April 19, 2007

Forward-Looking Statement

Statements in this conference call that are not historical are forward-looking and are subject to various risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to vary materially from those stated. Forward-looking statements are based on currently available information and include, among others, the discussion under "2007 Fourth Fiscal Quarter Outlook", as well as statements regarding the integration of, and potential synergies from the Woodhead acquisition, customer demand and inventory levels and future growth expectations. These risks and uncertainties include those associated with the operation of our business, including the risk that customer demand will decrease either temporarily or permanently, whether due to the Company's actions or the demand for the Company's products, and that the Company may not be able to respond through cost reductions in a timely and effective manner; price cutting, new product introductions and other actions by our competitors; fluctuations in the costs of raw materials that the Company is not able to pass through to customers because of existing contracts or market factors; the challenges attendant to plant closings and restructurings, including the difficulty of predicting plant closing and relocation costs, the difficulty of commencing or increasing production at existing facilities, and the reactions of customers, governmental units, employees and other groups; the risks associated with the integration of the Woodhead acquisition; the challenges attendant to plant construction; and the ability to realize cost savings from restructuring activities, as well as difficulty implementing the transition to a Market-Focused Global Organization.

Other risks and uncertainties are set forth in Item 1A "Risk Factors" of its Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2006, which is incorporated by reference and in reports that Molex files or furnishes with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
