Example

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund to the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's annual operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years*
Institutional Class	$20	$97

* The Adviser contractually agreed to limit the operating expenses of the Institutional Class shares of the Fund (excluding underlying fund fees and expenses, interest, taxes, brokerage costs and commissions, litigation, indemnification, and extraordinary expenses as determined under generally accepted accounting principles) to an annual rate of 2.75%, effective January 1, 2012 through December 31, 2020. The Adviser is entitled to reimbursement from the Fund of any fees waived pursuant to this arrangement if such reimbursement does not cause the operating expenses of the Fund in the year of reimbursement to exceed the expense limitation in effect in the year for which fees are being reimbursed and the reimbursement is made within three years after the fees were waived. The extended expense limitation agreement may be amended or continued beyond December 31, 2020 by written agreement of the parties.

PRINCIPAL INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

To pursue its objective, the Fund invests in securities issued or guaranteed as to principal or interest by the U.S. government, its agencies or instrumentalities ("U.S. Government and Agency Securities"), including repurchase agreements relating to such securities. The Fund seeks to maintain a stable $1.00 share price. A portion of the Fund's dividends is generally exempt from state and local income taxes (but not federal income tax) to the extent derived from interest on securities issued by the U.S. government or certain of its agencies (but not income derived from repurchase agreements on those securities).

The Fund's Portfolio Managers monitor a range of economic and financial factors, in order to weigh the yields of securities of various maturities against their levels of interest rate risk. Based on their analysis, the Portfolio Managers invest the Fund's assets in a mix of securities that is intended to provide as high a yield as possible without violating the Fund's credit quality policies or jeopardizing the stability of its share price.

PRINCIPAL RISKS

An investment in the Fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the Fund.

Interest Rate Risk. Most of the Fund's performance depends on interest rates. When interest rates fall, the Fund's yields will typically fall as well.

Credit Risk. Not all securities issued or guaranteed by U.S. government agencies or instrumentalities are backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. Treasury. Some are backed by the right of the issuing entity to borrow from the Treasury, while others are supported by the Treasury's discretionary authority to lend to the issuer, and still others are backed only by the issuing entity. This means there is at least some possibility of default.

Counter-Party Risk. Performance could also be harmed if any of the counter-parties to repurchase agreements has its credit rating reduced or goes into default.

Yield Risk. The Fund's emphasis on U.S. government and agency securities may mean that its yields are lower than those available from certain other money market funds, on either a before- or after-tax basis. Over time, the Fund may produce lower returns than bond or stock investments.

Market Risk. Recent instability in the financial markets has led the U.S. government to take a number of unprecedented actions designed to support certain financial institutions and segments of the financial markets that have experienced extreme volatility, and in some cases a lack of liquidity. Federal, state, and other governments, their regulatory agencies, or self regulatory organizations may take actions that affect the regulation of the instruments in which the Fund invests, or the issuers of such instruments, in ways that are unforeseeable. Legislation or regulation may also change the way in which the Fund itself is regulated. Such legislation or regulation could limit or preclude the Fund's ability to achieve its investment objective.

Governments or their agencies may also acquire distressed assets from financial institutions and acquire ownership interests in those institutions. The implications of government ownership and disposition of these assets are unclear, and such a program may have positive or negative effects on the liquidity, valuation and performance of the Fund's portfolio holdings. Furthermore, volatile financial markets can expose the Fund to greater market and liquidity risk and potential difficulty in valuing portfolio instruments held by the Fund.

PERFORMANCE INFORMATION

Performance information is not presented since the Fund is new. Performance information will be presented for the Fund after it has been in operation for one complete calendar year.
