Item 1.01 Conflict Minerals Disclosure and Report

Rule 13p-1 (“Rule 13p-1”) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, generally provides that a company must file a specialized disclosure report if it manufactures or contracts to manufacture products for which one or more of the following minerals are necessary to the functionality or production of the company’s products: columbite-tantalite (coltan); cassiterite; gold; wolframite; and their derivatives, which are limited to tantalum, tin and tungsten (collectively, “3TGs”). 3TGs are considered “conflict minerals” under Rule 13p-1 regardless of their geographic origin and whether or not they fund armed conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo or an adjoining country (collectively, the “Covered Countries”).

McDonald’s Corporation, a Delaware corporation (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, the “Company”), franchises and operates McDonald’s restaurants in more than 100 countries around the world. The Company offers Happy Meal toys and promotional items (the “Covered Products”), certain of which the Company has determined contain 3TGs. The Company does not directly purchase, nor does it have a direct relationship with any mine or smelter that processes, 3TGs.

The Company conducted diligence on suppliers of the Covered Products that contain 3TGs, seeking information regarding the source of such 3TGs. None of the suppliers that responded provided information indicating that any of such 3TGs come from any Covered Countries or were not from recycled or scrap sources. As a result, the Company has no reason to believe that any of the 3TGs contained in the Covered Products for the reporting period from January 1 to December 31, 2022 originated in any Covered Countries or were not from recycled or scrap sources.
