BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

7. Describe in detail the business of the issuer and the anticipated business plan of the issuer.

Here To Serve Holding Corp. (the "Company") is a holding company that hunts for undervalued assets in the mining, real estate, and securities industries. In 2020, the Company formed a wholly owned subsidiary, Fortune Nickel and Gold Inc. ("Fortune"). Fortune is dedicated to the global acquisition, exploration and development of mining properties. Fortune recently acquired 102 mining claims in the Gowan Township and 75 mining claims in the heart of the Abitibi greenstone belt which we refer to as the Beck - Ottaway Project. Our plan for 2021 is to utilize the analysis of our geophysicist and perform drilling exploration to validate the mineral-rich property covered by the mineral rights that we own. We believe this validation will increase the market capitalization of the Company, which is traded on OTC Markets under the ticker symbol HTSC.

Flagship Project –Gowan Project

OFFERING STATEMENT

83,334 Units of SECURITY at $0.12 per Unit
	# Of Units	Total Proceeds	Net Proceeds
Target Offering	83,334	$10,000.08	$9,200.07
Maximum Amount	8,916,650	$1,069,998.00	$984,398.16

Strategic Location:

Timmins Mining Camp lies at the heart of the Abitibi greenstone belt, which contains some of the world's largest deposits of gold, silver, copper, zinc and nickel as well as platinum group metals and industrial minerals such as talc.

6 miles north of Glencore's Kidd Mine Met Site - The deepest base-metal mine in the world. The mine complex has produced over 150 million tonnes of copper-zinc ore.

15 miles northeast from the City of Timmins – Timmins Gold Camp has produced over 75 million ounces of gold and hosted many economic deposits and mines.

Property Size:

This project is located at Gowan Townships consists of 102 unpatented, mining claims (about 5,100 acres) of prospective land package which highlights nickel, cobalt, PGM, base-metal and gold opportunities.

Geology and Mineralization

The Gowan Property is underlain by Gowan Intrusion Complex ("GIC") consisting of ultramafic, mafic- intermediate and felsic metavolcanic and clastic metasedimentary rocks that have been intruded by ultramafic, mafic and bimodal felsic intrusions. This geological setting potentially hosts world-class nickel sulfide deposits (i.e. Crawford) and base-metal VMS deposits (i.e. Kidd Creek) in Timmins Camp.

Drilling assessment reports from the Ministry of Northern Development and Mines in Ontario Province has highlighted an impressive, high-grade, RC drill hole (FH-68) with a known intersection of 27ft at 3.5% Ni and 1.25% Cu from millerite-bearing basal till samples. Multiple zones with anomalous copper-zinc mineralization in the form of semi-massive-disseminated pyrite-chalcopryrite-sphalerite veins were also intersected in ancient drill holes at the south east and western sections of the property. Hole FH-68 including the drill holes with base-metal mineralization sits on top of an electromagnetic anomaly (conductor) which was previously identified from Ontario Geological Survey (OGS) Geophysical Airborne EM survey. These linear conductors were not drill tested to bedrock depth and are also coincident at or along faults/shears and or lithologic boundaries, which by analogy in Timmins Camp, are excellent sites for significant Ni-Cu-(PGE) deposits.

There has been no significant exploration activity on the property making it an exciting exploration target with enormous blue-sky potential for nickel, base-metal and gold opportunities.

Proximity to World Class Deposits:

The Gowan Project is near and within the same geological /structural trend with the Alexo-Dundonald Ni-Cu Mine / Deposit to the east and the Kidd Creek Mine Complex - The deepest base-metal mine in the world to the west, which makes it exciting and valuable exploration target.

Infrastructure:

The Timmins Camp is a robust mining region with readily available infrastructure, including mill / ore processing facilities, mine services and road access. The property is accessible via existing roads and trails and can be explored throughout the year. All the necessary components are within reach to assist in the advancement of the project.

Maximum Amount	8,916,650	$1,069,998.00	$984,398.16

Strategic Location:

Timmins Mining Camp lies at the heart of the Abitibi greenstone belt, which contains some of the world's largest deposits of gold, silver, copper, zinc and nickel as well as platinum group metals and Industrial minerals such as talc.

8 miles north of Canada Nickel Company's World-Class Crawford Ni-Co-PGM deposit

34 miles north of the City of Timmins – Timmins Gold Camp has produced over 75 million ounces of gold and hosted many economic deposits and mines.

Property Size:

This project is located at Beck-Ottaway-Lennox Townships and consists of 75 unpatented, mining claims (about 3,750 acres) of prospective land package which highlights nickel, cobalt and gold and base-metal opportunities.

Geology and Mineralization

The Beck-Ottaway Property is geologically underlain by thick pile of serpentized-altered, ultramafic and mafic suites of rocks which typically host world-class nickel sulfide deposits in the Timmins Camp.

Drilling assessment reports from the Ministry of Northern Development and Mines in Ontario Province have highlighted three drill holes in 1965 that intersected multiple anomalous nickel bearing zones up to 118 ft' in thickness. Like the Crawford deposit of Canada Nickel Company, the nickel sulfide mineralization at the southern portion of the property is also hosted in altered dunite-peridotite rocks, in the form of fine-grained, disseminations of pentlandite-millerite-chalcopyrite-pyrite, with grades ranging from 0.10 up to 0.30% Ni. Ancient drill hole data at the north and west portion of the property has highlighted anomalous copper and gold associated with massive sulphides, and shear-controlled quartz-carbonate veins, respectively.

There has been no significant exploration activity on the property in the last 50+ years making it an exciting exploration target with enormous blue-sky potential for nickel, base-metal and gold opportunities.

Proximity to World Class Deposits:

The Beck and Ottaway project is near the Crawford Ni-Co-PGE deposit, one of the 10th largest undeveloped nickel sulfide deposits in the world which makes it a unique and valuable opportunity.

Infrastructure:

The Timmins Camp is a great mining region with available infrastructure, including Mill / Ore Processing Facilities, Mine Services and road access. The property is accessible via existing roads and trails and can be explored throughout the year. All the necessary components are within reach to assist in the advancement of the project.

Work Programs:

The Company is currently undertaking this financing round to explore and advance the Beck -Ottaway-Lennox Project which hosts mineral resources in nickel – cobalt - PGM with potential to other metals such as gold and base-metal.

Planned works include review of historical geophysical and geology datasets, and fly modern, deep-seated, airborne EM -Gravity surveys prior to drill testing the metal anomalies.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:
 1. Our exploration efforts may fail. Even though we hired experts with knowledge of the Timmins mining camp we may not discover a significant nickel or gold mine. Our maps and initial drill holes indicate the presence of what may be the largest nickel find in Canada, but our drilling efforts may not find the location of nickel or gold deposits. We believe we can monetize our mineral rights with our drilling results. But our geologists cannot 100% guarantee that we are drilling in the correct location.
 2. Our management may not be able to control costs in an effective or timely manner. The Company's management anticipates it can use reasonable efforts to assess, predict and control costs and expenses. However, implementing our business plan may require more employees, capital equipment, supplies or other expenditure items than management has predicted. Likewise, the cost of compensating employees and consultants or other operating costs may be higher than management's estimates, which could lead to sustained losses.
 3. We may conduct future offerings of our common stock and pay debt obligations with our common stock which may diminish our investors' pro rata ownership and depress our stock price. We reserve the right to make future offers and sales, either public or private, of our securities, including shares of our common stock or securities convertible into common stock at prices differing from the price of the common stock previously issued. In the event that any such future sales of securities are affected or we use our common stock to pay principal or interest on our debt obligations, your pro rata ownership interest may be reduced to the extent of any such future sales.
 4. Limited Operating History Risk: We have a limited operating history upon which investors may base an evaluation of our potential future performance. In particular, we have not proven that we can develop and maintain relationships with key vendors and strategic partners to extract value from our mineral property, raise sufficient capital in the public and/or private markets, or respond effectively to competitive pressures.

OFFERING STATEMENT

83,334 Units of SECURITY at $0.12 per Unit
	# Of Units	Total Proceeds	Net Proceeds
Target Offering	83,334	$10,000.08	$9,200.07
Maximum Amount	8,916,650	$1,069,998.00	$984,398.16

As a result, there can be no assurance that we will be able to develop or maintain consistent revenue sources, or that our operations will be profitable and/or generate positive cash flow.

5. Competition Risk: Intense competition in the markets in which we compete could prevent us from generating or sustaining revenue growth and generating or maintaining profitability. Our business is competitive, and we expect it to become increasingly competitive in the future as more startups enter the industry in attempts to become part of the supply chain for electric vehicle batteries.. We may also face competition from large companies, any of which might have more capital than we have, and launch its own exploration campaign that is more successful than ours.
6. Risks relating to forward-looking statements. Information provided concerning this offering and the Company's business may contain forward-looking statements, which reflect management's current view with respect to future events and the Company's performance. Such forward-looking statements may include projections with respect to market size and acceptance, revenues and earnings, marketing and sales strategies, and business operations. The Company operates in a highly competitive business environment. The Company's business is and will continue to be affected by government regulation, economic, political and social conditions, consumer response to new and existing products and services, technological developments and, particularly in view of new technologies, the ability to protect intellectual property rights. The Company's actual results could differ materially from management's expectations because of changes in such factors. Other factors and risks could also cause actual results to differ from those contained in forward-looking statements. Due to such uncertainties and the risk factors set forth herein, prospective investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance upon such forward-looking statements.
7. The Company may not have the internal control infrastructure that would meet the standards of a public company, including the requirements of the Sarbanes Oxley Act of 2002. Even though we are a publicly traded company on OTC Markets, the Company is currently not subject to the Sarbanes Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no guarantee that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of the Company's financial and disclosure controls and procedures. If it were necessary to implement such financial and disclosure controls and procedures, the cost to the Company of such compliance could be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations.
8. No governmental agency has reviewed the Company's offering and no state or federal agency has passed upon either the adequacy of the disclosure contained herein or the fairness of the terms of this offering. The exemptions relied upon for this offering are significantly dependent upon the accuracy of the representations of the investors to be made to the Company in connection with this offering. In the event that any such representations prove to be untrue, the registration exemptions relied upon by the Company in selling the securities might not be available and substantial liability to the Company would result under applicable securities laws for rescission or damages.
9. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. Regulatory changes could result in restrictions on our ability to carry on or expand our operations, higher than anticipated costs, or lower than anticipated revenues. Failure to comply with applicable regulations could jeopardize our ability to explore, mine or sell our products and result in enforcement actions such as fines, civil penalties, injunctions, warning letters, recalls of products, delays in the introduction of products into the market, refusal of the regulatory agency or other regulators to grant future clearances and approvals, and the suspension or withdrawal of existing approvals by such regulatory agencies. Any of these sanctions could result in higher than anticipated costs or lower than anticipated sales and harm our reputation, business, financial condition and operating results. Canadian regulations are known for being friendly to the environment and may cause us to incur more costs than we have anticipated.
10. This investment is highly speculative, involves a high degree of risk and should not be made by anyone who cannot afford to risk their entire capital contribution. You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described below, together with all of the other information in this offering statement, including the financial statements and the related notes incorporated by reference in this offering statement, before deciding whether to invest in shares of our common stock. These risk factors are not, however, intended as a substitute for professional legal, tax or financial advice, and we strongly advise you to seek such advice before investing in shares of our common stock. If any of the following risks or other risks actually occur, our business, financial condition, results of operations and future prospects could be materially harmed. In that event, the market price of our common stock could decline, and you could lose all or part of your investment.

11. The Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends for the foreseeable future. The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, for the foreseeable future, to repay indebtedness and to support its business. The Company does not intend in the foreseeable future to pay any dividends to holders of its shares of common stock.
12. We Might Change Our Business Plans. Depending on the circumstances, we might change our business plans and strategies. We will neither need nor seek the consent of investors to change our plans.
13. Changes in Laws Could Affect the Business. Our business could be affected adversely by changes in the law - for example, by a law that imposes new safety requirements for our products, or a law that makes our products harder to sell.
14. Low Minimum Offering. Under the terms of this offering, we are allowed to start spending investor dollars as soon as we have raised $10,000.08. Yet if we raise that little capital, we believe we will need to seek additional capital immediately or the business might be at a significant risk of failure.
15. Unpredictable Operating Costs. Our drilling and exploration costs are unpredictable and in many cases beyond our control. If we experience bad weather or equipment failure during drilling operations, our costs may exceed our cash resources to complete our project and threaten our ability to monetize our mineral rights.
16. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of this offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature. You should not rely on the fact that our Form C is accessible through the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's EDGAR filing system as an approval, endorsement or guarantee of compliance as it relates to this offering.
17. Neither the offering nor the securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company. The securities being offered have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act"), in reliance on exemptive provisions of the Securities Act. Similar reliance has been placed on apparently available exemptions from securities registration or qualification requirements under applicable state securities laws. No assurance can be given that any offering currently qualifies or will continue to qualify under one or more of such exemptive provisions due to, among other things, the adequacy of disclosure and the manner of distribution, the existence of similar offerings in the past or in the future, or a change of any securities law or regulation that has retroactive effect. If, and to the extent that, claims or suits for rescission are brought and successfully concluded for failure to register any offering or other offerings or for acts or omissions constituting offenses under the Securities Act, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or applicable state securities laws, the Company could be materially adversely affected, jeopardizing the Company's ability to operate successfully. Furthermore, the human and capital resources of the Company could be adversely affected by the need to defend actions under these laws, even if the Company is ultimately successful in its defense.
18. The Company has the right to extend the offering deadline, conduct multiple closings, or end the offering early. The Company may extend the offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the minimum amount even after the offering deadline stated herein is reached. While you have the right to cancel your investment up to 48 hours before an offering deadline, if you choose to not cancel your investment, your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new offering deadline is reached. If the Company reaches the target offering amount prior to the offering deadline, it may conduct the first of multiple closings of the offering prior to the offering deadline, provided that the Company gives notice to the investors of the closing at least five business days prior to the closing (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Thereafter, the Company may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline. The Company may also end the offering early; if the offering reaches its target offering amount after 21-calendar days but before the deadline, the Company can end the offering with 5 business days' notice. This means your failure to participate in this offering in a timely manner, may prevent you from being able to participate – it also means the Company may limit the amount of capital it can raise during the offering by ending it early.

19. The Company's management may have broad discretion in how the Company uses the net proceeds of this offering. Despite that the Company has provided information as to its anticipated use of the proceeds from this offering, the Company's management will have considerable discretion over the allocation of proceeds from the offering. You may not have the opportunity, as part of your investment decision, to assess whether the proceeds are being used appropriately.
20. The securities issued by the Company will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the securities may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply, and each investor should consult with his or her attorney. You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be affected.
21. Investors will not be entitled to any inspection or information rights other than those required by Regulation CF. Investors will not have the right to inspect the books and records of the Company or to receive financial or other information from the Company, other than as required by Regulation CF. Other security holders of the Company may have such rights. Regulation CF requires only the provision of an annual report on Form C and no additional information – there are numerous methods by which the Company can terminate annual report obligations, resulting in no information rights, contractual, statutory or otherwise, owed to investors. This lack of information could put investors at a disadvantage in general and with respect to other security holders. However, the Company intends to continue its quarterly reporting on OTC Markets and investors will be able to continue to follow the Company's quarterly performance if the Company continues to post its financial statements, disclosure information and news releases. If you purchase our common stock in this offering, you agree to be added to our mailing list for news releases until you opt out of the email service.
22. The shares of securities acquired upon the offering may be significantly diluted as a consequence of subsequent financings. Company equity securities will be subject to dilution. The Company intends to issue additional equity to future employees and third-party financing sources in amounts that are uncertain at this time, and as a consequence, holders of securities will be subject to dilution in an unpredictable amount. Such dilution may reduce the purchaser's economic interests in the Company. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company will depend upon several contingencies not foreseen at the time of this offering. Each such round of financing (whether from the Company or other investors) is typically intended to provide the Company with enough capital to reach the next major corporate milestone. If the funds are not sufficient, Company may have to raise additional capital at a price unfavorable to the existing investors. The availability of capital is at least partially a function of capital market conditions that are beyond the control of the Company. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to predict accurately the future capital requirements necessary for success or that additional funds will be available from any source. Failure to obtain such financing on favorable terms could dilute or otherwise severely impair the value of the investor's Company securities.
23. We cannot predict every risk. In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective investor is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis all of the Risk Factors discussed above.

26. Public health epidemics or outbreaks could adversely impact our business. In December 2019, a novel strain of coronavirus (COVID-19) emerged in Wuhan, Hubei Province, China. While initially the outbreak was largely concentrated in China and caused significant disruptions to its economy, it has now spread to several other countries and infections have been reported globally. The extent to which the coronavirus impacts our operations will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted with confidence, including the duration of the outbreak, new information which may emerge concerning the severity of the coronavirus and the actions to contain the coronavirus or treat its impact, among others. In particular, the continued spread of the coronavirus globally could adversely impact our operations, and could have an adverse impact on our business and our financial results.
27. If we make mistakes or have unforeseen things happen to us, our suppliers or the world, we can make little or no profit and can be driven out of business.

THE BOTTOM LINE:

Investment in the securities of smaller companies can involve greater risk than is generally associated with investment in larger, more established companies. All investments can result in significant or total loss of your loan and/or investment. If we do well, the stock should do well also, yet life offers no guarantees and neither can we. If we make mistakes or have unforeseen things happen to us, our suppliers or the world, we can make little or no profit and can be driven out of business. We cannot guarantee success, return on investment, or repayment of loans.

Please only invest what you can afford to lose.

The Company's bylaws can be amended by the sole shareholder of the Company who has voting control via his ownership of the Series A Preferred Stock. Directors can be added or removed by this one shareholder. As minority owners, you are subject to the decisions made by the majority owner. The issued and outstanding common stock gives management voting control of the company. As a minority owner, you may be outvoted on issues that impact your investment, such as the issuance of additional shares, the purchase of additional mining claims, or the sale of debt, convertible debt or assets of the company.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer? ☒ Yes ☐ No

Explain: The Series A preferred stock has voting control, but no conversion rights. The Series C preferred stock has conversion rights of 1 cent per share, or less, and has voting rights equal to the number of common shares into which it can convert. The Series C preferred stock has various preferences over the holders of common shares. See # 17 above.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

The existing Series C preferred stock is subject to conversion into equity and if the Series C preferred stock is converted, your ownership will be diluted by that conversion.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The securities are valued based upon a recent trading price of the Company's common stock. The stock is listed under the ticker symbol HTSC and has traded in the past two months at a price per share of between $0.08 and $0.17

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

The right to demand current distributions from an operating business is limited. The majority owner, if he is committed to avoiding any distributions to a minority owner, can usually avoid making any distributions of profits. By establishing generous reserves for future expenses, paying a salary to himself and other insiders at the high range of what is reasonable, pre-paying expenses, investing in new business or new equipment, expanding the scope and products of the business, etc., a majority owner can spend enough that there are rarely any profits to be distributed. So long as the expenses are not grossly unreasonable, the investor, probably, won't be able to force the company to allow you to share in any of the current income of the company.

No right to participate in any management decisions of the company. The majority owner may make a decision that the investor thinks is bad and puts your interest in the company at risk. The investor may see the majority owner running the company into the ground. The investor can try to convince him that it is the wrong decision, but he doesn't have to take your calls.

The investor has limited rights, if any, to have your interest bought out. You may want to cash out your interest and do other things with the money. State law may give you the right to force the company to buy you out, but these rights are limited.

Maximum Amount	8,916,650	$1,069,998.00	$984,398.16

While the investor would be entitled to a share of any profits on sale of the entire business, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including:

- Additional issuances of securities:

Following the investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interest to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the investor in the Company. The Investor might have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional capital needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and the objectives of the Company.

- Issuer repurchases of securities:

If we repurchase securities, so that the above risk is mitigated, and there are fewer shares of common stock outstanding, we may not have enough cash available for exploration, drilling, marketing expenses, growth, or operating expenses to reach our goals. If we do not have enough cash to operate and grow, we anticipate the market price of our common stock would decline.

- A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer:

A sale of our company or of the assets of our company may result in an entire loss of your investment. We cannot predict the market value of our company or our assets, and the proceeds of a sale may not be cash, but instead, unmarketable securities, or an assumption of liabilities. Although we have potentially marketable assets on our books, such as investments in securities and in mineral rights, it is unlikely that in the near term, a sale would result in a premium that is significant enough to generate a return to our investors.

- Transactions with related parties:

You should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and the Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the company, the investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest. We may need to negotiate with a related party for additional capital, such as raising additional funds through public or private debt or the sale of equity. Such financing may not be available when needed. Even if such financing is available, it may be on terms that are materially adverse to your interests with respect to dilution of book value, dividend preferences, liquidation preferences, or other terms. No assurance can be given that such funds will be available or, if available, will be on commercially reasonable terms satisfactory to us. There can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain financing if and when it is needed on terms we deem acceptable. If we are unable to obtain financing on reasonable terms, or, if significant issues arise with related parties, we could be forced to discontinue our operations.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

27. Does the issuer have an operating history? ☒ Yes ☐ No

28. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

Revenues in the year ended September 30, 2020 amounted to 559,829 as compared to revenues of $0 for the year ended September 30, 2019. The increase was due to the sale of marketing and financial services by the Executive Industries division of the Company.

Due to the increased revenues of the Company, operating costs increased in the year ended September 30, 2020 to $212,162 from $31,556 reported in the year ended September 30, 2019. As a result, the Company generated operating income of 307,010 for the year ended September 30, 2020 as compared to an operating loss of $31,556 in the year ended September 30, 2019.

The Company has ample cash to operate its consulting business, and may be able to raise capital from existing shareholders or warrant holders. The Company needs cash to conduct its exploration activities in the mineral-rich Timmins mining camp. Given the recent rules changes of Regulation CF published by the Securities and Exchange Commission in the Federal Register, we may amend our offering after March 15, 2021 and seek to raise up to $5 million and amend this Regulation CF offering. Such details would be provided with the filing of an amended offering statement and an amended Form C.

The company has positive net worth and as of December 31, 2020 owned more than $1 million in securities of publicly traded companies. The Company's mineral rights could also become a capital resource if some of the mining claims are sold to advance the exploration efforts centered around the mining claims that are forecasted to be the most lucrative. However, the liquidity and value of the securities and mining claims cannot be guaranteed and we hope that we will not need to liquidate these assets to support our exploration activities and operations. We intend to use the cash from this capital raise or cash from private placements for exploration and growth.

Here To Serve Holding Corp. Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements September 30, 2020

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND ORGANIZATION

History of Organization

Here To Serve Holding Corp. d/b/a F3 Technologies, Inc. (the “Company”) was incorporated in the State of Delaware as New Ithaca Corporation on September 22, 1983. In 2006, the Company operated as F3 Technologies and began trading on the OTC Market Exchange under the symbol FTCH. In September 2013 it began operating as Here To Serve Holding Corp. and trading under the symbol HTSC. Over the next several years, the Company consulted in the software development industry, and currently it provides consulting services to small publicly traded companies that need assistance in financial reporting, product development or marketing.

In fiscal 2020, the Company began providing financial reporting and advisory services to mining companies and discovered an opportunity to acquire mining claims in a potentially nickel-rich area. Consequently, the Company formed a wholly owned subsidiary, Fortune Nickel and Gold Inc. (“Fortune”) to pursue the acquisition, exploration and development of mining properties in prolific jurisdictions, and began accumulating single cell mining claims.

Fortune has acquired mineral rights on unpatented mining claims in the Timmins Camp, Ontario, Canada, for the purpose of exploration and potential development of nickel, gold, copper, and other metals on a total of approximately 5,100 acres. The Company plans to review opportunities and acquire additional mineral properties with current or historic precious and base metal mineralization with meaningful exploration potential. The Company’s properties do not have any reserves. The Company plans to conduct exploration programs on these properties with the objective of ascertaining whether any of its properties contain economic concentrations of precious and base metals that are prospective for mining.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principle of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries after elimination of significant intercompany balances and transactions. The Company uses the accrual basis of accounting and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The Company has a September 30 fiscal year end.

Use of Estimates

In preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The most significant estimates relate to income tax valuation allowance, and the allowance for doubtful accounts. On a continual basis, management reviews its estimates, utilizing currently available information, changes in facts and circumstances, historical experience and reasonable assumptions. After such reviews, and if deemed appropriate, those estimates are adjusted accordingly. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company has no cash equivalents. The Company uses one financial institution for its cash balances and has not maintained cash balances that exceed federally insured limits.

Investments

The Company adopted FASB ASU No. 2016-01, Financial Instruments – Overall (Subtopic 825-10): Recognition and Measurement of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities ("ASU 2016-01"), which updates certain aspects of the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of financial instruments. The adoption of ASU 2016-01 did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Exploration and Evaluation of Mineral Properties

Exploration and evaluation assets represent properties on which the Company is conducting exploration to determine whether significant mineralization exists or for which the Company has identified a mineral resource of such quantity and grade or quality that it has reasonable prospects for economic extraction. All costs incurred prior to obtaining the legal right to undertake exploration and evaluation activities on an area of interest are expensed as incurred. Once the legal right to explore has been obtained, exploration expenditures are capitalized in respect of each identifiable area of interest until a technical feasibility study has been completed and the commercial viability of extracting a mineral resource is demonstrable. Exploration and evaluation activities include the following:

- acquiring the rights to explore;
- researching and analyzing historical exploration data;
- gathering exploration data through topographical, geochemical and geophysical studies;
- exploratory drilling, trenching and sampling;
- determining and examining the volume and grade of the resource; and
- compiling pre-feasibility and feasibility studies.

Exploration and evaluation assets are carried at historical cost, less any impairment, if applicable.

Revenue Recognition

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606)." Topic 606 established that the Company recognize revenue using the following five-step model

- Identification of the contract, or contracts, with a customer;
- Identification of the performance obligations in the contract;
- Determination of the transaction price;
- Allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; and
- Recognition of revenue when or as, the Company satisfies a performance obligation.

The Company identifies performance obligations in contracts with customers, which primarily are professional services. The transaction price is determined based on the amount the Company expects to be entitled to receive in exchange for transferring the promised services to the customer. The transaction price in the contract is allocated to each distinct performance obligation in an amount that represents the relative amount of consideration expected to be received in exchange for satisfying each performance obligation. Revenue is recognized when performance obligations are satisfied. The Company usually bills its customers before it provides any services and begins performing services after the first payment is received. Contracts are typically one year or less. For larger contracts, in addition to the initial payment, the Company may allow for progress payments throughout the term of the contract.

Judgments and Estimates

The estimation of variable consideration for each performance obligation requires the Company to make subjective judgments. The Company enters contracts with customers that regularly include promises to transfer multiple services, such as digital marketing, financial statement preparation, offering statements, and consulting services. For arrangements with multiple services, the Company evaluates whether the individual services qualify as distinct performance obligations. In its assessment of whether a service is a distinct performance obligation, the Company determines whether the customer can benefit from the service on its own or with other readily available resources, and whether the service is separately identifiable from other services in the contract. This evaluation requires the Company to assess the nature of each individual service offering and how the services are provided in the context of the contract, including whether the services are significantly integrated, highly interrelated, or significantly modify each other, which may require judgment based on the facts and circumstances of the contract.

When agreements involve multiple distinct performance obligations, the Company allocates arrangement consideration to all performance obligations at the inception of an arrangement based on the relative standalone selling prices ("SSP") of each performance obligation. Where the Company has standalone sales data for its performance obligations which are indicative of the price at which the Company sells a promised service separately to a customer, such data is used to establish SSP. In instances where standalone sales data is not available for a particular performance obligation, the Company estimates SSP by the use of observable market and cost-based inputs. The Company continues to review the factors used to establish list price and will adjust standalone selling price methodologies as necessary on a prospective basis.

Service Revenue

Service revenue from subscriptions to the Company's digital marketing service is recognized over time on a ratable basis over the contractual subscription term beginning on the date that the service begins. Payments received in advance of subscription services being rendered are recorded as a deferred revenue. Professional services revenue is recognized over time as the services are rendered.

When a contract with a customer is signed, the Company assesses whether collection of the fees under the arrangement is probable. The Company estimates the amount to reserve for uncollectible amounts based on the aging of the contract balance, current and historical customer trends, and communications with its customers. These reserves are recorded as operating expenses against the contract asset.

Contract Assets

Contract assets are recorded for those parts of the contract consideration not yet invoiced but for which the performance obligations are completed. The revenue is recognized when the customer receives services. Contract assets are included in other current or non-current assets in the consolidated balance sheets, depending on if their reduction will be recognized during the succeeding twelve-month period or beyond.

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenues represent billings or payments received in advance of revenue recognition and are recognized upon transfer of control. Balances consist primarily of prepaid services not yet provided as of the balance sheet date. Deferred revenues that will be recognized during the succeeding twelve-month period are recorded as current deferred revenues in the consolidated balance sheets, with the remainder recorded as other non-current liabilities in the consolidated balance sheets.

Costs to Obtain a Customer Contract

Sales commissions and related expenses are considered incremental and recoverable costs of acquiring customer contracts. These costs are capitalized as other current or non-current assets and amortized on a straight-line basis over the life of the contract, which approximates the benefit period. The benefit period was estimated by taking into consideration the length of customer contracts, technology lifecycle, and other factors. All sales commissions are recorded as consulting fees within the Company's consolidated statement of operations.

Remaining Performance Obligations

The Company's subscription terms are typically less than one year. All of the Company's revenues are considered contract revenues. As of September 30, 2020 and 2019 there is no contract revenue which has not yet been recognized.

Cost of services consist of direct costs that we pay to third parties in order to provide the services that generate revenue.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Under the Fair Value Measurements Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification, the Company bases its fair value on the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. It is the Company's policy to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when developing fair value measurements, in accordance with the fair value hierarchy. Fair value measurements for assets and liabilities where there exists limited or no observable market data and, therefore, are based primarily upon management's own estimates, are often calculated based on current pricing policy, the economic and competitive environment, the characteristics of the asset or liability and other such factors. Therefore, the results cannot be determined with precision and may not be realized in an actual sale or immediate settlement of the asset or liability. Additionally, there may be inherent weaknesses in any calculation technique, and changes in the underlying assumptions used, including discount rates and estimates of future cash flows, that could significantly affect the results of current or future value.

Impairment of long-lived assets

The Company periodically reviews its long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. The Company recognizes an impairment loss when the sum of expected undiscounted future cash flows is less than the carrying amount of the asset. The amount of impairment is measured as the difference between the asset's estimated fair value and its book value. During the years ended September 30, 2020 and 2019, the Company recorded losses due to impairment of $0 and $110,000, respectively. The impairment in fiscal 2019 resulted from an asset that had been purchased from a related party and the write-off of the asset was charged to capital-in-excess-of-par-value.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carry forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income and the reversal of deferred tax liabilities during the period in which related temporary differences become deductible. A valuation allowance has been established to eliminate the Company's deferred tax assets as it is more likely than not that any of the deferred tax assets will be realized.

The Company records uncertain tax positions in accordance with ASC 740 on the basis of a two-step process whereby (1) we determine whether it is more likely than not that the tax positions will be sustained on the basis of the technical merits of the position and (2) for those tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, we recognize the largest amount of tax benefit that is more than 50 percent likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement with the related tax authority.

Based on the Company's history of losses, it has been concluded that there are no significant uncertain tax positions requiring recognition in the Company's financial statements. The Company believes that its income tax positions would be sustained on audit and does not anticipate any adjustments that would result in a material change to its financial position.

The Company may in the future become subject to foreign, federal, state and local income taxation though it has not been since inception. The Company is not presently subject to any income tax audit in any taxing jurisdiction.

Basic income (loss) per share is calculated by dividing the Company's net income or loss applicable to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares during the period. A diluted earnings per share is calculated by dividing the Company's net income available to common shareholders by the diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year. The diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding is the basic weighted number of shares adjusted for any potentially dilutive debt or equity. At September 30, 2020 and 2019 the Company had a series of convertible securities outstanding that could be converted into approximately 70,216,423 and 146,000,000 common shares, respectively. The conversion of these securities are not presented in the statement of operations for the year ended September 30, 2019 because the company incurred a loss and the effect of these shares is anti-dilutive.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company utilizes the Black-Scholes option pricing model to estimate the fair value of employee stock option awards at the date of grant, which requires the input of highly subjective assumptions, including expected volatility and expected life. Changes in these inputs and assumptions can materially affect the measure of estimated fair value of share-based compensation. These assumptions are subjective and generally require significant analysis and judgment to develop. The Company estimates volatility by considering the historical stock volatility. The Company has opted to use the simplified method for estimating expected term.

On March 20, 2020, the company issued two warrants that expire on September 30, 2025, for sales and marketing services, to purchase up to an aggregate of 1,000,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.016. On April 1, 2020, the Company issued a similar warrant to purchase 100,000 shares. All three warrants are contingent upon the Company reaching annual revenues of at least $500,000 in fiscal 2020 or 2021. Based upon the likelihood of reaching the revenue threshold, the warrants were recorded at full value at the issuance date. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 5.5 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 436%; (3) a discount rate of 1%; and (4) zero dividends, the first two warrants were valued at a total amount of $14,000, and recorded as stock-based compensation expense in the quarter ended March 31, 2020, and the third warrant was valued at a total amount of $1,187, and recorded as stock-based compensation expense in the quarter ended June 30, 2020.

On October 27, 2019 the company issued five warrants, that expire on September 30, 2024, for consulting and development services, to purchase up to an aggregate of 2,000,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.01. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 4.93 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 436%; (3) a discount rate of 1%; and (4) zero dividends, the five warrants were valued at a total amount of $16,599.

On October 15, 2019, the company issued a warrant that expires on September 30, 2025 as compensation to its President for services to be rendered in fiscal 2020, to purchase up to 20,000,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.003. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 5.96 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 436%; (3) a discount rate of 1%; and (4) zero dividends, the warrant was valued at $60,000. The warrants issued on October 27, 2019 and October 15, 2019, in the aggregate, have a remaining prepaid expense balance at September 30, 2020 of $3,355.

On September 30, 2019, the company issued two three-year warrants, for consulting and development services, to purchase up to 7,500,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.005. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 3 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 436%; (3) a discount rate of 1%; and (4) zero dividends, each warrant was valued at $14,996. One warrant was for prior services and the other warrant was for future services. Consequently, $14,996 was recorded as stock-based compensation in fiscal 2019 and $14,996 was recorded as a prepaid expense on September 30, 2019.

On September 30, 2019, the company issued two eleven-year warrants, as compensation to its Chief Executive Officer to purchase up to 7,500,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.005. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 3 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 436%; (3) a discount rate of 1%; and (4) zero dividends, each warrant was valued at $15,000. Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-02 – "Leases (Topic 842)." Under ASU 2016-02, entities will be required to recognize lease asset and lease liabilities by lessees for those leases classified as operating leases. Among other changes in accounting for leases, a lessee should recognize in the statement of financial position a liability to make lease payments (the lease liability) and a right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term. When measuring assets and liabilities arising from a lease, a lessee (and a lessor) should include payments to be made in optional periods only if the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend the lease or not to exercise an option to terminate the lease. Similarly, optional payments to purchase the underlying asset should be included in the measurement of lease assets and lease liabilities only if the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise that purchase option. The amendments in ASU 2016-02 will become effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, including interim periods with those fiscal years, for public business entities. We are currently evaluating the effect of the adoption of ASU 2016-02 will have on our consolidated results of operations, financial position or cash flows.

In January 2017, the FASB issued ASU No. 2017-01, clarifying the Definition of a Business, which narrows the definition of a business. This ASU provides a screen to determine whether a group of assets constitutes a business. The screen requires that when substantially all of the fair value of the gross assets acquired (or disposed of) is concentrated in a single identifiable asset or a group of similar identifiable assets, the set is not a business. This screen reduces the number of transactions that need to be further evaluated as acquisitions. If the screen is not met, this ASU (1) requires that to be considered a business, a set must include, at a minimum, an input and a substantive process that together significantly contribute to the ability to create an output and (2) removes the evaluation of whether a market participant could replace missing elements. Although outputs are not required for a set to be a business, outputs generally are a key element of a business; therefore, the FASB has developed more stringent criteria for sets without outputs. The ASU is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2018. Management determined that the adoption of this guidance will not have a material impact on the financial statements.

In March 2017 the FASB issued ASU 2017-04 Intangibles—Goodwill and Other (Topic 350) Simplifying the Test for Goodwill Impairment. This amendment simplifies the measurement of goodwill by eliminating Step 2 from the goodwill impairment test. This update is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021. The adoption of ASU No. 2017-04 is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's financial statements.

In May 2017, the FASB issued ASU 2017-09 which clarifies the guidance on the modification accounting criteria for share-based payment awards. The new guidance requires registrants to apply modification accounting unless three specific criteria are met. The three criteria are 1) the fair value of the award is the same before and after the modification, 2) the vesting conditions are the same before and after the modification and 3) the classification as a debt or equity award is the same before and after the modification. This update is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2017 and are to be applied prospectively to new awards granted after adoption. Management determined that the adoption of this guidance will not have a material impact on the financial statements.

Contingencies

A novel strain of coronavirus, or COVID-19, has spread throughout Asia, Europe and the United States, and has been declared to be a pandemic by the World Health Organization. Our business plans have not been significantly impacted by the COVID-19 outbreak. However, we cannot at this time predict the specific extent, duration, or full impact that the COVID-19 outbreak will have on our financial condition, operations, and business plans for 2020. Our operations have adapted social distancing and cleanliness standards and we may experience delays in anticipated timelines and milestones.

NOTE 7 – INCOME TAXES

At September 30, 2017, the Company had net operating loss carry forwards of approximately $3,300,000 that are limited in their utilization pursuant to Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code, and which will not be available entirely for use in future years because of a change in voting control that occurred on January 1, 2018. Our net operating loss carry forwards subsequent to the change in control amount to approximately $285,000. We estimate the benefits of this loss carry forward at $66,000 as of September 30, 2020, if the Company produces sufficient taxable income. No adjustments to the financial statements have been recorded for this potential tax benefit.

The Company did not have any material unrecognized tax benefits as of September 30, 2020 and 2019. The Company does not expect the unrecognized tax benefits to significantly increase or decrease within the next twelve months. The Company recorded no interest and penalties relating to unrecognized tax benefits as of and during the years ended September 30, 2020 and 2019. The Company is subject to United States federal income tax, as well as taxes by various state jurisdictions.

The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act ("Tax Act") was enacted on December 22, 2017. Among numerous provisions, the Tax Act reduced the U.S. federal corporate tax rate from 35% to 21%, requires companies to pay a one-time transition tax on earnings of certain foreign subsidiaries that were previously tax deferred, and creates new taxes on certain foreign sourced earnings. As a result of the Tax Act, the Company remeasured certain deferred tax assets and liabilities based on the rates at which they are expected to reverse in the future, which is generally 21% for federal tax and 5.1% for state tax.

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. Significant components of the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities as of April 30, 2020 and 2019 were as follows:

	2020	2019
Deferred tax assets, net:
Net operating loss carryforwards	$ 66,000	$ 74,000
Deferred tax assets	66,000	74,000
Valuation allowance	(66,000)	(74,000)
Net deferred assets	$ -	$ -

At September 30, 2020, the Company had net deferred tax assets calculated at an expected rate of 26.1%, or approximately $66,000. At April 30, 2019, the Company recognized the net deferred asset to the extent of the impact on current book earnings. Effective April 30, 2020, Company management believes that historical, current and expected earnings are sufficient to meet the more likely than not standard to enable the Company to recognize the net deferred tax asset. As allowable under accounting standards, the Company elected to fully remove the valuation allowance as of April 30, 2020.

The Company is subject to U.S. federal income tax, as well as taxes by various state jurisdictions. The Company is currently open to audit under the statute of limitations by the federal and state jurisdictions for the years ending September 30, 2018 through 2020.

NOTE 8 – NOTES PAYABLE

On January 1, 2018, the Company issued a $1,500,000 senior secured convertible promissory debenture ("Debenture"), due on December 31, 2019. The terms of the Debenture required the Company to pay the holder a principal sum of $1,500,000 with 12% annual interest upon maturity. The principal amount of the Debenture together with interest may be converted into shares of Common Stock equal to fifty percent of the lowest closing price during the 30 days prior to the conversion or $0.001 per share, whichever price is less.

Interest was waived if the Debenture is converted or otherwise paid in full on or before December 31, 2019. The holder is limited to conversions into common stock that result in the holder owning less than 9.9% of the Company's issued and outstanding shares of common stock at the time of conversion.

The conversion price of the note issued in is based on a variable that is not an input to the fair value of a "fixed-for-fixed" option as defined under FASB ASC Topic No. 815 - 40. The fair value of the note was recognized as a derivative instrument at the issuance date and is measured at fair value at each reporting period. The Company determined that the aggregate fair value of the conversion features was $2,999,562 at the issuance date. Debt discount was recorded up to the $1,500,000 face amount of the note and is amortized to interest expense over the term of the note. The fair value of the conversion feature in excess of the principal amount allocated to the notes in the aggregate amount of $1,499,562 was expensed immediately as additional interest expense.

The Debenture and all accrued interest was paid in full on September 30, 2019 by converting it into 1,251,750 shares of the Company's Common Stock. Additionally, the Company issued 1,251,750 shares of Common Stock to convert 1,000,000 shares of the Company's Series C Preferred Stock. The net reduction of liabilities, which included $1,000,000 in Series C Preferred Stock, $1,500,000 in debt payable and a $4,048,766 reduction in derivative liabilities, was recorded as a $4,910,352 increase in capital in excess of par value.

On April 29, 2020, the Company borrowed $18,402 (the "April Loan") and on July 2, 2020 the Company borrowed $90,000 (the "July Loan") from a U.S. Small Business Administration (the "SBA") loan program. The April Loan has an initial term of two years and an interest rate of 1% per annum. Principal payments are delayed until the fall of 2021, which makes all of this debt long-term debt. However, the Company anticipates all of this debt and its accrued interest will be forgiven. If repayment of the April Loan is required, payments begin in October 2021 and are to be made in equal installments of approximately $1,036 over an 18-month period. Accrued interest payable on the April Loan amounted to $78 as of September 30, 2020.

The July Loan requires installment payments of $439 monthly, beginning on July 3, 2021, over a term of thirty years. Interest accrues at a rate of 3.75% per annum. The Company agreed to grant a continuing security interest in its assets to secure payment and performance of all debts, liabilities, and obligations to the SBA. $450 of the July Loan

NOTE 9 – CONVERTIBLE PREFERRED STOCK

Our Chief Executive Officer is the holder of 100,000 shares of Series C Preferred Stock. Each share may be converted at the option of the holder thereof (the "Holder") into fully paid, nonassessable shares of Common Stock, $.0001 par value per share, of the Corporation. The number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon a conversion hereunder shall equal the quotient obtained by dividing (x) the Stated Value of the shares of Series C Preferred Stock to be converted by (y) the Conversion Price. The "Conversion Date" shall be the business day on which the Corporation receives the Conversion. The Series C Stock has a stated value of $1.00 per share. Based upon the conversion features and the trading price of the Company's common stock, the 100,000 outstanding shares were convertible into 10,000,000 and 100,000,000 shares of common stock on September 30, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

NOTE 10 – FAIR VALUE

The Fair Value Measurements Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to measurements involving significant unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1: inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the company has the ability to access at the measurement date.
- Level 2: inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3: inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

Under the Fair Value Measurements Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification, we base fair value on the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. It is our policy to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when developing fair value measurements, in accordance with the fair value hierarchy. Fair value measurements for assets and liabilities where there exists limited or no observable market data and, therefore, are based primarily upon management's own estimates, are often calculated based on current pricing policy, the economic and competitive environment, the characteristics of the asset or liability and other such factors. Therefore, the results cannot be determined with precision and may not be realized in an actual sale or immediate settlement of the asset or liability. Additionally, there may be inherent weaknesses in any calculation technique, and changes in the underlying assumptions used, including discount rates and estimates of future cash flows that could significantly affect the results of current or future value.

Following is a description of valuation methodologies used for assets and liabilities recorded at fair value and for estimating fair value where it is practicable to do so for financial instruments not recorded at fair value (disclosures required by the Fair Value Measurements Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification).

Cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, and accounts payable

In general, carrying amounts approximate fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments.
