Notes to Consolidated Condensed Financial Statements

Three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004
(In U.S. dollars)

1. General:

DataJungle Software Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated in the State of Washington on June 5, 1968 as Quad Metals Corporation ("Quad"). Quad became a Nevada incorporated company on December 11, 2002 when it merged with its wholly-owned subsidiary. The Company was renamed to DataJungle Software Inc. on November 18, 2003. The Company is a developer of web-based enterprise-class business intelligence software solutions that translate business data into interactive tables, charts and maps. These solutions consist of modules of functionality that can be assembled to the specific requirements of the customer and customized to the needs of each user class within the customer's business.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies:

(a) Basis of presentation:

These consolidated condensed financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America and include the accounts of DataJungle Software Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary, DataJungle Ltd. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. The accounting policies are consistent with the policies outlined in the Company's audited financial statements at and for the year ended December 31, 2004.

The condensed financial statements included herein are unaudited but, in the opinion of management, include all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring entries) necessary for fair presentation of the consolidated condensed financial position and results of operations of the Company for the periods presented. The results of operations for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 are not necessarily representative of the operating results expected for the full fiscal year ending December 31, 2005. Moreover, these consolidated condensed financial statements do not purport to contain complete disclosure in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles used in the United States of America and should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited consolidated financial statements at and for the year ended December 31, 2004.

The consolidated condensed financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company has minimal revenues, negative working capital of $1,294,543 as at September 30, 2005 and has incurred a loss of $979,096 for the nine months then ended. As of September 30, 2005, the Company has an accumulated deficit of $3,816,696 which results in a stockholders' deficiency of $748,125. In addition, the Company expects to continue to incur operating losses for the foreseeable future and has no lines of credit or other financing facilities in place. To date, the Company has been able to finance its operations on a month-to-month basis from investors who recognize the advancement of the Company's activities.

(In U.S. dollars)

All of the factors above raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans to address these issues include raising capital through the private placement of equity and renegotiating the repayment terms of accounts payable, accrued liabilities and promissory notes payable. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is subject to management's ability to successfully implement the above plans. Failure to implement these plans could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position and or results of operations and may result in ceasing operations. The consolidated condensed statements do not include adjustments that would be required if the assets are not realized and the liabilities settled in the normal course of operations. Even if successful in obtaining financing in the near term, the Company cannot be certain that cash generated from its future operations will be sufficient to satisfy its liquidity requirements in the longer term and it may need to continue to raise capital by selling additional equity or by obtaining credit facilities.

The Company's future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including, but not limited to, the market acceptance of its products, the level of its promotional activities and advertising required to generate product sales. No assurance can be given that any such additional funding will be available or that, if available, it can be obtained on terms favorable to the Company.

(b) Foreign currency translation:

The consolidated condensed financial statements of the Company include the accounts of the Company in U.S. dollars and the accounts of its wholly-owned subsidiary, translated into U.S. dollars using Financial Accounting Standards Board's Statement No. 52, "Foreign Currency Translation" for the translation of foreign currency operations. The financial statements of the Company's subsidiary are measured using the Canadian dollar as its functional currency. Assets and liabilities have been translated into U.S. dollars using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Revenues and expenses have been translated into U.S. dollars using the average exchange rate for the period. Gains and losses have been reported as a separate component of accumulated other comprehensive loss.

(c) Revenue recognition:

For contracts requiring significant customization or services, the Company recognizes revenue using the completed contract method in accordance with the guidance in Statement of Position 81-1, "Accounting for Performance of Construction-Type and Certain Production-Type Contracts". Under the completed contract method, revenue is recognized in the period when all substantial obligations of the Company under the terms and conditions of a contract have been satisfied. Cash receipts received in advance of the recognition of revenue and rights to advance payments are recorded in the consolidated condensed balance sheet as deferred revenue. Direct costs associated with a contract that has not been recognized as revenue are capitalized in the consolidated condensed balance sheet as contracts in process. A provision for contract losses is recognized as soon as the losses become evident.

(In U.S. dollars)

(c) Revenue recognition (continued):

For sales of product licenses, the Company recognizes revenue in accordance with Statement of Position 97-2, "Software Revenue Recognition" ("SOP 97-2"), as amended by Statement of Position 98-9, "Software Revenue Recognition with Respect to Certain Transactions", issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Revenue from sale of product licenses is recognized when all of the following criteria are met: persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, the fee is fixed or determinable and collectibility is probable.

Revenue from product support contracts is recognized ratably over the life of the contract. Revenue from services is recognized at the time such services are rendered.

For contracts with multiple elements such as product licenses, product support and services, the Company follows the residual method. Under this method, the total fair value of the undelivered elements of the contract, as indicated by vendor specific objective evidence, is deferred and subsequently recognized in accordance with the provisions of SOP 97-2. The difference between the total contract fee and the amount deferred for the undelivered elements is recognized as revenue related to the delivered elements. Vendor specific objective evidence for support and consulting services is obtained from contracts where these elements have been sold separately. Where the Company cannot determine the fair value of all the obligations, the revenue is deferred until such time as it can be determined or the element is delivered.

(d) Stock-based compensation:

The Company applies the intrinsic value-based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees", and related interpretations including FASB Interpretation No. 44, "Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation an interpretation of APB Opinion No. 25", to account for its stock options for employees. Under this method, compensation expense is recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" and SFAS No. 148, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation – Transition and Disclosure, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 123," established accounting and disclosure requirements using a fair value-based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation plans. As permitted by existing accounting standards, the Company has elected to continue to apply the intrinsic-value based method of accounting described above, and has adopted only the disclosure requirements of SFAS 123, as amended.

(e) Deferred consulting services:

Deferred consulting services represent the portion of prepaid non-cash consulting fees for services to be rendered in periods in excess of twelve months from the balance sheet date. Prepaid non-cash consulting fees related to services to be rendered within twelve months are included in prepaid expenses on the balance sheet. These costs will be charged to expenses as the services are rendered. If for any reason circumstances arise which would indicate that the services will not be performed in the future, these prepaid non-cash consulting fees will be charged to expenses immediately.

(f) Share based compensation:

In December 2004, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123R "Share Based Payment" ("FAS 123R"). The new Statement is effective for fiscal years beginning on or after December 15, 2005. FAS 123R addresses the accounting for transactions in which an enterprise receives services in exchange for (a) equity instruments of the enterprise or (b) liabilities that are based on the fair value of the enterprise's equity instruments or that may be settled by the issuance of such equity instruments. This Statement eliminates the ability to account for share-based compensation transactions using Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25 "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees" ("APB 25"), and requires that such transactions be accounted for using a fair-value based method. As required by FAS 123R, the Company will be required to recognize an expense for compensation cost related to share-based payment arrangements including stock options and compensatory employee stock purchase plans. The new rules will be effective for the Company beginning January 1, 2006. The Company is currently evaluating option valuation methodologies and assumptions in light of the evolving accounting standards related to share-based payments, and also the impact of other aspects of FAS 123R, including transitional adoption alternatives.

The impact of applying one of the fair-value based methods of accounting for stock options, the Black Scholes method, over the periods presented is disclosed in note 2(d).

3. Comprehensive loss:

Comprehensive loss includes the net loss and other comprehensive loss ("OCL"). OCL refers to changes in net assets from transactions and other events and circumstances other than transactions with stockholders. These changes are recorded directly as a separate component of stockholders' deficiency and excluded from net loss. The only comprehensive loss item for the Company relates to foreign currency translation adjustments pertaining to the translation of the financial statements of the Company's subsidiary, from Canadian dollars, the functional currency of the subsidiary, to U.S. dollars, the reporting and functional currency of the Company.

4. Related party transaction:

Included in accounts payable as of September 30, 2005, is $27,608 due to a corporation controlled by an officer and director of the Company for consulting services rendered during the nine months ended September 30, 2004.

5. Promissory notes payable:

	September 30, 2005	December 31, 2004
Promissory notes, payable on demand, bearing interest at 12% per annum, secured by accounts receivable.	$ 680,370	$ 196,000

During the nine months ended September 30, 2005, the Company received cash consideration of $542,370 in exchange for the issuance of 12% promissory notes and repaid $58,000 to the lender. Accrued interest of $37,762 (December 31, 2004 - $2,074) has been included in accrued liabilities at September 30, 2005.

(In U.S. dollars)

6. Promissory notes payable to related party:

	September 30, 2005	December 31, 2004
Promissory note, payable in Canadian dollars on seven days notice, no fixed repayment terms, bearing interest at 10% per annum compounded semi-annually until September 16, 2003 and non-interest bearing thereafter, convertible at the option of the holder into common stock of the Company at any time (note 6(a)).	$ 484,734	$ 456,905
Promissory notes, payable on demand in U.S. dollars, bearing interest at 12% per annum compounded annually, repayable upon receipt of payment of specific customer invoices, secured by specific customer invoices (note 6(b)).	41,360	-
	$ 526,094	$ 456,905

Both the 10% promissory note and the 12% promissory notes are secured by a general security agreement representing a first floating charge on all of the assets of the Company.

Additional terms and conditions related to the promissory notes payable to related party are as follows:

- (a) Under the terms of the 10% promissory note, the Company can repay all amounts of principal and interest at any time without penalty or bonus. The promissory note is denominated in Canadian dollars. In accordance with the terms of a Memorandum of Agreement dated February 21, 2003, the lender has a right to convert all amounts of principal and interest to common stock of the Company at the rate of one common share for each $0.15 Canadian of debt converted or at such lower rate paid by any third party dealing at arm's length with the Company. In addition, as long as at least $100,000 Canadian of principal and interest is outstanding, the lender has certain rights related to management and direction of the Company. During the three months ended September 30, 2005, the Company received $12,385 in exchange for an additional 10% promissory note. Included in accrued liabilities is $83,595 (December 31, 2004 – $80,861) in accrued interest on these notes. The lender has agreed that the promissory notes together with accrued interest would be convertible, at the lender's option, into 4,405,302 common shares of the Company. $12,385 was repaid subsequent to September 30, 2005.
- (b) Under the terms of the 12% promissory notes, the Company can repay all amounts of principal and interest at any time without penalty or bonus. These notes were repaid in full subsequent to September 30, 2005.

7. Stock option plan:

Under the Company's Stock Option Plan (the "Plan") up to 5,000,000 shares of authorized but unissued common stock of the Company can be granted to officers, employees and consultants. Options are granted with an exercise price equal to or greater than the stock's fair market value at the date of grant, vest over a period of time as determined by the Board of Directors and expire no later than ten years from the date of vesting.

At September 30, 2005, there were 2,521,548 additional shares available for grant under the Plan.

During the three months ended September 30, 2005, there were 75,000 stock options granted to employees. The per share weighted-average fair value of stock options granted to employees under the Plan during the three months ended September 30, 2005 was $0.27 on the date of grant using the Black Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%, risk-free interest rate of 4.05%, volatility rate of 131%, and an expected life of 6 years.

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, there were 85,000 stock options granted to employees. The per share weighted-average fair value of stock options granted to employees under the Plan during the six months ended June 30, 2005 was $0.44 on the date of grant using the Black Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%, risk-free interest rate of 4.01%, volatility rate of 134%, and an expected life of 6 years.

During the three months ended September 30, 2005, employees forfeited 625,000 stock options to purchase 625,000 common shares at $0.51 expiring at various dates up to June 14, 2012.

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, an employee forfeited 175,000 stock options to purchase 175,000 common shares at $0.51 expiring at various dates up to March 31, 2012.

As a result of modifications to employee stock options in prior years, the Company is required to account for modified options using variable accounting as prescribed by APB 25. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, non-cash compensation recovery of $104,151, $54,174 and $9,860 has been included in research and development, general and administrative and sales and marketing expenses, respectively relating to these modifications. For the nine months ended September 30, 2004, non-cash compensation expense of $96,643, $24,929 and $15,954 has been included in research and development, general and administrative and sales and marketing expenses, respectively.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, non-cash compensation expense of $5,469 has been included in sales and marketing expenses with respect to stock options granted to non-employees and modification of options issued to non-employees (nine months ended September 30, 2004 - $1,939 was included in general and administrative expenses).

8. Stockholders' deficiency:

(a) Common stock transactions:

During the three months ended September 30, 2005, the Company issued 166,667 shares of common stock in exchange for share subscriptions received of $50,000 and 200,000 shares of common stock in exchange previous commitments to issue shares (note 8(b)). In addition, the Company issued 2,500 shares of common stock to settle an obligation in the amount of $750 with respect to share issuance costs.

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, the Company received $15,000 from investors pursuant to subscription agreements to purchase 50,000 shares of common stock at $0.30 per share. A recovery of share issuance costs of $2,517 was recorded as a credit to additional paid-in capital. The recovery of $2,517 is net of share issuance costs of $300.

During the three months ended September 30, 2005, share issuance costs of $1,044 were incurred and recorded as a debit to additional paid-in capital.

(b) Warrants and common stock pursuant to consulting agreements:

On November 22, 2004, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with an unrelated party to provide investor relations services to the Company for the period from November 22, 2004 to December 31, 2008. As compensation for these services, the Company agreed to issue 3,000,000 warrants for the purchase of common stock at $0.50 per share expiring on December 31, 2009. On January 17, 2005, the Company issued 1,500,000 Series A warrants and 1,500,000 Series B warrants pursuant to this consulting agreement.

The Series A warrants can be exercised at any time on or before December 31, 2009 at an exercise price of $0.50 per share or by means of a cashless exercise provision if there is no effective registration statement registering the resale of the underlying shares. The fair value of the Series A warrants was calculated as $982,198 using the Black Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%; risk-free interest rate of 3.6%; expected volatility of 145%, and an expected life of 5.11 years. Of this amount $59,790 has been included in general and administrative expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2005 (September 30, 2004 - $Nil). $239,161 and $538,112 have been included in prepaid expenses and deferred consulting services as at September 30, 2005, respectively. These amounts will be recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis as services are rendered from October 1, 2005 to December 31, 2008.

The Series B warrants can be exercised at any time after July 31, 2006 at an exercise price of $0.50 per share or by means of a cashless exercise provision if there is no registration statement registering the resale of the underlying shares and expire on December 31, 2009. The Series B warrants can be exercised prior to July 31, 2006 if the Company has not terminated the consulting agreement and the Company has received at least $2,000,000 of investment from any and all sources during the period from July 1, 2004 to July 31, 2006. In accordance with EITF 96-18 "Accounting for Equity Instruments that are Issued to other than Employees for Acquiring, or in Conjunction with Selling, Goods or Services", the lowest aggregate fair value of the Series B warrants is used for recognition purposes. At September 30, 2005, no services have yet been rendered.

Effective January 1, 2005, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with an unrelated party to provide investor communication and public relations services to the Company for the period from January 1, 2005 to December 31, 2005. As compensation for these services, the Company issued 200,000 shares of common stock and 200,000 Series A warrants for the purchase of common stock at $0.50 per share expiring on December 31, 2009. The fair value of the 200,000 shares of common stock was $126,000 and has been included in common stock and additional paid-in capital at September 30, 2005. Of this amount, the Company has included $94,500 in general and administrative expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2005. The remaining balance of $31,500 is included in prepaid expenses at September 30, 2005 and will be recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis as services are rendered from October 1, 2005 to December 31, 2005. The fair value of the 200,000 Series A warrants was calculated as $114,677 using the Black Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%; risk-free interest rate of 3.69%; expected volatility of 142%, and an expected life of 5 years. Of this amount, $86,008 has been included in general and administrative expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and $28,669 has been included in prepaid expenses at September 30, 2005. The $28,669 will be recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis as services are rendered from October 1, 2005 to December 31, 2005.

Effective May 20, 2005, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with an unrelated party to provide public relations and investor communications services to the Company for the period from May 20, 2005 to September 19, 2005. As compensation for these services, the Company agreed to issue 100,000 shares of common stock. The fair value of the common stock has been estimated at $31,000 at May 20, 2005 and has been included in common stock to be issued for services at September 30, 2005. Of this amount, $20,667 has been included in general and administrative expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2005 (nine months ended September 30, 2005 $31,000).

11. Guarantees:

The Company has entered into agreements that contain features which meet the definition of a guarantee under FASB Interpretation No. 45 ("FIN 45"). FIN 45 defines a guarantee to be a contract that contingently requires the Company to make payments (either in cash, financial instruments, other assets, common shares of the Company or through provision of services) to a third party based on changes in an underlying economic characteristic (such as interest rates or market value) that is related to an asset, liability or an equity security of the other party. The Company has the following guarantees which are subject to the disclosure requirements of FIN 45.

Product warranties

As part of the normal sale of software products, the Company has provided certain of its customers with product warranties of 30 days from date of sale. Based on management's best estimate of probable liability under its product warranties, no product warranty accrual was recorded as of September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004.

12. Segmented reporting:

The Company operates in one dominant industry segment, which involves providing web-based software solutions that translate data into tables, charts and maps. The Company's solutions can extend the functionality of business intelligence software packages from other vendors by adding pre-built software objects on top of those vendor's solutions. Alternatively, the Company's pre-built software objects can be assembled and bundled with data from major data vendors to provide functionality and enhanced presentation capabilities.

13. Economic dependence:

Four of the Company's customers account for 96% of revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 (September 30, 2004 – four customers account for 98%).

14. Subsequent events:

Subsequent to September 30, 2005, a consultant forfeited 25,000 stock options to purchase 25,000 common shares at $0.51 per share expiring at various dates up to January 18, 2013 and a Director of the Company forfeited 21,000 stock options to purchase 21,000 common shares at $0.11 per share expiring on August 19, 2008.

ITEM 2 MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATION

CAUTIONARY NOTICE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

We caution readers that certain important factors may affect our actual results and could cause such results to differ materially from any forward-looking statements that we make in this report. For this purpose, any statements that are not statements of historical fact may be deemed to be forward-looking statements.

We caution readers that any such forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve significant risks and uncertainties. In fact, actual results most likely will differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements as a result of various factors. Some factors that could adversely affect actual results and performance include:

- * our limited operating history;
- * our minimal sales to date;
- * our future requirements for additional capital funding;
- * the failure of our technology and products to perform as specified;
- * the discontinuance of growth in the use of the Internet;
- * the enactment of new adverse government regulations; and
- * the development of better technology and products by others.

You should carefully consider and evaluate all of these factors. In addition, we do not undertake to update forward-looking statements after we file this report with the SEC, even if new information, future events or other circumstances have made them incorrect or misleading.

Critical Accounting Policies

The financial statements of the Company are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America. The following accounting policies are considered to be critical to an understanding of the financial position and results of operations for the Company. Additional accounting policies for the Company have been disclosed in the audited consolidated financial statements at and for the year ended December 31, 2004.

(a) Revenue recognition

The following policy on revenue recognition was adopted in prior years and continues to be applicable in the current year:

For contracts requiring significant customization or services, the Company recognizes revenue using the completed contract method in accordance with the guidance in Statement of Position 81-1, "Accounting for Performance of Construction-Type and Certain Production-Type Contracts". Under the completed contract method, revenue is recognized in the period when all substantial obligations of the Company under the terms and conditions of a contract have been satisfied. Cash receipts received in advance of the recognition of revenue and rights to advance payments are recorded in the balance sheet as deferred revenue. Direct costs associated with a contract that has not been recognized as revenue are capitalized in the balance sheet as contracts in process. A provision for contract losses is recognized as soon as the losses become evident.

During the year-ended December 31, 2004, the Company made its initial sales of product licenses. As a consequence, the following policy on revenue recognition was adopted in the year-ended December 31, 2004:

For sales of product licenses, the Company recognizes revenue in accordance with Statement of Position 97-2, "Software Revenue Recognition" ("SOP 97-2"), as amended by Statement of Position 98-9, "Software Revenue Recognition with Respect to Certain Transactions", issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Revenue from sale of product licenses is recognized when all of the following criteria are met: persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, the fee is fixed or determinable and collectibility is probable.

Revenue from product support contracts is recognized ratably over the life of the contract. Revenue from services is recognized at the time such services are rendered.

For contracts with multiple elements such as product licenses, product support and services, the Company follows the residual method. Under this method, the total fair value of the undelivered elements of the contract, as indicated by vendor specific objective evidence, is deferred and subsequently recognized in accordance with the provisions of SOP 97-2. The difference between the total contract fee and the amount deferred for the undelivered elements is recognized as revenue related to the delivered elements. Vendor specific objective evidence for support and consulting services is obtained from contracts where these elements have been sold separately. Where the Company cannot determine the fair value of all the obligations, the revenue is deferred until such time as it can be determined or the element is delivered.

(b) Stock-based compensation:

The Company applies the intrinsic value-based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees", and related interpretations including FASB Interpretation No. 44, "Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation an interpretation of APB Opinion No. 25", to account for its stock options for employees. Under this method, compensation expense is recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" and SFAS No. 148, "Accounting for Stock- Based Compensation – Transition and Disclosure, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 123," established accounting and disclosure requirements using a fair value-based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation plans. As permitted by existing accounting standards, the Company has elected to continue to apply the intrinsic-value based method of accounting described above, and has adopted only the disclosure requirements of SFAS 123, as amended.

(c) Deferred consulting services:

The Company adopted the following policy related to deferred consulting services during the three months ended March 31, 2005 and it continues to be applicable in the current quarter:

Deferred consulting services, which arose on the issuance of stock-based compensation, represent the portion of prepaid non-cash consulting fees for services to be rendered in periods in excess of twelve months from the balance sheet date. Prepaid non-cash consulting fees related to services to be rendered within twelve months are included in prepaid expenses on the balance sheet. These costs will be charged to expenses as the services are rendered. If for any reason circumstances arise which would indicate that the services will not be performed in the future, these prepaid non-cash consulting fees will be charged to expenses immediately.

Results of Operations

For the three month period ended September 30, 2005 compared to the three month period ended September 30, 2004

Revenue: Revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2005 were $54,957 compared to $53,920 for the three months ended September 30, 2004. Revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2005 included the following:

- $35,181 for one contract for services;
- $17,203 for one contracts for products;
- $2,573 related to product support contracts.

Revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2004 included the following:

- $53,920 for two contracts for services.

Gross margin: Gross margin for the three months ended September 30, 2005 was $50,701 (92% of revenue) compared to $38,453 (71% of revenue) for the three months ended September 30, 2004. In 2005, the contracts for products were for license fees and required minimal cost to complete. In addition, the contract for services was for an ongoing project requiring minimal cost to complete. In 2004, one of the contracts for product and one of the contracts for services were expected to result in lower margins as they included a significant labour component.

General and administrative expenses: General and administrative expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2005 were $242,350 compared to $75,852 for the three months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in costs of approximately $167,100 includes the following significant items:

- Increase in compensation related costs of approximately $6,000 due to the increase in accrued vacation benefits.
- Increase in stock related compensation expense of approximately $16,900 resulting from recognition in 2004 of a net reduction in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.
- Increase in consulting expense of approximately $126,000. This resulted from the issuance in January 2005 of 3,200,000 warrants to purchase common stock and an agreement to issue 200,000 shares of common stock in exchange for investor relations and public relations services. In addition, the Company agreed to issue 100,000 shares of common stock for public relations and investor communications services for a four-month period commencing in May, 2005.
- Increase of approximately $23,200 in professional fees due to the current regulatory environment.
- Increase of approximately $6,000 in financing fees due to an increase in the level of debt required to fund on-going operations.
- Decrease of approximately $14,200 in travel costs due to a reduction in travel activity.

Sales and marketing expenses: Sales and marketing expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2005 were $89,853 compared to $80,163 for the three months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in costs of approximately $9,700 includes the following significant items:

- Increase in compensation related costs of approximately $8,400 due to the increase in accrued vacation benefits.
- Decrease in stock related compensation expense of approximately $9,300 resulting from a net reduction in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.
- Increase of approximately $4,900 in the costs of on-line demonstrations of our products and services due to the increase in staffing.
- Increase of approximately $8,000 in travel costs.

Research and development expenses: Research and development expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2005 were $78,918 compared to $56,864 for the three months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in costs of approximately $22,000 includes the following significant items:

- Decrease in compensation related costs of approximately $3,900 due to an overall decrease in the level of staffing offset by the impact of translating payroll in Canadian dollars to U.S. dollars.
- Increase in stock related compensation expense of approximately $28,300 resulting from a net reduction recognized in 2004 in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.

Depreciation: Depreciation was $1,858 for the three months ended September 30, 2005 compared to $3,973 for the three months ended September 30, 2004.

Interest expense: Interest expense increased from $1,113 for the three months ended September 30, 2004 to $18,731 for the three months ended September 30, 2005 as a result of an increase in the level of debt.

Foreign exchange: Foreign exchange expense was $967 for the three months ended September 30, 2005 compared to $1,939 for the three months ended September 30, 2004.

Net loss: Net loss was $381,976 ($0.02 per share) for the three months ended September 30, 2005 compared to $328,157 ($0.02 per share) for the three months ended September 30, 2004. Our revenues and future profitability and future rate of growth are substantially dependent upon our ability to:

- * license our software applications to a sufficient number of clients
- * modify the successful software applications, over time, to provide enhanced benefits to existing users; and
- * successfully develop related software applications.

For the nine month period ended September 30, 2005 compared to the nine month period ended September 30, 2004

Revenue: Revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 were $175,301 compared to $523,764 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. Revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 included the following:

- $118,057 for one contract for services;
- $51,752 for four contracts for products;
- $5,493 related to product support contracts.

Revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 included the following:

- $346,672 recognized for accounting purposes in that period as a result of using the completed contract method of accounting for one contract for services and two contracts for products that had been started in prior periods;
- $112,810 for three contracts for services;
- $64,282 for two contracts for products.

Gross margin: Gross margin for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 was $157,577 (90% of revenue) compared to $277,321 (53% of revenue) for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. In 2005, the contracts for products were for license fees and required minimal cost to complete. In addition, the contract for services was for an ongoing project requiring minimal cost to complete. In 2004, two of the contracts for products and the contracts for services were expected to result in lower margins as they included a significant labor component.

General and administrative expenses: General and administrative expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 were $627,322 compared to $256,316 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in costs of approximately $371,000 includes the following significant items:

- Increase in compensation related costs of approximately $45,000 due to an increase in the level of full-time staffing.
- Decrease in stock related compensation expense of approximately $81,000 resulting from a net reduction in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.
- Increase in consulting expense of approximately $344,000 as a result of the issuance in January, 2005 of 3,200,000 warrants to purchase common stock and an agreement to issue 200,000 shares of common stock in exchange for investor relations and public relations services. In addition, the Company agreed to issue 100,000 shares of common stock for public relations and investor communications services for a four-month period commencing in May, 2005.
- Increase of approximately $52,300 in professional fees due to the current regulatory environment.
- Increase of approximately $18,500 in financing fees due to an increase in the level of debt required to fund on-going operations.
- Decrease of approximately $17,000 in travel costs.

- Net increase of approximately $10,000 in other miscellaneous costs.

Sales and marketing expenses: Sales and marketing expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 were $310,251 compared to $199,879 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in costs of approximately $110,400 includes the following significant items:

- Increase in compensation related costs of approximately $114,400 due to hiring of two full-time sales representatives and a sales consultant. In June, 2005, the Company terminated one of the sales representatives.
- Decrease in stock related compensation expense of approximately $20,400 resulting from a net reduction in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.
- Increase of approximately $9,900 in the costs of on-line demonstrations of our products and services due to the increase in staffing.
- Increase of approximately $3,700 in travel costs.

Research and development expenses: Research and development expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 were $143,059 compared to $355,976 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The decrease in costs of approximately $212,700 includes the following significant items:

- Decrease in compensation related costs of approximately $27,100 due to an overall decrease in the level of staffing.
- Decrease in stock related compensation expense of approximately $200,800 resulting from a net reduction in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.
- Decrease in consulting fees of approximately $6,700 due to a decrease in the requirements for outside support for our internal computer systems.
- Increase of approximately $7,200 in other miscellaneous costs.
- Net decrease of approximately $10,600 in the amount of research and development costs transferred to contracts-in-process and cost of sales.

Depreciation: Depreciation decreased from $11,617 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $11,555 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005.

Interest expense: Interest expense increased from $5,174 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $39,340 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 as a result of an increase in the level of debt.

Foreign exchange: Foreign exchange expense decreased from $5,621 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $5,146 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005.

Net loss: Net loss was $979,096 ($0.06 per share) for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 compared to $699,889 ($0.05 per share) for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. Our revenues and future profitability and future rate of growth are substantially dependent upon our ability to:

- license our software applications to a sufficient number of clients
- modify the successful software applications, over time, to provide enhanced benefits to existing users; and
- successfully develop related software applications.

Financial Condition and Liquidity

General: At September 30, 2005, the Company had negative working capital of $1,294,543 compared to negative working capital of $861,334 at December 31, 2004. The Company had $535 in cash at September 30, 2005 compared to $10,056 at December 31, 2004.

All of the factors above raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans to address these issues include raising capital through the private placement of equity and renegotiating the repayment terms of accounts payable, accrued liabilities and promissory notes payable. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is subject to management's ability to successfully implement the above plans. Failure to implement these plans could have a material adverse effect on the Company's position and or results of operations and may result in ceasing operations. Even if successful in obtaining financing in the near term, the Company cannot be certain that cash generated from its future operations will be sufficient to satisfy its liquidity requirements in the longer term and it may need to continue to raise capital by selling additional equity or by obtaining credit facilities.

Net cash used in operating activities: During the nine months ended September 30, 2005, the Company used $541,844 in cash in operations compared to a use of cash in operations of $399,958 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The use of cash in operations for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 resulted from a loss of $979,096 for the period and a recovery in compensation expense of $162,716 offset by non-cash consulting fees of $391,145, depreciation of $11,555, non-cash interest expense of $38,021 and a net change in non-cash working capital of $159,247. The use of cash for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 resulted from a loss of $699,889 and $16,179 net change in non-cash working capital offset by non-cash compensation expense of $139,465, non-cash consulting fees of $13,050, loss on extinguishment of debt of $147,050, depreciation expense of $11,617 and non-cash interest expense of $4,928.

Net cash used in investing activities: During the nine months ended September 30, 2005, the Company purchased property and equipment of $4,599 compared to purchases of $8,586 for the nine month period ended September 30, 2004.

Net cash provided by financing activities: During the nine months ended September 30, 2005, the Company raised $538,115 (net of repayments of $58,000) by issuing 12% promissory notes and $15,000 from subscriptions to purchase 50,000 shares of common stock at $0.30 per share, offset by $300 in share related issuance costs. During the nine months ended September 30, 2004, the Company raised $422,500 from subscriptions to purchase 1,408,333 shares of common stock at $0.30 per share offset by $33,168 in share related issuance costs.

ITEM 3 CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

The term “disclosure controls and procedures” is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the Exchange Act. This term refers to the controls and procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In connection with the review of our consolidated financial statements for the period ended September 30, 2004, our independent registered public accounting firm advised the Board of Directors and management of certain significant internal control deficiencies that they considered to be, in the aggregate, a material weakness. In particular, our independent registered public accounting firm identified the following weaknesses in our internal control system: (1) a lack of segregation of duties and (2) a lack of formal procedures relating to all areas of financial reporting including a lack of review by management. In connection with the review of the consolidated financial statements for the period ended September 30, 2005, our independent registered public accounting firm advised the Board of Directors and management of an additional significant internal control deficiency that they considered to be a material weakness. In particular, during the quarter ended September 30, 2005, our Vice President Finance, Secretary and Treasurer resigned, further evidencing the lack of segregation of duties. The independent registered public accounting firm indicated that they considered these deficiencies to be reportable conditions as that term is defined under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a significant deficiency in one or more of the internal control components that alone or in the aggregate precludes our internal controls from reducing to an appropriately low level of risk that material misstatements in our financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. The Company considered these matters in connection with the period-end closing of accounts and preparation of the related consolidated financial statements and determined that no prior period financial statements were materially affected by such matters. Notwithstanding the material weaknesses identified by our independent registered public accountants, we believe that the financial statements, and other financial information included in this report, fairly present in all material respects, the financial condition, results of operation and cash flows of the Company as of, and for, the periods represented in this report.

The size of the Company has prevented us from being able to employ sufficient resources at this time to enable us to have an adequate level of supervision and segregation of duties within our internal control system. Set forth below is a discussion of the significant internal control deficiencies that had not been remediated as of the beginning of the period covered by this report.

Lack of segregation of duties. Our size has prevented us from being able to employ sufficient resources to enable us to have an adequate level of supervision and segregation of duties within our internal control system. There is one person involved in processing of transactions. Therefore, it is difficult to effectively segregate accounting duties. While we strive to segregate duties as much as practicable, there is insufficient volume of transactions to justify additional full time staff. We are currently seeking, but cannot be assured that we will be able to find, a qualified part time person to perform routine, month end accounting procedures. As a result, this significant internal control deficiency had not been remediated as of the end of the period covered by this report, nor do we know if we will be able to remediate this weakness in the foreseeable future. However, we will continue to monitor and assess the costs and benefits of additional staffing.

Lack of formal procedures relating to all areas of financial reporting including a lack of review by management. Due to the size of our Company, and as a consequence of the lack segregation of duties, we do not have formal month end close procedures. As a result, there is a lack of timely review of the financial statements and Form 10-QSB. This significant internal control deficiency has not been remediated as of the end of the period covered by this report.

Resignation of our Vice President Finance, Secretary and Treasurer. During the quarter ended September 30, 2005 our Vice President, Finance, Secretary and Treasurer resigned. In the short term, the finance activities of the Corporation have been continued by the remaining executives with the assistance of temporary, part-time help. The long term plan is to hire a replacement for the Vice President Finance. This significant internal control deficiency has not been remediated as of the end of the period covered by this report.

If we are unable to remediate the identified material weaknesses, there is a more than remote likelihood that a material misstatement to our SEC reports will not be prevented or detected, in which case investors could lose confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial reports, which could have an adverse effect on our ability to raise additional capital and could also have an adverse effect on our stock price.

As required by the SEC rules, we have evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this Report. This evaluation was performed under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including the President and Chief Executive Officer and Vice President Finance, Secretary and Treasurer. Based upon that evaluation, our President and Chief Executive Officer and Vice President Finance, Secretary and Treasurer have concluded that our controls and procedures were not effective as of the end of the period covered by this Report due to the existence of the significant internal control deficiencies described above.

- Cancelled 525,000 stock purchase options to purchase 525,000 common shares at $0.51 expiring at various dates up to June 14, 2012;
- Issued 200,000 shares of common stock to an unrelated party pursuant to an agreement to provide public relations and investor communications services to December 31, 2005.
- Issued 166,667 shares of common stock in exchange for share subscriptions received of $50,000;
- Issued 2,500 shares of common stock to settle an obligation in the amount of $750 with respect to share issuance costs;

During the period from October 1, 2005 to November 11, 2005, the Company had the following transactions:

- Cancelled 25,000 stock purchase options to purchase 25,000 common shares at $0.51 per share expiring at various dates up to January 18, 2013.
- Cancelled 21,000 stock purchase options to purchase 21,000 common shares at $0.11 per share expiring at various dates up to August 19, 2008.

The foregoing securities were issued in reliance upon the exemption provided by Section 4(2) under the Securities Act of 1933 and the rules promulgated thereunder.
