(In U.S. dollars)

1. General:

DataJungle Software Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated in the State of Washington on June 5, 1968 as Quad Metals Corporation ("Quad"). Quad became a Nevada incorporated company on December 11, 2002 when it merged with its wholly-owned subsidiary. The Company was renamed to DataJungle Software Inc. on November 18, 2003. The Company is a developer of web-based enterprise-class business intelligence software solutions that translate business data into interactive tables, charts and maps. These solutions consist of modules of functionality that can be assembled to the specific requirements of the customer and customized to the needs of each user class within the customer's business.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies:

(a) Basis of presentation:

These consolidated condensed financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America and include the accounts of DataJungle Software Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary, DataJungle Ltd. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. The accounting policies are consistent with the policies outlined in the Company's audited financial statements at and for the year ended December 31, 2005 except as described in note 2(d) below.

The consolidated condensed financial statements included herein are unaudited but, in the opinion of management, include all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring entries) necessary for fair presentation of the consolidated condensed financial position and results of operations of the Company for the periods presented. The consolidated results of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2006 are not necessarily representative of the operating results expected for the full fiscal year ending December 31, 2006. Moreover, these consolidated condensed financial statements do not purport to contain complete disclosure in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles used in the United States of America and should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited consolidated financial statements at and for the year ended December 31, 2005.

The consolidated condensed financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company has minimal revenues, negative working capital of $638,303 as at March 31, 2006 and has incurred a loss of $1,691,792 for the three months then ended. As of March 31, 2006, the Company has an accumulated deficit of $5,635,055 which results in a stockholders' deficiency of $630,681. In addition, the Company expects to continue to incur operating losses for the foreseeable future and has no lines of credit or other financing facilities in place. To date, the Company has been able to finance its operations on a month-to-month basis from investors who recognize the advancement of the Company's activities.

All of the factors above raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans to address these issues include raising capital through the private placement of equity and renegotiating the repayment terms of accounts payable, accrued liabilities and promissory notes payable. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is subject to management's ability to successfully implement the above plans. Failure to implement these plans could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position and or results of operations and may result in ceasing operations. The consolidated condensed financial statements do not include adjustments that would be required if the assets are not realized and the liabilities settled in the normal course of operations. Even if successful in obtaining financing in the near term, the Company cannot be certain that cash generated from its future operations will be sufficient to satisfy its liquidity requirements in the longer term and it may need to continue to raise capital by selling additional equity or by obtaining credit facilities.

The Company's future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including, but not limited to, the market acceptance of its products, the level of its promotional activities and advertising required to generate product sales. No assurance can be given that any such additional funding will be available or that, if available, it can be obtained on terms favorable to the Company.

(b) Foreign currency translation:

The consolidated condensed financial statements of the Company include the accounts of the Company in U.S. dollars and the accounts of its wholly-owned subsidiary, translated into U.S. dollars using Financial Accounting Standards Board's Statement No. 52, "Foreign Currency Translation" for the translation of foreign currency operations. The financial statements of the Company's subsidiary are measured using the Canadian dollar as its functional currency. Assets and liabilities have been translated into U.S. dollars using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Revenues and expenses have been translated into U.S. dollars using the average exchange rate for the period. Gains and losses have been reported as a separate component of accumulated other comprehensive loss.

(c) Revenue recognition:

For contracts requiring significant customization or services, the Company recognizes revenue using the completed contract method in accordance with the guidance in Statement of Position 81-1, "Accounting for Performance of Construction-Type and Certain Production-Type Contracts". Under the completed contract method, revenue is recognized in the period when all substantial obligations of the Company under the terms and conditions of a contract have been satisfied. Cash receipts received in advance of the recognition of revenue and rights to advance payments are recorded in the consolidated condensed balance sheet as deferred revenue. Direct costs associated with a contract that has not been recognized as revenue are capitalized in the consolidated condensed balance sheet as contracts in process. A provision for contract losses is recognized as soon as the losses become evident.

(c) Revenue recognition (continued):

For sales of product licenses, the Company recognizes revenue in accordance with Statement of Position 97-2, "Software Revenue Recognition" ("SOP 97-2"), as amended by Statement of Position 98-9, "Software Revenue Recognition with Respect to Certain Transactions", issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Revenue from sale of product licenses is recognized when all of the following criteria are met: persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, the fee is fixed or determinable and collectibility is probable.

Revenue from product support contracts is recognized ratably over the life of the contract. Revenue from services is recognized at the time such services are rendered.

For contracts with multiple elements such as product licenses, product support and services, the Company follows the residual method. Under this method, the total fair value of the undelivered elements of the contract, as indicated by vendor specific objective evidence, is deferred and subsequently recognized in accordance with the provisions of SOP 97-2. The difference between the total contract fee and the amount deferred for the undelivered elements is recognized as revenue related to the delivered elements. Vendor specific objective evidence for support and consulting services is obtained from contracts where these elements have been sold separately. Where the Company cannot determine the fair value of all the obligations, the revenue is deferred until such time as it can be determined or the element is delivered.

(d) New accounting policy - Stock-based compensation:

Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 123R "Share-Based Payment" ("SFAS 123R") to account for its stock options. SFAS 123R requires all share-based payments, including stock options granted to employees by the Company, to be recognized in the Statement of Operations based on the fair value of the share-based payments at the date of grant. For purposes of estimating the grant date fair value of stock options, the Company uses the Black Scholes options pricing model and has elected to treat awards with graded vesting as a single award. The fair value is recognized as compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period, which in the Company's circumstances is the stated vesting period of the award, provided that total compensation expense recognized at least equals the pro rata fair value of the award that has vested.

The Company has adopted the modified prospective method of applying the provisions of SFAS 123R. Under the modified prospective method, the Company recognizes compensation expense based on the requirements of SFAS 123R for all share-based payments granted after the effective date of SFAS 123R. In addition, compensation expense is recognized, subsequent to the effective date of SFAS 123R, for the remaining portion of the vesting period for outstanding awards granted prior to the effective date of SFAS 123R. Under the modified prospective method, prior periods are not adjusted and the Company continues to provide pro forma disclosure for prior periods as presented below.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued):

For periods to December 31, 2005, the Company applied the intrinsic value-based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees", and related interpretations including FASB Interpretation No. 44, "Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation an interpretation of APB Opinion No. 25", to account for its stock options for employees. Under this method, compensation expense is recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" and SFAS No. 148, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation – Transition and Disclosure, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 123," established accounting and disclosure requirements using a fair value-based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation plans. For periods to December 31, 2005, the Company elected to apply the intrinsic-value based method of accounting described above and adopted only the disclosure requirements of SFAS 123, as amended.

The following table illustrates the effect on net loss if the fair value-based method had been applied to all prior periods presented.

		Three months ended March 31, 2005

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued):

(e) Deferred consulting services:

Deferred consulting services represent the portion of prepaid non-cash consulting fees for services to be rendered in periods in excess of twelve months from the balance sheet date. Prepaid non-cash consulting fees related to services to be rendered within twelve months are included in prepaid expenses on the balance sheet. These costs will be charged to expenses as the services are rendered. If for any reason circumstances arise which would indicate that the services will not be performed in the future, these prepaid non-cash consulting fees will be charged to expenses immediately.

3. Comprehensive loss:

Comprehensive loss includes the net loss and other comprehensive loss ("OCL"). OCL refers to changes in net assets from transactions and other events and circumstances other than transactions with stockholders. These changes are recorded directly as a separate component of stockholders' deficiency and excluded from net loss. The only comprehensive loss item for the Company relates to foreign currency translation adjustments pertaining to the translation of the financial statements of the Company's subsidiary, from Canadian dollars, the functional currency of the subsidiary, to U.S. dollars, the reporting and functional currency of the Company.

5. Promissory notes payable:

	March 31, 2006	December 31, 2005
Promissory notes, payable on demand, bearing interest at 12% per annum, secured by an assignment of accounts receivable (note 5(a))	$ -	$ 680,370
Promissory note, payable on demand, bearing interest at 10% per annum, secured by an assignment of accounts receivable (note 5(b))	-	41,000
Promissory notes, payable on demand, bearing interest at 12% per annum, secured by an assignment of accounts receivable and a floating charge on all assets (note 5(c))	160,000	-
Promissory notes, payable on March 31, 2006, bearing interest at 12% per annum, secured by an assignment of accounts receivable (note 5(d))	105,000	93,925
	$ 265,000	$ 815,295

Additional terms and conditions related to the promissory notes payable are as follows:

- (a) On January 24, 2006, the lender or its assignees agreed to convert the $680,370 of promissory notes together with accrued interest to January 15, 2006 of $62,922 into 2,973,167 shares of common stock of the Company and 2,973,167 warrants to purchase 2,973,167 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

On January 24, 2006, the 2,973,167 shares of common stock had a fair value of $654,097 based on a share price of $0.22 per share on that date. On the same date, the fair value of the 2,973,167 warrants was $529,375 using the Black Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%; risk-free interest rate of 4.35%; expected volatility of 120%; and an expected life of 4.92 years. As a consequence, the Company recognized a loss of $440,180 on the extinguishment of this debt.

Accrued interest of $Nil (December 31, 2005 - $59,675) has been included in accrued liabilities at March 31, 2006.

Three months ended March 31, 2006 and 2005
(In U.S. dollars)

5. Promissory notes payable (continued):

- (b) On January 9, 2006, the Company repaid $41,000 to the lender together with $625 in accrued interest. Accrued interest of $Nil (December 31, 2005 - $504) has been included in accrued liabilities at March 31, 2006.

- (c) During the three months ended March 31, 2006, the Company received $160,000 in exchange for the issuance of 12% demand promissory notes. These promissory notes are convertible, at the lender's option, into shares of common stock of the Company at a price of $0.20 per share plus a warrant for the purchase of the number of shares received by the lender on conversion. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

Accrued interest of $1,049 (December 31, 2005 - $Nil) has been included in accrued liabilities at March 31, 2006.

At the date of issuance, the conversion feature of the promissory notes was "in-the-money". The intrinsic value of this beneficial conversion feature was $120,225. In accordance with EITF 98-5, "Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Ratios" and EITF 00-27, "Application of Issue No. 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments", this amount was recorded as additional paid-in capital. The promissory notes were accreted to their face value through a charge to interest expense of $120,225 for the three months ended March 31, 2006.

On April 19, 2006, the lender assigned the $160,000 of promissory notes and $90,811 of 12% promissory notes issued subsequent to March 31, 2006 together with accrued interest to April 19, 2006 of $2,340 to another party. Subsequent to this assignment, the other party converted the promissory notes and accrued interest into 1,265,753 shares of common stock of the Company and 1,265,753 warrants to purchase 1,265,753 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

- (d) During 2005, the Company received cash consideration of $105,000 in exchange for the issuance of 12% promissory notes. The promissory notes and accrued interest are convertible, at the lenders' option, into shares of common stock of the Company at a price of $0.20 per share plus a warrant for the purchase of the number of shares equal to 50% of the number of shares received by the lender on conversion. The warrant is exercisable at $0.30 per share and expires on December 31, 2010.

Accrued interest of $3,889 (December 31, 2005 - $782) has been included in accrued liabilities at March 31, 2006.

At the date of issuance, the conversion feature of some of the promissory notes was "in-the-money". The intrinsic value of this beneficial conversion feature was $11,075. In accordance with EITF 98-5, "Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Ratios" and EITF 00-27, "Application of Issue No. 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments", this amount was recorded as additional paid-in capital. The promissory notes were accreted to their face value through a charge to interest expense of $11,075 for the three months ended March 31, 2006.

5. Promissory notes payable (continued):

On April 19, 2006, $80,000 of promissory notes together with accrued interest to April 19, 2006 of $3,567 were assigned to another party. Subsequent to this assignment, the other party converted the promissory notes and accrued interest into 417,836 shares of common stock of the Company and 417,836 warrants to purchase 417,836 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

The Company has not repaid or been able to negotiate an extension of the maturity date for the remaining $25,000 of promissory notes. Consequently, the Company is in default of the terms and conditions of this promissory note.

6. Promissory notes payable to a related party:

	March 31, 2006	December 31, 2005

The promissory notes payable to a related party are also secured by a general security agreement representing a first floating charge on all of the assets of the Company.

Additional terms and conditions related to the promissory notes payable to a related party are as follows:

- (a) Under the terms of the 10% promissory note, the Company could repay all amounts of principal and interest at any time without penalty or bonus. The promissory note was denominated in Canadian dollars. In accordance with the terms of a Memorandum of Agreement dated February 21, 2003, the lender had a right to convert all amounts of principal and interest to common stock of the Company at the rate of one common share for each $0.15 Canadian of debt converted or at such lower rate paid by any third party dealing at arm's length with the Company. In addition, as long as at least $100,000 Canadian of principal and interest is outstanding, the lender had certain rights related to management and direction of the Company. Included in accrued liabilities is $Nil (December 31, 2005 – $83,573) in accrued interest on this note. The lender had agreed that the promissory note together with accrued interest would be convertible, at the lender's option, into 4,309,302 common shares of the Company.

On January 24, 2006, the lender assigned $183,839 of the promissory note and accrued interest to a director of the Company and a corporation controlled by a director of the Company and assigned the balance of the promissory note and accrued interest of $377,024 to unrelated parties. Subsequent to the assignment of the promissory note and accrued interest, the director and the corporation controlled by a director of the Company converted the $183,839 to 1,412,504 common shares of the Company and the unrelated parties converted the $377,024 to 2,896,798 common shares of the Company.

- (b) During 2005, the Company received cash consideration of $41,122 in exchange for the issuance of 10% promissory notes. Accrued interest of $1,363 (December 31, 2005 - $351) has been included in accrued liabilities at March 31, 2006.

On April 19, 2006, the lender agreed to modify the terms of these promissory notes by waiving the repayment and security provisions related to specific customer invoices. As consideration for the modification, the Company agreed to permit the lender, at the lender's option, to convert the promissory notes and accrued interest into shares of common stock of the Company at a price of $0.20 per share plus a warrant for the purchase of the number of shares received by the lender on conversion. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

7. Stock option plan:

Under the Company's Stock Option Plan (the "Plan"), up to 5,000,000 shares of authorized but unissued common stock of the Company can be granted to officers, employees and consultants. Options are generally granted with an exercise price equal to or greater than the stock's fair market value at the date of grant, vest over a period of time as determined by the Board of Directors and expire no later than ten years from the date of vesting.

At March 31, 2006, there were 1,197,548 additional shares available for grant under the Plan.

Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of SFAS 123R to account for its stock options. SFAS 123R requires that the fair value of stock options granted be recognized in the Statement of Operations based on the fair value of the stock options at the date of grant. For purposes of estimating the grant date fair value of stock options, the Company uses the Black Scholes options pricing model based on certain assumptions including the expected term of the options, expected volatility of the underlying stock over the expected term of the options and the risk-free interest rate. The expected term of the options has been estimated by calculating an average of the weighted average vesting period and the weighted average contractual term of the options. Historical volatility of the Company's shares and historical volatility of other companies that operate in a similar business to the Company is used as a basis for projecting the expected volatility of the underlying stock.

The risk-free rate for the expected term of the options is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant.

The fair value is recognized as compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period, which in the Company's circumstances is the stated vesting period of the award, provided that total compensation expense recognized at least equals the pro rata value of the award that has vested.

The Company has adopted the modified prospective method of applying the provisions of SFAS 123R. Under the modified prospective method, the Company recognizes compensation expense based on the requirements of SFAS 123R for all share-based payments granted after the effective date of SFAS 123R. In addition, compensation expense is recognized, subsequent to the effective date of SFAS 123R, for the remaining portion of the vesting period for outstanding awards granted prior to the effective date of SFAS 123R.

During the three months ended March 31, 2006, there were 1,100,000 stock options granted to officers and directors and 270,000 stock options granted to employees. During the three months ended March 31, 2005, there were 60,000 stock options granted to employees. The per share weighted-average fair value of the stock options granted using the Black Scholes option-pricing model and related weighted-average assumptions are as follows:

	Three months ended March 31, 2006	Three months ended March 31, 2005
Options granted	1,370,000	60,000
Expected volatility	125%	135%
Expected dividends	Nil	Nil
Expected term (years)	4.0	5.8
Risk-free rate	4.35%	4.09%
Per share weighted average grant date fair value	$0.20	$0.51

During the years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, the Company modified the terms of certain stock options granted to employees to reduce the exercise price and/or extend the expiry date and to allow them to retain the awards upon a change in status from employee to non-employee. As a result of these modifications, the Company is required to account for the modified options for periods prior to the effective date of SFAS 123R on January 1, 2006 using variable accounting as prescribed by APB 25. For the three months ended March 31, 2005, non-cash compensation expense (recovery) of ($83,867), ($45,010) and ($6,353) has been included in research and development, general and administrative and sales and marketing expenses, respectively. As a result of the adoption of SFAS 123R, no expense or recovery has been recognized in the Statement of Operations with respect to the modified options for the three months ended March 31, 2006.

During the three months ended March 31, 2006, there were no options granted to non-employees. During the three months ended March 31, 2005, there were 25,000 stock options granted to non-employees. The per share weighted-average fair value of stock options granted to non-employees under the Plan during the three months ended March 31, 2005 was $0.48 on the date of grant using the Black Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%, risk-free interest rate of 3.94%, volatility rate of 139%, and an expected life of 6.7 years.

For the three months ended March 31, 2005, non-cash compensation expense of $1,609 has been included in sales and marketing expenses with respect to stock options granted to non-employees.

A summary of amounts recognized in the consolidated condensed financial statements with respect to the Plan is as follows:

	Three months ended March 31, 2006	Three months ended March 31, 2005
Amounts charged (recovered) against income, before income tax benefit	$80,451	($133,621)

7. Stock option plan (continued):

At March 31, 2006, there was $380,791 of total unrecognized compensation expense related to unvested stock option awards. The cost is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of approximately 1.3 years.

8. Stockholders' deficiency:

(a) Common stock transactions:

During the three months ended March 31, 2006, the Company issued 7,587,469 shares of common stock pursuant to the transactions described below:

On January 24, 2006, $183,839 of the promissory note payable to a related party and accrued interest thereon was assigned to a director of the Company and a corporation controlled by a director of the Company. The balance of the promissory note payable to a related party and accrued interest of $377,024 was assigned to unrelated parties. Subsequent to the assignment of the promissory notes payable to a related party and accrued interest, the director and the corporation controlled by a director of the Company converted the $183,839 to 1,412,504 shares of common stock of the Company and the unrelated parties converted the $377,024 to 2,896,798 shares of common stock of the Company.

On January 24, 2006, $680,370 of promissory notes payable together with accrued interest to January 15, 2006 of $62,922 was assigned to a number of unrelated parties. Subsequent to the assignment, the promissory notes and accrued interest were converted to 2,973,167 shares of common stock of the Company and 2,973,167 warrants to purchase 2,973,167 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

On January 24, 2006, the 2,973,167 shares of common stock had a fair value of $654,097 based on a share price of $0.22 per share on that date. On the same date, the fair value of the 2,973,167 warrants was $529,375 using the Black Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%; risk-free interest rate of 4.35%; expected volatility of 120%; and an expected life of 4.92 years. As a consequence, the Company recognized a loss of $440,180 on the extinguishment of this debt.

On January 24, 2006, in connection with the cancellation of a consulting agreement to provide investor communication and public relations services to the Company, the Company issued 305,000 shares of common stock to the consultant or its assignees. On January 24, 2006, the fair value of the 305,000 shares of common stock was $67,100 based on a share price of $0.22 per share on that date. The $67,100 has been accounted for as a capital transaction.

During the three months ended March 31, 2006, share issuance costs of $450 were incurred and recorded as a charge to additional paid-in capital.

8. Stockholders' deficiency (continued):

During the three months ended March 31, 2005, the Company received $15,000 from investors pursuant to subscription agreements to purchase 50,000 shares of common stock at $0.30 per share. Share issuance costs (recovery) of ($1,324) were incurred and recorded as a credit to additional paid-in capital.

(b) Warrants and common stock pursuant to consulting agreements:

On November 22, 2004, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with an unrelated party to provide investor relations services to the Company for the period from November 22, 2004 to December 31, 2008. As compensation for these services, the Company agreed to issue 3,000,000 warrants for the purchase of common stock at $0.50 per share expiring on December 31, 2009. On January 17, 2005, the Company issued 1,500,000 Series A warrants and 1,500,000 Series B warrants pursuant to this consulting agreement.

The Series A warrants could be exercised at any time on or before December 31, 2009 at an exercise price of $0.50 per share or by means of a cashless exercise provision if there was no effective registration statement registering the resale of the underlying shares. The fair value of the Series A warrants was calculated as $982,198 using the Black Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%; risk-free interest rate of 3.6%; expected volatility of 145%, and an expected life of 5.11 years. Of this amount, $239,161 and $478,322 were included in prepaid expenses and deferred consulting services as at December 31, 2005, respectively.

The Series B warrants could be exercised at any time after July 31, 2006 at an exercise price of $0.50 per share or by means of a cashless exercise provision if there was no registration statement registering the resale of the underlying shares and expire on December 31, 2009. The Series B warrants could be exercised prior to July 31, 2006 if the Company had not terminated the consulting agreement and the Company had received at least $2,000,000 of investment from any and all sources during the period from July 1, 2004 to July 31, 2006. In accordance with EITF 96-18 "Accounting for Equity Instruments that are Issued to other than Employees for Acquiring, or in Conjunction with Selling, Goods or Services", the lowest aggregate fair value of the Series B warrants was used for recognition purposes. At December 31, 2005, no services had been rendered.

On January 24, 2006, the Company cancelled the consulting agreement and included the balance of the prepaid expenses and deferred consulting services of $717,483 in general and administrative expenses (Three months ended March 31, 2005 - $60,057). On the same date, the Company cancelled the Series A and Series B warrants. As compensation for cancellation of the Series A warrants, the Company issued 305,000 shares of common stock. On January 24, 2006, the fair value of the 305,000 shares of common stock was $67,100 based on a share price of $0.22 per share on that date. The $67,100 has been accounted for as a capital transaction.

(b) Warrants and common stock pursuant to consulting agreements (continued):

Effective January 1, 2005, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with an unrelated party to provide investor communication and public relations services to the Company for the period from January 1, 2005 to December 31, 2005. As compensation for these services, the Company issued 200,000 shares of common stock and 200,000 Series A warrants for the purchase of common stock at $0.50 per share expiring on December 31, 2009. The fair value of the 200,000 shares of common stock was estimated at $126,000 based on a share price of $0.63 per share. Of this amount $15,500 was included in general and administrative expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2005. No costs were incurred for the three months ended March 31, 2006. The fair value of the 200,000 Series A warrants was calculated as $114,677 using the Black Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%; risk-free interest rate of 3.69%; expected volatility of 142%, and an expected life of 5 years. $28,669 was been included in general and administrative expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2005. No costs were incurred for the three months ended March 31, 2006.

At December 31, 2005, $31,000 remained as a credit to common stock to be issued for services in stockholders' deficiency with respect to an obligation to issue 100,000 shares of common stock at $0.31 per share for services rendered and recognized in general and administrative expenses in 2005. In March, 2006, the provider of the services agreed to waive the right to receive the 100,000 shares of common stock. As a consequence, the $31,000 credit to common stock to be issued for services was transferred to additional paid-in-capital.

11. Guarantees:

The Company has entered into agreements that contain features which meet the definition of a guarantee under FASB Interpretation No. 45 ("FIN 45"). FIN 45 defines a guarantee to be a contract that contingently requires the Company to make payments (either in cash, financial instruments, other assets, common shares of the Company or through provision of services) to a third party based on changes in an underlying economic characteristic (such as interest rates or market value) that is related to an asset, liability or an equity security of the other party. The Company has the following guarantees which are subject to the disclosure requirements of FIN 45.

Product warranties

As part of the normal sale of software products, the Company has provided certain of its customers with product warranties of 30 days from date of sale. Based on management's best estimate of probable liability under its product warranties, no product warranty accrual was recorded as of March 31, 2006 and December 31, 2005.

12. Segmented reporting:

The Company operates in one dominant industry segment, which involves providing web-based software solutions that translate data into tables, charts and maps. The Company's solutions can extend the functionality of business intelligence software packages from other vendors by adding pre-built software objects on top of those vendor's solutions. Alternatively, the Company's pre-built software objects can be assembled and bundled with data from major data vendors to provide functionality and enhanced presentation capabilities.

14. Subsequent events:

Subsequent to March 31, 2006, the Company issued 12% demand promissory notes for cash consideration of $90,811. These promissory notes are convertible into 454,055 shares of common stock at $0.20 per share and 454,055 stock purchase warrants to purchase 454,055 shares of common stock at $0.30 per share. The warrants expire on December 31, 2010.

On April 19, 2006, $160,000 of promissory notes payable and the $90,811 of promissory notes issued subsequent to March 31, 2006 together with accrued interest to April 19, 2006 of $2,340 were assigned to another party. Subsequent to this assignment, the other party converted the promissory notes and accrued interest into 1,265,753 shares of common stock of the Company and 1,265,753 warrants to purchase 1,265,753 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

On April 19, 2006, $41,096 of promissory notes payable to related party were modified by waiving the repayment and security provisions related to specific customer invoices. As consideration for the modification, the Company agreed to permit the lender, at the lender's option, to convert the promissory notes and accrued interest into shares of common stock of the Company at a price of $0.20 per share plus a warrant for the purchase of the number of shares received by the lender on conversion. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

On April 19, 2006, $80,000 of promissory notes together with accrued interest to April 19, 2006 of $3,567 were assigned to another party. Subsequent to this assignment, the other party converted the promissory notes and accrued interest into 417,836 shares of common stock of the Company and 417,836 warrants to purchase 417,836 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

CAUTIONARY NOTICE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

We caution readers that certain important factors may affect our actual results and could cause such results to differ materially from any forward-looking statements that we make in this report. For this purpose, any statements that are not statements of historical fact may be deemed to be forward-looking statements.

We caution readers that any such forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve significant risks and uncertainties. In fact, actual results most likely will differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements as a result of various factors. Some factors that could adversely affect actual results and performance include:

- our limited operating history;
- our minimal sales to date;
- our future requirements for additional capital funding;
- the failure of our technology and products to perform as specified;
- the discontinuance of growth in the use of the Internet;
- the enactment of new adverse government regulations; and
- the development of better technology and products by others.

You should carefully consider and evaluate all of these factors. In addition, we do not undertake to update forward-looking statements after we file this report with the SEC, even if new information, future events or other circumstances have made them incorrect or misleading.

Critical Accounting Policies

The financial statements of the Company are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America. The following accounting policies are considered to be critical to an understanding of the financial position and results of operations for the Company. Additional accounting policies for the Company have been disclosed in the audited consolidated financial statements at and for the year ended December 31, 2005.

(a) Revenue recognition

The following policy on revenue recognition was adopted in prior years and continues to be applicable in the current year:

For contracts requiring significant customization or services, the Company recognizes revenue using the completed contract method in accordance with the guidance in Statement of Position 81-1, "Accounting for Performance of Construction-Type and Certain Production-Type Contracts". Under the completed contract method, revenue is recognized in the period when all substantial obligations of the Company under the terms and conditions of a contract have been satisfied. Cash receipts received in advance of the recognition of revenue and rights to advance payments are recorded in the balance sheet as deferred revenue. Direct costs associated with a contract that has not been recognized as revenue are capitalized in the balance sheet as contracts in process. A provision for contract losses is recognized as soon as the losses become evident.

During the year-ended December 31, 2004, the Company made its initial sales of product licenses. As a consequence, the following policy on revenue recognition was adopted in the year-ended December 31, 2004:

For sales of product licenses, the Company recognizes revenue in accordance with Statement of Position 97-2, "Software Revenue Recognition" ("SOP 97-2"), as amended by Statement of Position 98-9, "Software Revenue Recognition with Respect to Certain Transactions", issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Revenue from sale of product licenses is recognized when all of the following criteria are met: persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, the fee is fixed or determinable and collectibility is probable.

Revenue from product support contracts is recognized ratably over the life of the contract. Revenue from services is recognized at the time such services are rendered.

For contracts with multiple elements such as product licenses, product support and services, the Company follows the residual method. Under this method, the total fair value of the undelivered elements of the contract, as indicated by vendor specific objective evidence, is deferred and subsequently recognized in accordance with the provisions of SOP 97-2. The difference between the total contract fee and the amount deferred for the undelivered elements is recognized as revenue related to the delivered elements. Vendor specific objective evidence for support and consulting services is obtained from contracts where these elements have been sold separately. Where the Company cannot determine the fair value of all the obligations, the revenue is deferred until such time as it can be determined or the element is delivered.

(b) Stock-based compensation:

Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted the following policy with respect to stock-based compensation:

Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 123R "Share-Based Payment" ("SFAS 123R") to account for its stock options. SFAS 123R requires all share-based payments, including stock options granted to employees by the Company, to be recognized in the Statement of Operations based on the fair value of the share-based payments at the date of grant. For purposes of estimating the grant date fair value of stock options, the Company uses the Black Scholes options pricing model and has elected to treat awards with graded vesting as a single award. The fair value is recognized as compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period, which in the Company's circumstances is the stated vesting period of the award, provided that total compensation expense recognized at least equals the pro rata fair value of the award that has vested.

The Company has adopted the modified prospective method of applying the provisions of SFAS 123R. Under the modified prospective method, the Company recognizes compensation expense based on the requirements of SFAS 123R for all share-based payments granted after the effective date of SFAS 123R. In addition, compensation expense is recognized, subsequent to the effective date of SFAS 123R, for the remaining portion of the vesting period for outstanding awards granted prior to the effective date of SFAS 123R.

For periods to December 31, 2005, the Company accounted for stock-based compensation in accordance with the following policy:

For periods to December 31, 2005, the Company applied the intrinsic value-based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees”, and related interpretations including FASB Interpretation No. 44, “Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation an interpretation of APB Opinion No. 25”, to account for its stock options for employees. Under this method, compensation expense is recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 123, “Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation” and SFAS No. 148, “Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation – Transition and Disclosure, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 123,” established accounting and disclosure requirements using a fair value-based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation plans. For periods to December 31, 2005, the Company elected to apply the intrinsic-value based method of accounting described above and adopted only the disclosure requirements of SFAS 123, as amended.

(c) Deferred consulting services:

The Company adopted the following policy related to deferred consulting services during the three months ended March 31, 2005 and it continues to be applicable in the current quarter:

Deferred consulting services, which arose on the issuance of stock-based compensation, represent the portion of prepaid non-cash consulting fees for services to be rendered in periods in excess of twelve months from the balance sheet date. Prepaid non-cash consulting fees related to services to be rendered within twelve months are included in prepaid expenses on the balance sheet. These costs will be charged to expenses as the services are rendered. If for any reason circumstances arise which would indicate that the services will not be performed in the future, these prepaid non-cash consulting fees will be charged to expenses immediately.

Results of Operations

For the three month period ended March 31, 2006 compared to the three month period ended March 31, 2005

Revenue: Revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2006 were $74,502 compared to $61,596 for the three months ended March 31, 2005. Revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2006 included the following:

- $43,480 for two contract for services;
- $18,543 for two contracts for products;
- $12,479 related to product support contracts.

Revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2005 included the following:

- $43,563 for one contracts for services;
- $16,923 for one contract for products;
- $1,110 related to product support contracts

Gross margin: Gross margin for the three months ended March 31, 2006 was $38,933 (52% of revenue) compared to $53,462 (87% of revenue) for the three months ended March 31, 2005. In 2005, the contract for products was for license fees and required minimal cost to complete. In addition, the contract for services in 2005 was for an ongoing project requiring minimal cost to complete. In 2006, the two contracts for products were expected to result in lower margins as these sales were made to partners in anticipation of ongoing business. In addition, one of the the contracts for services in 2006 was expected to result in a lower margin as it included a significant labor component.

General and administrative expenses: General and administrative expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2006 were $855,621 compared to $153,392 for the three months ended March 31, 2005. The increase in costs of approximately $702,200 includes the following significant items:

- Increase in compensation related costs of approximately $3,600 resulting from the hiring of a Chief Financial Officer on January 24, 2006.
- Increase in stock related compensation expense of approximately $72,500. In 2006, stock related compensation expense was $27,500 as a result of the implementation of FAS 123R. In 2005, recovery of compensation expense was $45,000 resulting from recognition of a net reduction in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.
- Increase in consulting expense of approximately $613,300. On January 24, 2006, the Company cancelled a consulting contract and 3,000,000 warrants to purchase our common stock and expensed $717,500 of prepaid expenses and deferred consulting fees which had been recognized on our balance sheet at December 31, 2005. In 2005, consulting expense was $104,200 and included $60,000 related to the consulting contract referred to above and $44,200 for investor communication and public relations services provided by another party.
- Increase of approximately $7,100 in professional fees due to the current regulatory environment and use of a contractor to provide accounting services in January, 2006 prior to the hiring of a Chief Financial Officer.
- Increase of approximately $5,000 in financing fees due to incurring a 7.5% fee on financing raised in 2006 compared to more favorable fees in 2005.

Sales and marketing expenses: Sales and marketing expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2006 were $151,896 compared to $110,638 for the three months ended March 31, 2005. The increase in costs of approximately $41,300 includes the following significant items:

- Increase in stock related compensation expense of approximately $35,000. In 2006, stock related compensation expense was $30,200 as a result of the implementation of FAS 123R. In 2005, recovery of compensation expense was $4,800 resulting from recognition of a net reduction in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.
- Decrease in compensation related costs of approximately $8,000 due to the replacement of a sales representative and a sales consultant with one sales representative partially offset by an increase in compensation to management.
- Increase of approximately $3,000 in the costs of on-line demonstrations of our products and services.
- Increase of approximately $8,500 in travel and related costs due to attendance at a Business Intelligence trade show in Montreal in March, 2006.
- Increase in other costs of $2,800 primarily related to the cost of press releases for product and customer announcements.

Research and development expenses: Research and development expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2006 were $136,593 compared to $2,648 for the three months ended March 31, 2005. The increase in costs of approximately $133,900 includes the following significant items:

- Increase in stock related compensation expense of approximately $106,600. In 2006, stock related compensation expense was $22,700 as a result of the implementation of FAS 123R. In 2005, recovery of compensation expense was $83,900 resulting from recognition of a net reduction in the intrinsic value of certain stock options of the Company accounted for using variable accounting due to a decrease in the market price of Company common stock.

- Increase in compensation related costs of approximately $40,300 due to an increase in the level of staffing by two full-time equivalent employees and general salary increases.
- Increase in other costs of $11,200 due primarily to costs related to testing for Microsoft certification resulting in the Company achieving Microsoft Gold Certified Partner status.

The above costs were partially offset by the following items:

- Increase in research and development tax credits of $2,200 due to labor incurred on the release of DataJungle's Matrix 4.0 product.
- Increase of $22,000 in compensation cost transferred to cost of sales due to the labor component on a contract for services.

Depreciation: Depreciation was $2,103 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 compared to $4,883 for the three months ended March 31, 2005.

Interest expense: Interest expense increased from $7,738 for the three months ended March 31, 2005 to $139,853 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 primarily as a result of $131,300 of intrinsic value of an in-the-money beneficial conversion feature on promissory notes issued in late 2005 and the three months ended March 31, 2006.

Foreign exchange: Foreign exchange expense was $4,479 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 compared to $2,221 for the three months ended March 31, 2005.

Net loss: Net loss was $1,691,792 ($0.07 per share) for the three months ended March 31, 2006 compared to $228,058 ($0.01 per share) for the three months ended March 31, 2005. Our revenues and future profitability and future rate of growth are substantially dependent upon our ability to:

- license our software applications to a sufficient number of clients
- modify the successful software applications, over time, to provide enhanced benefits to existing users; and
- successfully develop related software applications.

Financial Condition and Liquidity

General: At March 31, 2006, the Company had negative working capital of $638,303 compared to negative working capital of $1,366,879 at December 31, 2005. The Company had $7,333 in cash at March 31, 2006 compared to $85,802 at December 31, 2005. In addition, the Company has not repaid or been able to negotiate an extension of the maturity date for $25,000 of promissory notes which matured on March 31, 2006.

All of the factors above raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans to address these issues include raising capital through the private placement of equity and renegotiating the repayment terms of accounts payable, accrued liabilities and promissory notes payable. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is subject to management's ability to successfully implement the above plans. Failure to implement these plans could have a material adverse effect on the Company's position and or results of operations and may result in ceasing operations. Even if successful in obtaining financing in the near term, the Company cannot be certain that cash generated from its future operations will be sufficient to satisfy its liquidity requirements in the longer term and it may need to continue to raise capital by selling additional equity or by obtaining credit facilities.

Net cash used in operating activities: During the three months ended March 31, 2006, the Company used $198,649 in cash in operations compared to a use of cash in operations of $191,884 for the three months ended March 31, 2005. The use of cash in operations for the three months ended March 31, 2006 resulted from a loss of $1,691,792 offset by non-cash consulting fees of $717,483, loss on extinguishment of debt of $440,180, non-cash compensation expense of $80,451, depreciation of $2,103, non-cash interest expense of $139,213, non-cash financing fees of $12,000 and a net change in non-cash working capital of $101,713. The use of cash for the three months ended March 31, 2005 resulted from a loss of $228,058 and a recovery in non-cash compensation expense of $133,621 offset by non-cash consulting fees of $104,226, non-cash interest expense of $6,419, depreciation expense of $4,883 and net change in non-cash working capital of $54,267.

Net cash used in investing activities: During the three months ended March 31, 2006, the Company purchased property and equipment of $1,761 compared to purchases of $3,595 for the three month period ended March 31, 2005.

Net cash provided by financing activities: During the three months ended March 31, 2006, the Company raised $160,000 by issuing 12% promissory notes offset by $450 in share related issuance costs. In addition, the Company repaid $41,000 of 10% promissory notes. During the three months ended March 31, 2005, the Company raised $176,000 (net of repayments of $58,000) by issuing 12% promissory notes and $15,000 from subscriptions to purchase 50,000 shares of common stock at $0.30 per share offset by $300 in share related issuance costs.

Commitments: The Company has entered into an operating lease for office space that expires on December 31, 2007. The future minimum lease payments including operating costs are as follows:

Year	Amount
2006	$73,757
2007	90,148
Total	$163,905

ITEM 3 CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

The term "disclosure controls and procedures" is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the Exchange Act. This term refers to the controls and procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In connection with the review of our consolidated condensed financial statements for the period ended March 31, 2006, our independent registered public accounting firm advised the Board of Directors and management of certain significant internal control deficiencies that they considered to be, in the aggregate, a material weakness. In particular, our independent registered public accounting firm identified the following weaknesses in our internal control system: (1) a lack of segregation of duties and (2) a lack of formal procedures relating to all areas of financial reporting including a lack of review by management. In connection with the review of the consolidated financial statements for the period ended March 31, 2006, our independent registered public accounting firm advised the Board of Directors and management of an additional significant internal control deficiency that they considered to be a material weakness. The independent registered public accounting firm indicated that they considered these deficiencies to be reportable conditions as that term is defined under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a significant deficiency in one or more of the internal control components that alone or in the aggregate precludes our internal controls from reducing to an appropriately low level of risk that material misstatements in our consolidated financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. The Company considered these matters in connection with the period-end closing of accounts and preparation of the related consolidated condensed financial statements and determined that no prior period financial statements were materially affected by such matters. Notwithstanding the material weaknesses identified by our independent registered public accountants, we believe that the consolidated condensed financial statements, and other financial information included in this report, fairly present in all material respects, the financial condition, results of operation and cash flows of the Company as of, and for, the periods represented in this report.

The size of the Company has prevented us from being able to employ sufficient resources at this time to enable us to have an adequate level of supervision and segregation of duties within our internal control system. Set forth below is a discussion of the significant internal control deficiencies that had not been remediated as of the beginning of the period covered by this report.

Lack of segregation of duties. Our size has prevented us from being able to employ sufficient resources to enable us to have an adequate level of supervision and segregation of duties within our internal control system. There is one person involved in processing of transactions. Therefore, it is difficult to effectively segregate accounting duties. While we strive to segregate duties as much as practicable, there is insufficient volume of transactions to justify additional full time staff. We are currently seeking, but cannot be assured that we will be able to find, a qualified part time person to perform routine, month end accounting procedures. As a result, this significant internal control deficiency had not been remediated as of the end of the period covered by this report, nor do we know if we will be able to remediate this weakness in the foreseeable future. However, we will continue to monitor and assess the costs and benefits of additional staffing.

Lack of formal procedures relating to all areas of financial reporting including a lack of review by management. Due to the size of our Company, and as a consequence of the lack segregation of duties, we do not have formal month end close procedures. As a result, there is a lack of timely review of the consolidated financial statements and Form 10-QSB. This significant internal control deficiency has not been remediated as of the end of the period covered by this report.

If we are unable to remediate the identified material weaknesses, there is a more than remote likelihood that a material misstatement to our SEC reports will not be prevented or detected, in which case investors could lose confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial reports, which could have an adverse effect on our ability to raise additional capital and could also have an adverse effect on our stock price.

As required by the SEC rules, we have evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this Report. This evaluation was performed under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including the President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, Secretary and Treasurer. Based upon that evaluation, our President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, Secretary and Treasurer have concluded that our controls and procedures were not effective as of the end of the period covered by this Report due to the existence of the significant internal control deficiencies described above.

PART II – OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

NONE

ITEM 2. UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

During the three months ended March 31, 2006, the Company had the following transactions:

- Issued $160,000 of convertible 12% promissory notes;
- Issued 7,587,469 shares of common stock pursuant to the transactions described below:
 - 4,309,302 shares of common stock on conversion of $476,529 of a promissory note payable to a related party and accrued interest of $84,334.
 - 2,973,167 shares of common stock on conversion of $680,370 of promissory notes and accrued interest of $62,922. In addition, the Company issued 2,973,167 warrants to purchase 2,973,167 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.
 - 305,000 shares of common stock as consideration for the cancellation of a consulting agreement and the related stock purchase warrants.
- Granted 1,100,000 stock purchase options to officers and directors and 270,000 stock purchase options to employees to purchase 1,370,000 common shares at an exercise price of $0.25 expiring at various dates to February 1, 2013;

During the period from April 1, 2006 to May 5, 2006, the Company had the following transactions:

- Issued 12% demand promissory notes for cash consideration of $90,811. These promissory notes are convertible into 454,055 shares of common stock at $0.20 per share and 454,055 stock purchase warrants to purchase 454,055 shares of common stock at $0.30 per share. The warrants expire on December 31, 2010.
- On April 19, 2006, $160,000 of promissory notes payable and $90,811 of 12% promissory notes issued subsequent to March 31, 2006 together with accrued interest to April 19, 2006 of $2,340 were assigned to another party. Subsequent to this assignment, the other party converted the promissory notes and accrued interest into 1,265,753 shares of common stock of the Company and 1,265,753 warrants to purchase 1,265,753 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.
- Modified $41,096 of promissory notes payable to a related party by waiving the repayment and security provisions related to specific customer invoices. As consideration for the modification, the Company agreed to permit the lender, at the lender's option, to convert the promissory notes and accrued interest into shares of common stock of the Company at a price of $0.20 per share plus a warrant for the purchase of the number of shares received by the lender on conversion. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.
- On April 19, 2006, $80,000 of promissory notes together with accrued interest to April 19, 2006 of $3,567 were assigned to another party. Subsequent to this assignment, the other party converted the promissory notes and accrued interest into 417,836 shares of common stock of the Company and 417,836 warrants to purchase 417,836 shares of common stock of the Company. The warrants are exercisable at $0.30 per share and expire on December 31, 2010.

The foregoing securities were issued in reliance upon the exemption provided by Section 4(2) under the Securities Act of 1933 and the rules promulgated thereunder.

ITEM 3. DEFAULTS UPON SENIOR SECURITIES

The Company has not repaid or been able to negotiate an extension of the maturity date for a $25,000 promissory note which matured on March 31, 2006. As at May 15, 2006, the amount outstanding pursuant to this promissory note was $26,192 including accrued interest of $1,192.
