3, 2013—MGE Energy, Inc. (Nasdaq: MGEE) today reported earnings for the three months ended March 31, 2013, of $22.6 million, or 98 cents per share, compared to $16.0 million, or 69 cents per share, for the same period in the prior year.

Contributing to earnings during the quarter was a 6.9% increase in residential electric sales, the benefit of the carrying costs on the construction of the environmental controls at the Columbia Energy Center, and savings from the continuation of MGE's ongoing effort to manage costs.

During the first quarter of 2013, the company also experienced higher gas retail sales volumes of 27% driven by colder winter weather, compared to warmer-than-normal winter weather in the same period in the prior year. In March 2013, the average temperature was 26.9 degrees, compared to an average temperature in March 2012 of 50.4 degrees. Normal average temperature in March is 35.3 degrees. While gas usage was up due to colder weather, assuming the same annual energy usage, a natural gas customer is paying about 29% less in energy costs today than they were four years ago.

About MGE Energy
