Dear Mr. Wasielewski:

We have reviewed your filings and have the following comments. We have limited our review to only your financial statements and related disclosures and will make no further review of your documents. Where indicated, we think you should revise your documents in response to these comments. If you disagree, we will consider your explanation as to why our comment is inapplicable or a revision is unnecessary. Please be as detailed as necessary in your explanation. In some of our comments, we may ask you to provide us with information so we may better understand your disclosure. After reviewing this information, we may or may not raise additional comments.

Please understand that the purpose of our review process is to assist you in your compliance with the applicable disclosure requirements and to enhance the overall disclosure in your filings. We look forward to working with you in these respects. We welcome any questions you may have about our comments or on any other aspect of our review. Form 10-K for the Year Ended December 31, 2007

Financial Statements

Note 1. Nature of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, page 27

Revenue Recognition, page 30

1. We noted from your disclosure on page 4 that the majority of your revenue is derived from products built to the customer's design specifications. We also noted from your policy disclosure on page 30 that revenue for these products is recognized upon completion of the engineering process, usually upon initial shipment of the product. Please respond to the following:
 - Please clarify exactly when revenue is recognized, either at the completion of the engineering process or upon shipment.
 - Further, given the customization of your products please tell us if there are any customer acceptance provisions included in your sale agreements and the accounting implications thereof. For example, tell us if your customers have the right to test the equipment prior to accepting the product. In addition, tell us about any obligations you have, if any, subsequent to shipment.
 - Finally, we note your disclosure that revenue is "usually" recognized upon initial shipment. Please tell us and revise future filings to describe those circumstances when revenue would be recognized at a different point in the sales process.
2. In this regard, we see that you have multiple revenue generating activities, including the sale of products, value added services and technical support. Please tell us and revise future filings to disclose how EITF 00-21 impacts your revenue recognition for each type of revenue source.
3. We see you also provide repair services. Tell us why this revenue is recognized upon shipment of related equipment to customers rather than as the services are performed. Note our concerns when preparing your revenue recognition disclosures in future filings.

Certification of Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer Pursuant to Section 906 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, Exhibit 32.1

4. We noted that the certification provided pursuant to Section 906 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act does not include a date. Please amend your filing to appropriately include a signed and dated certification.
